DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred forty-seven and 30-100 dollars, ($247.30) which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by John Hunter and Lizzie A. Hunter, his wife, to John Cromb, bearing date the 23d day of April, A. D. 1885, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the first day of May, A. D. 1885, at 11 o'clock a. m., in book T of mortgages, on page 21, and in addition thereto the further sum of sixty-four and 90-100 dollars, taxes duly assessed and levied against said premises described and conveyed by said mortgage for the years 1887, 1888, 1889 and 1890, paid by said mortgagee, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The north half of southwest quarter and the southwest quarter of northwest quarter Section fourteen (14), Township one hundred and forty-eight (148), Range forty-four (44) west, containing one hundred and twenty acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the first day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes as above on said premises, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated June 9th, A. D. 1891.

God in the Government and Purity in the Home.

ESSAY BY MRS. A. A. OLDS,

READ BEFORE THE RECENT W. C. T. U. TEMPERANCE MEETING IN THIS CITY.

Home is not a mere dwelling place, nor is it simply a habitation. Home is a divine institution; the home represents the family.

The education of our earliest years goes farther to form tastes and character, if rightly guided, than anything one can acquire away from the hearthstone. Generally speaking, with few exceptions, the character which men and women have is that which is formed within the home circle. There are doubtless some instances where persons who, in their earlier years, were unfortunate in having no home training, have developed into noble men and women, and there are doubtless other instances where the best of home training has failed to show itself in the children, but these instances are exceptions.

The influences which make men and women, good or bad, are those generally which have their origin in the family. Where we find the home has been neglected, there we see a lack of the noblest qualities. Hence, whatever invades or tends to lessen the home influence is an evil. No man ought to shirk the duty of providing a home, and no woman ought to allow her children to be reared in the reckless air of the regular boarding house. The privacy of home, with its quietness and retirement from the world, is one of its charms. It is in the home that true independence is found, and true taste and refinement is best cultivated.

Love is an essential element of home. The home love is the mother of all home delights. Without it, home would have no meaning. The home influence is either a blessing or a curse. Then we should constantly be on the watch, that everything in the home should be chaste and pure. We should never for a moment permit anything to enter into the sanctity of home, that can in any way leave a stain or scar upon it. Would you live pure lives, then take for your guide the apostle Paul, who says: "Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." If we learn to command our thoughts and keep them in a pure channel, we shall obey the law of purity. A thought is generally considered a trifling thing, and we forget that thoughts are the source of all our actions, and that if the fountain be impure, the stream that guides it will be impure also. Many times we say that thinking does no harm. This is a great mistake, for evil thoughts come first and are the first steps that lead to all others. It is not safe for the young woman who desires to remain pure in actions, to think impure thoughts. We should remember that the change from virtue to vice is not a sudden one, but the way to ruin is a gradual descent, beginning with harboring impure thoughts. None of us can tell when sudden temptations may overtake us, and therefore it behooves us to cultivate a habit of pure thinking at all times. Purity of life depends upon purity of mind. Only those who are pure in heart will be pure and chaste in action. Parents should impress on their childrens minds to love and cherish pure subjects early in life, and thus lay a foundation for purity of character which alone will ensure purity of life.

Incessant mental occupation is the only safeguard against sin. A mind accustomed to think of sin, loses all appreciation of its hideousness and its consequences. One of the most helpful aids to the cultivation of such a habit of thought, is the pursuit of useful employment or study. Then one's mind is filled with useful thoughts of work or study and it will have little room for sinful imaginations.

The choice of one's associates has much to do with one's purity of life. Parents cannot be too cautious in the selection of their sons and daughters friends, especially their daughters'. A mother is her daughter's best friend, the one who will sympathize with her troubles and overlooks her mistakes, when no one else will, and no young woman should consider him or her a proper associate, who says anything to her she would blush to repeat to her mother. Careful as girls need be in the selection of her girl friends, there is need of greater caution in the selection of the opposite sex. Never cultivate the acquaintance of any young man of whose character and history you have no knowledge. Outward appearances are no index to the heart.

Mothers, sisters, unto us is committed the religious education of the children at home. Childhood is the period in which principles can be most effectually engrafted in our natures, and you can fill the young heart with sentiments of God better than if you wait until it grows hard as adamant in sin. Then let us take the germ and make it a bud of moral beauty. Let the dews of knowledge and the light of virtue wake it, in richest fragrance and purest hues.

When the power that rules our government is working for the interests of mankind, outstretching a helping hand to lift up the weak and fallen, and endeavoring with great persistency for the banishment of the liquor traffic, and when pure motives govern the world and Christ reigns in the heart, then shall God be in the government and purity in the homes.

Our Country.

BY FRED W. DAVIS.

Just 393 years ago
  Three small vessels sailed from port,
Commanded by brave Columbus,
  And backed by the Spanish Court.
Boldly they headed out at sea,
  Where man had ne'er sailed before,
Thinking to find a shorter road
  To reach East Indies' shore.

Days, and even weeks, rolled by
  And yet no signs of land,
And driven to the verge of mutiny
  Was that sea faring band.
But Columbus, brave at heart,
  And possessed of an iron will,
Kept order 'till the horizon
  Gave way to a vine-clad hill.

"The Indies!" cried the excited crew,
  "Nature's soil we've found once more,
And ere the setting of the sun
  We'll moor our crafts along its shore,
We'll land and hoist our country's flag,
  And 'neath it, lift our voices loud.
Proclaiming ourselves to all the world
  Owners in the name of King and God!"

Now, the grandeur of success
  Inspired the hearts of the little band,
And, in 1498,
  They discovered America's main land.
Then from all parts of the globe
  Men rushed to the new found land.
Some came for the love of gold,
  Others, to escape cruel tyranny's hand.

Thirteen colonies sprang up
  Along the Atlantic's coast,
Then England got possession
  And openly of her power, did boast.
They taxed the colonists so high
  That they could scarce' earn their bread,
Until they 'rose up in arms
  With brave Washington at their head.

Petitions were sent to Parliament,
  Which England did not heed.
And then it was Thomas Jefferson
  Saved liberty's first seed.
He read in patriotic tones,
  And was heard by all
The new and bountiful doctrine
  Which made all men equal.

This was what united the people,
  And others took up the cry,
And in 1776,
  On our memorial Fourth of July,
Congress formed the declaration
  Of American independence
Which was to restore sweet harmony,
  To themselves and their descendants.

That was the birth of the republic,
  Which will last throughout the ages,
And there's no more beautiful fact
  Lined in our history's pages.
Thankful are Americans
  To live mortals sweet life through
In the arms of America,
  'Neath the folds of the Red, White and Blue.

That day should be remembered,
  And poets ought to sing
Of the freedom of our country,
  Free from a foreign King.
And orators should explain
  To foreigners that land,
And encourage them to make themselves
  A unit in our great band.

And now, American citizens!
  Of liberty drink your fill,
You are in a country where
  You may worship as you will.
Lift the star-spangled banner
  In defiance of tyranny's rod,
And in your private closet,
  For liberty, thank your God.

A Third Party.

Northwestern Agriculturist.

The conference recently held in Cincinnati to consider the expediency of forming a new or "Third" party, adopted a platform, and recommended a new political organization. Satisfactory reasons for that recommendation are not apparent to a large portion of the Alliance and Patrons of Husbandry, and other farmers' societies, and a still greater number of farmers who are not members of any organization. There never should be any difference of opinion among men as to the honest administration of the laws, but there always will be and always should be honest differences of opinion as to questions of public policy. Take, for instance, the question of the tariff. Many believe thoroughly in free trade. The theory that all should be free to buy in the cheapest market is plausible and taking. Others, equally honest and equally intelligent, claim that it is the first duty of a nation like ours to nurse and encourage manufacturers, until the supply for the wants of its people, so far as is possible, may come from within its own borders. The brotherhood of nations is a pretty theory, but, as it is every man's duty to provide first for his own family, so it is the first duty of a nation to make itself strong and independent. It is also claimed by the advocates of a protective tariff, and with apparently good reason, that industries which in the beginning need certain advantages, outgrow the need of help, and that competition, in the long run, so cheapens production that the consumer not only does not pay more on account of the tariff, but actually supplies his wants for less money than he could have done without the protective policy. England has prospered under free trade and the United States has prospered under a protective tariff, so the experience of nations does not seem to prove anything. Men differ on the tariff question and will continue to differ. That the Republican party advocates protective tariff honestly there is no doubt. It has the courage of its convictions and passed the McKinley bill just on the eve of important elections, and was beaten, because all sorts of dire results were predicted on account of it. Now, as none of those predicted misfortunes have followed, but on the other hand, so far as any results can be traced, only good has come of it, people begin to think that the campaign liar was abroad and the Republicans are recovering lost ground and courage, and have just nominated McKinley for governor of Ohio.

What the Democrats will do remains to be seen. It looks now as if Cleveland would again be renominated, and the contest between the parties made on the old lines, with some new side issues thrown in. No such opportunity has ever before been offered for the farmers, who hold the balance of power, to demand of both parties such reforms as they believe are just and in the interests of the whole people. The vote is too close for either to safely refuse.

There are, no doubt, many honest and sincere men who believe that existing wrongs will never be righted by either of the present parties. That wrongs exist is not doubted. Why they exist and how to remedy them are questions about which honest men differ, and those who have studied these questions least have the most confidence in the remedies which they advocate. Such men, with more light and more experience, will change their views, and will act in concert with other honest men, in finding and applying remedies which promise relief. The real question is, "Is the present situation likely to be bettered by the organization of a new party?" Those who assume the leadership and urge the "Third Party" most vehemently, are, unfortunately, with few exceptions, the impraticables and demagogues, who have been drifting from one to the other of the old parties, and who always are first to rally around the standard of a proposed new party, and often smother what is good in it. This danger always threatens and generally overwhelms a new organization, unless it stands upon the solid rock of a principle which appeals to a liberty loving people. Such men are not level-headed advisers. No party has ever yet got a permanent footing in this country that was organized on a platform of discontent. The causes of discontent are not common enough to people to make a party. What is loss to one class is gain to another. Cheap wheat is a loss to the farmer, but a gain to the consumer. It is not easy to name business conditions, which people enough to make a successful party really wish to abolish. What is meat to one class is poison to another. There are plenty of debtors, who favor cheap money, because they think it would enable them to pay their debts with less of what they have to sell, but many of them are clearheaded enough to understand that the damage from disorganization of business would more than offset temporary gain. There are millions who would like to borrow money on land at two per cent for an indefinite time, but common sense convinces most of them that while the average borrower was saving a few dollars in interest, the losses from a demoralized and inflated circulating medium, and the discontent resulting from such rank class legislation, would cost dollars for every cent saved in interest. All would suffer except the very rich who would not care and the very poor who have nothing to lose.

There is an honest difference of opinion, too, on the free coinage of silver, the control of railroads, and the regulation of monopolies, but these are questions on which a third party would not be more united than those already in existence. Leaving the questions, on one side or the other of which present parties are already committed, and there is no question which will command the support of a sufficient number to insure success. To create and hold together a party, there must be a principle which appeals to something higher than self interest. A party with a brilliant history behind it can win elections on minor questions of public policy. A new party must have something which appeals more strongly to the conscience and love of justice of a great people.

Whether or not it is wise to organize a new party is not a question of principle, but purely a question of business. Can existing wrongs be righted best by a new party, or by bringing to bear on old parties all the power of a class which holds the balance of power, and turn the scale one way or the other at will! Is it better to organize all who are dissatisfied which present parties into a "Third Party," which would be hardly more likely to be perfect than the rest, or will results be reached more quickly by taking advantage of the evenly matched strength of the two old parties and pledge both to such reforms as are reasonable and just? The chances would seem to be in favor of the latter plan. There is no question about its success. Neither party would or could refuse to incorporate into its platform any reform plank, which would pledge its party to any measures for the benefit of the whole people. Class legislation, whether for or against farmers or any other class, should be opposed by all honest and patriotic men. As a body of voters, holding the balance of power, both parties would court the farmers. Against a "Third Party" both Republicans and Democrates would make war, and would only seek an alliance to enable one or the other more surely to carry out its own plans. The last legislature in Minnesota was an illustration of this. As a strong body of voters bent on carrying out certain reforms, the farmer can win with certainty, As a third party, success, if not hopeless, is at least doubtful.

There is an amusing side to the agitation over the Third Party movement, which, by the way, has not yet gone far enough to excite serious antagonisms, while it has occasioned enough alarm in the ranks of the old parties to insure a respectful audience when the representatives of the farmer element make their demands. The politicians talk about the farmers as if they were a new and unknown element in politics and had never voted before Nothing is further from the truth. No class of men in the United States have so steadily voted their convictions unmoved by outside influence as the farmers. They have read and thought, and, having made up their minds, have voted according to their conclusions. Leaving out, perhaps, the professional men in cities, no class has been equally independent. In cities and towns, the mass of the population is made up of employers and employed. The latter are always more or less influenced by their positions. The farmer is a free man. His situation and his living does not depend on how he votes. The tillers of the soil have belonged to both parties because they have done their own thinking, and it will never be easy to coax or drive them under any party lash, whether it be of first, second or third party. If there is an independent and untrammelled voter in the Republic, it is the farmer.

Blaine and Knute Nelson.

Ex-Congressman Comstock Declares His Preference for 1892.

St. Paul, July 2.—Ex-Congressman S. G. Comstock, of Moorhead, was at the Merchants, St. Paul, yesterday. Mr Comstock, in discussing the probability of the Republicans carrping the new Seventh district in 1892, said it depended entirely upon who was nominated for president and governor.

"Blaine should be the man for the presidential nomination," said, "and I am in hopes that when he sees he is needed he will sacrifice his personal feelings and accept. In the next place I really think that the Republicans should nominate Knute Nelson for Governor. Mr. Nelson would be a power in carring the state for the Republicans. Of course, I believe his nomination would be to the interest of the party. For the remainder of the state and congressional offices none but good men should be nominated—men that, aside from having ability, have political strength."

Will They Repeal Pension Laws?

The New York Press.

The democratic press has been teeming for months with assaults upon the pension payments of the government. There have been vicious assaults both on the system under which the pensions are paid and upon the righteousness and justice of giving the old soldiers financial help in their disability or declining years. The democratic press undoubtedly speaks for democratic leaders, and both are presumed to voice the sentiment of the democratic party. It is therefore pertinent to ask, and not merely to ask, but to demand, a plain answer to the question. What does the democratic party propose to do in respect to pensions if it is intrusted with power? They denounce the system as outrageous—will they repeal it? They denounce the payment as too great—will they stop the payment.

The pension issue is one of momentous importance to a very large number of men who went into the army with the promise of the government that in event of death their families should be provided with sustenance, and that they themselves should not be allowed to suffer by reason of their sacrifice of business and opportunities to better themselves. The republican party has fulfilled that pledge loyally and justly. Nearly 550,000 pensioners borne on the rolls, and in spite of democratic charges that camp followers, sutlers and bounty jumpers have their names on the list, no proof has ever been produced to show that a single old soldier drawing a pension is not entitled to it, does not need it, and does not deserve it. The presentation of proof would cut him off at once, and yet the democratic cry continues that the system is faulty.

There are 11,300,000 voters in this country, and the 550,000 pensioners comprise voters of both parties scattered through the Nothern states. The Solid South fought these veterans in 1861-65. It stands ready to cut off their pensions whenever the Northern doughface democrats are ready to make the movement. Under republican legislation these pensioners are receiving a little over $100,000,000 annually—an average of less than $4 per week each.

Is the democratic party ready to say that these men shall not have their just dues? There were 1,353,190 claims for pensions filed up to January 1, 1891, showing over one-tenth of the voters of the whole country to be interested in pensions—probably one-fourth of the voters in the states north of Mason and Dixon's line. The grocers, dry goods dealers, clothing merchants and shopkeepers with whom they spend the little money sparingly dealt out to them by the government have as deep interest as they themselves in the pension payments, and the taxpayers in the states have an equal interest, because the repeal of the pension laws would fill the poorhouses. The old fellows who lived four years on hard tack and coffee cannot stand the fight of life like the vigorous men of their own age who stayed at home. They saved the nation, they got its gratitude, and they have rights to remembrance by remunerating pensions which cannot be disputed.

Will the democratic party repeal the pension laws when it comes into power? Dare any democratic paper or leader openly avow that purpose? Not one. Then, either the charges they make are false—and that is the truth—or else the democratic party is unfit for control of the government.

Mark Twain.

Has become rich, fat, and as a consequence lazy—or else his talent for quaint sayings has left him. One of the best things he ever said, in his humorous days, was that the vital statistics of the United States Census showed that more people died at home in bed than were killed or fatally injured in railroad accidents; therefore, it was far safer to travel than to stay at home. There is perhaps a flaw in Mark's syllogism, whether in premises or conclusion the reader can deteamine for himself, but there would be nothing illogical in a statement like this: All people wish to avoid accidents when traveling: "The Burlington" has never lost a passenger by accident; therefore all people prefer to travel by "The Burlington". This is reliable—for it comes from "The Burlington" itself. For tickets, rates, etc., call on your nearest railroad agent, or address W. J. C. KENYON, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn.

Mrs. Chas. E. Sawyer was a delegate to the Christian Endeavor Convention last week. Mrs. S. M. McKee also. There were said to be 15,000 people in attendance.

A young daughter of Robert Nerland aged about 16 years died last week with consumption and was buried on Saturday. The family live on Sampson's Woodland Addition.

The masons have completed the plastering at Wyatts store, the carpenters are putting on the finishing touches and very soon John will be back in elegant new quarters.

Our editor is away at St. Paul this week attending the National Convention and the devil is responsible for all errors. If you see anything good charge to the same source also.

During the storm on Sunday morning water got into H. F. Brown's cellar and did considerable damage to tobacco and cigars. It was discovered in time to prevent serious loss.

Dave Robinson makes a very handsome apparance as a member of the city police force. It would take a pretty swift thief to get away from Dave as he can out-run an Indian.

The heavy wind on Sunday lodged grain badly but much of it will recover it is thought. Grain is so extremely heavy this year that much damage might easily result in this way.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings, Mrs. Cora Underhill and Master Ned started for Tacoma on Monday. Mrs. Jennings expects to be back by September 1st, in time to attend to the fall trade in millinery.

Conducter Harry Norrie should own a trotter. He has one of the finest stables in the city and nothing to occupy it except a cow. There ought to be a thoroughbred trotter in that fine barn.

R. G. Marlette will turn in and assist Charlie Misner, the Alliance barber on Saturday next and he may become a permanant fixture of the shop, in which case his shop on the Fifth ward will be for rent.

Ike Simmons drove out to his brother's residence in the town of Russia, on Sunday, after his wife and children who had been out there visiting for several days last week. He says the roads were somewhat muddy.

John C. Welles called at our office on Tuesday morning and desired us to say that the story that his wheat was totally destroyed by 'hoppers is false in every particular. He has investigated and finds it a false alarm.

The alliance barber shop continues to be over-run with custom. Charlie Misner says if this thing keeps up he intends to put in another chair and more if necessary. He calculates to keep up with the business.

Comrade R. H. Carr was down from Fosston last week to be examined before the board for a pension. He says the prospects out his way were never better than at present, and if the prices are all right farmers will be happy.

Farmers in the neighborhood of Mentor will consult their best interests by consulting Moe & Buhn when in need of any kind of machinery. The boys are perfectly straight and reliable in all of their dealings with their fellow men.

Last week Andrew Sture moved his stock of general merchandise into the new corner store in the Opera Block, and now has things fixed up in shipshape. He invites all his old patrons and everybody else to call and look him over.

P. J. LaChapelle walks about 3 feet higher since his trotter beat Sorrel Ned last Saturday—and Sorrel Ned is no slouch of a trotter. Hugh Thompson's horse got left by the horse from below. The races were highly enjoyed by all who attended.

A. O. Balstad is a hustler, the way he has spruced up around his restaurant is a caution and they do say that the culinary department keeps pace. He advertises "the best meal on earth" and some who have been there say the claim is justified.

Several capitalists from Sioux City, Iowa, came up last week to look the ground over with a view to locating in business. To a JOURNAL reporter they expressed themselves very highly pleased with what they had seen of Crookston and vicinity.

The festive tramp is becoming too familiar these days, and if he don't look a leedle out the county will have to pay his funeral expenses, as we know of one handsome rifle that is loaded for bear, but its owner will not for-bear to use it upon occasion. Fair warning.

"Religion and Man," at 11 a. m., and "The Night Before the Exodus," at 8 p. m., are the subjects of sermons at the Congregational church next Sunday, July 19th. Rev. R. H. Battey will speak. Sunday school at 12 m. Y. P. S. C. E. meets at 7 p. m. Everybody cordially invited.

Farmer E. Roberts had young potatoes on July 4th. He is selling the new tubers in this market at a gilt-edged price, has lots of 'em and is coining money. Roberts gets up early in the morning and attends to his business in a business-like manner which is the only way to make farming pay in this or any other country.

Sunday was what you might call a rainy day. Early in the morning occurred a tremendous thunder storm accompanied by a perfect torrent of rain which taxed the capacity of the sewers to take care of. About 8 p. m. it commenced raining quietly and kept it up until 8 o'clock, finishing with a regular downpour. It was threatening weather all day Monday.

John Knuppe is up from St. Paul looking after his interests here. He was shown through our opera house and said it was the finest he ever saw in the State outside of the twin cities. He was surprised to find so complete an institution and could not find words strong enough to express his appreciation of the enterprise.

Owing to the rain last Friday evening the usual open air concert by the band was postponed until Monday evening, that evening being no more pleasant it was decided to defer it until the regular Friday evening concert, when the same program given in these columns last issue will be rehearsed at the corner of Broadway and Second.

Comrade Snyder commenced cutting his timothy hay on Friday last. He calculated to put in three machines on Saturday morning and make that field look small by Saturday night. Snyder, besides putting four or five hundred acres in grain has broken one hundred acres in good workmanlike style. He is a rusher and will make farming pay if "pluck and muscle" can do it.

Pete Misgen has been trying to make a fortune in that far famed city of Superior, Wis., and to a JOURNAL reporter on Monday he said that he was mighty glad that he got no further away from Crookston—wishes he had not got that far away, as he now knows that Crookston is as good a business point as there is in the country anywhere. And that is the verdect of everybody who has ever done business here.

T. G. Thompson has the cinch on cheap wells. Desiring to obtain a good well he procured 30 or 40 feet of tubing, attached thereto a screen and drove the business end in the ground at the point where he wanted to obtain the water. When he had driven the business down he put a force pump in and straightway began to throw water as high as his house. He says it makes the boss well.

Notwithstanding that early in the season the grass crop promised an abundant yield, the reports that reach THE JOURNAL from different parts of the county indicate that hay will not be a drug on the market. It will therefore be profitable to secure all the hay possible, as with a light crop following last year's light crop, hay will be good property to have during the coming winter and next spring. Don't be in a hurry to sell it right now, either.

From reports of the condition of affairs everywhere throughout the United States we are led to the belief that the Red River Valley country leads 'em all for crops and for business prospects. All we need is simply what our crops are legitimately worth in the markets, to make this country the best one on earth to-day, and it looks as though we would get about that this fall. Now is the time to catch on to Red River Valley lands. They will never be cheaper.

Mr. John C. Welles who has been up from Racine looking after his farming interests here returned to his home on Tuesday evening. He says that very much land has been sold in the neighborhood of his farm at Edna, and most of it to parties who are improving it. One man has broken over 1000 acres. He says that he becomes more in love with Minnesota every time he comes here and. if he was a young man, just starting in life he would come here by all means.

Ferdinand and Paul Mathey are working a farm in the northeast part of the town of Crookston, and had succeeded in getting a fine crop of wheat, oats and barley from which they hoped to be able to pay for their teams and running expenses, when, on Thursday night of last week, their stable caught fire and burned up everything therein contained. Four horses and harnesses, one ox and one calf with some feed were lost. This is a pretty tough experience for the boys who have worked hard and lived economically to get their little start. The cause of the fire is a mystery to them.

We want to make some honest, energetic, good looking farmer a present of a half section of land all under cultivation except a grove of five acres or so of fine young timber. The crop thereon should more than half pay for it this fall. Our object in selling it is because we wish to use it in our printing business and for that reason, also, we are prepared to give it to the first man who comes down with a very little spot cash. If you have any idea whatever of getting a farm it will pay you to look into this. Handy to town, good buildings, good fences, good artesian well and the very best of soil and so cheap—a combination you do not strike every day.

P. J. LaChapelle was interviewing a Justice last week to obtain a warrant for a female pugilist who had threatened to "put a head onto him." He said she came into his residence and commenced to relate how she had pounded her husband and driven him away from his domicile, and P. J. invited her to vamose the ranch, whereat she became suddenly so belligerent that P. J. found himself getting out of there at a rate that would have bothered that trotter of his to beat. After talking with Judge Christianson a few minutes he decided to "pass" for this game, but should she proceed to molest him in the future he should adopt severe measures. He says the old settlers must be allowed to spend their remaining years in peace, and he proposes to do so even if he has to fight for it.

About two weeks ago J. O. Sargeant bought a handsome pair of sorrel broncho, one four and the other five years old, and proceeded to break them in for a buggy team. On Thursday last he drove in from his farm, and just as he had unhitched, near his barn on Ash street, a boy on horse-back rode up and commenced yelling at another boy near by. This so frightened the animals that they became frantic and made a sudden dash for liberty. Mr. Sargeant followed them to Shirley, the first station on the Great Northern road, 7 miles north, and then returned and sent the cow-boy herders after them, but it was late when they got on track and darkness coming on they were obliged to give up the chase. The bronchos were last seen about six miles north of Shirley going in a northeasterly direction. They had on a light driving harness, and to each halter about 20 feet of rope. Both were branded on right hip. Mr. Sargeant offers a suitable reward for their recovery.

McINTOSH, July 11, 1891.

ED. JOURNAL: I see that it is becoming quite the fad to report the speech of your Fourth of July orator in full. I was not onto this fact at the time that I had the pleasure of listening to the good speech that Hon. Edward George gave us last Saturday, so I did not write it down at the time and must depend upon my fertile memory to do him justice, for it will not do to have McIntosh the only city that does not have a regular printed Fourth of July speech. She had a bang up celebration and is entitled to all of the frills incident thereto. Now, I do not pretend to quote verbatim, but from memory, and will get it as near exact as possible under the circumstances:

"I hear the tread of the Fusileers
Of Nations yet to be."

UNO.

We took a pleasant trip on Thursday, east as far as the half-way house, on the Maple Lake road, where we have several head of young stock in Mr. Vaudry's herd. We found his herd in elegant condition, and no wonder, as they are in grass up to their knees and have an abundance of pure living water handy. Mr. V. could supply that kind of pasturage for several hundred head more. En-route we called at the farm house of Joseph Laframboise, who has a fine farm a few miles east of Gentilly, on the Badger road, with a fine stream of water running through it. His grain is looking splendidly and he has some choice dairy cows, good horses, a fine flock of sheep, and geese, ducks, turkeys and hens till you can't rest. He is a thorough-going farmer and should make money if it can be done anywhere in America. He is a firm believer in good stock and will have no other at any price.

A Leap for Life.

On Wednesday morning the bystanders on Herb's corner were surprised to see a large white hound leap out of Dr. Dunlop's window in the upper story of the McKinnon block and strike the side-walk with a dull thud and a howl of pain. Upon examination the dog was found to be entirely uninjured, but lawyer Hatlestad and Andy Locken sustained severe injury to their nervous system as the dog barely missed jumping onto their necks in his willd leap. The mystery now, is what made the dog leave the doctor's office in that way and Dunc. Morris, who owns the hound will investigate.

Why Not?

A good farmer friend of ours dropped in to chat with THE JOURNAL man last week and, during the conversation, he broached the subject of county fairs. THE JOURNAL has, time and again, suggested the feasibility of holding a fair, and it would seem to us more desirable than ever since the farmers themselves are beginning to think about it. If they are interested in it there can be no doubt that it would be a big success, and the fact that they are talking about it shows that they are interested. We have more good stock in Polk County than the average citizen knows for and an opportunity to bring these all together and compare would be of great benefit to all, stock-raisers especially. It seems to us that the Driving Park Association could do well in the interest of their especial line—trotting stock, to take this matter in hand and get up a county fair. If it could be managed at a time when farmers were not too busy, we have no doubt that they would take sufficient interest to make it a great success.

They are Looking This Way.

Scarcely a week passes that THE JOURNAL does not get from one to a dozen requests for a sample copy from some farmer in some other State who desires information in relation to Polk County and her prospects. This shows that people are getting interested and this generally leads to investigation and when once a man investigates Polk County personally he becomes a citizen in short order.

Ladies, have you seen those elegant dresses Miss Minnie Bailey is making for her customers? She cuts and fits by the United States system and all her work is stylishly made. This we have on the authority of ladies who have had work done there, and the fact that she is having a very large business is significant, for the ladies are very quick to find out where they can have work done to suit them.

Married.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Walter Lee and Miss Cora Bivins were united for life at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. R. H. Battey, in presence of a few of the near relatives of the happy couple. Mr. Lee is one of the prominent citizens of our city, one of the proprietors of the Valley Roller Mills, while Miss Cora is a prominent member of Crookston social circles. THE JOURNAL unites with hosts of their friends in extending congratulations.

The county board met on Monday to consider matters of importance to the people. A report came before them of devastations by 'hoppers on the Wells farm near Fertile and this report will be investigated. There seems to be a disposition on the part of some to grumble at the action of the board in this matter but we have not yet heard one man complain who went thorough the grasshopper siege in the seventies. They know too well what a thoroughbred invasion means to kick at the expenditure of a few dollars in ascertaining the exact truth in the matter. If what Prof. Lugger says be true, that there are a few Rocky Mountain 'hoppers here, also some White Mountain 'hoppers, then it is clearly the part of wisdom to attempt to destroy them before they have an opportunity to deposit their eggs in sufficient numbers to destroy the entire crop next season. Prof. Lugger, who has made the study of insects a life work, is no doubt better prepared to judge in this matter than those who do not know the difference between an innocent native 'hopper and the voracious wild 'hopper of the woolly west. We consider the steps taken by the board wise and timely and we believe that time will fully justify their action.

Marshall County Banner:—Born to Mr. and Mrs. B. Bivens on July 2nd a girl of usual weight and promise. Bert has sudenly grown rich and smoking choice havanas with his friends.

The Times, in its last issue, in speaking of the Carman school affair says that the directors turned Mr. Deming off to provide a situation for Prof. Casey, and implies that the Professor himself used under-handed means to secure the same end. Now, we do not intend to anticipate the duty of the courts by trying this case in the newspapers for if the case ever does come to trial doubtless all of the facts will appear, but we do not think it a fair deal for the Times to drag an innocent man into the deal even by implication and all who are acquainted with Prof. Casey, and who understand the Times man's peculiar methods will take no stock in his slurs upon him. That he was beaten last fall is no evidence of incompetency and we think we voice the sentiment of a large majority of our citizens when we say that the county never had a better nor more competent School Superintendent then Prof. Thomas Casey made. He is one of the most competent instructors in Polk County, always commends the highest salary and is a man who deservedly has many friends and but few enemies. The Professor naturally feels indignant at the manner in which the Times treated him under the circumstances.

Annual School Meeting.

Next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock is the time for the annual School meetings throughout the State. It would be well, after the election of officers and other routine work of the evening if something could be done towards securing a more punctual attendance. Last year the number of pupils entitled to apportionment was 5161. The The number not entitled to apportionment was 2285—that is 2285 of the children of our county did not attend school 40 days, thorough they were enrolled and should have done so. The apportionment was $4,60 per pupil, or a loss of over $10,000 for their careless way of attending the public schools. One district with 35 children enrolled reports 17 for apportionment and 18 not entitled to State aid: in other words where the district should receive $161.00 from the State they receive less than half that sum. Now this is all wrong and THE JOURNAL is of the opinion that the parents could do very much to correct this evil.

Conductor Casper Sands is the happy owner of a little pug dog which he bought at the rate of about $500 per pound. The dog is about as big as the average cut-worm, which he resembles to a remarkable degree, only his legs are a trifle longer and reach down to the ground from the northwest corner, the n. e. corner, the s. w. corner and the s. e. corner of the dog, and he can bark louder than a cut-worm—in fact the bark is the biggest part of him—big enough for one of T. B. Walker's biggest saw-logs. On Friday last at set of day when Casper came home he missed the bark and at once concluded that it had followed some strange craft out to sea and been wrecked. So he gave out notice that everybody who should bring back the aforesaid dog would receive a reward of $5. Two days of great anxiety were passed by the conductor, but on Sunday morning a heavy shower occurred, after which Casper found the dog in his potato patch, all right.

TWINE FACTORY BURNED.

The mammoth twine factory of the Elizabethport Cordage Co., at Elizabethport N. J. was destroyed by fire a short time since and a large portion of the twine, although saved from the fire, was slightly discolered by smoke, necessitating its being put upon the market at a great loss in order to dispose of it. A large portion of this stock will be offered for sale at the skating rink in this city on Tuesday July 21st. The twine is of the very best quality made and not injured in the slightest degree for all practical purposes the discoloration affecting its appearance only. Don't miss this opportunity to lay in your season's supply. The Elizabethport factory has a reputation of turning out a superior quality of twine and when you have a chance to secure some of it at only 10 cents per pound you, certainly have a snap which every business former will avail himself of.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL!

How enjoyable on a warm evening in summer to sit down in a well ventilated room and eat a good dish of ice cream. This evening, July 16th, there will be an opportunity to get ice cream and cake at the old Opera House A singing choir will serve with songs. Admission 25 cents. The funds will be used for the completion of Hauge church. Come everybody.

Grand Forks Herald:—Paul Kops has returned from another successful musical trip to the west. These Kops brothers are hustlers in their line of business and well deserve all the success they are meeting with.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Crookston, Minn., July 13, 1891.

The Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office, by letter dated May 28th, 1891, under instructions from the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, dated May 22d, 1891, directs us to restore to the public domain, and open to settlement and entry all lands heretofore withdrawn in this district within the indemnity limits of the grant for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, and not embraced in selections heretofore made or applied for by said company, but this restoration shall not affect the rights acquired by grantees within the primary limits of any other congressional grant.

Notice is therefore hereby given that applications for all lands coming within the purview of said instructions will be received at this office on and after August 24th, 1891.

H. H. DICKMANN, Register.
L. K. AAKER, Receiver.

In relation to the above notice, Mr. Aaker informs THE JOURNAL that after a careful search of the records they find that there is not an acre of land in the district subject to entry. This report was duly made to the General Land Office at Washington, and instructions sent back to publish the order nevertheless.

COUNTY NEWS.

Beltrami Items.

As soon as the report reached here this morning that nearly all of section 31, Town of Liberty, belonging to Mr. Wells was covered by grasshoppers, Messrs. Budd, Ford, Croft, Ward, Remington, and myself started for the place and after examining many fields in Reis and a few in Liberty we discovered 10 or 15 hoppers and concluded that those who started the story were either malicious liars or more scared than hurt.

Union Sunday School services every Sunday at the Beltrami school house at 10 A. M.

Supt. E. W. Johnson invites all who are interested in the study of God's word to be present.

H. B. Budd sold two farms last week; pretty good for one who is not in the real estate business. There are a few more quarters of choice improved land here for sale cheap.

Mr. Noys manager of the new farm of Lockhart says he finished breaking 1000 acres this season last Saturday.

Those who are obliged to buy machinery this year are in great luck for we have two machinery firms who are running each other on prices. Shop buyers can get their goods at about cost.

Gittle Stramstad struck a 50 barrel flow on his place at a depth of 290 ft. The first flow that has been struck so far west of the track in that township.

Dennis Harrigan is building a horse on his homestead which he has just filed on in the south part of town.

Mr. Steenis Aagard who lives north of town started a smudge for his stock on the 2nd of July and on the Fourth it worked up to his stable and destroyed it together with 8 calves, 2 pigs, chickens harnesses and hay.

Mr. Baude of Fertile informs us that T. Connery has struck a mineral well on his place and that one of the physicians of that place has purchased it and will sell it by the bottle or glass at his drug store. None genuine without his stamp on every bottle.

Ten or twelve of the boys here started a Temperance society last Sabbath night and celebrated the organization by drinking an eight gallon keg of beer. Martin Lydon was elected president. The other officers will be elected at the next meeting. EDNA.

Ada Items.

Norman County Index.

The Ada base ball club went up to Crookston Wednesday and tackled their crack club. Only seven innings were played, resulting in a score of 22 to 6 in favor of Crookston. The crack Felton pitcher was in the box for Ada for the first four innings, during which Crookston pounded out nineteen runs. Then Cragin was put in and pitched out the game. Out of respect for the home team we omit the individual score.

O. E. Olson was in Grand Forks this week attending a farmers meeting which had for its object the formation of an organization of the farmers of the Red River Valley to ship their own wheat. The plan they have adopted is to employ Ex-Co. Treasurer Tharaldson, of Grand Forks, as agent at Duluth, and ship their wheat to him, the organization to be paid one cent a bushel for all shipped to this agent. This plan seems to be a good one and is well worth being tried. We will give further particulars in regard to the association later.

FERTILE ITEMS.

From the Fertile Journal,

Several men with a herd of ponies are camped near town. They report sales good.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Sankey have been visiting relatives and friends in and around Fertile this week.

This section of country has been getting its share of rain during this summer, but fortunately there has been no destructive storms and no damage has been caused. The growing crops are doing nicely and if nothing happens between now and harvest time this will be one of the best years in the history of the Red River Valley.

That Crookston sprinter who came down here the 4th with the expectation of doing up our local runners got badly left. If that is the best Crookston can do—well they needn't expect to be in it with Fertile.

Tilda, age 10, a daughter of O. P. Renne has attended school during the last three years, 17 months or 340 days and has not been absent or tardy.

Fisher Items.

From the Bulletin,

Mr. Rickett and Dr. Robertson of Crookston, will be the guests of Dr. Lackester Sunday.

C. L. O. Lucken and Graham Munch, two of Crookston's young men, procured a skiff and rowed over to the celebration Saturday. They had quite a time of it. They started from Crookston at 11,30 and did not reach Fisher until 8,30 in the evening.

Donald Bain and wife started on Tuesday for Maple Lake, where they will enjoy themselves for a short time.

Dr. and Mrs. Lankester attended the performance of the "Corner Grocery" at Crookston Tuesday evening.

Prof. Casey prefaced the reading of the Declaration of Independence by as neat and sensible a speech as is seldom heard outside of great oratorical centers. It was a surprise to the hundreds of the friends of the Professor, who, while cognizant of his abilities as a teacher and scholar, were not prepared for the sensible and deserved praise which he bestowed upon the theme which he was called upon to read. The Bulletin is proud that Prof. Casey is a resident of Polk county.

Warren Items.

Warren Sheaf,

Harry Wood and wife, of Crookston, visited here during the Fourth.

A. R. Holston, county attorney of Polk county, spent the Fourth in this city.

Ed Martin of Crookston was in the city yesterday looking into the feasibility of starting another barber shop.

Among the numerous attractions of the Fourth in Thief River Falls was a party of 100 dancing Indians said to be in charge of Ole Olson.

St. Hilaire Items.

St. Hilaire Spectator.

E. M. Hoff will, we learn, fix the Utzinger building up in first class shape and move his stock of goods in as soon as completed. He will have a fine large store building.

Tom Harris and crew went down to Crookston last Monday to spend the 4th, returning on Friday. They already have their work completed here and will leave to-day. The town is getting so close together now that Tom is afraid his business will suffer in the future.

T. O Moe, the Thief Lake merchant was in town the first of the week after goods. He reports that the country is settling up fast there and that over thirty families have moved in that neighborhood this spring. His store is about forty miles north of here near Thief Lake.

Our county Commissioner, C. P. DeMers, was in town yesterday on official business. He went out to the township of Sanders to look over some road work going on there. The county has appropriated $100 for the road leading to the sand ridge and the township officers are doing considerable work there this summer.

DIED.

On Saturday July 4th, of inflammation of the brain, Ernest Fernando, aged eighteen months, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Rapp. The sympathy of the entire comunity is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Rapp in their bereavement. The funeral took place last Monday afternoon and was attended by a large number of friends. Rev. Chapman preached an excellent funeral sermon and a number of little boys and girls acted as pall bearers. The church was very tastefully decorated by friends. The interment took place in the Swedish Lutheran Cemetery across the river,

Geo. Vine, of the Robert Street meat market informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

FARMERS' TRUST NEXT.

A Project Unearthed Whereby Interested Parties Hope to Bull the Wheat Market.

By a Combination of the Six Million Alliance Members to Hold Back the Year's Crop.

CHICAGO, July 8.—: A morning paper devotes three columns to the publication of what purports to be a secret circular to be issued to the farmers of the nation unfolding the development of a plan to force up the price of the present wheat crop. The paper says:

"It is proposed to withhold this year's wheat crop from market until the farmers can get their own price, or at least a price considerably above the average. It suggests a great combination of the 6,000,000 members of farmers' organizations, including the 2,000,000 members of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, the 1,000,000 members of the Colored National Farmers' alliance, the 1,000,000 members of the National Farmers' Alliance of the North, the 800,000 members of the Farmers' Mutual Benevolent association, the 600,000 members of the Patrons of Husbandry, and the 150,000 members of the Farmers league. Impressed by the failure of the Butterworth option bill and other measures to prevent trading in futures on farm products, the farmers are now, through their officials advisers at least, preparing to go on a

STRIKE FOR HIGHER PRICES.

Legislation is declared to be too slow, and ineffectual, and as the conditions of the crops and the market appear auspicious, the producers, when organized, may hope to form a combination that will result in profit to the agriculturists. The circular makes an argument on the evils of option dealing, and the tricks to which speculators resort in order to prevent the farmer from realizing good prices; gives the government estimates on the present crop; estimates that the country will have 144,000,000 bushels of wheat for export; sets forth the shortage in the crops of Europe; declares that there is no chance of failure in the attempt to realize higher prises; urges all members of the farmers' organizations to hold their grain until the prices shall advance to $1.35 per bushel at New York, and points out that by so doing a profit of $100,000,000 is sure to accrue to them within a few weeks. It urges them to take this stand, even at the expense of being pinched for a time.

A Roof of American Tin.

New York Press.

The free trade skeptics who are still proclaiming that American tin plate is not made and sold in this country will find themselves confounded by the purely business correspondence presented in this issue of The Press, by which it appears that the first roof of tin plate of American manufacture in New York has been laid on a building of the Van Zandt estate at No. 212 Centre street. The letters between Mr. Van Zandt, executor of the Van Zandt estate, and Mr. J. S. Moseley, the roofer, furnish the most positive evidence that in a purely commercial way American tin plate is made, is sold and is used. The roof at No. 212 Centre street is an object lesson from which the free traders cannot escape. It is another link in the chain of evidence that proves the possibility of Americans making all the tin plate used in this country, instead of paying $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually for imported plate.

Mr. Moseley is an Englishman by birth, but clearly an American in spirit. His testimony about the composition of tin plate is evidence from the plain people to the plain people. We can make iron and steel sheets in this country in quantity and quality to outrival any other nation of the globe. Of that there is no dispute. Tin plate is formed by tinning these iron or steel plates. From 96 to 98 per cent. of tin plate is iron or steel. The 2 to 4 per cent. of tin by which tin plate is produced is imported to England from the Straits of Malacca, where cooly labor produces it at the miserable pittance of five to ten cents per day. We can import this tin to the United States as well as the English, but we can do better still under protection and take the tin metal from our own deposits in South Dakota, in Virginia and in Southern California, paying living wages to free men for mining it, and so be independent of the whole world in respect to the tin plate product.

The Centre street roof of American tin plate is the harbinger of many similar roofs which will cover American homes and business places in the near future under the beneficent processes of protection.

GIVE FARMERS FREEDOM.

Farm Stock and Home.

Our duty of the hour, so far as the farmer is concerned, is to see that he has a fair field. With this, he need ask no favor. One thing he has a right to demand, and is justified in seeking by every means he can compass; that is, free access to the markets of the world. His most serious trouble is that he is penned in a corner by those who are working him as a source of profit. Through his necessities, which are imperative, he is squeezed like a lemon by those who make his tools and his clothing and nearly all he has to buy.  He little knows the men who rule him. They do not live by labor. They live by the business of politics; by the controlling of elections and the use of that control for profit. What with the offices they are permitted to distribute and the corruption funds they collect from men who are interested in class legislation, they make their business pay handsomely, directly and indirectly.

Enough of the business element of politics is allied with manufacturing industries to make manufacturers sometimes our most dangerous, though not our most conspicuous, politicians. Through them the farmer and the workingman generally are taxed right and left. They are made to pay tribute to trusts and combinations, to the pension agents, and to the bummers and deadbeats who discovered their wounds only a quarter of a century after they had fled from their last battlefield. In spite of their overwhelming numbers, the farmers are powerless to protect themselves, mainly for lack of intelligence to see their situation as it is. They are peculiarly susceptible to the presentation of false issues, and are easily misled by the flattery and buncombe of the demagogues of both parties.

The conclusion from all this must be that there is a duty of the hour which we owe the farmer—the duty of relieving him from the unequal burden of taxation to which he is now subjected, by allowing him to buy what he does not produce, as he is compelled to sell what he does produce, in the world's markets at the world's prices. * *

That the present Alliance movement will directly improve the situation is not likely. There are already indications that professional politicians will buy farms, will pay the expense of Alliance meetings, and will capture the Alliance vote. This done, they will go on in their old familiar way, with the old familiar result, until farmers learn to do more of their own thinking.—Geo. E. Waring, Jr., in N. A. Review.

FARMERS ARE THINKING.

New York Herald (Ind.)

We may grumble about the third party to our hearts' content, but there it is. The part which it may play in the next campaign will not, perhaps, be important; but the fact that it had its origin in the restlessness and discontent of farmers and workingmen is very important. The tillers of the soil in the South and the Northwest have a feeling that they have not been squarely dealt with. "If the country," they say, "is so tremendously prosperous as our orators are constantly declaring it to be, why in the world are we compelled to mortgage our farms? If our manufactories are booming, if business is so brisk and prosperous that a man can count his money by millions, why can't we, who work from sunrise until after dark, manage to make both ends meet? There must be a screw loose somewhere." And it is that loose screw, or rather the hope to find and tighten it, which gave rise to this third party. The wage-earners are also disgruntled. If you say it is their chronic condition, then all the worse for the system which makes it chronic. There never was a time in history of the world when so much profound thinking was done by the workingmen as now. It is the tendency of a republic to make them think, for they have votes to cast and public policies to approve or oppose. They don't quite know what the matter is, and so they strike in the dark and three-quarters of the time hit nothing. They are only sure of one thing—that there is something somewhere which ought to be hit, and hit hard, if they can only find out what and where it is. In the meantime our high tariff monstrosity is oppressing both of these classes and making their burdens heavier. The government, which should render life easier, is constantly making it harder. The farmers and the wage earners are gradually getting their eyes open to that fact, and if in '92 they come to see it as clearly as some of us see it now, they will train their guns against McKinley and exterminate all these buncombe mongers who try to persuade the people that the more a man takes out of his pocket for taxes the more he has in it for himself.

CUT WHEAT EARLY.

An Illinois Experiment Which May Benefit North Dakota Farmers,

Grand Forks Herald.

The importance of early cutting of grain before it was thoroughly ripe was well shown by an experiment made in Illinois. Of a field of fifty acres of wheat, a part cut ten or fifteen days before maturity gave plump grain that weighed 62½ pounds to the bushel, while that which stood until fully ripe weighed only 58 pounds to the bushel, a shrinkage in weight of 7½ per cent., to which might be added a further shrinkage from grain that rattled out in handling. This is as applicable to other grain, including field corn or any crop grown for seed, as to wheat. Millers know that wheat cut before it is quite ripe makes better flour than when it stands longer, and other experiments have indicated that it was better for seed purposes, germinating more readily and coming forward more rapidly. As a general rule, the best time for cutting grain is when the seed is fully formed and has glazed over, but is yet so tender as to be crushed between finger and thumb.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas,

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line, leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul, 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel. [11-16]

D. 1887, at 2:15 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 339; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty-nine dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of forty-nine dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the said Mary V. Martin has exercised her option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred seven and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 29th day of August A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, July 7th, 1891.

On receiving and filing the petition of Harvey E. Cooke, of the County of Polk, representing, among other things, that William G. Cooke, late of the County of Polk in the State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of March, A. D. 1891, at the County of Polk, died intestate, and being an inhabitant of this county at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels and estate within this county, and that the said petitioner is a brother of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to him granted.

It is ordered that said petition be heard before this Court, on Friday, the 31st day of July, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office, in the City of Crookston, in said county.

Ordered further, that notice thereof be given to the heirs of said deceased, and to all persons interested, by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston the 7th day of July, A. D. 1891.

By the Court, C. M. BENSON,
[12-14] Judge of Probate.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

A member of Frank Daggett Post, at Litchfield, died recently and his family desired to have him buried with military honors by the Post, but the minister, who must have been a good deal of a crank, forbade it and would not allow any such proceedings, nor would he allow any member of the Post to act as pall-bearer. To show their appreciation of such cranky notions in free America, Col. Cobham Post drew up the following resolutions which they sent to the Post at Litchfield:

Whereas, There recently died a member of Frank Daggett Post, G. A. R., at Litchfield, Minnesota, and

Whereas, It having been the desire of the deceased comrade and his family, that the usual Grand Army services be had at his funeral, and

Whereas, The officiating clergyman at the funeral of said deceased comrade, and in total disregard of an honored custom of the Grand Army of the Republic and the expressed wishes of the family of said deceased, did forbid the carrying of the United States flag and other appropriate ceremonies practiced by the G. A. R. at the funeral of a deceased comrade, be it

Resolved, That the customary funeral rites of the Grand Army of the Republic are in full keeping with the patriotic sentiments of all who love their country and their country's God, and be it

Resolved, That in permitting the observance of these customs we recognize a token of the people's appreciation of the soldiers' services in securing to us the blessings of liberty, and be it

Resolved, That the action of said officiating clergyman at the funeral of Comrade Maier, of Frank Daggett Post, was un-American, un-republican and un-patriotic, and such action stamps its author as a bigoted ingrate, blind to the blessings of civil and religious liberty, and be it

Resolved, That such disregard of the patriotic rites of the Grand Army of the Republic, is a bigoted disregard of that love of country, which next to the love of our Creator, is the highest and noblest sentiment of the human heart.

TO RAISE MONEY.

A Scheme of the Kansas Alliance to Renew Mortgages on Farm Lands in That State.

Go East and Negotiate Direct with Corporations for the Whole Number. Great Saving Anticipated.

Topeka, Kan., July 13.—The Kansas Alliance has formulated a plan for the payment and renewal of farm mortgages which will be of great interest to the farmers as well as to the capitalists of the East who loan the money. A committee consisting of A. P. Collins and F. J. Newell has been appointed to ascertain the number of mortgages on farms owned by Alliance men in Kansas, to lump them in a whole and to go East and negotiate with one or more corporations or companies of capitalists for their renewal or payment at a lower rate of interest. The object of this action is to dispel the idea that the farmers of Kansas are in favor of repudiation, and to also do away with the middlemen and agents who filch from both capitalists and farmers in charging exorbitant interest and commissions. It is believed that this plan will reduce the rate of interest to 6 per cent.

LETTER FROM C. D. C.

Chehalis, Wash., June 28.

Editor Fergus Falls Journal.

If the settlers in Ottertail County who have the Pacific slope fever know when they are well off, they'll stay at home, even if it is hard times, for they will find when they get to Washington or Oregon that farming is not so easy as in Minnesota. It is true in some places they raise big crops, but it is where the old mossbacks have been grubbing along for years in mud and rain and going through no end of hardships and privations. They have laid out townsites innumerable and caught the suckers, who now find themselves with a house and lot not paid for and no work. Everything is at a stand still. They talk of fruit farms and hop yards; it takes cash to open them out and then it is precarious work. The fact is laborers and mechanics are not wanted. It is capitalists they want to dig down 400 feet for lignite, called coal, also to put in saw mills—too many already; lots are shut down. As soon as one arrives in town here, if you have money, they want to sell you lots, millions in it, bound to triple your cash in one year—strange, they are so anxious to give away snaps—I have great fun in my travels listening to all of them. It's the same ding dong from one town to another, hundreds of deluded farmers from Kansas, Nebraskr and Iowa are laying round waiting for something to turn up, in hopes they can manage sometime to get back. The great drawback to this country is the want of roads; you can get nowhere except by rail and boat. It will be years ere roads can be made. The stumbling block is the old mossback. He does not want folks to come and view the promised land. He is contented to sit and watch the "kears" as they roll by and sell you a town lot, 30x100 feet for $400—cheap, trees thrown in, some six feet through, and pretty close together. The railroads employs Dagos and Chinese, so the white laborer has no show. They'll not employ a man in the shingle or saw mills unless he is an expert so almost every avenue is shut against a man looking for work. Every business is overdone, goods selling cheaper than in Otter Tail County of all kinds. Professional men 'tending bars and waiters in restaurants; everything overdone and cooked in the boom to death. My advice is: Leave well enough alone and stay at home. It rains here from November to July and it is the most affectionate soil I ever saw. It sticks worse than Fargo mud. There is no shaking it off. They say it will raise anything: I dont doubt it. It raised me one foot in four blocks—if you don't have a grub hoe handy to knock it off your boots before it dries, you have to use a cold chisel; this is the truth. They have no snow for tobogganing, but the soil makes a fine substitute. It is the worst place for amusements I every saw. I am thinking of starting a toboggan slide on Mount St. Helen, just to draw their attention protempo from dirt. They talk dirt, dream of dirt and almost eat dirt. With all their blow, they import everything fit to eat, from vegetables to meat. It is now awful hot in day time and nearly freezing at night. This is about the general run of the towns of Washington and Oregon—only on the coast they have more fogs to help out variety—no hunting or fishing compared to Otter Tail County, and cash is just as scarce here as with you. So tell all to stay at home and weather it out.

When The Earth Was Young.

Says Dr. Ball, astronomer royal for Ireland, it went around so fast that the day was only three hours long. The earth was liquid then, and it spun around and around at that fearful speed, and as the sun caused ever increasing tides upon its surface, it at last burst in two. The smaller part became the moon, which has been going around the earth ever since at an increasing distance. The demand for speed is one which no invention of men seems to satisfy. Ocean steamers now cross the Atlantic in a week, but the public clamors for a shorter voyage, and some of the companies are holding out a hope of three days. Perhaps the speed indicated above, when our old globe whirled around to the rate of 8,000 miles an hour, would satisfy the people who travel, but as the world is getting on in years now, and is a little slow, they will have to be contented with such a gate as the railroads can strike. When they want speed combined with smooth running and safety, those who are posted select "The Bulington," the favorite low grade, smooth track line from Minneapolis and St. Paul to Chicago and St. Louis. For tickets and any further information apply to your local ticket agent or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Southern Fraud in the North.

New York Press.

When the Democrats, last June imported the tissue ballot fraud from the South to New England they overlooked the distinction between bulldozed freedmen of the Southern States and the New England Republicans. We suggested at the time that they would find out the distinction later on, and they have found it out. The attempt to carry the election of municipal officers in a wealthy and important town by tissue ballots has failed. There was no denial of the fraud perpetrated in Lincoln, Rhode Island, nor any question as to the interest in which it was perpetrated. But in order to make it impossible to prove the crime, the democratic town officials deliberately ordered the destruction by burning of all the ballots. The tissue ballots were destroyed, and the democratic candidates, claiming election by virtue of the fraud, took possession of the offices just as they do on a larger scale in South Carolina and Mississippi.

But the tissue ballot criminals were soon taught that they were in New England, not South Carolina. A writ of quo warranto carried the case to the Supreme Court, and that tribunal decreed that the beneficiaries of the fraud should be ousted from office. Even then the democrats were not willing to relax their grasp. The old municipal officers or ex-officers, belonging to the democratic party claimed that the judgment of the court annulled the election altogether, and proceeded to hold over as if no election had been held. Then the republicans determined to give a lesson to the importers of the tissue ballot once for all. The lawful elected officers of the town, chosen by a majority which, apart from the fraudulent tissue ballots, nobody had questioned, proceeded to secure possession of the public offices. The tissue ballot beneficiaries made a violent resistance, but they were overcome and driven out.

And then, says the Mugwump Providence Journal, "the darkest day in the history of civilized Lincoln was at an end." Yes, it was a dark and a disgraceful day, made such by democratic force and fraud of the kind that has kept the South solid for many years past. The people of New England have had a chance to see in miniature in the North the methods which the amended Federal Elections bill was intended to put an end to in the former slave holding States of the South.

BLAINE'S HEALTH.

A New York Herald Correspondent Visits Bar Harbor to Find Out What He Can About It.

His Disease Purely One of the Nerves. No Bright's Disease, No Paralysis, No Indigestion.

No Drug or Medicines Needed—His Physicians Think He Will Get Well—Blaine Thinks So To.

New York, July 13.—The Herald prints the following from its special correspondent at Bar Harbor:

It still an open question among those who think themselves in a position to know whether James G. Blaine will return to his duties at Washington in the fall or whether he has come to Bar Harbor to die.

I think I am safe in making these two statements.

First—That Mr. Blaine is by no means the man he was a year ago, and the habitants of Bar Harbor are shocked at the change.

Second—That if Mr. Blaine is really dying from whatever cause, he is dying very gamely, and is making such a fight against the grim monster as only a man of his iron will can make.

To Sum up the Situation,

then, Mr. Blaine may be a wreck on a priori ground, but he may be one of that particular kind of wrecks which laugh scientific deductions in the face and refuse to sink. What can you expect of a "dying man" who, rain or shine, insists on driving his twenty miles a day? I had a good look at the secretary during the afternoon at his Bar Harbor home. He was in a brown study, walking with slow stride up and down a favorite piazza, which looked down on Frenchman's bay. He wore a soft hat, pulled down over his head, while a black coat with long tails flapped about his legs. He was dressed for comfort and nothing else. But dress is a trivial detail. What struck me was the expression of his face—pallid white, in a frame of silver hair and beard. His eyes shone bright as of yore, but they shone with a feverish unhealthy lustre, and there was in their look something of mental disquiet. A kind of whose shadowy form he seemed to see far away where his glance touched the horizon. A wise man indeed would he be who could read Blaine's thoughts at such a moment, but a fool could say they were unhappy. People who have known Mr. Blaine for years are impressed in a similar way by the difference in his manner and expression. You cannot indicate precisely in lines and adjectives what that difference is. You cannot indicate the difference between sunrise and sunset, but you know that the difference is there. You feel it. Mrs. Blaine and her daughter Mrs. Damrosch are (and this I have on the best authority) almost worried to death about the condition of him who is so dear to them and whose condition they are able to appreciate by a loving intuition far better than the doctors with their learned formulas.

Not a Case for Drugs or Medicines.

As one of the physicians told me, there are no drugs or medicines which can do the great statesman any good. Who knows the great recipe for calming nerve centers or the overworked brain? No one. The patient will either pull through or he won't, and that is all there is to it.

"What is the trouble with Mr. Blaine?"

"His nerves, nothing but his nerves," answered Dr. J. M. Taylor, the Philadelphia nerve specialist, who is in constant attendance.

"Then he has not Brights disease, as reported?"

"Emphatically not; his kidneys are as sound as any man's."

"And he is not suffering from paralysis?"

"No, indeed. Do you think a man who had paralysis could drive about as he does?"

"But isn't his stomach all gone to pieces? They say he can take no nourishment except milk."

"Nonsense, Mr. Blaine eats and enjoys three square meals a day, composed of pretty much the same dishes that you or I eat."

"Then you think he will get well?"

"Unquestionably. During the five weeks he has been here he has made steady improvements and will go back to Washington all ready for the load of work before him."

Such is the physician's statement, which some persons accept as gospel truth, while others shake their heads and refuse to be convinced.

Blaine Expects to Get Well.

Boston, July 13.—A special to The Herald from Bar Harbor says: Secretary Blaine continues steadily to improve in health, and he says that he feels himself on the high road to recovery.

"The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment," Drs. Starkey & Palen have been using for the last twenty years, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of oxygen and nytrogen magnetized, and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

Drs. Starkey & Palen's office records show over 50,000 cases in which their original (and only genuine) Compound Oxygen Treatment has been used by physicians in their practice, and by invalids independently. Over 1,000 physicians and more than 49,000 invalids.

"Compound Oxygen—Its Mode of Action and Results," is the title of a new brochure of two hundred pages, published by Drs. Starkey and Palen, which gives to all inquirers full information as to this remarkable curative agent and a record of several hundred surprising cures in a wide range of chronic cases—many of them after being abandoned to die by other physicians. Will be mailed free to any address on application. Read the brochure!

OFFICE IN McKINNON BLOCK.

Thief River Falls Items.

Thief River Falls Press.

As was stated in last week's issue of The Press Mr. C. A. Kinkaid has purchased the Tindolph block and arrived last Friday to view his purchase and decide on future action. Like all previous investors in this village he was delighted with his bargain and immediately decided to complete the building which will be occupied as follows: The north side will be filled with an extensive stock of general merchandise, and in the west end of this room an office to be used for bank will be finished off and in connection with this a wheat market will be established making a grain market in this place, a business the lack of which the town has suffered. The south room will be used as a storage room until rented. A party is in town to-day looking over the place in the banking interest and informs us that he is well pleased with the outlook and is quite sure that he will be here soon with another gentleman and plenty of capital for both banking and wheat buying. A part of the second story will be finished off for living rooms and the balance of this story and third will be arranged for a boarding house and hotel. The contract has been let for the work. Thus a building which has been an eyesore for a long time will soon be changed to a fine, thriving business block. Work will be commenced immediately and pushed as fast as possible. So far as possible residents of the town will be employed on the work. We shall try and give more particulars in next week's paper.

Mr. Kretzchmar is makings things shine around his house and mill, with paint. He has painted both and on the front of the mill at the top in white paint has "1888, O. K."

There is a great of complaint from people living north on Thief River in regard to the fish traps in that stream. They not only deprive the settlers of the fish they should have but fairly make the water rotten with dead fish.

At the celebration in the town of Excel on the Fourth two girls named Anna Decker and Emma Simonson were thrown from a circular swing. The former was quite seriously but not dangerously hurt, the latter hurt but little.

DEVIATION IS DESIRED.

Polk County People Want The Duluth & Winnipeg Railroad.

Efforts Are Being Made to Have the Line Run to Crookston.

Special to the Globe.

Duluth, June 19.—Great efforts are being made by the farmers and business men of Polk county to induce the Duluth & Winnipeg railway people to change the proposed bee line route from Duluth to Winnipeg and deviate so as to run into Crookston and through the Red River Valley. There is a large delegation here to-day, including several officials of the road and the following named gentlemen from Crookston: Mayor Alex McKinnon, E. D. Childs O. H. Lucken, William Anglim and several other prominent men from the western part of the state. There are also a few prominent Eastern capitalists here. The party took an excursion out to the present terminus of the line, several miles beyond Grand Rapids, Minn. The company is now firmly on its feet financially, having Eastern backing which will enable it to successfully compete with the Great Northern, so that the probability is very strong that it will seek to get a good share of the freight traffic of the Red River Valley, even if a deviation must be made. E. D. Childs, of Crookston, one of the directors of the road, and owner of about 9,000 acres of land in Polk county, told your correspondent yesterday that he expected the four counties, of Polk, Marshall, Kittson and Norman would harvest 15,000,000 bushels of wheat this fall.

McGrath Makes a Denial.

Topeka, Kan., July 13.—President Frank McGrath, of the Farmers' Alliance, who has just arrived in the city, pronounced the report that the Farmers' Alliance had sent out a secret circular appealing to its members to hold their wheat until it would bring $1.25 per bushel, a fake pure and simple. He said: "If such a circular had been agreed upon I would have known about it, for all of the state alliances keep one another advised of every important move, and surely the native officers would have let me know if they had taken such a step."

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } ss.
County of Polk, }

William Senske came before me, and being first duly sworn, deposes and says,

That he has seen the printed circular, entitled "To Whom it May Concern," and purporting to be signed by affiant, and subscribed and sworn to before J. B. Armitage, a Notary Public.

That on the 17th day of July, 1891, he stepped into Huggard's warehouse, where Wm. Deering & Co., are selling farm machinery and binding twine.

That while in said warehouse affiant had a conversation with a party, whose name is to affiant unknown, and one other party by the name of Huggard.

That to said Huggard, affiant made the statement that he was going to buy his twine of the Pioneer Twine Company if it was dry, but if their twine was not drier than the twine he bought of them last season he would not buy any of their twine.

That affiant made the further statement: That he had trouble in starting the balls, but that after said balls were fairly started the balls rolled as readily as any twine I could buy in the market.

That said twine bothered only in starting by reason of the same being damp; that otherwise he was perfectly satisfied with the twine so purchased of the Pioneer Twine Company. That affiant has purchased of said Pioneer Twine Company five hundred and fifty pounds of binding twine to be used by affiant for the present harvest.

That while in said warehouse affiant was asked to sign a statement, which in substance was to contain facts as herein stated, and not otherwise.

That said statement was prepared and affiant signed the same, but affiant says that when he signed said statement it did not contain the words: "and found much of it worthless and rotten."

And affiant further says, that said statement was not sworn or certified to before a Notary Public as represented in said printed circular, and that said notarial certificate of said J. B. Armitage was placed to said statement without affiant's knowledge or consent.

And affiant further says that he did not make said statement with any intention of injuring said Pioneer Twine Company in their business, or reputation.

WM. SENSKE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 21st day of July, 1891.

Tom Morris returned from Superior on Monday morning and in the future will be content to live in Crookston. Tom isn't advising people to go down there to live.

The building of a direct road to Duluth will make a saving to every farmer in Polk County of three cents per bushel whether he is directly on the line of road or not—the other roads will have to meet the rates or lose the freight.

A runaway on Monday was the cause of some excitement on Main street. At Herb's corner Bob. Hunt attempted to stop the team and got put out on the fly—when he picked himself up out of the mud he looked like the remains of a bad dream.

It is worth while to call at A. O. Ralstad's new restaurant, opposite post-office on Robert Street. Everything is so sweet and clean that you feel like eating whether you are hungry or not. Ralstad is hustling for trade—and getting it.

Steege has added a choice farm to his domain. On Monday he paid Chris Sather $500 for a quit-claim to the farm that was recently foreclosed. This land lies alongside of Steege's farm on the north, and separated from it by the Red Lake Falls road.

H. L. Peake was in the city from McIntosh over Sunday. Says he is doing a big business up there and thinks McIntosh one of the best business points in Polk County outside of Crookston. He speaks very highly of the people of McIntosh and the surrounding country.

The Steenerson Bros. won their case in court last week and came home happy. This case has been dragging along for many years and they naturally feel jubilant at its termination especially as it is in their favor. Halvor managed the case, and, as usual came out ahead.

Mr. Battey spends a part of the week at Maple Lake in company with his family. He will speak as usual in his church next Sunday, however. Subjects—11:00 a. m., "Religion at the Lake;" 8:00 p. m., "The Night Guard of the Wilderness." Cordial invitation extended to all.

T. G. Thompson expects his better half home from her visit this week, and the way he is fixing up is a caution. Has had the house thoroughly reconstructed, papered and painted, and all that, and now the way he is putting down carpets and so forth is truly a caution. Says everything has got to be just so.

Comrade A. Burnam brought THE JOURNAL a sample of his wheat on Monday morning that is the finest we have seen. This sample, cut close to the ground stands five feet high with heads from four to five inches long, all well filled. This wheat was sowed with a drill one bushel per acre. He has 150 acres of this kind of wheat.

Martin O'Brien, attorney for the Great Northern road received a telegram from headquarters on Saturday, saying that Judge Mills had decided the injunction case in favor of the Great Northern road on the ground that the C. D. & N. was not completed to Crookston until the spring of '90. The question now is what becomes of the bonds?

Iver Krohn returned last Thursday from a trip to the old country looking very much improved in health from the effects of his trip, glad to get back once more to the land of his adoption. He found many anxious seekers after knowledge about this land of promise and expects to see many of his old-time friends come here as the direct result of his trip.

S. E. Chapin was in the city this week making preparations for a cruise in the Red Lake Indian Reservation so that he may be prepared, when the proper time comes to absorb a valuable pine claim and also one for his brother Ed. He spent a few days on the reservation last week and saw enough to convince him that it would pay to make a more extended investigation and will now proceed to do so thoroughly.

Roy Bodine, the little 12 year old son of P. P. Bodine, of the Tribune, met with a painful accident Tuesday just after dinner. He was riding down to the office and in some way managed to fall off, one wheel striking on the rightside of his head laying bare the skull for several inches. Dr. Dunlop and Dr. Just dressed the wound and at last account the little fellow was doing as nicely as could be expected under the circumstances.

Pete. Cornelius came home on Wednesday morning. He has a furlough for 30 days.

Miss Tillie E. Rauch arrived from Buffalo, Wis., on Wednesday morning for a visit with her brothers, Adolph and Fred.

A. C. Rhinehart was at Rasmusson's old place on Tuesday night figuring for his binding twine.

W. O. Kelso, the Kittson County bonanza farmer, came down on Tuesday to order his twine of the Pioneer Twine Co., at Rasmusson's old place on Main Street.

G. W. Peake is receiving a large invoice of goods in his line and next week will quote you some prices. Peake in at the Main Street harness shop and get prices.

Mr. B. F. Louthian and wife, of Logansport, Ind., were in the city on Monday and Tuesday, the guests of J. G. McGrew and family. Mr. L. is editor of a daily paper in that city.

Herman Rasmunson has taken possession of his new store on Main Street and the Pioneer Twine Co. is selling good manilla twine at the old stand just vacated by him near Heidrich's.

Svenske, the man whose purported affidavit in relation to his last year's deal was scattered broadcast, has purchased his supply for this year of the Pioneer Company. He would hardly have done so if his last year's deal had not been satisfactory.

The Wyand boys, John and Harry last year bought 1000 lbs of twine of the Pioneer Twine Co., and say that it worked all right. They are now figuring with the same company, (at Rasmusson's old stand on Main Street) for their supply this year.

Farmers, before you buy your twine be sure and see the stock for sale by the Pioneer Twine Co., at Rasmusson's old place on Main Street. They will remain but a few days longer so if you wish to secure some 9 cent Manilla twine now is your time.

The Cadaverous nine of shadowy ball players hereby challenge Frank Gravel and his prune-fattened aggregation of obesity to play a match game of base ball whenever they can summon up courage enough to name a date. The slender nine will be chosen from the following named Spider-legged skeletons.

At the last meeting of the county board a committee was appointed to confer with a committee from the city council in relation to a county hospital. This joint committee met on Monday evening and recommended that the boart appropriate $4,000 for the purpose of buying or building suitable buildings for a hospital and pest house. Such an institution would be of great value to the county and save much of the expense which is now incurred.

About 2 p. m. last Saturday a young girl called at Schraeder's livery stable and asked for a rig to drive about the city for an hour or so saying that she would not be gone later than 6 o'clock. She has neglected to return up to date. It seems that the girl's name is Estelle Thompson and her home is near Barnesville. She came up here to work for Pat Cleary but for some reason did not engage there but went to the Norman House where she was told that she could have work. It is thought that she started for home with the rig but so far nothing has been heard of her whereabouts.

Peter Misgen, after a few days spent in looking over our wheat-fields returned to Superior more homesick than ever and we should not be a bit surprised to see Pete once more a resident of Polk County and that too in the near future; not that he is not doing fairly well down there for he is doing a good business but he says the climate here is far better than down there and his facilities for business are better here. If he should get a chance to dispose of his interests there we should not be a bit surprised to see him return for good. He says he believes now is the time to catch onto Polk County soil and city property in Crookston, and to back that judgment up he is after some of it on the quiet.

Friday forenoon Michel Brouillet had occasion to cross the Great Northern track just as the freight train was doing some switching in the yard and he stopped his team to wait for it. Understanding the flagman to signal him to come ahead he drove on the track and just as he had got fairly upon it the train backed up a few feet catching the wagon between the depot platform and a box-car. The occupants leaped to the ground and escaped serious injury but the wagon was somewhat broken up. Mr. Brouillet selected a new wagon at McKinnon Bros, and told agent Fegan that if the company would pay for the new wagon he would call it all right. Mr. F. telegraphed the company the particulars and in the afternoon received orders to pay for the new wagon which he did. The flagman insists that he did not signal Mr. B. to drive on to the track but Mr. B. no doubt so understood it.

Haaver Hanson Housiland returned last week from Oregon, where he has been living some ten years or so. He is one of the earliest settlers of Polk County, coming in June, 1872. He walked up from some point in Becker County, near Hawley, looked around awhile and located in what is now the town of Lowell, the n. w. ¼ of sec. 14. He blazed a few trees, wrote his name thereon and intentions to appropriate and went back to LaCrosse after his family. Upon his return he found his claim appropriated but notwithstanding that he put up a claim shanty and commenced to reside upon and cultivate the same and eventually succeeded in obtaining the land. His reminiscences of the hard times that followed—of the days when it was "catfish or no breakfast" when the settlers had to go 25 miles for a sack of flour and if lucky enough to find one, had, in many cases to lug it home on their shoulders were very interesting and when compared with the facilities possessed by the latter day settlers shows that all the hardships and dangers have not all occurred within the past three or four years. Mr. H. may conclude to write up these experiences of the early settlers which would no doubt be very interesting. He informed THE JOURNAL that Polk County is good enough for him and hereafter he intends to be one of her citizens.

The meeting of the National Editorial Association, held in St. Paul last week, was attended by delegates from nearly every State in the Union and nearly every editor in Minnesota. The social feature of it was highly enjoyed, the people of St. Paul fairly out-doing themselves in their efforts to entertain the knights of the quill and their ladies. The badges, worn by the members of the press, were talismanic, admitting the wearer to everything, or, as one member from Rhode Island expressed it: "This little badge is car-fare, hack fare and in fact pays everything but for liquor and cigars and those I can better do without." One enthusiastic member from Massachusetts said to the writer as we were seated in Rice's Park, a few moments one day after dinner: "I can not find words to express my feelings upon this occasion; the entertainment we have had and the attentions we have been shown are to say the least right royal. Perhaps it would express the situation if I should say that I never was treated so royally before and I came from a land of royal entertainers—the Old Bay State. I am surprised to see such a large city and such a busy one especially as I am told that there is another fully as important but a few miles distant. I am convinced of one thing, however, and that is that these great cities owe their phenomenal growth in a very large degree to the excellent work done by the papers that represent them and it is my opinion that they can well afford to be liberal in entertaining the press for they owe nearly all they have to its faithful work." Many others were loud in their expressions of approval and the good report they will carry away with them will be of great value to this country.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of twenty-five and 95-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, and $25 to become due, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Alphonse Paradis and Elmire Paradis, his wife, mortgagors, to A. D. Stephens, mortgagee, bearing date the 10th day of December, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of January, 1890, at 11:30 o'clock a. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 559, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said A. D. Stephens, mortgagee, to F. W. Dunton, by written assignment dated the 14th day of January, 1890, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 14th day of January, 1890, at 11:30 o'clock a. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 559, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty, (150) Range forty-two (42) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston in said County and State, on the 5th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $25.95 and $25 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

U. S. LAND OFFICE, }
Crookston, Minn., July 13, 1891. }

The Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office, by letter dated May 28th, 1891, under instructions from the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, dated May 22d, 1891, directs us to restore to the public domain, and open to settlement and entry all lands heretofore withdrawn in this district within the indemnity limits of the grant for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, and not embraced in selections heretofore made or applied for by said company, but this restoration shall not affect the rights acquired by grantees within the primary limits of any other congressional grant.

Notice is therefore hereby given that applications for all lands coming within the purview of said instructions will be received at this office on and after August 24th, 1891.

H. H. DICKMANN, Register.
L. K. AAKER, Receiver.

In relation to the above notice, Mr. Aaker informs THE JOURNAL that after a careful search of the records they find that there is no land in the district subject to entry that has not been included in selections already made by the Railroad Company. This report was duly made to the General Land Office at Washington, and instructions sent back to publish the order nevertheless. The notice is probably given for the purpose of finally adjusting the grant.

From the various reports of the condition of the crops throughout the world it is evident that wheat will be good property to have during the coming year and it looks as though the farmer in this country who has wheat to sell next spring would have a bonanza. How far this shortage will affect prices this fall is problematical, depending very much upon the ability of the dealers to pound it down. Of course they will keep the price down to the lowest possible notch but it seems as though they could not as absolutely control the price as they have in the past and it also seems absolutely sure that wheat will bring a very high price before another harvest. Agricultural papers are advising farmers to hold their wheat for the rise but we do not feel like doing that as our whole experience in the past goes to show that it is not the best thing to do as a general rule, as there has always been wheat enough sold here to keep down the price of the wheat that has been held during the whole year. If it could all be held it would make a difference, perhaps, but it cannot and we think the best rule is to sell when you are ready and get ready as early in the season as possible though if we had 10,000 bushels of wheat this fall and was abundantly able to keep it until spring we should do so on the present prospects.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Harry Fleury, unmarried, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, at 3:20 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 27; and

Whereas such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $3.60 that became due November 1st, 1889, $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1890, $9.00 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Three hundred and thirty-six dollars and four cents, ($336.04), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The northeast quarter (ne¼) of section thirty-five, (35), in Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), north, of Range forty-one, (41), west, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in said County and State on MONDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

The Game Laws.

OPEN SEASONS.

July 4 to Nov. 1—Woodcock.

Sept. 1 to Nov. 1—Pinnated grouse or prairie chickens and white breasted or sharp tailed grouse.

Sept. 1 to Nov. 1—Quail, partridge or ruffled grouse or pheasant.

Aug. 20 to April 25—Wild duck of any variety or wild geese or brant or any aquatic fowl whatever.

Aug. 20 to Aqril 25—Wilson or Jack snipe or snipe of any variety.

Nov. 1 to Dec. 1—Elk, moose, deer and caribou.

No moose or caribou be killed sold or taken in the state for five years from April 20, 1891.

The use of hounds or dogs in hunting elk moose, deer and caribou is strictly prohibited.

None of the game animals or birds of the state shall be killed or taken in any manner except by shooting them with a gun held to the shoulder, and the use of any trap, snare, swivel gun or other contrivance or device whatever is prohibited, except the use of decoys in hunting ducks and geese.

The wanton destruction or wasting of the game of the state is declared a misdemeanor. No one person shall take or kill to exceed 25 birds in any one day.

No keeper of hotel or restaurant or boarding house shall serve to any guest any game or fish during the time when the taking or killing of the same is prohibited by the laws of the state.

Fifteen days is allowed by law after the close of the season, in which to dispose of any game animals and three days in which to dispose of any game birds killed or taken in the season.

Any express company, railway company, common carrier, or any other company, corporation, or person or any servant, agent, or employe of same, who shall purchase, receive, sell ship, or otherwise dispose of, or have in their possession for any purpose, any of the game animals or birds of the state, during the time when the killing of the same is forbidden by law, shall be subject to heavy fine or imprisonment.

The destruction of the nest, or taking eggs of any of the game birds of the state is punishable by fine or imprisonment.

The killing or trapping of any song birds or other harmless birds, is prohibited by law.

Any one convicted of killing out of season, or in any manner except as provided by law, any of the game animals or birds of the state of Minnesota, shall be fined not less than $10 or more than $100 for each and every animal or bird so killed and costs of prosecution, or shall be confined in the county jail not less than 10 days or more than 60 days, for each and every animal or bird so killed.

$25 reward is offered by the Board of Game and Fish Commissioners of the state for information that will cause the conviction of any one violating any of the provisions of this law.

Paragraph Notice.

Elegant Fashion Book, The new Fasion Journals, "La Mode," "La Mode de Paris," and "Album des Modes," published by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York, are the most elegant of their kind ever brought to our notice. The styles are drawn by the best artists; and the books are produced by rival houses in Paris, each trying to excel the other in its publications. Formelry they were printed only in French; but they are now published in English for the use of American readers. These journals furnish the styles one month in advance of any similar publications; and they have a practical department, in which lessons are given each month on how to make dresses, etc. The admirable fashions, the lessons in dressmaking, and the giving of the styles one month earlier than heretofore are strong points in favor of these Fashion Books, causing them to be called "The Favorites." These excellent publications can be obtained from all newsdealers.

A Liberal Proposition.

Who has not heard of that paragon of family paper, the enterprising and popular Weekly Detroit Free Press? For a generation its name has been a household word and has become a synonyin for all that is excellent, pure and elevating in journalism. It is delightfully entertaining, without resort to cheap sentimentalism instructive without being prosy or pedantic. Combining the literary qualities of the expensive magazine with the bright, breezy characteristics of the newspape, it leaves nothing to be desired by the average reader. It is looked upon as a welcome visitor by every family who read it, while thousands regard it as indispensable and would on no account go without it. An enormous circulation of 125,000 copies per week attests its wonderful popularity. Recognizing the fact that there are those who are unfamiliar with its surpassing merits as a home paper, the publishers offer to send The Free Press to them for the balance of this year (over five months) for only 30 cents—a club of four for $1,00 or a club of ten for 2.00. All our readers should subscribe at once. Sample copies free.

The Souvenir Spoon Craze, seems constantly to strengthen, and everybody should read an admirably illustrated article on souvenir and historical spoons in the August number of Peterson. The paper gives much valuble information and there are photographs of spoons from Christendom to Turkey and Morocco, some of them dating back to bygone centuries. Another attractive article is that on "A Famous Japanese Painter and his School," which contains a long series of quaint and most delightful Japanese drawings. There are other capital papers on miscellaneous subjects, among which "The Folk Lore of Colors," by Mrs. E. A. Matthews deserves special mention. The stories and poems are all excellent. So also is an article on "Summer Outing." The fashion and domestic departments are such as only can be found in this admirably conducted magazine, and fully justify its claim to being the favorite periodical for ladies. Terms, $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months. Address PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, 306 Chestnut street Philadelphia.

We want to make some honest, energetic, good looking farmer a present of a half section of land all under cultivation except a grove of five acres or so of fine young timber. The crop thereon should more than half pay for it this fall. Our object in selling it is because we wish to use it in our printing business and for that reason, also, we are prepared to give it to the first man who comes down with a very little spot cash. If you have any idea whatever of getting a farm it will pay you to look into this. Handy to town, good buildings, good fences, good artesian well and the very best of soil and so cheap—a combination you do not strike every day.

Stephens, mortgagee, bearing date the 2d day of January, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 4th day of February, 1889, at 2 o'clock p. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 231, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said A. D. Stephens, mortgagee, to F. W. Dunton, by written assignment dated the 4th day of February, 1889, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, at 2 o'clock p. m. in book 39 of deeds, on page 556, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The northwest quarter of Section twenty-two (22) Township one hundred and fifty, (150) Range forty-four (44) west, containing one hundred and sixty acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 5th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of forty one and 73-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

ADOPTED BY-LAWS.

The Northwestern Farmers Protective Association Completes Its Organization

By-laws Adopted—Privileges of Members—Shipping and Storing Grain.

Grand Forks Plaindealer.

The Red River Valley Farmers Anti-monopoly Protective Association, at its meeting in this city, abbreviated its name to the Northwestern Farmers Protective Association. The by-laws of the association were also adopted; and the articles of incorporation approved. The articles of incorporation are as follows:

FIRST.

The name of this association shall be The Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association.

SECOND.

The purpose for which it is formed is for profit by selling our farm produce through authorized agents direct to domestic and foreign consumers.

THIRD.

The principal place of business of such association shall be Grand Forks, North Dakota.

FOURTH.

The term for which such association is to exist shall be thirty (30) years.

FIFTH.

The number of its directors shall be four (4) and the directors now elected to serve until their successors are elected and qualified, are:—E, Tharaldson, Grand Norks. North Dakota: O. A. Sanders, Fargo, North Dakota; A. Knudson, Grand Forks North Dakota and Thos Ulven, McIntosh, Minnesota.

The by-laws are as follows:

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE 1.—The name of this association shall be "The Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association" with headquarters in Grand Forks, North Dakota.

ART. 2.—The purpose for which this association is formed is by its own selected agents at Duluth, to look after the interests of the farmers by sale, shipping and storage of their wheat and other farm products.

ART. 3.—To be eligible to membership in this association, a person must own or run a farm and pay a membership fee of three dollars.

ART. 4.—The officers of the association shall be:—President, Vice-president, Secretary and Treasurer elected from and among the four directors of the association.

ART. 5—The members of the association are divided into five districts, each represented by a delegate, who has to look after the business of the association in his respective district and meet with the directors at the semi-annual meetings of the association, at which meeting a general business manager is also elected by the directors and delegates.

ART. 6.—General meetings are held semi-annually on the second Wednesday in January and the last Wednesday of June. At these general meetings the reports of the Secretary and Treasurer and the minutes from last general meeting and directors meetings are read and approved and action is taken regarding the affairs of the association. The officers are elected by ballot and serve until next general meeting. The general meetings fix the salaries of the officers and also elects a committee on finance. Every member has a right to vote and questions are decided by simple majority.

ART. 7.—The president presides at all meetings and looks after the interests of the association.

ART. 8—The Vice-president presides in the absence of the president and works for the prosperity and progress of the association. In the absence of the president and vice-president a president is elected protempore.

ART. 9.—The Secretary keeps all books receives all money due the association, receipts for the same and turns it over to the Treasurer. He must give the necessary bonds and make statements of his books, which are read at the general meetings.

ART. 10.—The treasurer receives the money from the secretary, receipts for the same, pays all orders audited by the committee on finance, gives sufficent bonds and makes a full statement to every general meeting.

ART. 11.—The manager has to sell the wheat to the best possible advantage, carefully inspect weight and grade, order cars if asked to do so by a member and if the railroad companies do not furnish cars according to law, he will notify the board of directors of such refusal or neglect. He has the right to hire the necessary help and together with the president he must try to protect the individual members.

ART. 12.—The delegates, together with the president and vice-president must at every general meeting examine the books and statements of the secretary and treasurer and the delegates also fix the bonds of the officers. Three delegates may call meetings, if they find it necessary to take care of the interests of the association between the general meetings, and if a majority are present, action may be taken, these must not conflict, however, with the by-laws or the action taken by the last general meeting.

ART. 13.—The association shall not buy wheat or other produce, but only sell under instruction of the owner and the order for payment must be made out in the name of the owner himself.

ART. 14.—To cover expenses of the association, one (1) cent per bushel of sold wheat goes into the treasury of the association.

ART. 15.—At every general meeting committees are appointed to formulate the different questions that will come up for action, nominate officers and also discuss the plan for building an elevator at Duluth at some time in the near future.

ART. 16.—The officers of tee association must not create debt without such action having been taken at the previous general meeting.

ART. 17.—Postal cards giving the market price must be sent to the different stations as often as thought necessary.

ART. 18.—The agents of the association at Duluth or any other place must not handle the wheat or any other farm products of others than members; a penalty shall be prescribed for the violation of this rule. Members are also subject to penalty for sending other than their own products.

ART. 19.—The members tributary to the different railroad stations may take such action as they find necessary among themselves, elect their own district officers, fix a place for displaying their quotation card and always see to it that representatives attend the general meetings without any expense to the association.

ART. 20.—When elevators are erected the surrounded members are themselves responsible for such agents as they may employ to receive and ship their products.

ART. 21.—If a member wishes to withdraw from the association, he must notify the secretary, who issues a withdrawal card.

ART. 22.—It is the duty of every member to work for the prosperity and progress of the association, and every member has at any time the right to inspect the books of the officers. When a member ships wheat to the agents of the association he must notify such agent of the quantity and quality of such wheat.

ART. 23.—These by-laws may be amended by a simple majority at any general meeting.

THOS. ULVEN
Secretary.
E. THARALDSON,
President.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul, 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel. [11-16]

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, HENRY SMITH AND EMMA Smith, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Austin Corbin, Trustee, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 28th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 152, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, at 11:15 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 30 of mortgages, on pages 581 to 585; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of sixty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The said Austin Corbin, Trustee, has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred sixty and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

NEARER DULUTH.

Crookston Will Be Six Miles Nearer By the Proposed D. & W. Change.

Duluth Tribune, July 17th.

Alex. McKinnon, mayor of Crookston, Lewis Ellington, cashier of the Scandia-American bank of the same place, and H. Steenerson, held a consultation with General Manager Fisher, of the Duluth & Winnipeg, yesterday afternoon, and will meet several members of the Chamber of Commerce this morning at 10 o'clock to discuss the proposed scheme of continuing the Duluth & Winnipeg road from its present terminus, Winnibegosish, to Crookston, a distance of 120 miles. The conditions have already been published in the Tribune, and Mr. Steenerson states that they have every confidence of carrying the scheme through. He says the new line will bring Crookston six miles nearer Duluth, that it will pass through a very rich country, and can be built in ninety days.

Grand Forks Herald: Crookston has beaten the Northern Pacific out of the $50,000 bonds voted to the company in consideration of its building a line to that city. Crookston has the road according to agreement and suffered not one iota by the failure of the N. P. to fight through armed resistance and unlawful obstructions placed in its way by the Great Northern. So far as appears the N. P. acted in the utmost good faith and has fulfilled the spirit of its contract with scrupulous fidelity. The people of Crookston who were so anxious to get the road for which they claim to have suffered sorely ought to have been magnanimous enough to have paid their bonds honorably and not take advantage of a miserable technicality to release them from a self-imposed obligation.

HOLD THE WHEAT.

PRESIDENT POLK'S SECRETARY EXPLAINS THE OBJECT OF THE FARMERS' CIRCULAR.

SIMPLY A COMPENDIUM OF INFORMATION AS TO SUPPY AND DEMAND.

AND A SUGGESTION THAT SLOW MARKETING WOULD BRING BETTER PRICES.

CIRCULAR OFFICIALLY INDORSED AND ST. PAUL MADE A DISTRIBUTING POINT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 24.—H. W. Ayer, secretary to President Polk, of the Farmers' Alliance, and manager in this city of "The Reform Press Bureau," also known as "The Alliance Press Bureau," speaking of the now much-talked-of "hold your grain circular" being sent out by the bureau, said St. Paul had been chosen as one of the seats of operation because of it location in the great wheat belt.

The circulars, Mr. Ayer said, were in no sense to be considered an order, such an assumption of authority being contrary to Alliance methods. On the contrary, he said, the purpose of the circular was simply to furnish the producers of the country with the conditions prevailing at the present time as to supply and demand in this country and abroad, and to call attention to an unquestionable fact that the shortage existing would inevitably result in higher pisces, and that such higher prices could be made applicable to the entire new crop of this country while still under the control of the producers, if they would but use ordinary discretion in disposing of the same, and not play into the hands of speculators and middle-men by rushing their crop to market immediately following the harvest.

This Mr. Ayer said, was the sole intent of the circular, and as such it had been indorsed and ordered distributed by the Alliance executive committee. Under this authority 400,000 copies of the circular had already been sent out from here, and altogether more than a million had already gone out, and they were still being sent out at the rate of 100,000 a day, while it was to be printed in about 2,000 papers connected with the bureau.

Mr. Ayer would not undertake to say what effect the circular would have, but he believed it would prevent the glut of the great market centers usually following the harvest, and that this would result in benefit to the producers would not, in his opinion, admit of doubt. Market reports already showed smaller receipts than estimated.

A CROP AND A HALF.

ESTIMATE FOR POLK COUNTY

A Citizen of Crookston Tells Why His People Want a Road to Duluth—Another Conference Held With General Manager Fisher.

Duluth News.

Mayor McKinnon, Hon. H. Steenerson and Banker L. Ellington of Crookston arrived here Thursday morning and spent the greater part of the day closeted with General Manager Fisher, of the Duluth & Winnipeg. They have come to have further negotiation regarding the building of the road into Crookston. Though no definite understanding has been reached, it is almost an assured fact that before November 1st trains will be running from Crookston directly into Duluth.

Mr. Ellington, who is the cashier of the Scandia-American bank of Crookston, told a News man Thursday evening that the farmers of Polk county do not begin to sell their wheat before October 1. and the greater number keep it till later in November. "I notice." said he, "that this year, especially, they insist upon having their notes payable after November 1, whereas they used to be satisfied with an accommodation till October 1. The banks out our way are much better off than usual. Our bank has $20,000 more on deposit than at the corresponding date last year."

Mayor McKinnon said that the wheat in Polk county is good for a crop and a half, if no accident happens between now and harvest. He is very enthusiastic over the excellent prospects of establishing direct communication between Red River Valley and Duluth. He said that it should have been done before, and Duluth has nobody to blame but herself. We have always desired to trade with Duluth. We want to ship here not only our grain but our vegetables. When we ship to Minneapolis or St. Paul, the larger towns in the suburbs of those cities are our competitors, and we find it difficult to get our produce in there. But here it is different. We can ship our potatoes and cabbage to you cheaper than you can get them elsewhere, if we only have direct communication. In return for what you buy of us, we would only be too glad to patronize your jobbing houses. It will help both ends of the state, but Duluth will derive the greatest benefit from the reduction of grain rates, for she will get it in the bulk."

Mr. Steenerson left for St. Paul in the evening, but the other two gentlemen remained until Friday night.

Duluth Wheat in London.

The Wetmore Carries Wheat Through From Lake Point not Rehandled.

LONDON, July 21.—The new American steel steamer, Charles W. Wetmore, Capt. Saunders, which sailed from Duluth during the latter part of June, arrived at Liverpool today. The Wetmore is an inland steamer, and her cargo, which consists of 95,000 bushels of grain, is the first grain cargo shipped from lake points direct to Liverpool without being rehandled. Her route was down the lakes from Duluth, through the Welland canal, thence down the St. Lawrence, thence across the Atlantic. The success of the voyage makes it evident that the proposition to establish a direct communication between European and other ports and the port of Chicago is entirely feasible.

The Farmer in Politics.

Rural World.

As the farmer casts his influence, so the nation is swayed. The common sense of the farmer is the court of last appeal, when the question of sustaining a war or a great change of policy comes up. To be prepared for this responsibility, let all think for themselves, then read widely and discuss. Form reading clubs so as to see the leading magazines and newspapers. Send the most sensible farmers to the legislatures and to congress. In these and many other ways you will learn to agree and the whole country with you that the farm pays.

The Politicians Don't Like Them?

San Francisco Union Alliance.

If there is a person on earth whom the average politician hates "worse'n thunder" it is the farmer who "knows something." One such man in a country "meetin-house" is enough to upset all the wily plans and prospective political plunder of the "smart Aleck" politician who during the campaign doles out to the rural districts the specific taffy the city "boss" has furnished him.

What's O'clock?

It is a common experience with any group of half a dozen gentlemen, that no two watches in the crowd mark the same moment of time. It causes no particular inconvenience, but suppose such variation occurred among the clocks at the more than 3,000 stations on the great Burlington system? What assurance would there be of safety from collisions? Very little. But the system of effecting absolute correspondence between all time-pieces in use on "The Burlington," is perfect, and has been reached at the expense of much money and trouble. Three minutes before 4 o'clock every afternoon, an operator in the Chicago general office begins sending out the word "time," and continues it for fifty seconds. He then connects the automatic signaling mechanism and 3,000 telegraph instruments from Chicago to Denver and the Black Hills, and from St. Louis and Kansas City to St Paul, signal the seconds in unison with the big clock in Chicago. It now lacks one minute and twenty seconds of 4 o'clock. There is an interval of twenty seconds. Then the telegaph instrument call a double click with each swing of the big pendulum for 40 seconds, and then come three dots (Morse signal for letter "S") which is notice to all offices having synchronizing standard clock to bring their clocks into circuit to be automatically set with the master clock in Chicago. Another brief pause, and there comes a single sharp click, which indicates that it is just 4 o'clock. With all watches and clocks in exact correspondence, no train allowed to follow another closer than five minutes, and trains running in opposite directions carefully watched. "The Burlington" is the line for safety. For tickets timetables, etc., call on your home agent, or write to W. J. C. KENYON, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn.

Good News for Farmers.

Mr. Pillsbury Received Some Interesting News From Russia.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

C. A. Pillsbury was bubbling over with good news for farmers last evening. At just about this time of year Mr. Pillsbury is accustomed to get reports from his agents in Russia regarding the general crop situation over there. Reports have been coming in for some days past of the wheat situation. These estimate the shortage there at about 25 per cent, which, on the basis of the figures of past years, will give the country but 50,000,000 for export. This is encouraging indeed to the American farmer, but now comes Mr. Pillsbury with a private cablegram regarding the rye crop. This states that the shortage will be fully 60 per cent.

This means a good deal more than appears on the surface. It means that Russia's rye crop will be less than 240,000,000 bushels, instead of the usual 600,000,000 bushels, tremendous falling off. Russia consumes 540,000,000 bushels of rye, which will leve a rye shortage of 300,000,000 bushels. This, Mr. Pillsbury holds, will far more than counterbalance the extra 50,000,000 of wheat. It means that Russia will need every bushel of that wheat for her own consumption and more besides. She will not only export no rye this year, but no wheat as well. More than that, anybody can see that 50,000,000 bushels of wheat isn't going to take the place of 300,000,000 bushels of rye, which means that both staples will have to be sent into Russia to supply the home consumption. Instead of a grain exporting country, Russia will be this year a grain importing country.

All this presages great things for the American farmer in the big miller's estimation. It means to him good prices even in the event of a good crop, and generally good times all around for the Northwestern community. In previous years Russia has provided one-third of the wheat exported. This extra one-third, with the one-third which he has hitherto thrown into the world's jack pot, will be required of the American farmer. Mr. Pillsbury is naturally jubilant over the situation and thinks his agricultural friends should be likewise.

Regarding the home crop outlook he is not over sanguine. Private reports show the rust doing considerable damage in sections and the general reports that the wheat, though big in straw, is likely to fall short of what it promises. But the good prices all around, for all other breadstuffs as well as wheat, Mr Pillsbury thinks are as good assured.

Cleveland and the South.

The New York Press.

The assertion so often made and so commonly accepted that Mr. Cleveland is the choice of the Southern Demoracy for President in 1892 is fallacious, if the democrats of Warren county, Mississippi are any criterion of public sentiment. In Vicksburg the other day they passed resolution opposing Cleveland's renomination, because, as they expressed it, "his action while President, and his utterances since," indicate to them "with painful certainty" that they "cannot hope for his co-operation in efforts to obtain federal aid for the improvement of rivers and harbors. Evidently the democrats of the Mississippi Valley are more in love with public improvements than they were in the old days "before the war."

THE PARTY AND THE GANG?

Martin County Sentinel.

The senatorial election will not take place for a year and a half and it would have been ample time for Heatwole to have opened his batteries upon Senator Davis after the legislature was elected which is to name his successor. Again, whatever faults or weaknesses Senator Davis may possess, it cannot be denied that he is in the fullest and broadest sense of the term, Minnesota's favorite son. His great learning, his transcendent genius, his forensic powers, and, above all, his rugged honesty, have endeared him to the people and men of all political parties are proud to acknowledge him as a citizen of the state.

The Midway News.

When such slush is all that the senatorial syndicate of St. Paul and Minneapolis have to fight with, it is not strange that they desire to hold off hostilities, not only until after the legislature is elected, but until their man himself is reinstated. The syndicate seems to imagine that if it can pull Mr. Heatwole down, the rest of the country press will wilt like new-mown hay. This talk about Mr. Heatwole injuring his party because he does not knuckle to a few would-be leaders is all nonsense. Mr. Heatwole's manly independence has done more and is now doing more for the Republican party than all servile obedience of mere tools or the selfish greed of mere lackies. It is these same would-be leaders who have brought the party to its present straightened circumstances. It is the Minneapolis ring and the St. Paul ring that have driven the farmers and the country districts into open rebellion, and now no prayers from the high priests of the ring, the St. Paul Pioneer press and the Minneapolis Tribune, or from the more humble servants at their political mass, such as the Anoka Herald and Martin County Sentinel, can bring the dissatisfied country element back to the altar of the Twin City gang. Though a St. Paul man, Mr. Davis was picked up by the country and elected by the country in direct opposition to the Twin City gang, and in the fight against the gang, two years ago, he found able supporters in those country papers that now oppose him. Had he remained true to his friends his friend would have stayed by him. Now he is the "favorite son" not of the state, but of the gang. Now the gang is ready to jeopardize the party, not to serve state interests but to maintain itself. It is no discredit to Mr. Heatwole, either in his capacity of editor or chairman de facto of the party committee, if he has the independence to assail the gang to serve the party. The country has made Mr. Davis senator; Mr. Davis has gone over to the gang, and the country will not now show its power to unmake him. The opposition to the gang does not come from Joel P. Heatwole nor from any other man or paper. It comes from the abuses practised by the gang. Mr. Heatwole can suffer himself to be silenced, as did Mr. Davis, if he wants to, but even that would not bring a dissatisfied people back under the yoke of the gang. The fight is on. A fight which appeals to the whole people mus necessarily be commenced early. It must be fought with patience and perseverance. Mr. Heatwole can paddle or go ashore, as he sees fit, but this fight must go on until the country districts get proper recognition. If he remains true to the Republican party of Minnesota, the Republican party of Minnesota will be true to him, but if, like Mr. Davis, he goes over to the party of the gang, then, like Mr. Davis, he will have to depend on the gang and its organs for support. This is not a personal matter. It is a conflict between the party on the one hand and the gang on the other.

Bert Duntley expects to leave this week for a visit to the old home in Michigan. He will visit Detroit at the time of the re-union also.

Felix Fournet went over to Dakota last week on a business trip. Says our crops are very much ahead of theirs and they have good crops.

The Minneapolis binder leads. Collins & Creamer sells them and have but a few more left, so if you want one call early, before they are all sold.

Rev. W. L. Sutherland, once Congregational pastor at Fergus Falls, will preach morning and evening at the Congregational church, next Sunday.

Miller & Foote are fixing up their office in nice shape. Fontaine & Anglim put in an elegant new carpet and they will now be able to do business in style.

Andrew J. Boralee of the town of Garfield, was adjudged insane before Judge Benson on Monday and sent to Fergus Falls in charge of his father in the evening.

Elsewhere will be seen the proposition to bond Polk County in the sum of $220,000 in exchange for D. & W. stock. The election will be called for August 25th.

Dr. M. Leguee is busy night and day attending to the ills that afflict the equine family. Mike is one of our most successful veterinarians and has had uniformly good success.

T. B. McManus returned with his family on Tuesday, glad to be back to civilization again. He says we have better crops in the Valley than he has seen anywhere in his travels.

J. V. E. Wyatt and wife returned last week from a visit to Chicago, where they went to select a new stock of goods. Mr. W. expects to be in his old place ready for business at an early date.

Maurice Hostetler, an experinced barber from St. Paul has accepted a position in Charlie Misner's shop and we have heard several of the boys say that he is as slick as grease with his letle razor.

Geo. Vine wishes THE JOURNAL to say that he is prepared to furnish fresh meats for farmers at wholesale rates. For your harvest supply call on Geo. Vine, at the post office meat market, on Robert street.

An invitation hop will be given at McKinnon's Hall to-morrow evening. Casad's orchestra will preside.

Rev. F. O. Whitney is expected back on Friday, and will hold services at the Baptist church on Sunday, as usual.

Tom Harris had a bit of bad luck on Tuesday. One of his bronchos ran away, broke his leg and had to be killed.

W. C. Andrews, representing Wright Barrett & Stilwell is in the city to-day W. C. is one of the best-hearted boys on the road.

Ladies, call and see those elegant house-plants from the North Dakota greenhouses, now on display at Geo. Vine's meat market on Robert street.

Little Miss Mamie Fournet was eight years old on Tuesday and a number of her little girl friends gathered at her home to help her celebrate the event, presenting her with a fine tricycle to help her remember the pleasant occasion.

Dr. Henault's ex-dog fell in Earnest's well on Thursday night and was not discovered until Friday morning, and he lay around all that day with a very big head. The dog says he will take no more cold water in his'n.

On Thursday last Dr. Dunlop and Dr. Watts were called to John Darkow's to attend one of John's boys who had received a broken nose in a slight altercation with a horse. At last accounts the boy was doing nicely.

Collins & Creamer have sold a large number of the Minneapolis binders this season and have only a few more on hand. If you are looking for a binder call and see the Minneapolis before they are all gone. Don't put it off but come at once.

The G. A. R. Post at Park Rapids has made application to Dept. Commander Mix for the cannon to aid them in the celebration of the arrival of their new road on Aug. 8th. Immediately thereafter the gun will be shipped to Crookston.

Will Peterson met with a severe loss on Saturday. That fine little yearling Bashaw died and Will is disconsolate. The colt was one of great promise, as its dam is one of the best steppers in the city, and its sire—well, everybody knows old Star Bashaw.

The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad into this county means a reduction of present freight rates and three cents per bushel more for our wheat, and a good market in the mines for our potatoes and other vegetables, and butter and eggs.

It looked like everybody who could get there had gone to Maple Lake on Sunday. The band went out to play for the occasion. That event, with a picnic at Lewis Johnson's and one at Pete Cornelius', took every horse from every livery stable in the city.

Tom Morris has opened out an elegant line of jewelry in the Crookston Furniture Co's store on Second street, and invites the patronage of all his old friends and everybody else. Tom is well satisfied that there is no better place for business than Crookston.

Henry Peterson writes from Cochrane, Wis., that he expects to return the latter part of this week, after a few days visit at Rochester. He says he has just finished harvesting a big crop of fine grain for George Warninger, and that his health was never better.

Rev. R. H. Battey, who is camping at Maple Lake for a couple of weeks, will hold services at Buhns' pavilion, at the lake, next Sunday afternoon. All at the lake that day are invited to join in the services, which will open with a vocal song service at 3 p. m.

During the absence of Chief Gonyea at Red Lake Falls last Saturday, Dave Robinson assumed the role of Chief and discharged his duties with dignity and grace. Dave picked up the chap who had brought back the horse that the young lady borrowed last Saturday,

Should the Duluth & Winnipeg shortline be built, it would lead to the settlement upon thousands of acres of our fertile soil now vacant, and this would reduce our taxes. Again, the lands that we now have under cultivation would be enhanced in price and a better market created therefor.

E. S. Kneeland, representing the North Dakota greenhouses, was in the city on Wednesday, arranging for the sale of goods. Kneeland used to be on the grain inspection force at Duluth and knows something of the true inwardness of the grain business. See ad. elsewhere and call and see his plants.

Swan Anderson was down from Black River on Monday. Since his house burned he has been living in his granary and he says that after harvesting his grain if it receives no injury previously he will build a new house. The loss was a severe one to Swan but he is going to work pluckily to overcome it.

Mr. S. Snedecker was in from Mentor on Friday and Saturday of last week, and reports prospects for the farmers very bright in his neighborhood, and if nothing occurs to prevent they will harvest big crops. Comrade Snedecker has just received the first installment of his pension which was granted recently. Although the amount is small it will be a great help to a worthy man.

Max Erickson and Mayor McKinnon drove over from Crookston and report the crops as the finest ever seen in this or any other country.

Miss Minnie Bailey is prepared to make seamless waists or any style desired. It will pay you to see her before you order your work elsewhere.

Miss Inez McGrew writes home that she has completed a term of twenty-one weeks of school at Garrotson, South Dakota, and that she will now visit at Lanesboro, in Southern Minnesota, with her cousins, the Hon. A. G. Wall and wife. After this she will visit relatives and friends in Minneapolis before returning home.

H. G. Mitchel was down from Woodside on Monday. Says that the project for a grist-mill at the bay will be pushed to a successful issue just as soon as the new crop is ready for the market. Farmers are hoping for a good price for their wheat, which promises a good yield. We trust that they will not neglect to build that mill, whatever else they may do.

Charlie Misner expects to have a family re-union next Sabbath. Among those expected are mother and father Gates, city, H. C. Misner and wife, I. W. C. Misner and wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Chapin, B. S. Chapin and wife, of Euclid; Engineer Fred Chapin and wife, and Ed. Chapin of Devils Lake, and E. S. Chapin, of the Red Lake Indian Reservation, U. S. A.

While driving along Main street on Thursday evening a lady was hit by a ball thrown by some careless urchin, and quite seriously injured. While the boys need the exercise of these games, they should choose some unoccupied lots rather than to indulge in their sports on the highways where they are liable to injure people or to be hurt themselves by runaway teams.

Mr. Ole Peterson was united for life to Miss Sophia Pederson by Geo. M. Swift Esq., at his residence in Mentor on Saturday last. The wedding breakfast occurred at the residence of Mikkel Helfquist, and a great profusion of the good things of this life were spread before large company of friends and relatives. The festivities were kept up until the wee sma' hours and all voted it a splendid affair.

In speaking of the building of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad into Polk County, H. G. Mitchel, the President of Polk County Alliance, said that he had not the slightest doubt that it would be for the best interests of the farmers of the county, and that he should certainly favor the road to the best of his ability. This is the opinion of many of the leading farmers whom we have interviewed upon the subject.

G. W. Peake, the Main street harness maker, has been too busy attending to the wants of his customers to furnish us the list of prices promised in last issue. An institution calling itself the Home Supply Association, of Chicago, has been making quotations on harness and Peake, without knowing their prices has been underselling them right along. Next week we shall present the figures to prove the statement.

E. S. Kneeland, of the North Dakota Greenhouses, will be in Crookston at Vine's butcher shop on Robert street, until Saturday, August 1st, with a fine collection of house plants for sale cheap; would be pleased to show all lovers of the beautiful of Crookston and vicinity his stock, whether you buy or not. Also orders taken for fall and winter flowring bulbs, lilies, hyacinth, tulips, narcissus, &c., &c. Call and see him.

It is the intention of the projectors of the new road to build it into this county in time to handle a portion of this crop, but they have fixed the time until December 1st, '92, in order to guard against any contingencies that may hereafter arise from opposition of other roads. Donald Grant said that he would build the road in 90 days from the day he got his orders to go if nothing more than natural obstacles intervene.

On the 25th of August the county will vote on the question of bonding for a direct short line to Duluth. If the bonds carry we shall get the road probably in time to move this year's crops, and certainly before another crop is ready. Will it pay? Is the vital question. For the reasons already given we think it will pay big. It is a question of so much importance to the county as to deserve the most serious consideration.

Andrew Goff, who has been helping A. O. Ralstad, at the restaurant, departed for Sioux City on Saturday evening, at which place he intends to purchase a restaurant. Mr. Goff is one of the hustlers what you read about, but he is very quiet about it. To look at him a stranger would little suspect the amount of hustle there is concealed behind that physimahogany, but it is there all the same. Mr. G. was well impressed with this city and we would not be surprised if he should return some day in the not far distant future.

Mr. E. Lanctot drove to the city las Saturday a two-year-old colt and a three-year-old colt, the combined weight of which is 2,600 lbs. The sire of these fine colts is King Tom, Joseph Laframboise' English Shire horse, and the dam is a fine young mare that Mr. Lanctot bought at the Knuppe sale a few years since, as a two-year-old. Mr. B. takes great pride in these colts, and well he may, for they are indeed as fine a span as a man need to draw a line over.

The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg road into Polk County is simply a business matter and the only question for every farmer to consider is will it pay me to pay the amount of taxes necessary to accomplish it? It is a question that each for himself must answer. Personally, we pay taxes on considerable farm property, and we feel that on our share the benefit would be so great that the amount we would pay would cut no figure.

Among the prominent farmers of Polk County who have bought twine of the Pioneer Twine Co., are County Commissioner C. P. DeMers, Mr. Bischoff, E. Brouillet, J. Butts, G. M. Fisk, Wm. Heidrick, O. Noel, P. S. Bailey, Geo. Denniston, J. Normandin, Ole Peterson, Carl Veggon, D. M. McMillan, M. J. McWaters, Wm. Klinger, M. Hart, A. Derushia, Eli Losha, F. L. Davis, T. J. Williams, Chas Oebler, H. Steege, A. N. Hixson, J. M. Jones and Israel Desmarais.

On Saturday last Ed. Schreader while standing on Broadway near the city hall saw the horse, which the young lady had borrowed the week before, hitched to a post. Very soon a young man came along and began to untie the horse when Ed. stepped up and interfered and turned the young man over to the authorites and took the rig to the stable where it belonged. The young man said that he was a brother of the girl who took the horse, that she drove the rig to their home near Barnesville and had sent him back to return the rig to the owner. The young man was released and went on his way rejoceing.

On Saturday afternoon, Frank Morissey, the seven-year-old son of J. E. Morissey, met with an accident which very nearly proved fatal. He had but just gone out of the house when his mother was attracted by a peculiar sound at the door and upon opening it there stood Frank with his face all covered with blood, apparently dazed. The sight was too much for the mother heart, and Mr. M. brought the boy in and washed the wounds and hastily summoned Dr. Dunlop, who dressed the wound and found a severe cut penetrating the skull. At first it seemed impossible for the boy to survive, but no inflammation setting in during the night they began to have some hopes, and at the present writing the case is very hopeful. The horse was a very quiet one and the boys had been in the habit of handling and riding him, and Mr. Morissey is at a loss to account for this very bad break.

PROGRAM

1. March, Queen City. by H. N. Casad.
2. Selection, Martha. by Flowton.
3. Descriptive piece—Charge of the Hussars, by Von Frank Spindler.
4. Walfzes Treasure. Strass
5. Claronet Solo, "Romance," By Thornton.
6. Gavotte "Rivolett," By Brook.

On Monday P. J. LaChapelle was arraigned in Judge Christianson's court on a charge of assault in the third degree, preferred by his wife. The following jury was impanelled: Fred W. Hall, C. H. Saake, C. M. Lindell, Hans Peterson, A. O. Ralstad, Fred Anderson, J. L. Hanson, Engebret Gren, Andy Locken, Herman Rasmussen, W. L. Palmer and Arthur Dufresne. County Attorney A. R. Holston appeared for the prosecution and Dave Hatlestad for the defense. The case occupied nearly all of the afternoon and was given to the jury about 5 o'clock. On the first ballot the jury stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction, and remained that way for four or five hours when the Judge, finding an agreement impossible, discharged the jury.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. McManus are called upon to mourn the death of their little four year old boy, Eddie, which sad event occurred on Tuesday. The boy had seemed to have a bad cold while on the homeward journey, and soon after their arrival Tuesday morning they called in a physician who pronounced it a bad case of diphtheria. The little one was buried Wednesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. McManus have the sympathy of hosts of friends in their sad and sudden bereavement.

Scarcely had the above item been placed in type on Wednesday morning when the sad news came that another child a boy, about 14 months old, had died on Wednesday morning, and that the baby was sick with the fell disease. Verily the waves of affliction beat heavily for Mr. and Mrs McManus.

DOG DAYS:

A valued exchange says: "The dog days are here. The dog days last from the beginning of July to August 11th. The popular theory is that they are so-called because dogs go mad." Oh, that's it, is it? Now, we have had a notion that "dog days" lasted from the time that merchants begin to display their vegetables outside on the walk, and we frequently see more people mad than dogs—people who are in the least particular about what they eat. And the people are not the only ones who inwardly curse the dog nuisance. Said a prominent merchant to a JOURNAL scribe: "I am bothered to death by these dogs. One cannot leave anything eatable within the range of these dogs without taking great chances on its utter ruin. But what can you do when the dog's owner will take no pains at all to prevent the spoliation of your property? One hates to offend a customer and one hates to see his goods ruined!" It strikes us that this subject of nuisances and how to abate it would be a good thing for our council to wrestle with during "dog days." If we should venture to relate what very many see daily, it would ruin the trade of half the green grocers in the city. These men pay taxes for protection and are entitled to it. Their customers buy their goods under the impression that they are fit articles of food, and they are also entitled to protection. "A word to the wise," &c.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Crookston, Minn., July 13, 1891.

The Hon. Commissioner of the General Land Office, by letter dated May 28th, 1891, under instructions from the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, dated May 22d, 1891, directs us to restore to the public domain, and open to settlement and entry all lands heretofore withdrawn in this district within the indemnity limits of the grant for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, and not embraced in selections heretofore made or applied for by said company, but this restoration shall not affect the rights acquired by grantees within the primary limits of any other congressional grant.

Notice is therefore hereby given that applications for all lands coming within the purview of said instructions will be received at this office on and after August 24th, 1891.

H. H. DICKMANN, Register.
L. K. AAKER, Receiver.

In relation to the above notice, Mr. Aaker informs THE JOURNAL that after a careful search of the records they find that there is no land in the district subject to entry that has not been included in selections already made by the Railroad Company. This report was duly made to the General Land Office at Washington, and instructions sent back to publish the order nevertheless. The notice is probably given for the purpose of finally adjusting the grant.

PROPOSITION

OF

The Duluth and Dakota Railroad Company.

TO THE COUNTY OF POLK.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Take notice that the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Minnesota, hereby makes application to the county of Polk, in said state, for aid in the construction of that portion of its line of railroad extending from a point within the city of Crookston, in said county of Polk, to its point of intersection with the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in the county of Itasca, in said state; and to that end the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company hereby makes the following proposition:

1. Said county of Polk shall make and issue negotiable coupon bonds thereof to the amount of two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, all to bear date the first day of January, A. D. 1892, and be payable to the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company or bearer twenty years after date thereof, and not before maturity thereof at the option of said county, and to bear interest from the date thereof, payable semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, and at the rate of five per cent. per year.

2. Said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, at the election of said county of Polk. issue thereto such number of the shares of its capital stock as will, at the par value of said stock, correspond with the principal sum of such bonds.

3. All said bonds shall be deposited in escrow prior to any delivery thereof to said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company; and such deposit shall be made with the First National Bank of Crookston, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the National Banking Act of the United States of America, and having its principal place of business, office and residence at the city of Crookston, county of Polk, and state of Minnesota: and all the stock certificates for said shares of stock shall likewise be deposited and placed with the same said depository and at the same time with said bonds; and all said bonds and stock certificates shall be and remain in the possession and custody of the said First National Bank of Crookston until all said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, extending from a point within the said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof, with the said Duluth & Winnipeg railroad, in the said county of Itasca, shall have been located, constructed and completed according to the ordinary standard gauge and in actual operation with cars running thereon.

4. The said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, prior to the first day of December, A. D. 1892, well and truly locate, construct and complete according to the ordinary standard gauge and put in actual operation with cars running thereon; all that portion of its said line of railroad extending from a point within said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof with the Duluth and Winnipeg Railroad in said county of Itasca.

5. Within thirty days from and after (and under no circumstances until after,) completion and actual operation as aforesaid by the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company of all said portion of its said line of railroad, the said First National Bank of Crookston shall deliver all said stock certificates to said County of Polk and all said bonds to the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company upon production of the certificate, in writing, of the Railway Commissioners of the State of Minnesota, or one of them, to the effect that, upon examination and inspection actually made and had, the said portion of said line of railroad has been duly and properly constructed, completed and put in operation as aforesaid.

6. It is mutually understood that the construction, maintainance and operation of said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of said County of Polk a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations in said county to the head of Lake Superior, and that such competing line will be shorter than any now existing line or lines of transportion between any point within said county and the head of Lake Superior by an estimated distance of not less than fifty miles; and in order to permanently secure and insure to all the inhabitants of said county the advantages now contemplated and which ought to accrue to them from the construction, maintainance and operation of said competing line, the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, hereby guarantees, on behalf of itself and its successors and assign, to said county and to each and all the inhabitants thereof, that the rate for transporation of any grain, merchandise or other commodity to any station on the line of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway within said County of Polk from the head of Lake Superior or from any such station to the head of Lake Superior shall never exceed the rate per bushel or per ton per mile now being charged by any or either of the now existing line or lines of railway extending between any station in said county and the lead of said Lake Superior.

In Testimony Whereof the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its President and Secretary and to be duly sealed with its corporate seal.

Dated July 14th, A. D. 1891.

DULUTH & DAKOTA RAILWAY COMPANY.
By R. W. Cameron, President.
By Charles Kydd, Secretary.

THIS AGREEMENT.

Made and entered into this day of July, A. D. 1891, by and between the Board of County Commissioners of Polk County in the State of Minnesota, party of the first part, and the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, party of the second part; WITNESSETH:—

WHEREAS, the said party of the second part is about to make and is making its application or proposition for county bonds in said Polk County, for the purpose of aiding in the building of the railway of the said party of the second part; and,

WHEREAS, in order to secure said bonds, said party to second part is desirous of entering into an agreement with the said party of the first part, in behalf of the people of said Polk County, whereby the rate on wheat shipped from any point in the county of Polk, on the line of railway of said party of the second part to the head of Lake Superior, shall not exceed the rate of twelve and one half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds from said point of shipment to said destination.

NOW THEREFORE, said party of the second part hereby agrees that it will at all times or seasons carry or procure to be carried, all wheat delivered to it at stations along the line of its railway in said Polk County, at a rate not to exceed twelve and one-half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds for the carrying of said wheat to the head of Lake Superior; provided however, the said Polk County shall vote favorably upon the proposition of said party of the second part for bonds to aid in the building of its said railway, and that said bonds to the amount not to exceed two hundred and twenty thousand [220,000] dollars, shall be voted and delivered to said railway company when its line of railway shall be completed from a connection with the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in Itasca county, Minnesota, to a point in the city of Crookston, in said Polk County and State of Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed and sealed as respective officers and seals, the day and year first above written.

N. B. The signatures of the County Commissioners will be affixed at their meeting July 25.

THERE are in Polk County 1,589,460 acres of land, of which fully ninety five [95] per cent, or 1,506,987 acres are arable and the most of it the very choicest of soils. Of this vast area the last census shows about, 200,000 acres to be under cultivation. The valuation of the country, under the assessment of 1891, will be about $7,000,000 [probably over rather than under]. By the same authority we have a population of 30,000, or a fraction over 48 acres for each man, woman, and child in the county.

The mission of this great enterprise which is knocking at the eastern door of your county, is to bring under profitable cultivation and dot with happy homes this fertile but uncultivated prairie land; to diversify your system of agriculture; to increase your population and bring you more nearly in contact with the business and social life of the eastern states and of the old world.

And what is the price you are asked to pay? Take for example the farmer who has one hundred and sixty acres of land, with one hundred acres cultivated to wheat each year, the average assessed valuation of such property with its necessary structures and improvements would not exceed seven dollars per acre, or $1,120.00. The tax levy for the purpose of paying the annual interest on these bonds would be one and one-fourth mills on the dollar of valuation or about $1,40. This is what it would cost this farmer on his real estate to maintain the interest on the bonds until such time as it become necessary to pay the principal. Now what would he receive? We have assumed he has one hundred acres cultivated with wheat; suppose his average to be but fifteen bushels per acre, or fifteen hundred bushels, the saving in freight (to say nothing of what competition will compel the elevator monopoly to cut off from their present exorbitant gains) at three cents per bushel will be $45.00; this on his wheat alone, to say nothing of the saving in a hundred other directions which will suggest themselves to any thoughtful mind.

Of course out of these profits must eventually come the principal, but in twenty years from now with the one hundred and fifty thousand people in the county and a million of acres under cultivation, it will be but a light matter to pay it off and with the yearly increasing acreage, subject to assessment, the percentage of taxation for interest will be diminished from year to year. The same figures hold good relatively with each voter whether his property interest be large or small, and we are fully confident that if you give this matter the consideration it deserves and vote your honest unbiased judgement of what is for the best good for the county, your ballot will read: For the bonds—YES.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

To the People of Minnesota.

The State of Minnesota, to be appropriately represented at the World's Columbian Exposition, needs at least a hundred thousand dollars in addition to the amount at present available.

The commission, feeling that the deep interest manifest throughout the State should have some public and formal expression; believing also that some better plan for raising this additional sum, than the one most favorably considered by them, may be suggested, have decided to call a convention for this two-fold purpose, to be held in the Hall of Representatives, at St. Paul, on Thursday morning, August 13th, at 10 o'clock, to which convention each Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, City or Village Council in every city and town throughout the State is invited to send two delegates.

In counties where there are no such organized bodies, the chairmrn of the board of county commissioners is requested to appoint the delegates.

We earnestly desire that the newspapers of the State, will bring their influence to the support of the commisson in this matter.

In no way can the commission ascertain the wishes of the people except through the medium of the press or the gathering of a representative body of citizens.

If with full knowledge of the vast benefits to be derived from a proper display of our resources and advantages; if, after being advised as to the gigantic preparations in contemplation by some of our sister States, the people of Minnesota decide that $50,000 is sufficient with which to exhibit and advertise our unequaled attractions as a home for people of all classes and conditions, we will undertake to make such an exhibit as the means at our command will warrant. But we cannot believe that such will be their verdict.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St Paul, 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel. [11-16]

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, HENRY SMITH AND EMMA Smith, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Austin Corbin, Trustee, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 28th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 152, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, at 11:15 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 30 of mortgages, on pages 581 to 583; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of sixty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The said Austin Corbin, Trustee, has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred sixty and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d, day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

The Duluth & Winnipeg.

Elsewhere in this issue will be seen the proposition to bond Polk County for $220,000 in exchange for a like amount of stock in the road. Now, THE JOURNAL does not pretend to be an advisor to the voters in this matter, but we feel that if this proposition was a request for an unconditional gift to this enterprise, it would well be worth it, for the benefits conferred by such a road would be many times greater than the amount asked. No doubt there are those who will howl and rave against this project, and who will say that the farmers should not vote for it—just as though farmers were not as sensible as other men and do not know what is for their own interests as well as their self-appointed advisors—every one of whom has some selfish motive at stake, either he is employed by some opposition railroad, or he has some other iron in the fire. Farmers are not so big fools that they don't know that three cents per bushel more for their wheat is a big item—that a proportionate reduction on all in-coming and out-going freights is a big item—that the market that this road will give for all kinds of farm produce—a market right at our very doors is a big thing, and now the only thing for them to decide is whether the small amount each will have to pay to secure it is worth the benefits conferred. That's all there is to it, and the editor of THE JOURNAL is perfectly willing to leave the result in the hands of the farmers—we never knew one yet who would not buy a $200 horse for $100 if he had a chance, and in this case the percent of gain is very much greater.

We believe that in this case they will consult their own best interests regardless of what the roads already running into the county may wish them to do.

Joel's Proposed Resignation.

From the Duluth News.

There is no man who takes a greater interest in political work today than does Joel Heatwole, and if he retires from active political life it is not because he is anxious to do so, but because he is forced into taking that action. It is a well known fact that leading Republicans have been doing everything in their power to down him politically. They have regarded his growing power in the party with undisguised jealousy and have sought in every way possible to undermine his strength. They have credited him with an ambition to be Governor or United States senator, and powerful influence has been exerted, in consequence of that belief, to crowd him out of the councils of the party. It is a fact that in recent months the leading politicians of the republican party have practically ostracized him, and he has not been advised or consulted in regard to any of the political schemes that have recently been concocted. During the last few months he has been attacking Senator Davis men, who have likewise joined in the effort to crush the ambitious statesman of Northfield. In view of all these circumstances, therefore, Mr. Heatwole's retirement from the state central committee is not surprising. But the republican bosses may find that Mr. Heatwole outside the committee is more dangerous than Mr. Heatwole on the committee.

Grand Forks Herald:—In conversation with Capt. Griggs upon the subject of preventing frost by "burning" straw, he stated to a Herald reporter that he knew of several instances where farmers have saved their crops from being destroyed by frost by making bonfires of straw. He says he is a thorough believer in it because he knows from personal experience and has seen others who have tried the experiment and succeeded in saving their crops. He says P. P. Allen saved his crops, while others lost theirs. He hopes newspapers all over the country will continue to agitate the matter and give the farmer the benefit of his experience as well as that of others.

Special Election.

Notice is hereby given that whereas the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company have filed in the office of the County Auditor of Polk County, Minnesota, a proposition in writing as follows, viz:

OF

The Duluth and Dakota Railroad Company.

TO THE COUNTY OF POLK.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Take notice that the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Minnesota, hereby makes application to the county of Polk, in said state, for aid in the construction of that portion of its line of railroad extending from a point within the city of Crookston, in said county of Polk, to its point of intersection with the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in the county of Itasca, in said state; and to that end the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company hereby makes the following proposition:

1. Said county of Polk shall make and issue negotiable coupon bonds thereof to the amount of two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, all to bear date the first day of January, A. D. 1892, and be payable to the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company or bearer twenty years after date thereof, and not before maturity thereof at the option of said county, and to bear interest from the date thereof, payable semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, and at the rate of five per cent. per year.

2. Said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, at the election of said county of Polk, issue thereto such number of the shares of its capital stock as will, at the par value of said stock, correspond with the principal sum of such bonds.

3. All said bonds shall be deposited in escrow prior to any delivery thereof to said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company; and such deposit shall be made with the First National Bank of Crookston, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the National Banking Act of the United States of America, and having its principal place of business, office and residence at the city of Crookston, county of Polk, and state of Minnesota: and all the stock certificates for said shares of stock shall likewise be deposited and placed with the same said depository and at the same time with said bonds; and all said bonds and stock certificates shall be and remain in the possession and custody of the said First National Bank of Crookston until all said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, extending from a point within the said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof, with the said Duluth & Winnipeg railroad, in the said county of Itasca, shall have been located, constructed and completed according to the ordinary standard gauge and in actual operation with cars running thereon.

4. The said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, prior to the first day of December, A. D. 1892, well and truly locate, construct and complete according to the ordinary standard gauge and put in actual operation with cars running thereon; all that portion of its said line of railroad extending from a point within said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof with the Duluth and Winnipeg Railroad in said county of Itasca.

5. Within thirty days from and after (and under no circumstances until after,) completion and actual operation as aforesaid by the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company of all said portion of its said line of railroad, the said First National Bank, of Crookston shall deliver all said stock certificates to said County of Polk and all said bonds to the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company upon production of the certificate, in writing, of the Railway Commissioners of the State of Minnesota, or one of them, to the effect that, upon examination and inspection actually made and had, the said portion of said line of railroad has been duly and properly constructed, completed and put in operation as aforesaid.

6. It is mutually understood that the construction, maintainance and operation of said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of said County of Polk a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations in said county to the head of Lake Superior, and that such competing line will be shorter than any now existing line or lines of transportion between any point within said county and the head of Lake Superior by an estimated distance of not less than fifty miles; and in order to permanently secure and insure to all the inhabitants of said county the advantages now contemplated and which ought to accrue to them from the construction, maintainance and operation of said competing line, the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, hereby guarantees, on behalf of itself and its successors and assign, to said county and to each and all the inhabitants thereof, that the rate for transporation of any grain, merchandise or other commodity to any station on the line of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway within said County of Polk from the head of Lake Superior or from any such station to the head of Lake Superior shall never exceed the rate per bushel or per ton per mile now being charged by any or either of the now existing line or lines of railway extending between any station in said county and the lead of said Lake Superior.

In Testimony Whereof the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its President and Secretary and to be duly sealed with its corporate seal.

Dated July 14th, A. D. 1891.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that a special election will be held and had in and for said county for the purpose of voting upon the said proposition,

On the 25th Day Of August 1891,

and that the polls will be open in the various towns, wards and precincts, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

Given under my hand and seal this 5th day of August, 1891.

C. U. WEBSTER, County Auditor,
Polk County, Minn.

In addition to the above proposition the following contract has been entered into between the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company and the County of Polk:

THIS AGREEMENT.

Made and entered into this day of July, A. D. 1891, by and between the Board of County Commissioners of Polk County in the State of Minnesota, party of the first part, and the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, party of the second part; WITNESSETH:—

WHEREAS, the said party of the second part is about to make and is making its application or proposition for county bonds in said Polk County, for the purpose of aiding in the building of the railway of the said party of the second part; and,

WHEREAS, in order to secure said bonds, said party to second part is desirous of entering into an agreement with the said party of the first part, in behalf of the people of said Polk County, whereby the rate on wheat shipped from any point in the county of Polk, on the line of railway of said party of the second part to the head of Lake Superior, shall not exceed the rate of twelve and one half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds from said point of shipment to said destination.

NOW THEREFORE, said party of the second part hereby agrees that it will at all times or seasons carry or procure to be carried, all wheat delivered to it at stations along the line of its railway in said Polk County, at a rate not to exceed twelve and one-half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds for the carrying of said wheat to the head of Lake Superior; provided, however, the said Polk County shall vote favorably upon the proposition of said party of the second part for bonds to aid in the building of its said railway, and that said bonds to the amount not to exceed two hundred and twenty thousand [220,000] dollars shall be voted and delivered and that said railway shall be completed from a connection with the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in Itasca county, Minnesota, to a point in the city of Crookston, in said Polk County and State of Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed and sealed as respective officers and seals, the day and year first above written.

ALEC. MACLAREN.

THERE are in Polk County 1,589,460 acres of land, of which fully ninety five [95] per cent, or 1,506,987 acres are arable and the most of it the very choicest of soils. Of this vast area the last census shows about, 200,000 acres to be under cultivation. The valuation of the country, under the assessment of 1891, will be about $7,000,000 [probably over rather than under]. By the same authority we have a population of 30,000, or a fraction over 48 acres for each man, woman, and child in the county.

The mission of this great enterprise which is knocking at the eastern door of your county, is to bring under profitable cultivation and dot with happy homes this fertile but uncultivated prairie land; to diversify your system of agriculture; to increase your population and bring you more nearly in contact with the business and social life of the eastern states and of the old world.

And what is the price you are asked to pay? Take for example the farmer who has one hundred and sixty acres of land, with one hundred acres cultivated to wheat each year, the average assessed valuation of such property with its necessary structures and improvements would not exceed seven dollars per acre, or $1,120.00. The tax levy for the purpose of paying the annual interest on these bonds would be one and one-fourth mills on the dollar of valuation or about $1,40. This is what it would cost this farmer on his real estate to maintain the interest on the bonds until such time as it become necessary to pay the principal. Now what would he receive? We have assumed he has one hundred acres cultivated with wheat; suppose his average to be but fifteen bushels per acre, or fifteen hundred bushels, the saving in freight (to say nothing of what competition will compel the elevator monopoly to cut off from their present exorbitant gains) at three cents per bushel will be $45.00; this on his wheat alone, to say nothing of the saving in a hundred other directions which will suggest themselves to any thoughtful mind.

Of course out of these profits must eventually come the principal, but in twenty years from now with the one hundred and fifty thousand people in the county and a million of acres under cultivation, it will be but a light matter to pay it off and with the yearly increasing acreage, subject to assessment, the percentage of taxation for interest will be diminished from year to year. The same figures hold good relatively with each voter whether his property interest be large or small, and we are fully confident that if you give this matter the consideration it deserves and vote your honest unbiased judgement of what is for the best good for the county, your ballot will read: For the bonds—YES.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Business Men's Union.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Voters of Polk County,

FELLOW CITIZENS, VOTERS OF POLK COUNTY: We present hearwith for your consideration and determination the most important question which you have ever been called upon to consider at the polls; and ask before you decide to either accept or reject the proposition, that you study its character and provisions carefully and candidly, regarding it simply from the standpoint of a business basis:

The question for each one of you to consider is: Will it be a paying investment for the people of Polk County,—for myself individually, to make the sacrifice which is asked in this request for County aid, in order to secure the benefits of a competing outlet from our farms to that great waterway which our infinite Creator has stretched from the eastern border of our state to the mills and market of the old world?

THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL of July 9th, contained a very interesting article taken from the New York Press describing the running of the rapids of the St. Lawrence River by one of the newstyle or "whaleback" vessels (since followed by others of the same class.) But how few of these who read that short article, realize the tremendous significance of that fact to the wheat producing interests of the Northwest! It means the shortening of the distance which our wheat must be carried by rail transportation more than one thousand miles, and if taken in connection with a direct and independent outlet from here to the head of the lake, will result in breaking up the elevator monopoly which has been the cause of so much dissatisfaction with the existing lines of railways, and an entire revolution in the method and expense of placing our grain in the hands of the consumer in foreign lands.

Farmers, You are here offered that direct, independent, competing line to the "Great Lake." You are offered a perpetual reduction of freight rates from the prices you are now paying, a reduction which amounts to nearly one sixth on all classes; and of three cents per bushel on wheat (for while this particular line of railroad cannot reach all your farms, yet if one road reduces its rate of freight, all the others will be compelled to do the same or lose their traffic, so that from every point in Polk County there will be a proportionate reduction from present rates of freight. You are offered emancipation and freedom from the elevator monopoly, which has been shown during the recent wheat investigation by the sworn testimony of reliable witneseses, has placed it in the power of one man to dictate what price every farmer in Polk county shall recieve for each bushel of his wheat, and by which the millers of Minneapolis are enabled to depress the prices and lower the grade of your wheat in the fall, when you have it to sell, and to advance the price and raise the grade in the spring when the bulk of it has passed from your hands to theirs.

It means to the land owner, an increase in value of his land; to the producer, better prices for his crops; to the laborers, better wages; to the merchant, an increased number of customers with more money to expend; and to the tax-payer, the settlement of vast tracts of land, which now bear no part in the public burdens, thereby lessening his taxes at the same time increasing his ability to pay it.

Supposing all parts of the country to be equally affected by the promised reduction in freight, the benefits from this one item alone would be fully $200,000.00 annually, while the interest on the bonds asked for is but $11,000.00 per annum. The benefits are perpetual. The tax is but for a few years. Can there be any doubt as to what your decision will be?

The enterprise which is seeking to co-operate with you in securing these desirable results, is really the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway, but, as under their charter it was found impracticable to do this work, they are seeking to do it through their offspring, "the Duluth & Dakota Railway, but when built the line will be found to be the shortest possible to Lake Superior which engineering difficulties will permit, of low grade, and with the most substantial equipment. In every respect a first-class road, and well deserving your patronage and approval.

Again it is a fact that the richest iron deposits in the state are located on the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway about one hundred miles west of Duluth, and one hundred and forty miles east of Crookston. The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg is causing these mines to be developed, and the building of this railway into Polk County will give us this new and profitable market to supply with the products of our farms. This means a better price for every dozen of eggs, for every pound of butter, or bushel of potatoes, or oats or barley, or other coarse grains we have to sell. It means the thousands of tons of hay which now go to waste on the prairies, for want of a market near at hand, can be profitably handled and shipped. Again, much of our straw of which we burn hundreds of thousand of tons each fall, will, because of cheaper transportation, find a profitable market at the mines and at the head of the lake.

In addition to all these advantages the country will receive in return for the bonds, capital stock of the railway company to an equal amount. This stock will be full paid and non-assessable, and when the road is in operation and on a paying basis, will be worth and can be sold for a very material portion of, if not for their full face value; thereby reducing the amount the county will have to pay in a sum far below the expressed value of the bonds, and perhaps enable their extinguishment without expense to the country.

COUNTY NEWS.

BELTRAMI ITEMS.

BELTRAMI, July 28, 1891.

Miss Ettie Howind, of Crookston, closed a very successful term of school here last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murphy, of Minneapolis, were in town yesterday visiting C. E. Ford, Jr., who is a brother of Mrs. Murphy.

E. D. Childs and Geo. J. McManus, of Crookston, were here this week looking over their farms. Both were talking Railroad bonds.

More machinery and twine has been sold here so far than has been sold in any previous two years.

K. O. Flaken, with twenty other Deering agents, met the general manager at Grand Forks last Sunday. They were entertained at the "Dakotah" and Knute says he enjoyed the trip very much.

Mrs. Darrel, of Chicago, daughter of D. T. Herriott, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned to her home.

Mr. Anton Gomme and Mrs. Baroline Shefloe were married in Crookston last week. We wish them many happy years here and an eternity in that city whose streets are paved with gold and whose walls are made of all the precious gems.

The 18 men on the "Fisher" farm quit work this morning. The reason they gave was that the board was poor in quality and small in quantity. Our best and largest farmers say that working men will do better work and more of it when they have plenty of good wholesome food. This is the first "kick" of the kind for a long time and we hope it will be the last for this reason.

Union Sunday school services every Sunday at 10 a. m. in the Beltrami school house. Those who have any interest in their eternal welfare are cordially invited to be present. EDNA.

Euclid Items.

Had heavy rains nearly every day last week and very cool nights. Some have been afraid of frost.

Fred Tiedt, Jr., took a trip to Argyle recently and sold 24,000 pounds of binding twine to the farmers' alliance before he had been in the town thirty minutes. Euclid can boast of at least one business man.

Mrs. Stockwell is up from Lyons, visiting Mrs. Taylor, her sister.

Mr. Greggs, from Kalamazoo, Michigan, is in town visiting his sister, Mrs. Dr. Chapin.

M. M. Davis went to Crookston on Wednesday and returned on Friday morning.

E. Taylor & Co. will have barley ready to harvest this week.

M. P. Losey was at Crookston on Saturday.

The Ladies' Missionary Society will meet at Mrs. Harrington's on Thursday.

Mr. McCormick, our minister, will take a vacation of three weeks, when he expects to bring back a partner to help him in his good work.

Mrs. Collins and daughter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harrington.

Grand Forks Items.

From The Courier.

On Wednesday last we had a pleasant call from Mr. Alex McKinnon, Crookston's genial mayor, and while Mac assured us that it always gave him peculiar pleasure to visit this thriving city, on this occasion he combined business with plesure, as his visit was partly to try and interest the people of East Grand Forks in the proposed new railroad to be built here in the near future.

R. Wood: On My trip to Crookston I had occasion to call upon our genial county attorney, and was much gratified at my kind and cordial welcome. He received me in the bosom of his family, as it were, and treated me like a brother. When Mr. Holston has occasion to visit this city I will try and return the favors so kindly shown me.

Who says that East Grand Forks is not destined to become a city of note in the near future? If there are any such, let them gaze on the steady improvements going on without ceasing, and if the verdict can be anything but favorable to the city we are very much mistaken in the signs of the times. Already we have several times as many are lights as Grand Forks and now we are to have gas. Our new city hall is nearing completion and is a magnificent structure and would be a credit to any city five times the size of East Grand Forks, but our city dads know what they were about and before two years roll round the only fault will be found with the hall will be that it will be too small for the increased growth of the city.

Grand Forks Plaindealer:—Mesdames Mellgan and Cahoon and Misses Hattie and Lottie Stone, Bessie Bravio and Mamie Philips drove over from Crookston this morning and spent the day pleasantly visiting friends and looking over the city.

Mrs. Wm. Anglim was out riding on Tuesday morning, after a long seige of illness.

C. K. Ingeborg took a furlough for a week and went out to Maple Lake to enjoy it.

Fred Davis came down to spend the Sabbath with his sister, Mrs. Bert Duntley.

It looks like hay would be good property this year. It will be a light crop and scarce.

Do not be fooled by specious talk. Vote for your own interests in the coming election.

G. W. Barber and F. E. Hertz arrived last week for a few days' visit with old friends in the city.

Go to C. M. Lowe for choice loans at 9 per cent.

The prospects are favorable for good weather during harvest and it is what we are all hoping for.

Will Bugg came in from the lake on Monday. Says they are all enjoying life hugely out there.

The chief says he robbed a bird's nest on Tuesday evening. Found nothing in it but bad eggs.

T. M. Nelson came up from Fertile on Saturday. Says the crop prospects are bright in his town.

Will Walker has just finished putting in a hard maple floor for Hoch Bros. It makes elegant flooring.

Rev. Southerland preached two interesting discourses at the Congregational church on Sunday last.

With a short-line road to Duluth there will be no better farming country in the word than Polk County.

Elegant weather this week for the crops. At this rate the wheat harvest will be pretty general next week.

Judge Benson was out to Woodside to spend the Sabbath. Farmers will soon be in their wheat out that way.

Call at Herb's for anything in his line. He deserves all the patronage we have to give since the late misfortune.

See Herb's stock of harvest gloves.

D. Jacobus returned from Duluth last week. Had been down there, figuring with K. D. Chase on some job or other.

Bert Duntley left for Detroit, Mich., on Saturday evening. He will visit his relatives in Michigan before he returns.

M. P. Losey was down from Euclid on Wednesday. Is rejoicing in the prospects for abundant crops this year.

Dr. Thomas quit the game because one of the leans tried to breed a scab on his nose—and had pretty good luck at it.

Mrs. Max Ericsson and Lloyd, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller and children, went out to Maple Lake on Tuesday for a few days outing.

Fontaine & Anglim bought the stock of twine of the Pioneer Twine Co., last week and will now supply the wants of all who want cheap twine.

H. B. Budd was up from Edna on Tuesday. Says that barley harvest is well along and that many will commence wheat harvest next week.

ONCE MORE

OUR WATER WORKS SYSTEM!

And Our Splendid Volunteer Fire Department!

SAVES THE CITY!

THE FIRE.

At about 11 o'clock on Wednesday evening, July 29th, fire broke out, either in the Norsk Hotel or Holmboe's store, on Robert street, but very near to the oil tank in the rear of Holmboe's store so that the flames very quickly found the tank, exploded it, and filled both the hotel and the store with the devouring flames quicker than we can tell it. The fire department quickly answered the summons of the bell and soon had every inch of hose into active service. Notwithstanding the promptness of the department so rapidly did the fire fiend get in its work that both the hotel and the store were fully wrapped in flames by the time the first stream came into play, and it looked as though the whole north side of Robert street, from Mason's to the Fournet block, must go, and the immediate neighbors to the burning building, H. A. Mason on the west, and Olsen & Anderson on the east, began to move out in a hurry; A. O. Ralstad, in the next building east, also. A. Holmboe, who was living over the store, was making preparations to retire for the night when suddenly his sleeping room was illuminated brightly by the reflection of the fire between the Norsk hotel and the store, and himself and wife had to work lively to escape with their lives. They saved none of their household goods. In the Norsk hotel some of the guests had retired, and they just had time to get out, and that was all. It was thought at one time that two children had been burned, but they were discovered safe and sound later. Torger Nelson, who was running the hotel, lost about $1,000 in household goods and supplies, with no insurance. J. L. Hanson, who was running a saloon on the first floor front, lost between $600 and $700 on stock, furniture and fixings, with no insurance. A. Holmboe, loss in stock, complete. Had about $7,000 in stock; insurance $5,500. Olsen and Anderson were fully covered by insurance, but the building they were in, owned by H. H. Olson, was valued at $1,800 and insured for $550. It was not seriously damaged by fire but was pretty thoroughly soaked. P. N. Dauser lost in damage to goods but was insured. Miss Helen Halvorson's stock was damaged by water and by removal. Building and stock insured for $1,150. Herb Mason's stock was damaged by smoke and by removal about $200. Insured, but the adjuster could find only $8 damages, but finally offered Herb $50 to settle. Herb has not as yet concluded to settle. The Norsk hotel building was owned by John Alderman, insured for $1,200. The store occupied by A. Holmboe was owned by Francis Rickett; insured for $500. Chief McKinnon deserves great credit, as well as the department, for the able manner in which the fire was handled, for notwithstanding the fierce heat, fed by the oil from the exploded tank, the fire was confined to the two buildings almost entirely, only burning the roof of the Olsen building slightly. The chief kept one stream constantly playing on the corner occupied by Holmboe's safe, thus keeping it cool and saving some valuable books and papers that were in pigeon holes in a desk near the safe. The fire was raging like a demon when the department tackled it, and the buildings were as dry as a tinder-box, the flames were fed by a copious supply of kerosene oil, and yet before 12 o'clock the boys had it under full control, and all out by one o'clock. Soon after they had got down to work the sparks and cinders rolled out so fast and furiously over the McKinnon block and the Grand opera house building that the department was obliged to use one hose line to protect these buildings, but they got there beautifully and deserve more than words of commendation for their efforts. Casper Sands got out his garden hose, got onto his dwelling and drowned out various and sundry cinders that rained upon his roof. The boys took hold of Herb's goods with alacrity and hustled them into the street in a very few minutes and then after the fire was over put them into the Kistenmacher building for him. Herb is very popular with the boys and their good work at this time stood him in good stead.

Engineer Fred Chapin is the happy father of a bouncing baby boy since Wednesday morning. Congratulations are now in order.

August Wentzel brought us a sample of wheat last week that needed only about one week of good weather to thoroughly ripen. The wheat looks heavy enough for a yield of 25 or 30 bushels per acre if nothing happens to it.

Tom Harris and his wife separated on Friday. They had a few words and parted at the N. P. depot. Mrs. Harris takes two of the boys and goes to Michigan for a visit of two months duration, meanwhile Tom will get along as best he may.

From W. R. Hoagland we learn that C. Van Hoosen, formerly deputy register of deeds for Polk County, is corning wealth in his business in Elgin—real-estate and loans. Clark's oldest daughter is just convalescent from a severe illness.

McKinnon Bros. are fixing up the driveway between Fred Anderson's fruit store and Wilson & Thompson's into a cosy little room with basement, and when completed Irver Krohn will put in a lunch counter and tobacco, cigars and confectionery.

If the Duluth & Winnipeg road is built it will mean one independent road in the Valley, That fact is worth thousands of dollars to the dwellers in the Red River Valley. Do you need that kind of a road? If so, you now have a chance to take stock in one by voting bonds in exchange for stock.

Edna and Euclid letters were unavoidably crowded out last week which we very much regret and will try and avoid in the future. At the last moment before going to press a rush of locals, which had to go, crowded out these interesting communications.

On Wednesday Mr. Aaron Cooke brought over a fine sample of new potatoes from the farm of Cooke & Bartlett—the first we have interviewed this season. He also brought along a splendid exhibit of barley that will be all ready to cut next Monday. It promises a big yield.

S. E. Kneeland, after selling most of his potted plants, sold the balance of them to Geo. Vine on Saturday evening and on Sunday morning left for his home in Hillsboro, N. D. He may ship in another lot next summer and is at all times prepared to furnish cut flowers to those who require them.

Charlie Munn, the 12 year old son of Euclide Munn, fell out of a tree on Thursday last and for two hours was unconscious. Dr. Farley was called and succeeded in bringing him round again but it was several days before the boy got thoroughly limbered up again. He will be very careful how he climbs trees hereafter.

R. A. Wilkinson was up from St. Paul last week. When asked by a JOURNAL reporter the cause of his visit R. A. replied that he came up to secure right of way for the side track to Lee & Herrick's mill. As he spent a great portion of time in Fosston it would seem that the side track is to run from that point to the mill—a healthy old side-track that.

Mr. W. R. Hoagland, of Elgen Ills., arrived in the city Tuesday morning, looking up business in the interests of Powers Bros., stationers. Mr. H. is well acquanted with our old friend Clark Van Housen and of course a call from him was highly enjoyed. He was very favorably impressed with what he saw of our city.

Agent Sharkey informs THE JOURNAL that every train north is loaded with harvest hands. Fifteen stopped off at Crookston on Tuesday morning and each found a job in short order. If farmers who are in need of help would go over to the N. P. depot at the arrival of the morning train they could secure plenty of help.

Halvor Steenerson went up to Hallock last week to look into the matter of the removal of the county seat. After a session of several days the commissioners decided that the petition was illegal and that no doubt puts a quietus to the question as it should. The proper place for that county seat is right where it is—at Hallock.

It matters not what the agents and hired tools of the Great Northern may say, the Duluth & Winnipeg is an independent line just the same and if built it will not be the Great Northern's money that does it. If the people of this county desire direct communication with Duluth by way of an independent line they now have the opportunity to get it.

P. J. LaChapelle: The best reply to that communication in last issue of THE JOURNAL would be for me to challenge the writer to a fight to a finish, with or without gloves, but this is impracticable, as Gov. Merriam would at once order out our new malitia company and stop it, so I guess that nothing is left me but to suffer in silence till I pine away in grief.

Eric Olson spoke in the city hall last Saturday evening to a small audience. Eric reviewed the situation agriculturally and politically, and expressed great faith in the belief that the future would reveal great improvements in the methods of handling wheat. He said that the building of the Duluth & Winnipeg road into this country was one long step in the right direction.

Tom Young: Me'n Lancaster had jist got sot down to a bowl o' hot soup each in Rolstad's restaurant, when the fire-bell rang, an' then we were in the soup, 'stid o' the soup 'n us as we'd kal'lated. When we went in there was no sign of a fire and when we came out, only a few moments later, the flames were bursting out of Holmboe's front and the Norsk hotel was going right lively.

Looking over the advertising columns of the Great Bend, (Wash.) Journal, to see how many live men they have in that thriving young city, our eye caught this notice: "M. Lefevre, Hand made boots and shoes, &c." The thought occurs to us that that must be our "Bishop" who was well-known here as one of the best manufacturers of fine boots that ever made a waxed-end in Crookston. If this is indeed he, we can assure those booming Benders that they will hunt a long while before they will find a master workman who can beat the old man on a pair of fine boots. The more his work is known the better it will be appreciated.

Herb Mason, though somewhat disfigured by the late fire is still in the ring at the old stand ready to supply the needs of his custermers whom he invites to call. His losses in damaged goods will hardly be paid by the insurance company but if a generous public will remember him with their patronage it will mitigate that loss somewhat. Call and see him at the old stand.

Charlie Misner turned his shop into a haven of shelter for the victims of the fire who came flocking in clad in every kind of a garment from simply a broad grin to a gentle zephyr. He skirmished around and procured quilts with which to render them more eligible to entry into polite society and did all he could to render them comfortable. Then he packed his chairs, razors and strops into a hat box and sat down on a box of cigar ashes to await the trend of events.

If the bonds are voted we shall see a direct road to Duluth just as soon as men and means can do it probably before the 1st of January 92. If the bonds are not voted it is not likely that we shall see a road built in ten years. The question is one of great importance to all and should be carefully considered in all its bearings. We believe the road will be worth to every farmer a hundred fold more than it costs him and we believe that the bonds will carry if properly understood.

Charles E. Chapel, a veteran of the 5th Minn, and now military store keeper of the state, was up to St Hilaire last week gathering up arms that were sent out during the Indian scare. He carries an empty sleeve, having lost an arm, at Mobile, Alabama, during the very last days of the war. As he served in the same regiment with Capt. McGrew, he called on the Captain and his family a short time, while here on Friday before taking the train for his home in St. Paul.

On Tuesday afternoon J. L. Bailey was training a fine two-year-old colt, driving it about the streets in harness. Not long since the colt got into a wire fence and got its right fore foot severely cut and Mr. B. brought the animal to town for treatment. Now that the colt is getting along so as to need exercise, Mr. B. is quietly getting him used to harness and handling. Mr. Bailey evidently knows how to handle colts.

On Saturday last as the little 9 year old son of Dolphus Riopelle was mowing on the Chase place, north of town, he fell from the mower and got his right arm in the sickle bar. The boy was brought to the city and Dr. Farley was called who found a compound fracture of the arm and the flesh badly mangled. At last accounts the boy was doing as nicely as could be expected.

The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg road means the dawning of an era of prosperity for Polk County such as we have never before seen. It will mean not only a large decrease in freight rates, but an enhanced value for our farming lands, as well as an increased demand for them. If the road is built, it will no doubt double the population of Polk County in a few years and thus lessen taxation, for it will place us within easy access of eastern markets and thus make farming more profitable.

Joseph Laframboise was in the city last week limping about on a game leg, the result of a run-away on the Monday previous. He was standing in his wagonbox arranging some straw, preparatory to loading in some sheep for market, and his wife was standing on the ground holding the lines when the team took fright and started to run, jerking the lines out of her hands. Mr. L. could not get hold of the lines so he jumped and was thrown heavily to the ground spraining his right leg severely. He suffered from it during the night and on Tuesday morning came to the city for medical advice and attention. The team, after making a wreck of the wagon ran into a neighbor's barn and were secured without injury but Mr. L. has a reminder that will last him several weeks.

Joseph Laframboise: A certain man, a resident of Crookston, came out to my place last week to instruct his "brother farmers" how to vote on the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad question. He pretends to be only a poor, everyday sort of a farmer like the rest of us, and that his only interest in the matter is that the farmers shall vote right on the bond question, but it seems a little peculiar to me how the ordinary farmer can spend the time and use the expense necessary to canvass the county against a measure of so great importance to the county, just simply to save himself the few dollars in taxes the bonds, if voted, would cost him. The thorough canvass of the county he is making would in time and expenses cost him hundreds of dollars, and no ordinary farmer can or will go to that trouble and expense for any such reason. His excuse looks pretty thin to the average farmer.

Brood Mares.

The undersigned will sell at Public Auction, at M. R. Brown's Sale Stables, Fifth street, Crookston, Minn., on Saturday, August 8th, 1891, 75 head of good well bred brood mares, part of them having colts by their side. Farmers will find it to their interest to attend this sale. Come one, come all!

Terms of sale.—Six months time will be given on approved notes drawing 10 per cent interest.

During the last session of the legislature, J. J. Furlong fought the $100,000 appropriation for the World's Fair, and labored hard to limit it to $50,000. Now he is howling fearfully for a raise, says the $50,000 is wholly inadequate—but then he is on the board of commissioners now.

J. H. Van Dyke, a prominent citizen of Alexandria, died at his residence in that city on Saturday last. Mr. Van Dyke was one of the early settlers of Douglas County, a prominent Republican leader, and was highly respected by all who knew him. Dr. M. Van Dyke, formerly of this city, is a brother and Will Van Dyke, who studied medicine with the doctor, is a son of deceased. He leaves a wife and five children.

The Great Northern road seems to be very much interested in defeating the bonds—and well it may, for the Duluth & Winnipeg, with the shortest line to Duluth, would be a formidable competitor and would parallel its road for much of the distance. But the people need the Duluth & Winnipeg road, and if they are wise will vote to take stock in it to the amount asked. Do not be deceived by any statements that you may hear about the Great Northern road's ownership of the proposed line—there is not a word of truth in such a statement, and it is only made to create a false impression, and help to defeat the building of the line.

Innocents Abroad.

The following item we take from the Prattsburgh News, a lively local paper published at the former home of the writer in old Steuben County, New York, which shows that the educational system of our Red River Valley is making itself known even unto the uttermost parts of the land.

"Two travel-stained wheelmen from the west arrived in this village Tuesday afternoon. They started from Minneapolis Minn., June 19th and reached this place July 28th. They stopped at various places to see friends and scenery, and with a kodak have the means of perpetuating both the beautiful and ludicrous things that came within the range of their vision. They have ridden on bicycles all the way, excepting where such riding was impossible, their cyclometer showing that they have traveled with wheels a distance of 1,125 miles. J. Paul Goode, professor of natural sciences in the State Normal School of Moorhead, Minn., is a grandson of the late Bartholemew Van Valkenburgh, whose residence was a mile north of this village. His friend, Mr. Webster, superintendent of city school of same place, accompanies him."

There is talk of calling an extra session of the Legislature to provide means for carrying out the designs of speculators in regard to the World's Fair. While it is no doubt a fact that the appropriation was not large enough for much of a spread, there is no call for putting the State to the expense of an extra session to provide money. Let some of your wealthy philanthropists come to the front with donations. Here is a good chance for railroad and elevator men to distinguish themselves.

"To bond or not to bond," is the question now before the people of Polk County, and it is a question that must be settled by the farmers's vote of Polk County, as that element is largely in the majority in the county. We notice that one or two newspapers, in connection with a vast railroad system, are very fearful that the farmers will decide to encourage the building of the Duluth & Winnipeg into the county, and thus are trumping up all kinds of bug-bear stories in order to delude the farmers into voting against the bonds—just as though the farmers are not as well posted in regard to their own best interests as any one. Upon this question THE JOURNAL feels perfectly willing to leave the result in the hands of the farmers, who will be benefitted most if the road is built, knowing that they are, as a rule, pretty level-headed, and that they will vote for what they consider to be for the best interdsts of themselves and the country. The question is one without political significance—a matter of dollars and cents. The road, if built, will be of great advantage to the county, whether of enough advantage to warrant the outlay the voters must determine. THE JOURNAL believes that the advantages to be derived will far out-weigh the outlay necessary to secure the road and is confident that if the farmers rightly understand the matter they will secure the road, and we are perfectly willing to abide their judgment. They well know that the cheaper we can make transportation to New York the more money there is for them in their wheat. They know that this road will make a difference of three cents per bushel at once, and a difference of one-sixth on all other incoming and out-going freights, will give them a good market in the mines and lumber camps for their hay, straw, oats, butter, eggs and vegetables, all of which far outweigh the cost of obtaining the road. THE JOURNAL does not pretend to stand in the light of an advisor to the farmers in this matter, as we give them credit for sufficient shrewdness to act for their own best interests, and we do not believe that they are going to allow any great railroad corporation, which now has them completely in its power, to keep them there forever, as it certainly will unless some competing line of road comes to their relief.

Grand Forks Plaindealer:—Those who think that stock raising is not profitable in North Dakota ought to go down to Helendale farm and get an idea of what Col. J. B. Power has accomplished in that business. He has the best stock and general purpose farm in all the northwest. There is on his farm a fine herd of thoroughbred Durhams, numbering, 50 head and a herd of fine grades numbering 150 head. These herds are the finest in North Dakota. He is breeding draft horses. It costs $25 to rear a colt three-year old colt and the animal at this age will bring from $100 to $125. Time has demonstrated that Col. Power acted wisely when he selected the land which is now comprised in the Helendale farm. He has been successful beyond expectation. The farmers of North Dakota could learn many useful lessons from him

WHAT OWEN SAYS.

DOESN'T KNOW ABOUT THE CIRCULAR, BUT APPROVES HOLDING THE WHEAT.

Minneapolis Journal.

There is a well-defined suspicion in certain interested circles that grain speculations inspired the circulation which has been sent broadcast over the country, and which in effect advises the farmers to hold their wheat back and not endeavor to market it at the first opportunity. The claim is made that the speculator could carry the wheat to better advantage if the suply was regulated to meet the demand. S. M. Owen, editor of the Farm, Stock, and Home, and an authority on the wheat issues of the day, was waited upon this morning, but could neither affirm or deny the rumor.

"Certainly," Mr. Owen added, "it has has cost a round sum of money to get out these circulars and defray the expenses of distribution, but I am not prepared to say who footed the bills. It does not appear to be an Alliance movement, though that organization is employed as an effective means to distribute the circular, but the distribution is not confined to members of the farmer's Alliance. It is needless to say that the publication of this circular has created a profound sensation in grain speculating circles, and in its effect will undoubtedly to advance the price of futures somewhat, regardless of how farmers may be influenced by it."

"Do you think the advice given in the circular is justified, Mr. Owen?"

"Yes, in my opinion it is," was the reply. It is doubtful if the country will have much more than its average surplus of wheat to export, while, unless reports from there are woefully exagerated and misleading. Europe's yield will be many millions below the average. That wheat is going to be higher this country than it has for several years past seems inevitable, but whether farmers or speculators are to be most profited by it is yet problematical. To settle that problem is the ostensible object of the circular. The whole matter is hinged on this proposition: Shall speculators sell the farmers, grain before or after the farmer has sold it?

The circular urges the farmer to compel the speculator to first buy his wheat before he sells it, to compel the speculators to speculate on his own wheat, his own capital, and not on that of the farmer."

"Coyou consider this move as a farmers trust?"

"No, sir in no sense," was the emphatic rejoinder. "There has been no confederation or conspiracy among farmers. They are now being informed about existing conditions, are being told what the probable effect of slowly marketing their wheat will be but it is not known how they will be governed by it. But if they do as advertised it will be exercising an unquestioned right. The farmer need be in no hurry to thresh, can sell his wheat in November instead of September or October, or can sell it in small lots at a time, instead of all at once, if he chooses, and that is the sole import of the advice given him."

"Do you think the price will be forced to a point high enough to warrant holding by those who must store wheat it elevators?" interrogated THE JOURNAL man.

"It is very doubtful, because they must, in that case, pay storage and interest on money, and assume other risks and chances. I do not delieve that the very large prices predicted by some will be realized, for such prices would enormously reduce the consumption of wheat and so neutralize the effect of a limited supply. Again, every bushel of wheat put into an elevator or storehouse becomes a part of the visible supply, and and is practically so much ammunition furnished by the farmer to the speculator. The only way for the farmer to hold wheat is to hold it in stack or granary. It can be so held at no great expense, even if storage must be built, and that will be "holding" to some purpose.

"The 'bears' are building great hopes on the financial condition of the farmers are too poor, their debts too large and pressing, to admit of their holding wheat. Unfortunately that is true, and that condition will compel a movement of wheat large enough to prevent the cornering by farmers," that some fear will be a disastrous evil. But millions of bushels can and will be held, or slowly marketed, and that will be sufficient to give farmers some of the advantages of what seem to be inevitably higher prices, and not allow them all to be realized by speculators, who would buy the farmer's wheat cheap and subsequently sell it to consumers at exhorbitant prices.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss.
In Probate Court, Special Term, July 28th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Arthur Yvernault, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of John Cromb, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained, the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof, the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all the real estate belonging to said deceased mentioned in the petition. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses, to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate, appear before this Court on Monday, the 31st day of August, 1891, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said County, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell all of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 28th day of July, A. D. 1891.

TREATMENT BY INHALATION.

For Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Headache, Debility, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all Chronic or Nervous Disorders.

"The original and only genuine Compound Oxygen Treatment," Drs. Starkey & Palen have been using for the last twenty years, is a scientific adjustment of the elements of oxygen and nytrogen magnetized, and the compound is so condensed and made portable that it is sent all over the world.

Drs. Starkey & Palen's office records show over 50,000 cases in which their original (and only genuine) Compound Oxygen Treatment has been used by physicians in their practice, and by invalids independently. Over 1,000 physicians and more than 49,000 invalids

"Compound Oxygen—Its Mode of Action and Results," is the title of a new brochure of two hundred pages, published by Drs. Starkey and Palen, which gives to all inquirers full information as to this remarkable curative agent and a record of several hundred surprising cures in a wide range of chronic cases—many of them after being abandoned to die by other physicians. Will be mailed free to any address on application. Read the brochure!

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication August 6th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of five hundred eleven and 21-100 ($511.21) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Raghild E. Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole H. Bang, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of October, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of October, 1889, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 47, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole H Bang, mortgagee, to Hans Larson, by written assignment dated the 16th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 151, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine, (9) Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 10th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $511.21, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

The Southern Minnesota Fair.

The twelfth annual fair of the Southern Minnesota Fair Association, will be held in Rochester, Aug. 31st to Sept. 5th. Everybody is cordially invited to write to C. Van Campen, Secretary, for a copy of the premium list. The premiums are liberal. Half rates apply on all shipments. Passenger fares will be only one-half the regular rates from all points within a radius of 200 miles of Rochester. As heretofore, there will be many fairs in the country this year, a few may be larger than this, most of them will be smaller, but none will be stronger in inviting features, more diversified in extent and scope, richer in rare exhibits, purer in entertainments, or be more intently interesting to the visitor.

Ode to the Banana Peel.

The street car had passed, but to catch it he reckoned.
So he ran like a deer, and shouted and beckoned.
Till he planted his heel.
On a smooth bit of peel—
Then he saw half a million of stars in a second.

He was in too great a hurry; better have waited for another car. This business of running after street cars is risky, and undignified too. The safest and most comfortable mode of travel is by the regular trains of a railroad, provided always that you select such a first-class line as "The Burlington." Its trains leave from and arrive at all the principal cities and towns in the West promptly on time, and if your watch runs correctly, you need never run to catch a train. Its time system for running of trains is perfect, and its equipment of free reclining chair cars, Pullman vestibuled sleepers, and peerless dining cars, is unequalled by any other line. For tickets, time tables maps etc., call on your local ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon Gen. Pass. Agent, "The Burlington," St. Paul, Minn.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul, 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel. [11-16]

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

(First publication July 30th, 1891.)
[Last publication Sept. 10th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m.; and recorded in volume "26" of mortgages, on pages 442-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 87-100 (39.87) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 ($637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

WHEREAS, HENRY SMITH AND EMMA Smith, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Austin Corbin, Trustee, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 28th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 20, Township 152, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, at 11:15 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 30 of mortgages, on pages 581 to 585; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of sixty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The said Austin Corbin, Trustee, has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred sixty and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d, day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

WHEREAS, John Gudmundsen and Marie Gudmundsen, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1886, duly execute and deliver to Nathan P. Rice, of the County of New York and State of New York, their mortgage bearing date of September 30th, A. D. 1886, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The east half of the northeast quarter, and the east half of the southeast quarter of Section 30, Township 148, Range 44 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of eight hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was, on the 13th day of October, A. D. 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 237; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of ten dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of fifty-six dollars, due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the said Nathan P. Rice has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred ninety-seven and 10-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d day of August, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated June 30th, A. D. 1891.

To the student of political economy, when considering the Farmers' Alliance and the ultimate outcome and its influence upon the welfare of the agricultural interests of the country, that phase of the movement which most perplexes and causes him to doubt its final triumph over existing evils, is the seeming utter indifference of its members to the relations existing between cause and effect. As an illustration of this fact, take the Alliance position as expressed in the resolution passed by the Kingstown Alliance, at its meeting on July 25th, in which they put themselves on record as opposing the proposition to aid the construction of an independent and competing railway into the very heart of their county.

The alliance movement in this state owes its existence to the general and wide spread feeling that the moneyed and monopolistic interests of the country have secured control of the railroad and warehouse facilities of the state, and refuse to allow the farmers a just and equitable share from the profits of their labors.

In support of this position they have continually called attention to the fact, that in our local markets the average margin of price between Polk County and Duluth or Minneapolis, was from fifteen to seventeen and one-half cents per bushel, of which ten and one-half cents per bushel was taken by the railway companies for freight, and the remaining five to seven cents, by the elevator companies for handling their grain, and that under the contracts existing between the elevator companies and the railroads they were denied proper and sufficient facilities for personal shipments, but were compelled to pay these enormous handling charges whether they wished to or not, and yet when a rival company comes to them with the proffer of their services as in the case of the D. & D. Ry., they turn their backs upon the proposition, and indicate by word and act, that they will have nothing to do with it, simply because, as one of the conditions of the partnership, they are asked to contribute their share of the capital. The offer of the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company is in reality nothing more nor less than the proffer of partnership. They say they will put in five-sixths of the capital if the county will put in the other sixth. They will give the same amount of stock to the county as they take themselves in proportion to the money furnished. They will do the work and transport the farmer's grain to the lake and give the county the benefit of the natural advantages which their line has over other and existing lines, in addition to sharing equally with them the dividends resulting to the capital stock.

The men composing the railroad company making this offer are men well known in the business world, and their word would be taken on Wall street without security for a sum much larger than the amount asked of the county. They come to the county offering to carry wheat for three cents a bushel less than the farmer is now paying and to make a reduction on all classes of freight proportionate to the saving of the length of their line to our great lake port, and have put the proposition in writing, in legal form, such as no impartial attorney would question as being binding upon the company, and yet without even investigating the responsibility of the parties, the legality of the proposition or the circumstances and conditions which lead to its being offered them, they reject it and take it upon themselves to advise the rest of the county what is for their best interests.

Notice the opening words of the resolution: "Whereas, it has come to our knowledge that a proposition has been filed with the County Auditor," thereby admitting, impliedly, if not directly, that they had neither seen or examined or had personal knowledge of the contents of this proposition, and then wind up with this remarkable declaration:

"Therefore be it resolved, that we disapprove of bonding the county and condemn the action of Crookston for bringing the expense of calling a special election to vote on the question of bonding the county for building railroads."

Now, any candid person will admit that if the building of this road means, as the proposition says it means, that it "will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of Polk County a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations thereof to the head of Lake Superior," then it follows as sure as effect follows cause, that the building of this line means the breaking down of unjust railroad charges and the breaking up of the Minneapolis wheat ring's control of the local market in Polk County.

If the need of just the relief this railway offers was not so imperative, if the situation was not so critical, the inconsistency of the position of this Alliance would be ridiculous.

We use the words "imperative" and "critical" advisedly. The situation as we regard it is as follows: The Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway Companies, which now occupy the valley, are determined to maintain their grasp upon its fertile acres, and entrenched as they are behind enormous land grants, which have made nearly one-half of the settlers of the valley their debtors, and thus placed it in their power to make or crush the fortunes of almost any man who dares oppose them, it is no light undertaking for any other railway company to invade their territory, many of the great railway systems of the country have for years cast longing eyes upon our fertile prairies, but the far-reaching power for evil of these enormous monopolies, which cannot only strike them at many competing points, but in the monied centers of the east, as well, where their stocks and bonds must find their market, does and will prevent their entering the lists as competitors. But the very fact that the Duluth & Dakota is not a great railway system, but a short and direct line from point to point, gives it enormous advantage over its gigantic rival and makes it possible for it to accomplish what no other road could possibly do, and if the farmers of Polk county now turn their backs upon this proffered aid, and refuse to contribute their share of the capital to accomplish the result for which they have so long labored, they will never in the life of this generation have so generous an offer to consider. It is the tide, which taken at its flood leads on to fortune.

Again, notice their utter disregard of the law of cause and effect when they say "we condemn the action of Crookston for bringing the expense, etc., etc." Now, as a matter of fact, Crookston did not make, (and they should have known it,) the proposition, and cause this expense to be incurred, but the officers of the D. & D. Ry. Co., but the parties who wrote this resolution did so without due regard for the facts in the case, the promises of the proposition, or their own personal and pecuniary interests.

The Great Northern Railway desires to see this resolution ratified by every Alliance in the county, and we await with interest to see whether they will respect that wish.

The farmers of Polk County are in the position of a man who, while gathering apples in a pasture has been attacked by a mad bull and after a long and desperate struggle in which he has been just able to hold his own, sees another bull bearing down upon his antagonist with intent to do him great bodily harm. Now comes the question, will he turn in with his former antagonist to drive the newcomer from the field or will he encorage the rivals advance and when they have safely locked horns, quitely secure his fruit and retire peaceably to his fireside.

D. H. Beecher, in the Grand Forks Herald:—Say, this Maple Lake movement is a grand thing, I am heartily sympathy with it. I will join in the excursion and what is more if I can secure any property on the Lake I will put up a cottage next summer. Continue to boom it and let us have a rousing excursion.

St Paul Daily News:—A gentleman just returned from Rice county furnishes the information that Joel P. Heatwole has just finished threshing 1,700 bushels of wheat which he harvested on his farm near Northfield and immediately sold for 80 cents per bushel. The yield was about twenty-three bushels per acre. Immediately after harvesting and threshing was completed Farmer Heatwole put his teams to work plowing the stubble under.

Northwestern Agriculturist: Minnesota is now making more substantial gain in population of country towns and in number of farms than at any previous time since its settlement. Those who went back east to "God's country" on account of homesickness have recovered and come back prepared to stay, and those who sought fairer climes south and on the western coast have learned that distance lent enchantment, and that difficulties and hard conditions are to be found everywhere, and that "sand" is needed in the composition of a successful man or woman in any climate. Take it for all in all, there are no better states and no better climate or people than are found here in the Northwest, which is destined to contihue to be the home of a people not surpassed in intelligence, industry or wealth. Every year its home market is improving and productive capacity increasing. The politicians who work the farmers, instead of working farms, are trying to make the people believe thrt the world is out of joint, and that they are the surgeons to set it right, but that is because they are just now out of a job, and are looking for a "soft snap" for themselves, and hope to ride into a good place on a wave of discontent. Meantime, the world is moving right along, and is growing better and more comfortable instead of worse.

Special Election.

Notice is hereby given that whereas the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company have filed in the office of the County Auditor of Polk County, Minnesota, a proposition in writing as follows, viz:

OF

The Duluth and Dakota Railroad Company.

TO THE COUNTY OF POLK.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Take notice that the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Minnesota, hereby makes application to the county of Polk, in said state, for aid in the construction of that portion of its line of railroad extending from a point within the city of Crookston, in said county of Polk, to its point of intersection with the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in the county of Itasca, in said state; and to that end the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company hereby makes the following proposition:

1. Said county of Polk shall make and issue negotiable coupon bonds thereof to the amount of two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, all to bear date the first day of January, A. D. 1892, and be payable to the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company or bearer twenty years after date thereof, and not before maturity thereof at the option of said county, and to bear interest from the date thereof, payable semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, and at the rate of five per cent. per year.

2. Said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, at the election of said county of Polk, issue thereto such number of the shares of its capital stock as will, at the par value of said stock, correspond with the principal sum of such bonds.

3. All said bonds shall be deposited in escrow prior to any delivery thereof to said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company; and such deposit shall be made with the First National Bank of Crookston, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the National Banking Act of the United States of America, and having its principal place of business, office and residence at the city of Crookston, county of Polk, and state of Minnesota; and all the stock certificates for said shares of stock shall likewise be deposited and placed with the same said depository and at the same time with said bonds; and all said bonds and stock certificates shall be and remain in the possession and custody of the said First National Bank of Crookston until all said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, extending from a point within the said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof, with the said Duluth & Winnipeg railroad, in the said county of Itasca, shall have been located, constructed and completed according to the ordinary standard gauge and in actual operation with cars running thereon.

4. The said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, prior to the first day of Decmber, A. D. 1892, well and truly locate, construct and complete according to the ordinary standard gauge and put in actual operation with cars running thereon; all that portion of its said line of railroad extending from a point within said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof with the Duluth and Winnipeg Railroad in said county of Itasca.

5. Within thirty days from and after (and under no circumstances until after,) completion and actual operation as aforesaid by the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company of all said portion of its said line of railroad, the said First National Bank of Crookston shall deliver all said stock certificates to said County of Polk and all said bonds to the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company upon production of the certificate, in writing, of the Railway Commissioners of the State of Minnesota, or one of them, to the effect that, upon examination and inspection actually made and had, the said portion of said line of railroad has been duly and properly constructed, completed and put in operation as aforesaid.

6. It is mutually understood that the construction, maintainance and operation of said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of said County of Polk a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations in said county to the head of Lake Superior, and that such competing line will be shorter than any now existing line or lines of transportion between any point within said county and the head of Lake Superior by an estimated distance of not less than fifty miles; and in order to permanently secure and insure to all the inhabitants of said county the advantages now contemplated and which ought to accrue to them from the construction, maintainance and operation of said competing line, the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, hereby guarantees, on behalf of itself and its successors and assign, to said county and to each and all the inhabitants thereof, that the rate for transporation of any grain, merchandise or other commodity to any station on the line of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway within said County of Polk from the head of Lake Superior or from any such station to the head of Lake Superior shall never exceed the rate per bushel or per ton per mile now being charged by any or either of the now existing line or lines of railway extending between any station in said county and the head of said Lake Superior.

In Testimony Whereof the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its President and Secretary and to be duly sealed with its corporate seal.

Dated July 14th, A. D. 1891.

DULUTH & DAKOTA RAILWAY COMPANY.
By R. W. Cameron, President.
{CORPORATE SEAL.} By Charles Kydd, Secretary.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that a special election will be held and had in and for said county for the purpose of voting upon the said proposition,

On the 25th Day Of August 1891,

and that the polls will be open in the various towns, wards and precincts, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

Given under my hand and seal this 5th day of August, 1891.

C. U. WEBSTER, County Auditor,
Polk County, Minn.

In addition to the above proposition the following contract has been entered into between the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company and the County of Polk;

THIS AGREEMENT.

Made and entered into this day of July, A. D. 1891, by and between the Board of County Commissioners of Polk County in the State of Minnesota, party of the first part, and the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, party of the second part; WITNESSETH:—

WHEREAS, the said party of the second part is about to make and is making its application or proposition for county bonds in said Polk County, for the purpose of aiding in the building of the railway of the said party of the second part; and,

WHEREAS, in order to secure said bonds, said party to second part is desirous of entering into an agreement with the said party of the first part, in behalf of the people of said Polk County, whereby the rate on wheat shipped from any point in the county of Polk, on the line of railway of said party of the second part to the head of Lake Superior, shall not exceed the rate of twelve and one half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds from said point of shipment to said destination.

NOW THEREFORE, said party of the second part hereby agrees that it will at all times or seasons carry or procure to be carried, all wheat delivered to it at stations along the line of its railway in said Polk County, at a rate not to exceed twelve and one-half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds for the carrying of said wheat to the head of Lake Superior; provided however, the said Polk County shall vote favorably upon the proposition of said party of the second part for bonds to aid in the building of its said railway, and that said bonds to the amount not to exceed two hundred and twenty thousand [220,000] dollars, shall be voted and delivered to said railway company when its line of railway shall be completed from a connection with the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in Itasca county, Minnesota, to a point in the city of Crookston, in said Polk County and State of Minnesota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed and sealed as respective officers and seals, the day and year first above written.

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

(Official Seal) Attest:
(Polk Co.) C. U. WEBSTER, County Auditor.
DULUTH & DAKOTA RAILWAY CO.
By R. W. Cameron, President.
[CORPORATE SEAL] Attest
Charles Kydd Secretary.

In presence of,
FRANK WERLE.
ALEC. MACLAREN.

THERE are in Polk County 1,589,460 acres of land, of which fully ninety five [95] per cent, or 1,506,987 acres are arable and the most of it the very choicest of soils. Of this vast area the last census shows about, 200,000 acres to be under cultivation. The valuation of the country, under the assessment of 1891, will be about $7,000,000 [probably over rather than under]. By the same authority we have a population of 30,000, or a fraction over 48 acres for each man, woman, and child in the county.

The mission of this great enterprise which is knocking at the eastern door of your county, is to bring under profitable cultivation and dot with happy homes this fertile but uncultivated prairie land; to diversify your system of agriculture; to increase your population and bring you more nearly in contact with the business and social life of the eastern states and of the old world.

And what is the price you are asked to pay? Take for example the farmer who has one hundred and sixty acres of land, with one hundred acres cultivated to wheat each year, the average assessed valuation of such property with its necessary structures and improvements would not exceed seven dollars per acre, or $1,120.00. The tax levy for the purpose of paying the annual interest on these bonds would be one and one-fourth mills on the dollar of valuation or about $1,40. This is what it would cost this farmer on his real estate to maintain the interest on the bonds until such time as it become necessary to pay the principal. Now what would he receive? We have assumed he has one hundred acres cultivated with wheat; suppose his average to be but fifteen bushels per acre, or fifteen hundred bushels, the saving in freight (to say nothing of what competition will compel the elevator monopoly to cut off from their present exorbitant gains) at three cents per bushel will be $45.00; this on his wheat alone, to say nothing of the saving in a hundred other directions which will suggest themselves to any thoughtful mind.

Of course out of these profits must eventually come the principal, but in twenty years from now with the one hundred and fifty thousand people in the county and a million of acres under cultivation, it will be but a light matter to pay it off and with the yearly increasing acreage, subject to assessment, the percentage of taxation for interest will be diminished from year to year. The same figures hold good relatively with each voter whether his property interest be large or small, and we are fully confident that if you give this matter the consideration it deserves and vote your honest unbiased judgement of what is for the best good for the county, your ballot will read: For the bonds—YES. All of which is respectfully submitted by the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Business Men's Union.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Voters of Polk County.

FELLOW CITIZENS, VOTERS OF POLK COUNTY: We present hearwith for your consideration and determination the most important question which you have ever been called upon to consider at the polls; and ask before you decide to either accept or reject the proposition, that you study its character and provisions carefully and candidly, regarding it simply from the standpoint of a business basis.

The question for each one of you to consider is: Will it be a paying investment for the people of Polk County,—for myself individually, to make the sacrifice which is asked in this request for County aid, in order to secure the benefits of a competing outlet from our farms to that great waterway which our infinite Creator has stretched from the eastern border of our state to the mills and market of the old world?

THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL of July 9th, contained a very interesting article taken from the New York Press describing the running of the rapids of the St. Lawrence River by one of the newstyle or "whaleback" vessels (since followed by others of the same class.) But how few of these who read that short article, realize the tremendous significance of that fact to the wheat producing interests of the Northwest! It means the shortening of the distance which our wheat must be carried by rail transportation more than one thousand miles, and if taken in connection with a direct and independent outlet from here to the head of the lake, will result in breaking up the elevator monopoly which has been the cause of so much dissatisfacton with the existing lines of railways, and an entire revolution in the method and expense of placing our grain in the hands of the consumer in foreign lands.

Farmers, You are here offered that direct, independent, competing line to the Great Lake. You are offered a perpetual reduction of freight rates from the prices you are now paying, a reduction which amounts to nearly one sixth on all classes; and of three cents per bushel on wheat (for while this particular line of railroad cannot reach all your farms, yet if one road reduces its rate of freight, all the others will be compelled to do the same or lose their traffic, so that from every point in Polk County there will be a proportionate reduction from present rates of freight. You are offered emancipation and freedom from the elevator monopoly, which has been shown during the recent wheat investigation by the sworn testimony of reliable witnesess, has placed it in the power of one man to dictate what price every farmer in Polk county shall recieve for each bushel of his wheat, and by which the millers of Minneapolis are enabled to depress the prices and lower the grade of your wheat in the fall, when you have it to sell, and to advance the price and raise the grade in the spring when the bulk of it has passed from your hands to theirs.

It means to the land owner, an increase in value of his land; to the producer, better prices for his crops; to the laborers, better wages; to the merchant, an increased number of customers with more money to expend; and to the tax-payer, the settlement of vast tracts of land, which now bear no part in the public burdens, thereby lessening his taxes at the same time increasing his ability to pay it.

Supposing all parts of the country to be equally affected by the promised reduction in freight, the benefits from this one item alone would be fully $200,000.00 annually, while the interest on the bonds asked for is but $11,000.00 per annum. The benefits are perpetual. The tax is but for a few years. Can there be any doubt as to what your decision will be?

The enterprise which is seeking to co-operate with you in securing these desirable results, is really the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway, but, as under their charter it was found impracticable to do this work, they are seeking to do it through their offspring, "the Duluth & Dakota Railway, but when built the line will be found to be the shortest possible to Lake Superior which engineering difficulties will permit, of low grade, and with the most substantial equipment. In every respect a first-class road, and well deserving your patronage and approval.

Again it is a fact that the richest iron deposits in the state are located on the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway about one hundred miles west of Duluth, and one hundred and forty miles east of Crookston. The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg is causing these mines to be developed, and the building of this railway into Polk County will give us this new and profitable market to supply with the products of our farms. This means a better price for every dozen of eggs, for every pound of butter, or bushel of potatoes, or oats or barley, or other coarse grains we have to sell. It means the thousands of tons of hay which now go to waste on the prairies, for want of a market near at hand, can be profitably handled and shipped. Again, much of our straw of which we burn hundreds of thousand of tons each fall, will, because of cheaper transportation, find a profitable market at the mines and at the head of the lake.

In addition to all these advantages the country will receive in return for the bonds, capital stock of the railway company to an equal amount. This stock will be full paid and non-assessable, and when the road is in operation and on a paying basis, will be worth and can be sold for a very material portion of, if not for their full face value; thereby reducing the amount the county will have to pay in a sum far below the expressed value of the bonds, and perhaps enable their extinguishment without expense to the country.

The Southern Minnesota Fair.

The twelfth annual fair of the Southern Minnesota Fair Association, will be held in Rochester, Aug. 31st to Sept. 5th. Everybody is cordially invited to write to C. Van Campen, Secretary, for a copy of the premium list. The premiums are liberal. Half rates apply on all shipments. Passenger fares will be only one-half the regular rates from all points within a radius of 200 miles of Rochester. As heretofore, there will be many fairs in the country this year, a few may be larger than this, most of them will be smaller, but none will be stronger in inviting features, more diversified in extent and scope, richer in rare exhibits, purer in entertainments, or be more intently interesting to the visitor.

Ode to the Banana Peel.

The street car had passed, but to catch it he reckoned.
So he ran like a deer, and shouted and beckoned.
'Till he planted his heel.
On a smooth bit of peel—
Then he saw half a million of stars in a second.

He was in too great a hurry; better have waited for another car. This business of running after street cars is risky, and undignified too. The safest and most comfortable mode of travel is by the regular trains of a railroad, provided always that you select such a first-class line as "The Burlington." Its trains leave from and arrive at all the principal cities and towns in the West promptly on time, and if your watch runs correctly, you need never run to catch a train. Its time system for running of trains is perfect, and its equipment of free reclining chair cars, Pullman vestibuled sleepers, and peerless dining cars, is unequalled by any other line. For tickets, time tables maps etc., call on your local ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon Gen. Pass. Agent, "The Burlington," St. Paul, Minn.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. It emits no smoke, is odorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western Line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul, 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for manufacture of Pintsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line," and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel. [11-16]

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 30th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of five hundred eleven and 21-100 ($511.21) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Raghild E. Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole H. Bang, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of October, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of October, 1889, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 47, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole H Bang, mortgagee, to Hans Larson, by written assignment dated the 20th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 151, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine, (9) Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 12th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $511.21, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m.; and recorded in volume "26" of mortgages, on pages 442-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes; and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 87-100 ($39.87) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 ($637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, HENRY SMITH AND EMMA Smith, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Austin Corbin, Trustee, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 28th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 152, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, at 11:15 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 30 of mortgages, on pages 581 to 585; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of sixty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The said Austin Corbin, Trustee, has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred sixty and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George Goodrich and Emma S. Goodrich, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 31st day of May, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book 45 of mortgages, on pages 338, 339, 340 and 341; and

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred and eighty-two dollars and eighty cents, ($682.80) and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the northeast quarter (e½ ne¼) and lots one (1) and four (4) of Section twenty-one (21) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-three (43) west, containing 125.50 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

To the student of political economy, when considering the Farmers' Alliance and the ultimate outcome and its influence upon the welfare of the agricultural interests of the country, that phase of the movement which most perplexes and causes him to doubt its final triumph over existing evils, is the seeming utter indifference of its members to the relations existing between cause and effect. As an illustration of this fact, take the Alliance position as expressed in the resolution passed by the Kingstown Alliance, at its meeting on July 25th, in which they put themselves on record as opposing the proposition to aid the construction of an independent and competing railway into the very heart of their county.

The alliance movement in this state owes its existence to the general and wide spread feeling that the moneyed and monopolistic interests of the country have secured control of the railroad and warehouse facilities of the state, and refuse to allow the farmers a just and equitable share from the profits of their labors.

In support of this position they have continually called attention to the fact, that in our local markets the average margin of price between Polk County and Duluth or Minneapolis, was from fifteen to seventeen and one-half cents per bushel, of which ten and one-half cents per bushel was taken by the railway companies for freight, and the remaining five to seven cents, by the elevator companies for handling their grain, and that under the contracts existing between the elevator companies and the railroads they were denied proper and sufficient facilities for personal shipments, but were compelled to pay these enormous handling charges whether they wished to or not, and yet when a rival company comes to them with the proffer of their services as in the case of the D. & D. Ry., they turn their backs upon the proposition, and indicate by word and act, that they will have nothing to do with it, simply because, as one of the conditions of the partnership, they are asked to contribute their share of the capital. The offer of the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company is in reality nothing more nor less than the proffer of partnership. They say they will put in five-sixths of the capital if the county will put in the other sixth. They will give the same amount of stock to the county as they take themselves in proportion to the money furnished. They will do the work and transport the farmer's grain to the lake and give the county the benefit of the natural advantages which their line has over other and existing lines, in addition to sharing equally with them the dividends resulting to the capital stock.

The men composing the railroad company making this offer are men well known in the business world, and their word would be taken on Wall street without security for a sum much larger than the amount asked of the county. They come to the county offering to carry wheat for three cents a bushel less than the farmer is now paying and to make a reduction on all classes of freight proportionate to the saving of the length of their line to our great lake port, and have put the proposition in writing, in legal form, such as no impartial attorney would question as being binding upon the company, and yet without even investigating the responsibility of the parties, the legality of the proposition or the circumstances and conditions which lead to its being offered them, they reject it and take it upon themselves to advise the rest of the county what is for their best interests.

Notice the opening words of the resolution: "Whereas, it has come to our knowledge that a proposition has been filed with the County Auditor," thereby admitting, impliedly, if not directly, that they had neither seen or examined or had personal knowledge of the contents of this proposition, and then wind up with this remarkable declaration:

"Therefore be it resolved, that we disapprove of bonding the county and condemn the action of Crookston for bringing the expense of calling a special election to vote on the question of bonding the county for building railroads."

Now, any candid person will admit, that if the building of this road means, as the proposition says it means, that it "will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of Polk County a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations thereof to the head of Lake Superior," then it follows as sure as effect follows cause, that the building of this line means the breaking down of unjust railroad charges and the breaking up of the Minneapolis wheat ring's control of the local market in Polk County.

If the need of just the relief this railway offers was not so imperative, if the situation was not so critical, the inconsistency of the position of this Alliance would be ridiculous.

We use the words "imperative" and "critical" advisedly. The situation as we regard it is as follows: The Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railway Companies, which now occupy the valley, are determined to maintain their grasp upon its fertile acres, and entrenched as they are behind enormous land grants, which have made nearly one-half of the settlers of the valley their debtors, and thus placed it in their power to make or crush the fortunes of almost any man who dares oppose them, it is no light undertaking for any other railway company to invade their territory, many of the great railway systems of the country have for years cast longing eyes upon our fertile prairies, but the far-reaching power for evil of these enormous monopolies, which cannot only strike them at many competing points, but in the monied centers of the east, as well, where their stocks and bonds must find their market, does and will prevent their entering the lists as competitors. But the very fact that the Duluth & Dakota is not a great railway system, but a short and direct line from point to point, gives it enormous advantage over its gigantic rival and makes it possible for it to accomplish what no other road could possibly do, and if the farmers of Polk county now turn their backs upon this proffered aid, and refuse to contribute their share of the capital to accomplish the result for which they have so long labored, they will never in the life of this generation have so generous an offer to consider. It is the tide, which taken at its flood leads on to fortune.

Again, notice their utter disregard of the law of cause and effect when they say "we condemn the action of Crookston for bringing the expense, etc., etc." Now, as a matter of fact, Crookston did not make, (and they should have known it,) the proposition, and cause this expense to be incurred, but the officers of the D. & D. Ry. Co., but the parties who wrote this resolution did so without due regard for the facts in the case, the promises of the proposition, or their own personal and pecuniary interests.

The Great Northern Railway desires to see this resolution ratified by every Alliance in the county, and we await with interest to see whether they will respect that wish.

The farmers of Polk County are in the position of a man who, while gathering apples in a pasture has been attacked by a mad bull and after a long and desperate struggle in which he has been just able to hold his own, sees another bull bearing down upon his antagonist with intent to do him great bodily harm. Now comes the question, will he turn in with his former antagonist to drive the newcomer from the field or will he encorage the rivals advance and when they have safely locked horns, quitely secure his fruit and retire peaceably to his fireside.

D. H. Beecher, in the Grand Forks Herald;—Say, this Maple Lake movement is a grand thing, I am heartily sympathy with it. I will join in the excursion and what is more if I can secure any property on the Lake I will put up a cottage next summer. Continue to boom it and let us have a rousing excursion.

St Paul Daily News:—A gentleman just returned from Rice county furnishes the information that Joel P. Heatwole has just finished threshing 1,700 bushels of wheat which he harvested on his farm near Northfield and immediately sold for 80 cents per bushel. The yield was about twenty-three bushels per acre. Immediately after harvesting and threshing was completed Farmer Heatwole put his teams to work plowing the stubble under.

Northwestern Agriculturist: Minnesota is now making more substantial gain in population of country towns and in number of farms than at any previous time since its settlement. Those who went back east to "God's country" on account of homesickness have recovered and come back prepared to stay, and those who sought fairer climes south and on the western coast have learned that distance lent enchantment, and that difficulties and hard conditions are to be found everywhere, and that "sand" is needed in the composition of a successful man or woman in any climate. Take it for all in all, there are no better states and no better climate or people than are found here in the Northwest, which is destined to continue to be the home of a people not surpassed in intelligence, industry or wealth. Every year its home market is improving and productive capacity increasing. The politicians who work the farmers, instead of working farms, are trying to make the people believe thrt the world is out of joint, and that they are the surgeons to set it right, but that is because they are just now out of a job, and are looking for a "soft snap" for themselves, and hope to ride into a good place on a wave of discontent. Meantime, the world is moving right along, and is growing better and more comfortable instead of worse.

Special Election.

Notice is hereby given that whereas the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company have filed in the office of the County Auditor of Polk County, Minnesota, a proposition in writing as follows, viz:

OF

The Duluth and Dakota Railroad Company,

TO THE COUNTY OF POLK.

To all whom it may concern:

Take notice that the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Minnesota, hereby makes application to the county of Polk, in said state, for aid in the construction of that portion of its line of railroad extending from a point within the city of Crookston, in said county of Polk, to its point of intersection with the line of the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in the county of Itasca, in said state; and to that end the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company hereby makes the following proposition;

1. Said county of Polk shall make and issue negotiable coupon bonds thereof to the amount of two hundred and twenty thousand dollars, in the denomination of one thousand dollars each, all to bear date the first day of January, A. D. 1892, and be payable to the Duluth & Dakota Railway Company or bearer twenty years after date thereof, and not before maturity thereof at the option of said county, and to bear interest from the date thereof, payable semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, and at the rate of five per cent. per year.

2. Said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, at the election of said county of Polk, issue thereto such number of the shares of its capital stock as will, at the par value of said stock, correspond with the principal sum of such bonds.

3. All said bonds shall be deposited in escrow prior to any delivery thereof to said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company; and such deposit shall be made with the First National Bank of Crookston, a corporation duly formed, organized and existing under and by virtue of the National Banking Act of the United States of America, and having its principal place of business, office and residence at the city of Crookston, county of Polk, and state of Minnesota; and all the stock certificates for said shares of stock shall likewise be deposited and placed with the same said depository and at the same time with said bonds; and all said bonds and stock certificates shall be and remain in the possession and custody of the said First National Bank of Crookston until all said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company, extending from a point within the said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof, with the said Duluth & Winnipeg railroad, in the said county of Itasca, shall have been located, constructed and completed according to the ordinary standard gauge and in actual operation with cars running thereon.

4. The said Duluth & Dakota Railway Company in consideration of said aid and bonds, shall and will, prior to the first day of December, A. D. 1892, well and truly locate, construct and complete according to the ordinary standard gauge and put in actual operation with cars running thereon; all that portion of its said line of railroad extending from a point within said city of Crookston to the point of intersection or junction thereof with the Duluth and Winnipeg Railroad in said county of Itasca.

5. Within thirty days from and after (and under no circumstances until after,) completion and actual operation as aforesaid by the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company of all said portion of its said line of railroad, the said First National Bank of Crookston shall deliver all said stock certificates to said County of Polk and all said bonds to the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company upon production of the certificate, in writing, of the Railway Commissioners of the State of Minnesota, or one of them, to the effect that, upon examination and inspection actually made and had, the said portion of said line of railroad has been duly and properly constructed, completed and put in operation as aforesaid.

6. It is mutually understood that the construction, maintainance and operation of said portion of the line of railroad of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company will furnish to the farmers, merchants and other inhabitants of said County of Polk a competing line of railway transportation from the several stations in said county to the head of Lake Superior, and that such competing line will be shorter than any now existing line or lines of transportion between any point within said county and the head of Lake Superior by an estimated distance of not less than fifty miles; and in order to permanently secure and insure to all the inhabitants of said county the advantages now contemplated and which ought to accrue to them from the construction, maintainance and operation of said competing line, the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, in consideration of said aid, and bonds, hereby guarantees, on behalf of itself and its successors and assign, to said county and to each and all the inhabitants thereof, that the rate for transporation of any grain, merchandise or other commodity to any station on the line of the said Duluth and Dakota Railway within said County of Polk from the head of Lake Superior or from any such station to the head of Lake Superior shall never exceed the rate per bushel or per ton per mile now being charged by any or either of the now existing line or lines of railway extending between any station in said county and the lead of said Lake Superior.

In Testimony Whereof the said Duluth and Dakota Railway Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its President and Secretary and to be duly sealed with its corporate seal.

Dated July 14th, A. D. 1891.

Duluth & Dakota Railway Company.
By R. W. Cameron,
President.
{ CORPORATE SEAL. } By Charles Kydd,
Secretary.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that a special election will be held and had in and for said county for the purpose of voting upon the said proposition,

On the 25th Day Of August, 1891,

and that the polls will be open in the various towns, wards and precincts, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

Given under my hand and seal this 5th day of August, 1891.
C. U. WEBSTER, County Auditor,
Polk County, Minn.

In addition to the above proposition the following contract has been entered into between the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company and the County of Polk:

THIS AGREEMENT.

Made and entered into this day of July, A. D. 1891, by and between the Board of County Commissioners of Polk County in the State of Minnesota, party of the first part, and the Duluth and Dakota Railway Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, party of the second part; Witnesseth:—

Whereas, the said party of the second part is about to make and is making its application, or proposition for county bonds in said Polk County, for the purpose of aiding in the building of the railway of the said party of the second part; and,

Whereas, in order to secure said bonds, said party to second part is desirous of entering into an agreement with the said party of the first part, in behalf of the people of said Polk County, whereby the rate on wheat shipped from any point in the county of Polk, on the line of railway of said party of the second part to the head of Lake Superior, shall not exceed the rate of twelve and one half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds from said point of shipment to said destination.

Now Therefore, said party of the second part hereby agrees that it will at all times or seasons carry or procure to be carried, all wheat delivered to it at stations along the line of its railway in said Polk County, at a rate not to exceed twelve and one-half [12½] cents per hundred [100] pounds for the carrying of said wheat to the head of Lake Superior; provided however, the said Polk County shall vote favorably upon the proposition of said party of the second part for bonds to aid in the building of its said railway; and that said bonds to the amount not to exceed two hundred and twenty thousand [220,000] dollars, shall be voted and delivered to said railway company when its line of railway shall be completed from a connection with the Duluth & Winnipeg railroad in Itasca county, Minnesota, to a point in the city of Crookston, in said Polk County and State of Minnesota.

In Witness Whereof, the parties hereto have caused these presents to be signed and sealed as respective officers and seals, the day and year first above written.

Board of County Commissioners.
By M. E. Kirsch, Chairman.
(Official Seal) Attest:
(Polk Co.) C. U. Webster,
County Auditor.
Duluth & Dakota Railway Co.
By R. W. Cameron, President.
[corporate seal] Attest
Charles Kydd Secretary.

In presence of,
Frank Werle.
Alec. Maclaren.

There are in Polk County 1,589,460 acres of land, of which fully ninety five [95] per cent, or 1,506,987 acres are arable and the most of it the very choicest of soils. Of this vast area the last census shows about, 200,000 acres to be under cultivation. The valuation of the country, under the assessment of 1891, will be about $7,000,000 [probably over rather than under]. By the same authority we have a population of 30,000, or a fraction over 48 acres for each man, woman, and child in the county.

The mission of this great enterprise which is knocking at the eastern door of your county, is to bring under profitable cultivation and dot with happy homes this fertile but uncultivated prairie land; to diversify your system of agriculture; to increase your population and bring you more nearly in contact with the business and social life of the eastern states and of the old world.

And what is the price you are asked to pay? Take for example the farmer who has one hundred and sixty acres of land, with one hundred acres cultivated to wheat each year, the average assessed valuation of such property with its necessary structures and improvements would not exceed seven dollars per acre, or $1,120.00. The tax levy for the purpose of paying the annual interest on these bonds would be one and one-fourth mills on the dollar of valuation or about $1,40. This is what it would cost this farmer on his real estate to maintain the interest on the bonds until such time as it become necessary to pay the principal. Now what would he receive? We have assumed he has one hundred acres cultivated with wheat; suppose his average to be but fifteen bushels per acre, or fifteen hundred bushels, the saving in freight (to say nothing of what competition will compel the elevator monopoly to cut off from their present exorbitant gains) at three cents per bushel will be $45.00; this on his wheat alone, to say nothing of the saving in a hundred other directions which will suggest thems lves to any thoughtful mind.

Of course out of these profits must eventually come the principal, but in twenty years from now with the one hundred and fifty thousand people in the county and a million of acres under cultivation, it will be but a light matter to pay it off and with the yearly increasing acreage, subject to assessment, the percentage of taxation for interest will be diminished from year to year. The same figures hold good relatively with each voter whether his property interest be large or small, and we are fully confident that if you give this matter the consideration it deserves and vote your honest unbiased judgement of what is for the best good for the county, your ballot will read: For the bonds—YES.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the Executive Committee.
Business Men's Union.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Voters of Polk County.

Fellow Citizens, Voters of Polk County: We present hearwith for your consideration and determination the most important question which you have ever been called upon to consider at the polls; and ask before you decide to either accept or reject the proposition, that you study its character and provisions carefully and candidly, regarding it simply from the standpoint of a business basis.

The question for each one of you to consider is: Will it be a paying investment for the people of Polk County,—for myself individually, to make the sacrifice which is asked in this request for County aid, in order to secure the benefits of a competing outlet from our farms to that great waterway which our infinite Creator has stretched from the eastern border of our state to the mills and market of the old world?

The Polk County Journal of July 9th, contained a very interesting article taken from the New York Press describing the running of the rapids of the St. Lawrence River by one of the new style or "whaleback" vessels (since followed by others of the same class.) But how few of these who read that short article, realize the tremendous significance of that fact to the wheat producing interests of the Northwest! It means the shortening of the distance which our wheat must be carried by rail transportation more than one thousand miles, and if taken in connection with a direct and independent outlet from here to the head of the lake, will result in breaking up the elevator monopoly which has been the cause of so much dissatisfaction with the existing lines of railways, and an entire revolution in the method and expense of placing our grain in the hands of the consumer in foreign lands.

Farmers, You are here offered that direct, independent, competing line to the Great Lake. You are offered a perpetual reduction of freight rates from the prices you are now paying, a reduction which amounts to nearly one sixth on all classes; and of three cents per bushel on wheat (for while this particular line of railroad cannot reach all your farms, yet if one road reduces its rate of freight, all the others will be compelled to do the same or lose their traffic, so that from every point in Polk County there will be a proportionate reduction from present rates of freight. You are offered emancipation and freedom from the elevator monopoly, which has been shown during the recent wheat investigation by the sworn testimony of reliable witnesess, has placed it in the power of one man to dictate what price every farmer in Polk county shall recieve for each bushel of his wheat, and by which the millers of Minneapolis are enabled to depress the prices and lower the grade of your wheat in the fall, when you have it to sell, and to advance the price and raise the grade in the spring when the bulk of it has passed from your hands to theirs.

It means to the land owner, an increase in value of his land; to the producer, better prices for his crops; to the laborers, better wages; to the merchant, an increased number of customers with more money to expend; and to the tax-payer, the settlement of vast tracts of land, which now bear no part in the public burdens, thereby lessening his taxes at the same time increasing his ability to pay it.

Supposing all parts of the country to be equally affected by the promised reduction in freight, the benefits from this one item alone would be fully $200,000.00 annually, while the interest on the bonds asked for is but $11,000.00 per annum. The benefits are perpetual. The tax is but for a few years. Can there be any doubt as to what your decision will be?

The enterprise which is seeking to co-operate with you in securing these desirable results, is really the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway, but, as under their charter it was found impracticable to do this work, they are seeking to do it through their offspring, "the Duluth & Dakota Railway, but when built the line will be found to be the shortest possible to Lake Superior which engineering difficulties will permit, of low grade, and with the most substantial equipment. In every respect a first-class road, and well deserving your patronage and approval.

Again it is a fact that the richest iron deposits in the state are located on the Duluth & Winnipeg Railway about one hundred miles west of Duluth, and one hundred and forty miles east of Crookston. The building of the Duluth & Winnipeg is causing these mines to be developed, and the building of this railway into Polk County will give us this new and profitable market to supply with the products of our farms. This means a better price for every dozen of eggs, for every pound of butter, or bushel of potatoes, or oats or barley, or other coarse grains we have to sell. It means the thousands of tons of hay which now go to waste on the prairies, for want of a market near at hand, can be profitably handled and shipped. Again, much of our straw of which we burn hundreds of thousand of tons each fall, will, because of cheaper transportation, find a profitable market at the mines and at the head of the lake.

In addition to all these advantages the country will receive in return for the bonds, capital stock of the railway company to an equal amount. This stock will be full paid and non-assessable, and when the road is in operation and on a paying basis, will be worth and can be sold for a very material portion of, if not for their full face value; thereby reducing the amount the county will have to pay in a sum far below the expressed value of the bonds, and perhaps enable their extinguishment without expense to the country.

HAIL SWEPT.

And Storm Devastated

About 6,000 Acres Harvested.

Early on Thursday morning ominous looking storm-clouds began to gather and soon the rumbling notes of Heaven's artillery announced the marshalling hosts of the mighty storm King. Anxious eyes were turned toward the awe-inspiring scene and anxious hearts awaited with bated breath the inevitable storm that was not long in coming, and which proved to be a veritable cloud-burst. In this city but very little hail fell, but the rain came in torrents. After about an hour of the hardest downpour we have ever seen, the clouds rolled by and the sun came out bright and beautiful, as though no such thing as a storm had ever been known, but he shone down upon a scene of desolation never before witnessed in Polk County, for the crops upon a strip of country from fifteen to twenty miles long and from one to three miles wide lay in utter ruin, all the country along the N. P. road, from Marin Station, near Fertile, to Buffington, near Grand Forks. Among the principal sufferers, as far as we are able to learn, are:

Himmelsback Bros., 250 acres, swept clean; Sam Marin 200 acres, total loss; John Amundson, 150 acres, all gone; Geo. J. McManus, 150 acres; John Sylvesterson. 100 acres; P. J. McGuire, 100 acres, all gone; Ole Rude, 300 acres, swept clean, and barn worth $500 destroyed; On the farm of H. E. Cooke, cultivated by M. E. Bartlett, 150 acres of grain, totally destroyed, barn and hen house blown down, chimnies blown from the roof and windows all broken from west side, and about five acres of trees completely stripped of foliage; on the farm of M. E. Bartlett, 100 acres of grain totally swept away, and Bartlett and Cooke also had five horses ruined by being cut on barbed wire fence, one horse has since died. E. D. Childs, 400 acres grain, all gone; Peter Cornelius loses 350 acres; Berthiaume Bros., 125 acres destroyed; E. Roberts, 100 acres; H. Stone, 80 acres; Sam. Greenhalgh, 100 acres; Theo. Greenhalgh, 150 acres; Ole Ener, 80 acres; Chas. LeBlanc, 80 acres; P. Hebert, 150 acres; Mat. Cornelius, 200 acres; John McMahan, 160 acres; Chris. Houston 250 acres, total loss; Henry Steege 100 acres, partial; Chas. D. Bailey, 160 acres; A. Shaw, 250 acres, total loss; Joseph Simpson, 50 acres; A. Danielson, 60 acres; B. Sampson, 40 acres; E. M. Walsh, 50 acres; C. E. Darling, 375 acres, and one mule killed by lightning; Wm. Cunningham, 100 acres; Walter Latta, 125 acres; Huff place 80 acres; S. Elisson, 150; Oloff Overland 100; Ole Placed, 60; Knute Placed, 60; G. Larocelle, 150 acres; — — Ingebret, 40 acres, and others whose losses have not yet been reported. This list foots up over 5,000 acres and the full returns seem likely to run it up to 6,000 acres, or over, a large percentage of which will be a total loss. All of this grain was of the very best quality, promising an immense yield and the loss, in many cases, following losses for two years, will be a severe one to the unfortunate victims. The idea of having the county bear a portion of the loss has been suggested, and we think that it would be one that no taxpayer would oppose, if confined to cases wherein utter ruin will be the result unless relief comes from some source. Some of those parties have suffered total or partial loss from blight for two years past, and this loss means absolute ruin unless something is done to help them. If they were supplied with oats for their teams and seed for next crop many could manage to pull out who without such aid must go to the wall.

Dennis Kelley came up from Superior last week to chat with old friends. Says the boom down there is not as stiff as it was—in fact about played out. Dennis has seen no better country in his travels than Polk county.

Caleb B. Palmer returned last week for the summer. There are Palmers and Palmers but this is the only great and original Caleb B., whose "positively last appearance in this city" transpires regularly every summer about this time of day. Caleb B., has host of warm friends here who are always glad to welcome him among us.

Ole E. Rude was stripped of everything by the storm of Thursday. Such cases are deserving of help. Ole has met with loss from blight for two years previous and last year his son, just getting old enough to help a little, was killed by a vicious hog. Ole has made a brave fight but the odds have been against him and he is diserving of help to make another start.

The losses by the recent fire have now all been satisfactorily adjusted except that of H. A. Mason. He has ascertained by inventory that his loss exceeded $200, but the smart Aleck who represented the insurance company at first offered him $8 and afterwards $50. A number of our prominent business men, who are insured in that company, say that if that is the kind of a company it is they will cancel their policies and insure in the companies that have settled their losses, and we propose to find out what company Herb was insured in and tell our readers its name.

FOR SALE.

Miss Helen Halverson took possession of her old stand again on Saturday last and now offers for sale all goods that had to be removed on account of the fire. These goods, now but slightly injured, and that by handling will be sold for what they will bring, practically at your own figures; being the balance of my summer stock they must and will be sold at any price to make room for my fall stock. Grand and gorgeous free street parade at 12 o'clock, noon. Ladies and children are especially recommended to attend the afternoon performance, thereby avoiding the vast crowds at night. Everything new and brilliant. Seats for 5,000. Popular prices.

Geo. Vine wishes THE JOURNAL to say that he is prepared to furnish fresh meats for farmers at wholesale rates. For your harvest supply call on Geo. Vine, at the post office meat market, on Robert street.

The storm of Thursday last gave veterinary surgeon, M. Leguee, lots of business mending horses that were cut on barbed wire fences. Five colts and horses on THE JOURNAL farm also received his attention and were sewed up in good shape. Mike has no superior as a veterinary in this country.

Ladies, have you seen those elegant dresses Miss Minnie Bailey is making for her customers? She cuts and fits by the United States system and all her work is stylishly made. This we have on the authority of ladies who have had work done there, and the fact that she is having a very large business is significant, for the ladies are very quick to find out where they can have work done to suit them.

It makes a fellow feel kind of old to see 250 acres of fine wheat pounded into the earth so effectually that it cannot be cut for feed even, and we heartily sympathize with all whose experience was like unto ours, and we rejoice that the calamity was not general. We wish to thank those of our friends who have practically shown their sympathy for our loss, by sending us job work and ads. This is practical christianity.

Frank Montague retured from his trip abroad for his health one day last week. His trip seems to have benefitted him immensely—he is now almost as fat as a match and has a pint or so of coloring in his countenance. He wears the same beaming, genial smile as of old and everybody would know he was Frank even if he is so fat. Frank says Polk county is the best place in the world.

Mrs. Duffy, wife of F. J. Duffy of the East Grand Forks Courier, died last Wednesday after a short illness, of heart failure, and in the evening F. J. started on a mournful journey to her old home in Wisconsin with the remains. She leaves two children, one a babe a few weeks old and a loving husband to mourn her early death. THE JOURNAL extends its hearty sympathy to our afflicted brother.

About 7 o'clock on Friday evening John O. Melseth was instantly killed by lightning on the farm of Thomas Bjoin south of this city. He was plowing with a three horse team and it knocked the horses down and killing Mr. M. almost instantly. The horses soon revived and got up and ran. Another man just ahead stopped the horses and ran to assist John but he was already past help. He was a single man 22 or 25 years old whose parents live near Mellen post-office 25 miles east of Warren. Mr. B. sent them word at once and on Sunday his father came down after the body which was taken to Marshall County for interment.

On Wednesday evening of last week Mrs. M. E. Bartlett suffered severe injuries from being thrown from a horse-rake that will oblige her to remain indoors for awhile. Her husband, M. E. Bartlett, was at Clifton Springs, N. Y., attending to the needs of his aged and infirm father, and in the rush of haying on the farm another hand was needed to rake hay in the afternoon, so Mrs. B. insisted on taking her own driving horse and raking hay, which she did without accident until about seven o'clock, when they all started for the house. In crossing the N. P. track the rake dropped down which frightened the horse, that already was very nervous by mosquitoes, and in trying to handle the lines Mrs. B. lost control of the horse and was thrown off the rake onto the horse's heels and the rake coming along rolled her over and over for several rods. She was taken up unconscious and conveyed to the house where she remained unconscious for two hours or so, and was out of her head until about eleven o'clock. Dr. Watts was hastily summoned who found no serious injury except a fractured rib on her right side and several ugly bruises. Although her injuries are grievous to be borne, it might have been far worse, in fact it seems wonderful that her life was spared as it was indeed an ugly runaway and Mrs. B. has occasion to be thankful after all. Since the above was in type it has been learned that Mrs. B. was overcome by heat and probably unconscious when the horse ran away, as she has no recollection of the affair. The last she remembers is that everything looked dark as she was driving out of the hay field.

A State Teachers' Institute

For the County of Polk will be held in Crookston during the week commencing Monday, August 24th, 1891. Efficient instructors will be present and it is hoped that every teacher in the county will be present.

Miss Emma Veroneau and her sister, Miss Louisa, returned on Monday from a pleasant visit to Grand Forks.

Miss Minnie Bailey is prepared to make seamless waists or any style desired. It will pay you to see her before you order your work elsewhere.

N. K. Hubbard, one of the old time boomers on the Northern Pacific, was in the city last week looking us over and expressed great pleasure in the improvement that he noted in our city since his last visit. Mr. H. was once a large property owner in the city and seems much interested in our welfare.

Every farmer who can should send sheaves of oats barley and wheat to W. W. Fegan to be sent to the Iowa State Fair. No doubt many with such an evidence of what this country can produce would come up and see the country and locate here.

The ladies of W. C. T. U. will give a concert at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening, August 17th, commencing at 8 o'clock. Local talent, assisted by Miss Minnie Ayers, of Cairo, Ill. Proceeds of concert to be devoted to the running expenses of reading room. Tickets 50c, 35c and 25c, for sale at Tom Morris'.

The managers of T. K. Burk's great trans-Atlantic railroad shows, circus, museum, hippodrome, school for educated horses and ponies, etc., will give a grand matinee Tuesday, Aug. 18th, and ladies and children are especially invited. Every child attending will receive a beautiful present and an invitation to a ride on one of the cute little Shetland ponies. Doors open at 1 p. m.. Grand entree at 2 o'clock. The full program will be rendered. BELTRAMI, Aug. 11, 1891.

The Great Northern Railroad Co., through the solicitation of the weather bureau have volunteered to transmit over their lines reports of the weather when there is danger of frost. If a day is cold and clear the farmers will do well to come to town in the evening to learn if there is danger that they may guard against it.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by William H. Godfrey, a bachelor, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 25 of mortgages, on pages 142-145.

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the principal $800 that fell due June 24th, 1891, and interest coupons for $24 each that fell due on the 24th days of December, 1888, June and December, 1889, June and December, 1890, and June 1891.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum to-wit: Nine hundred and sixty dollars and sixteen cents ($960.16); and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot four (4), and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½ nw¼) of Section fourteen (14) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-four (44) west, containing 117 acres more or less according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on MONDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th 1891]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Eugene Bernard and Emma Bernard, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 22d day of January, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1889, at 9:10 o'clock a. m., in book 43 of mortgages, on page 464; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the coupons for interest that fell due July 22d, 1889, January 22d, 1890, July 22d, 1890, January 22d, 1891, and July 22d, 1891, each thereof being for the sum of $17.50, and whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described, the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred dollars and forty-five cents, ($600.45), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼) and lots three (3) and four (4), of Section nineteen (19), Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty (40) west, containing 144 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof, Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

The bill of F. X. Farley for medical attendance was read, and on motion was allowed and the clerk authorized to draw an order for the amount, amounting to $7.

A communication was received from H. H. Olson, asking for the privilege of repairing his building which was damaged by fire. Moved by Ald. Marlette, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the communication be referred to the fire committee, and that they be requested to report at next meeting. Carried.

The fire committee to whom the petition of the Commercial Hotel was referred reported the petition to the Council without recommendation.

A communication was read from W. E. McKenzie relating to the city printing.

A petition was received from property holders and business men along Main street asking that a sidewalk be constructed along the west side of Main street, between second and Robert.

The City Engineer reported that the sidewalk along the street was in very poor condition. Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Buhn, that the petition be granted. Carried.

The City Engineer reported the sidewalk along Main street near the Revere House, to be in very poor condition.

Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the petition of, the Commercial Hotel owners be granted, with the clause added to it, that the ice house and cold storage buildings be covered with iron. Carried.

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 5th day of August, 1891, Ald. Schmidt offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Marlette:

Resolved by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That the chief of police be instructed to notify owners and occupants of lots 23 and 24, of block 16, of the original townsite of Crookston, to remove and abate any and all nuisances and sources of filth now existing on said lots.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Jennings, Marlette, Schmidt, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 5th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

Moved by Ald. Marlette, seconded by Ald. Walker that when we adjourn it be to meet at 8 o'clock this evening. Carried.

On motion Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH, City Clerk.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 5, 1891.

Meeting called to order by President Cromb.

Ald. present—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Marshall, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen absent—McGlogan and Jerome.

A bill for $225.26 was presented by John Kyle for building 664 feet of sidewalk along Central avenue. The finance committee reported favorably upon the bill, and on motion the report was accepted and the clerk authorized to draw an order for the amount.

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 5th day of August, 1891, Ald. Jennings offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Buhn:

Resolved by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That a sidewalk 8 feet wide, made of white pine plank two inches thick, surfaced on one side, each plank to be not more than six inches wide and well nailed with twenty penny spikes, upon four stringers, three by six inches, dimension timber, is hereby directed to be constructed upon and along the east side of Main street, in the part thereof fronting and adjoining lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7, of block 7, of Fletcher & Houston's Addition to the city of Crookston, all timber used in constructing said sidewalk to be of at least as good quality as first common white pine lumber, and such sidewalk is directed to be laid upon the line and grade to be established by the city engineer.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Marshall, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 5th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

The matter of putting in hitching posts in front of business houses came up, and Ald. Childs gave notice that at the next meeting he would offer an amendment to the ordinance relating to the same.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 5th day of August, 1891, Alderman Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Childs:

Whereas, a proposition has been filed with the county auditor of Polk County, in the State of Minnesota, by the Duluth & Dakota Railroad Company for municipal aid from said county, and whereas said auditor has fixed the 25th day of August, 1891, for the date of said election; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That said election be and the same is hereby ordered to be held on said 25th day of August, at the respective polling places in said city, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Marlette, Marshall, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Passed this 5th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of Council.

Approved the 5th day of August, 1891.

ALEX. McKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

The matter of city printing was brought up. Moved by Ald. Schmidt, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the motion whereby the vote was passed, that if the Times did not accept the offer of the council inside of 15 days, that the city printing should be given to THE JOURNAL on its bid, be reconsidered.

Ald. Childs raised a point of order, that it was not competent to reconsider. Chair sustained the point of order. Ald. Schmidt appealed from the decision of the chair.

The fire committee to whom the petition of H. H. Olson was referred, reported as follows:

To the President and members of the City Council of the city of Crookston:

GENTLEMEN: Your fire committee to whom was referred the above petition of H. H. Olson to put a metal roof on his building and repair the front of the same, beg leave to report as follows: That the petition be granted, provided the said H. H. Olson complies in all respects with the fire ordinance of the city. Respectfully submitted.

A. C. SCHMIDT.
E. D. CHILDS.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the petition be granted as per the report of the fire committee. Carried.

The matter of a sidewalk along the west side of Main street, between Robert and second streets, was brought up. Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that it be left over until next meeting, and that the clerk be instructed to notify the parties concerned of the fact, and that the city engineer be asked to furnish the council with the grade of the street, and the grade on which the sidewalk that is now constructed is on. Carried.

The vote then came up on the question of sustaining the chair on his ruling in the city printing matter.

Aldermen not sustaining the chair, Marshall, Schmidt.

Chair declared sustained.

Moved by Ald. Schmidt, seconded by Ald. Buhn, that the city engineer be instructed to ascertain what the cost would be for putting in a watering trough stand pipe, taps, etc., in some convenient place for the accommodation of the public. Carried.

On motion Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH, City Clerk.

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

At the meeting of the county board on July 25 a hearing in the matter of the individual school petition of Haggerty and others was set for next meeting. The report of the committee on the Crookston and Gentilly road is as follows.

To the board of county commissioners of Polk county:

The undersigned committee appointed by you to examine the proposed location of a highway as stated in the petition referred to in your order of appointment made on the 10th day of June, 1891, would respectfully report that we met at the time and place designated in your said order, and proceeded to examine the highway proposed to be located and laid out, viz:

Beginning 6 45-100 chains west of the ¼ section corner or post between sections 20 and 29 of township 150 north of range 45 west, and running due west, or as near as practicable, to the section line between the southwest ¼ of section 20, and northwest ¼ of section 29 and section 19 and 30 of township 150 range 45 west, also between section 24 and 25 of township 150 range 46 west, terminating at the corner post betwaen sections 23, 24, 25, 26 of township 150 north of range 46 west, and in the opinion of your committee, the above proposed line would make a much better highway and shorten the distance at least one mile between Crookston and Gentilly. Your committee therefore does hereby recommend that the prayers of said petitioners be granted, provided the right of way for said proposed highway can be obtained from the owners of adjoining lands with little or no expense to the county.

Given under our hands this 12th day of July, 1891.

M. E. KIRSCH.
C. P. DEMERS.

It was voted to raise on the taxable property for 1891, $30,000.00 for general purposis, $7,000.00 for interest on bonds and $5,000.00 for roads and bridges. It was decided to appropreate $3,000.00 for horspital purposes.

The board having under consideration the advisability of authrizing the chairman on behalf of the board to sign and enter into a contract or agreement with the Duluth & Dakota Railroad Company in connection with the proposition of said company asking the county for aid in constructing a railroad line from Itaska county to Crookston. Commissioner A. C. Rhinehart moved the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, that the chairman of this board be and he is hereby authorized in the name of the board to sign the proposed agreement for the reduction of railroad rates proposed by the Duluth & Dakota Railroad Company, a copy of which is hereby attached as soon as said agreement shall be placed on file signed by the proper authorities of said company.

The adoption of the foregoing resolution was seconded by Chairman Kirsch, and calling for the ays and nays the vote stood as follows:

Rhinehart, DeMers and Kirsch voting yes.

Johnson and Stortroen voting no.

On this vote the chairman declared the motion for the adopting said resolution carried.

On motion of Kirsch the amount of $350 was appropriated out of the county road and bridge fund for repairing the Broadway bridge in the city of Crookston. Motion carried with Rhinehart dissenting.

On motion of Stortroen the amount of $100 was appropriated out of the county road and bridge fund for the completion of the Fisher and Sandhill county road,

A road petition from Godfrey township was referred to commissioner Johnson.

The amount of $100 was, on motion of Johnson, appropriated out of the county road and bridge fund to aid Sletten township in construction and improving such roads as set forth in a petition signed by Jorgen Higdem and others.

$50 was, on motion of Johnson, appropriated out of the same fund to Lessor township and the same to be expended on the road located on the township line between the township of Lessor and King.

On motion of Stortroen the amount of $225 was appropriated out of the county road and bridge fund and to be expended in the construction of a road through township 151 range 50 as prayed for in a petition signed by Oscar Wick and others.

A petition signed by the supervisors of Sullivan township was referred to commissioner Rhinehart as said petition was not in shape to be acted on by the board.

The different county officers were required to file with the county board during their session a bill of articles which they might need from time to tine for their respective offices, and if any one of said officers fails to comply with this order he must supply the article needed at his own expense.

The assessment of the s e ¼ section 12, 150-41 for the year 1889, was corrected as prayed for by the petitioner.

Bills to the amount of $539.72 were audited and allowed.

The bill of K. Movold was ordered returned for the verification by each in dividual as to items charged.

Bill of A. C. Johnson rejected.

U. S. LAND OFFICE,
Crookston, Minn., July 13, 1891. }

The Hon. Commissione of the general Land Office, by letter dated May 28th, 1891, under instruction from the Hon. Secretary of the Interior, dated May 22d, 1891, directs us to restore to the public domain, and open to settlement and entry all lands heretofore withdrawn in this district within indemnity limits of the grant for the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, and not embraced in selections heretofore made or applied for by said company, but this restoration shall not affect the rights acquired by grantees within the primary limits of any other congressional grant

Notice is therefore hereby given that applications for all lands coming within the purview of said instructions will be received at this office on and after August 24th, 1891.

H. H. DICKMANN, Register.
L. K. AAKER, Receiver.

In relation to the above notice, Mr. Aaker informs THE JOURNAL that after a careful search of the records they find that there is no land in the district subject to entry that has not been included in selections already made by the Railroad Company. This report was duly made to the General Land Office at Washington, and instructions sent back to publish the order nevertheless. The notice is probably given for the purpose of finally adjusting the grant.

A Serious Matter.

The late "Sunset" Cox, who so long represented one of the New York City districts in Congress, was an inveterate jester. A matter-of-fact friend once wrote Cox a long letter, the burden of which was that he should quit joking. "Hitch your wagon to a star, and be serious," wrote the would-be mentor. Cox replied: "I might hitch my wagon to the dog-star, and that would be Sirius, wouldn't it?" That must have been an August jest, for these are the days when the dog-star rages, and it was a good enough joke for warm weather. But it is really a serious matter, if you are obliged to travel in hot weather, to select a line on which you can journey in comfort. Such a one is "The Burlington" which follows the east bank of the Mississippi for three hundred miles, under the shadow of lofty tree-crowned bluffs on one side and the sparkling waters of the river, fanned by cooling breezes on the other. For tickets and rates by this line, call on any ticket agent or address W. J. C. Kenyon Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St Paul Minn.

Ho! There! Farmers! wipe the sweat from your brow and cool off a few minutes while you read this. Supt. O. C. Gregg and the State Fair management have eclipsed Barnum's three ring circus, and offer you, not the "Biggest Show on Earth," but the grandest opportunity to combine knowledge with pleasure for a whole week, you have ever had. Heretofore one of the greatest difficulties in attending the State Fair, has been to secure lodging; but this has been obviated by securing all of the State Militia tents, a large number of which will be set up on the Fair grounds near the Institute Hall and for your accommodation. All that will be required of you, will be simply to notify Supt. O. C. Gregg, (by mail) 1,425 sixth street S. E., Minneapolis, Minn., by the 25th of August, and the number of tent and street will be forwarded to the applicant at once. These tents will accommodate six persons and we would advise, for the economy of room and avoid being with strangers, that your club together in companies of six; as the demand for tents will no doubt exceed the supply. Bring your blankets and your lunch, or you can obtain meals on the grounds at reasonable rates.

Sup. Gregg, the Barnum of Minnesota State Farmers Institutes, will conduct a regular Farmers Institute on the Fair grounds, holding morning and evening sesions each day, in a comfortable building, convenient to the tenting ground. This will give the State Farmers Institute an opportunity to put on a greater variety of topics, and more time than ever before offered, as it holds six days. A locked question box will be kept near the door, where questions can be slipped in, which will be answered by parties to whom their department belongs.

It will be readily perceived that the combination of the Farmers Institute with the State Fair is a rare opportunity for "killing two birds with one stone", and remember it is all under one canvass and cost only the regular admission fee to the grounds.

Make up your clubs promptly, and let Supt. O. C. Gregg know as soon as possible, as this is a rare opportunity for profit and pleasure.

Hon. Eric Olson, in Grand Forks Herald:—I am spendin a little time in North Dakota looking up our reliable Alliance men. I was formerly secretary of the Minnesota State Alliance, but now I am giving my whole time to organizing a movement among our farmers for selling wheat independently of the elevators. They think we don't know how to run our own business, but I think we will manage to do it. What we intend to do is to organize our entire state in the same way as the protective associations you have here. When we get that done we can handle our wheat to suit ourselves, independently of the elevators. Our investigation at Duluth, oh, we are getting along nicely; have just now taken a recess for six months. We have detectives working in the elevator offices, so that we come pretty near knowing what they are doing with us.

Thursday morning, August 13, the railroad and warehouse commissioners will meet at the capitol to fix the grades of Minnesota grain for the ensuing year. The law requires that the commission shall hold such a meeting yearly when the grain growers and others interested may be present. Circulars have been sent to grain men all over the state inviting them to be present or communicate with the board.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, July 28th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Arthur Yvernault, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of John Cromb, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained, the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof, the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all the real estate belonging to said deceased mentioned in the petition. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses, to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate, appear before this Court on Monday, the 31st day of August, 1891, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said County, then and there to show cause, (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell all of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 28th day of July, A. D. 1891.

In the matter of the estate of William G. Cooke, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said deceased being this day granted unto Harvey E. Cooke, of said county.

It is ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to this Court for examination and allowance at the Probate office in Crookston, on Monday, January 18th, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered, that six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time all claims not presented to said Court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, that notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to the day appointed for such examination, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said County.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication August 6th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of five hundred eleven and 21-100 ($511.21) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Raghild E. Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole H. Bang, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of October, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of October, 1889, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 47, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole H Bang, mortgagee, to Hans Larson, by written assignment dated the 16th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 151, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine, (9) Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 19th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $511.21, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m., and recorded in volume "36" of mortgages, on pages 442-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 37-100 ($39.37) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 ($637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Edward Labree, unmarried, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 20th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 3; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $24 that became due May 1st, 1890, $24 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $24 that became due May, 1st, 1891.

And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred and eighty-six dollars and ninety-five cents, ($886.95), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼), and lots three, (3) and four (4) of Section thirty-one, (31), in township one hundred and forty-seven (147) north, of Range forty (40), west, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, HENRY SMITH AND EMMA Smith, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Austin Corbin, Trustee, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of April 28th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 153, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1887, at 11:15 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 30 of mortgages, on pages 581 to 585; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of sixty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, his heirs, administrators, executors or assigns, to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, The said Austin Corbin, Trustee, has exercised his option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred sixty and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d, day of August, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

WHEREAS, Eugene St. Mars and Marie St. Mars, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of February, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Mary V. Martin, of the County of New York, State of New York, their mortgage, bearing date of January 27th, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands, situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 11, Township 150, Range 44 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of seven hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 10th day of February, A. D. 1887, at 9:15 o'clock p. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 27 of mortgages, on page 339; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty-nine dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D 1890, and on the further sum of forty-nine dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas, it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the said Mary V. Martin has exercised her option to consider and declare, and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas, there is now due, and claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of eight hundred seven and 80-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 29th day of August A. Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]
Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George Goodrich and Emma S. Goodrich, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 31st day of May, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book 45 of mortgages, on pages 338, 339, 340 and 341; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $15.00 that became due November 1st, 1889, $18.00 that became due May 1st, 1890, $18.00 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $18.00 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred and eighty-two dollars and eighty cents, ($682.80) and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the northeast quarter (e½ ne¼) and lots one (1) and four (4) of Section twenty-one (21) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-three (43) west, containing 125.50 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on MONDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Dated July 14th, A. D. 1891.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 2d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, RICHARD CARIVEAU AND Minnie Cariveau, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Caroline C. Moulton, of the County of Chittenden, State of Vermont, their mortgage bearing date of July 1st, A. D. 1887, whereby they mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The southeast quarter of Section 22, Township 150, Range 42 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of four hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagors to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1887, at 11:20 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 37 of mortgages, on page 8; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of forty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of forty dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagors, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagors or any other party; and

Whereas, the said Caroline C. Moulton, has exercised her option to consider and declare and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable; and

Whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of five hundred seven and 22-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 22d day of August, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five Dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Entered at the Post Office in Crookston as Second Class matter.

"IT IS A FRAUD"

Is the heading of an article which appears in the Chicago Herald, the Boston Globe, the Buffalo Evening News the Chicago Tribune, Pioneer Press, and many other leading papers, many of which papers have been sent us with the article marked and costing somebody a one cent stamp to carry it. The article in question scores the druggists for substituting other medicines for the patent nostrums they have on sale, and claims that this is a damage to newspapers who advertise these patent medicines, and furthermore urges publishers to unite in one grand kick against these miscreant druggists! Well, we fail to see why country newspapers should fill their columns with this big ad in the interest of proprietary medicines, for it is a class of advertising that seldom, if ever, pays the country newspaper man full value for his work. They generally solicit these ads for from one-fifth to one-tenth his regular price and when he does the work he has to do it at cost to himself, and now they have the cheek to BEG two or three columns of hogwash for NOTHING! The Pioneer Press takes occasion to score the "Slocums of the country press," because no one of them is fool enough to bite, and because some of them kick at the cheeky request. If we were getting our full rates, as no doubt the Pioneer Press is, for advertising patent medicines, it might look more reasonable for us to give them several columns of free advertising on this occasion, even though the Pioneer Press probably published the long ad at its usual rates. We are glad to notice that the boys have too much sense to be caught by such chaff.

SUGAR FROM BEETS.

PRESIDENT HENRY OXNAR LOOKING OVER NORTH DAKOTA,

HIS COMPANY NOW HAS THREE LARGE FACTORIES IN OPERATION.

Press News Association.

JAMESTOWN, N.D. Aug. 4,—Mr. Henry Oxnard, President of the Oxnard Beet Sugar Co., spent, yesterday in this city, and made an examination of several sugar beet patches in the vicinity.

He was greatly surprised to find the condition for the growth of the beet so good. He hardly expected this, as he had had been led to believe North Dakota was not adapted as fully as other localities for raising beets. He says there is a peculiarity about sugar beets in their standing both rain and drouth also that hail does not destroy them.

His chief fear in this locality would be the lack of sufficent acreage to keep a factory going. It requires at least 2,500 acres to supply each plant and 3,000 are preferred. The water of the city artesian well was examined and pronounced entirely satisfactory for the process. The salts in the water are eliminated by the process of manufacturing. A plant would require a special artesian well.

Forty tons of limestone are required daily in the Nebraska factories, which are hauled 150 miles on a low contract with the railroads. It is possible that quarries nearer than that are to be found in this State. Mr. Oxnard will return again this fall and make a more thorough examination into the details of the project, and hopes to be able to establish a factory in the State. Two large sugar factories are now in operation in Nhbraska, one at Grand Island Norfolk, and Mr. Oxnard has erected a third at Presno, in Southern California, to which point he is now en route. Each plant costs half a million dollars.

THIS IS TERRIBLE.

McKinley Law Has Ruined British Export Trade to America, Says the St. James Gazette.

Yet They Tell Us This Same Bill Is An Injury to the United States.

LONDON, August 10.—The St. James Gazette takes a very gloomy view of the condition of British trade and today there appears in its columns an article commenting in a pessimistic manner upon the outlook for the manufacturing and other industries of Great Britain. It says; "Judging from the returns issued by the board of trade it looks as though we have already reached the end of good times. The great decline in the exports from Great Britain is undoubtedly due to the operation of the McKinley law in the United States. We have been told that that act would eventually prove a real misfortune to the United States, but its immediate object was to hit foreign manufacturers, especialy those of Great Britain, and it is plainly evident that this object has been attained."

A Difference.

The New York Press.

"If taking the tariff off sugar cuts down the price, why will it not do so in other articles?" asks a correspondent in Virginia. It will, in the case of other articles of what we produce only one-ninth of what we consume, which is about the proportion in the matter of sugar. When we produce a larger part of what we consume, or when we can produce all of it, the price is less and less dependent on the tariff on importations of article in question. There are cotton goods, for instance. They are cheaper than last year—even goods on which the McKinley bill raised duties. The Democratic newspapers said that the duties were going to be added to the prices, but the Dry Goods Economist, a free trade journal of business, admits that the prices have been absolutely unaffected by the tariff.

Buffalo Journal:—A correspondent who has probably been duped by a "traveling merchant" writes: "If our local merchants or grocers would let the people know as much about the prices of their goods through printer's ink as the traveling grocers and foreign merchants do by flooding the country with price lists, catalogues, etc., there would not be so many duped farmers or complaining merchants. The advertisers who put their goods before the people and keep them there, are the ones who will sell the goods. They may say, when too late, "I would have duplicated that bill of goods," but they should have let the farmer who sent away and bought advertised goods of a foreign merchant know of it before he bought. That's the business of it."—Ex.

Duluth Herald:—The Polk county farmers have an opportunity to throw off the yoke of railway dictation and monopoly by taking stock in a competing line that will leave every year in that county $150,000 now extorted from them for a long haul around by St. Anthony Falls. Council Proceedings.

Proceedings of a regular meeting of the City Council, of the city of Crookston, held in the City Hall on Tuesday, evening, August 11th, 1891.

Meeting called to order by President Cromb.

ROLL CALL.

Aldermen present—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen absent—McGlogan.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

The finance committee reported favorably upon the following bills:

C. T. Schmidt, filing saws	$ 3 25
E. D. Childs & Co., repairing water pipe	2 00
A. O. Ralstad, meals to prisoners	5 15
A. O. Ralstad, meals to prisoners	3 75
F. X. Farley, med. attendance	2 50
M. Watts, medicine	15 50
E. C. Carruth, making poll list	7 50
Red River Lumber Co., lumber	316 99
J. E. O'Brien & Co., hardware	28 73
Geo. A. Ralph, assistant	5 00

D. F. McDonald, labor	45 75
" " "	8 62
" " "	27 00
W. E. McKenzie, stationery and printing	134 35
D. F. McDonald, 1st ward	53 11
" " 4th "	17 75

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that the report be accepted and the bills ordered paid through the ordinary channels. Carried.

The finance committee reported bills number 709, 710, 698 and 693 back to the council without recommendation.

Alderman Schmidt asked to be excused. Granted.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that bill No. 696 be paid as soon as the necessary verifications have been made upon it, and filed with the clerk. Carried.

The city engineer presented the grades of Main street, between Robert and Second, and also gave grade on which the sidewalk which has already been completed is laid on.

Alderman Childs raised the point of order, that as there was a grade already established for that street another grade could not be entertained.

After considerable discussion and as the grades made by Mr. Starkey and Mr. Hamery conflicted, the city engineer was instructed to make a survey and profile map of the most suitable grades of that portion of Main street lying between Fletcher and Third streets.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that when we adjourn it be to meet on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. Carried.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Crookston:

GENTLEMEN: Your committee to whom was referred the consideration of the bill of C. W. P. and L. Co., for light and water, beg leave to report as follows:

That as to that portion of said bill heretofore passed upon by your honorable body, this committee does not feel justified in revising any action in respect thereto heretofore taken by the council, and therefore report same back to council without action.

That regarding the arc lamps in use by city, your committee find that if there is any contract in existence regarding them, it is one calling for lights of 2,000 candle power. This service your committee find from the best information they are able to obtain, is not being given, and your committee would suggest that the council take such action in the matter as will not only determine the measure of the past supply of light but also to guarantee a future strict compliance with contract requirements.

That in regard to water at stock yards your committee find that the charge in said bill of ⅔ charter rates is excessive, and that according to contract between W. W., P. and L. Co. with the city the charge should be ¾ cent per 100 gallons. Your committee would recommend the allowance of said bill at said rate, and also that the claim for $50 for water be allowed.

Martin O'Brien.
John Cromb.
H. Steenerson.
Geo. O. Buhn.
L. D. Marshall.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that the report be accepted and the portion which they recommend, paid; that an order be drawn for the amount, and that the thanks of the council be tendered the committee for their efforts in the matter. Carried.

The chief of the fire department appeared before the council and stated that as the engine house was without a janitor the Dep't would recommend Mr. E. Ruckhaber to fill the position.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the office for janitor at the engine house be declared vacant. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that Mr. Ruckhaber be appointed as janitor of the engine house. Carried.

The city engineer reported on the cost of putting in a watering trough, that it would cost in the neighborhood of $45, complete.

Ald. Childs asked to be excused. Granted.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Steenerson, that the clerk be instructed to purchase six copies of the State Laws of 1885, which contain the city charter.

Ald. Marshall amended the motion, seconded by Ald. Walker, that it be made one copy instead of six.

Ald. voting in the affirmative on the amendment—Buhn, Marshall, Marlette, Walker, Cromb.

Ald. voting in the negative—Jennings, Steenerson.

Amendment declared carried.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the clerk purchase five copies.

Ald. voting in the affirmative—Jennings, Steenerson.

Ald. voting in the negative—Buhn, Marshall, Marlette, Walker, Cromb.

Motion declared lost.

The vote was then taken on the original motion as amended and declared carried.

The city engineer presented a plan of sewer connections along Robert street as requested by the council. Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that the plans be accepted and adopted. Carried.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held the 11th day of August, 1891, Ald. Marlette offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Buhn:

Resolved, by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That twenty-two (22) dollars of the special assessment tax of the year 1887, levied and assessed against the following piece, lot or tract of land lying and being within the corporate limits of the city of Crookston, in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: The 25 feet fronting on Broadway in said city, and lying south of the north 90 feet of lots 4, 5 and 6, of block 11, of Fletcher & Houston's addition to the city of Crookston; said assessment being for the construction of sewer along said street, be and the same is hereby ordered rebated to the parties who have paid the same.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Jennings, Marshall, Marlette, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 11th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 13th day of August, 1891.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

On motion Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH, City Clerk.

MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.

September 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

The thirty-third annual state fair, which opens at the Hamline grounds on Monday, Sept. 7th, already promises to be a marked success. Entries and applications for space are coming in at a rate that ensures fine exhibits in every division. Cattle and horses will, from present appearances, lead all other lines of display and probably eclipse former years.

The officers who are hustling to make this year's fair a success are as follows; president, D. M. Clough, Minneapolis; first vice-president, Lane K. Stone, St. Paul; second vice-president, Lysander Cooke, Good Thunder; secretary, W. F. Cross, Hamline; assistant secretary, Sam. Partridge, Hamlien; treasurer, Frank J. Wilcox, Northfield. The Board of managers consists of C. N. Cosgrove, Le Sueur; Clark Chambers, Owatonna; John F. Norrish, Hastings; Wm. M. Liggett, Benson; W. R. Tanner, J. J. Furlong, Austin. Superintendents of Divisions are as follows: Horses—Clarke Chambers, Owatonna; Cattle—W. M. Liggett, Benson; Sheep and Swine—W. M. Liggett, Benson Poultry—Lysander Cooke, Good Thunder;—manager, Leslie Parlin, St. Paul; Dairy Products, Honey and Apiary—J. J. Furlong, Austin; Main Building—Lane K. Stone, St. Paul; Horticulture, Vegetables and Culinary—Wyman Elliott, Minneapolis; Grain and Farm Products—W. M. Hayes St. Anthony park; Machinery, Farming Implements and Carriages—Ed. Weaver, Mankato; Forage—C. N. Cosgrove, Le Sueur; Privileges—John F. Norrish, Hastings; Farmer's Institute, O. C. Gregg Minneapolis—manager, J. F. Norrish, Hastings.

There will be abundant entertainment at the fair in addition to the general displays of live stock, agricultural products, dairy apparatus and the city merchants. One of the leading features will be the farmers' institute conducted daily by Prof. O. C. Gregg. These were a great success last year and will be elaborated and improved for 1891. Evening sessions will be held and farmers are generally invited to bring bedding and camp on the grounds during the fair, so as to be able to attend these evening sessions and see more of the fair. Tents and cots will be provided for campers. Full information regarding this camping privilege may be obtained by writing to Prof. Gregg, or Secretary W. F. Cross, at Hamline.

Every day of the fair there will be exciting races. The usual trotting events will be supplemented by ladies' races—so popular last year—steeple chases, gentlemen's riding races, and a bicycle tournament. On Friday September 11—"Farmers day"—it is expected that several men of national reputation as friends of the farmers, will be present and make public speeches.

The usual reduced rates will be made by the railroads and the Twin Cities will afford accommodations for all who come.

Her Heart's Desire.

The prevailing tone on a family is sometimes reflected in the conceptions of the children. A lady hearing a little girl repeating the form of a prayer she had learned, told her to ask, as she would of a father, and in her own words, for what she needed most. The child knelt, and after a few moments' reflection implored earnestly: "O Lord please make us all very stylish." To be stylish is the great desire of many, but the heart's desire of all experienced travelers is for a smooth track, easy and comfortable cars, elegant and luxurious sleepers, fast time, and a dining car service which rivals the table of the best hotels. It is so easy to gratify this desire, by traveling over "The Burlington" that there is no reason any should go unsatisfied. In whatever direction one wishes to travel, there is hardly a point in Illinois' Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebaska, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Wyoming, or the Black Hills regions, that cannot be most conveniently reached via "The Burlington" and connections. For tickets, rates, maps and time table, apply to any ticket agent or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R. St. Paul, Minn.

W. J. Gilmore the proprietor of the "Twelve Temptations" "The Sea King" "Devils Auction" and other large theatrical enterprises has been visiting the Yosemite Valley, California with a view of reproducing some of the scenic wonders in his spectacular plays. He will also make a trip to the Yellow Stone Park, Montana before returning east.

2 Northern 82.
3 Northern 78.
1 Northern 74.

Harvest hands seem to be plenty after all.

The proposition to bond for railroad purposes is withdrawn.

Mrs. P. J. Russell is visiting relatives and friends at Drayton N. D.

And now everybody will be busy with harvest for a few weeks.

Mr. E. Lanctot commenced cutting a magnificent crop of wheat on Monday.

Pete Misgen arrived from West Superior last Thursday morning for a few days' visit.

H. B. Budd and Lewis Saeger were up from Edna last week to help Nick prove up.

Charlie Lowe and Geo. J. McManus took a drive out into eastern Polk last week.

Call at the new market for a choice steak or roast. Hoch & Ott know how to serve 'em up.

Another snide circus showed up on Tuesday. It raked in many silver quarters however.

A circus entertained a few small boys on Friday of last week, but did not get very wealthy here.

Mrs. J. G. McGrew is expected home this morning from a visit to her old home in Becker County.

S. L. Collins has purchased a handsome landau for the use of his patrons and invites your inspection.

Hoch & Ott sells salt pork by the pound or barrel. They have a nice lot of new salt pork now ready.

If you want a snap on twine call and get that pure manilla twine that we can sell you at 9 cents per pound.

Mrs. Isaac Simmons went to Monroe, Wis., last Thursday evening for a visit at her old home of a week or so.

Walter Winchester and a young friend of his came down from Warren on Tuesday last on their bicycles.

Bert Duntley has retuned from a pleasant visit to the old home in Michigan. Reports having had the boss time.

Farmer Hixson has commenced, harvesting his magnificient wheat crop. Thinks he will get the biggest yield he ever did.

Wheat harvest will be pretty generally commenced this week. The ground in many places is pretty soft which will bother some.

Services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the Congregational church next Sunday. Sunday school at 12 m. A cordial invitation to all.

John Wyand commened cutting his wheat on Monday; says that the ground is very wet which materially interferes with cutting.

Judge Lightbourne was up from Ada on Tuesday to sit in a case in which Judge Benson being personally interested could not act officially.

Dr. Robertson received a telegram stating that his wife and daughter have started on their homeward journey and they are expected to-day.

The St. Hilaire train now leaves St. Hilaire one hour later than it did thus making it more convenient for the business men of that place.

Wheat took a boom in Chicago last week making a gain of eight cents per bushel. It begins to look as though the opening price would be pretty good.

Will Peterson has gone out to his claim near Fosston to try farming for a fortnight. Henry goes along to fan mosquitoes off him while he harvests his mammoth crops.

S. Refsdal was up from Liberty last week and gave The Journal a pleasant call. He says that most of the grain in his vicinity will be saved in fine shape and there's lots of it.

Hoch & Ott received a short-horn calf, 12 weeks old, which weighed when dressed, 385 pounds, yet some people have an idea that it makes no difference what kind of stock one keeps.

Wheat, which has been ripening very slowly for the past ten days is now coming on all in a bunch. Harvesting has commenced pretty generally and will be redhot now until the finish.

The hail sufferers have gone bravely to work to repair the damages caused by the hail, some are cutting the stuff for feed and some are plowing. The great need for the present will be oats for feed.

A. M. Stewart came up from West Superior on Monday morning for a few days visit with his family and friends. Says nearly all the laboring men have left there for the harvest fields of the Northwest.

If you want some good cheap manilla twine let us supply you. You need the twine to bind your crop and we need the money to pay expenses incurred on the one we lost. See? Call at The Journal office.

WITHDRAWN!

And Now You Can Go Right Along with your Harvesting

JUST THE SAME!

Almost from the beginning of the elevator system a feeling of restlessness sprang up as the producer has realized that the system did not seem to be in his favor to a remarkable degree, and many a plan has been evolved to develope a system that would secure to the farmer a free and uncontrolled wheat market, wherein he could secure for his grain a price that the markets of the world would warrant, less a reasonable carriage and marketing expenses. One of the means to this end that has been generally recognized as the best that could be established was a direct, independent line to Duluth. Recognizing this fact, negotiations were opened with the Duluth & Winnipeg road last spring and as a result of these negotiations, Sir Roger Cameron, the leading spirit in the D. & W., visited Polk County, looked over our magnificent wheat fields and submitted a proposition to the county to build his line in here on certain conditions. As our people were the first to move in this matter, Mr. C. naturally thought that Polk County desired this road and, if the results proved that they did, he desired to so arrange matters that he could complete the line in time to haul out some of the present crop. With this end in view, a committee of Polk County men was formed who took the matter in charge and at once began to arrange the matter. As it takes some time to arrange for and call an election, the result was that the very earliest date this election could be called was on August 25th, and that is the reason that date was named, and not, as some of the opponents of the road have said, because "the farmers will be too busy to turn out on that day, and the bonds will be carried by default." Those who urged this idea did it because they have no good reason to give why the road should not be built, for they well know that to carry, the bonds must not only receive a majority of all the voters, but of the voting precincts as well. However, this charge has been so often made and and many of the farmers have actually been made to believe it, that the projectors of the road have decided to show its fallacy by withdrawing the proposition, and thus also saving the county the expense of an election, and the farmers will now have the privilege of attending to the harvesting of their wheat unmolested by an election in harvest-time, and furthermore they can go right along and market their wheat under the old system. If the D. & W. road had been built we would have had one road that has no agreement with elevator companies to protect them in their business, and that would mean to us a free and open wheat market—something we have never had since the elevator system was put into working order. The committee, that has been stigmatized by Great Northern interests as "schemers," &c., is composed of honest, level-headed business men of Polk County, acting for her best interests and their action in this matter shows this fact.

Hello Neighbor.

Give a fellow a chance to work in your abundant harvest-field. Will cut by the day or by the acre. Having lost my own crop should like to get a whack at yours, for a consideration. Address M. E. Bartlett, Crookston post-office.

At Last.

Work on the foundations for the new hotel on the corner of Main and Second streets was commenced in earnest last week, and we are told that the bricks will fly right lively now until the building is enclosed. It is intended to get it ready for inside work by the time that snow flies.

Pure Manilla Twine

Having lost our crop by hail we have no use for our twine and will offer for sale 800 lbs., of pure manilla at 9 cts per lbs., just what it cost us. Will sell for cash or negotiable paper. Call at The Journal office.

Miss Emma Millis is in the city this week visiting friends.

N. O. Dahl and daughter, Inez, went to St. Paul last week for a few days' visit.

Prof. Shepard will give a steropticon lecture before the institute next week and Prof. Rocheleau on Africa.

A two year old son of O. Mortinson fell in the river on Monday evening and was drowned. The funeral took place on Tuesday.

The management of the Grand Opera House has arranged for some rare attractions for the coming season. With one of the finest houses in the Northwest, Crookston will not lack for the very best there is going.

The following question and answer from the last report of the State Board of Health reads funny until you get the key to it:

A person has been bitten by an animal supposed to be rabid, what must he do?

Cut off his head and send it (packed in ice if the weather be warm) by express, charges paid, to Dr. Hewitt, Red Wing, for the Pasteur test, with a detailed description of the case and of the outbreak associated with it.

The Free Methodists are holding a camp meeting on the hill adjoining the residence of W. E. McKenzie, of the Times.

Rev. S. N. Griffith, of Larimore, is on trial at Grand Forks for an indecent assault upon a young girl—a mere child. His friends here do not believe him guilty of the charge.

This afternoon at five o'clock occurs the marriage of Miss Cecilia Cromb to Mr. H. C. Boissier, of Winona, Minn, at the Episcopal church in this city. They will make their future home in Winona.

W. J. Nickles came up to prove up on his claim last week. He has just finished a well upon it 137 feet deep and will hereafter have plenty of water to drink. He expects soon to take a trip east.

Hoch & Ott have bought a choice lot of beeves from Palmer, the man of whom they got the fine calf, and are now prepared to deal out the choicest cuts. Call and see the boys at the old stand of Steenerson Bros., on Main street.

Grand Forks Plaindealer:—The publisher of the Crookston Journal lost 250 acres of splendid wheat and considerable other property by the hail storm that destroyed 6,000 acres of Polk county's grain on the 5th. That is rough, for a fact.

Wabasha Herald:—Joseph Hoch has purchased a large meat market in Crookston and taken charge of the business. Mr. Hoch is a man of experience in this line and a good man generally. He is worthy of a large patronage.

Last week we reported John Sylvesterson's loss as 100 acres. John says that was within 150 acres of being exact. He will cut what is fit for feed—a very small percentage, and will plow for another crop. John says he will give it just one more good try.

S. L. Collins will have a carload of fine chunky mares, good breeders and good workers on Monday next. These mares are all A. 1 animals, and S. L. will take great pleasure in showing them to those who want to get good stock. If you want a good team go and look this lot over.

Our anxious Nimrods will do well to remember that chickens do not ripen this year as early as usual and act accordingly. It costs from $10 to $100 to gather in an unripe chicken—that is if you are caught at it and many there be that are watching. We are told that some powder was burned last Sunday.

A few fifty cent strikers have been howling "fraud" against all who are in favor of an independent railroad into this county, and of late have accused the projectors of intention to defraud the farmers because the election was called in mid harvest. The wind is taken completly out of their sails now by the action of these gentlemen in withdrawing their proposition.

Lous Berthiaume: I noticed what The Journal said about county help for the hail sufferers and I do not think you made it strong enough. I have talked with my neighbors about it and I have not seen one who would not be perfectly willing to be taxed for a fund for this purpose. I hope The Journal will continue to urge this matter; make it good and strong and something will be done to help all who need help at this time.

The Rev. W. T. Currie, his daughter Ruth, aged 18, and Miss Dora, only daughter and youngest child of Martin Van Kirk, were drowned at Grand Forks on Monday evening. They, with several others, were bathing in the river at a place which Mr. C. had selected for such purposes and had used frequently for two seasons. The two girls got beyond their depth and in attempting their rescue Mr. C. lost his own life. He leaves a wife and two children. Rev. S. Currie, of Euclid, was a brother.

If it takes two special cars each 67 feet in length to carry the scenery and properties of Gilmore's Spectacular "The Twelve Temptations" how many cigar boxes will it take to pack the costumes of the six ballets?

Annie Abbott, the little Georgia magnet appeared at the Grand opera house on Wednesday evening of last week. The committee tried in every way to find out the secret of the mysterious power which enabled the little lady to pick'em up singly and collectively and when they failed in that then they tried to lift her and couldn't. Our worthy mayor got as red in the face as a biled lobster but even that failed to elevate the little lady. After they had all lifted, singly and collectively. Geo. Vine was called up. Now Geo. is accounted one of the best on a dead lift—has often shouldered the quarter of a two or three ton beef critter, carried it up a step ladder and hung it upon a beef hook, but although the lady is said to weigh only 90 lbs., George could not lift one side of her. Our devil suggests that had he been called upon he could have found a lever that would raise her—about 60 days—the jury in the Dufour case.

That some monied men were interested in the defeat of the bond proposition is quite evident from the fact that a large edition of a Grand Forks paper was issued and scattered broadcast over the county urgently protesting against the bonds. The question arises whence came the money necessary for this expense, and who was it offered the Alliance County Lecturer $500 to work against the bonds? If we mistake not time will tell.

A pretty good one is told on one of our attorneys. He was calling on dept. Sheriff Losey one Sunday, and seeing a pair of hand-cuffs, took a notion to see how they would fit; so he put them on. After he was satisfied that they fitted all right he asked Losey to unlock the bracelets and take them off. Losey made a great hunt for the key but did not produce it, and then the great drops of sweat began to roll down the handsome countenance of Gos—the lawyer, we mean. After an hour or so of untold agony for the attorney, Losey found the key and released him. He 'lows he don't want any more of that in his'n.

Ole Rude was in on Monday prospecting about to see what arrangments he could make to go ahead and make a crop next year. In conversation with The Journal man, Ole said: "If I could get oats in some way I could go to work and plow my land and be ready to try it again next spring." This seems to be the case with most of those who have lost their crops by the hail, but from expressions that we have heard farmers make, we think this difficulty could be overcome after harvest. If there was some place in the city provided to store the grain that many farmers would gladly contribute, oats enough for all, these oats could be distributed to the proper parties. Perhaps the county auditor or the treasurer, would be the proper person to receive these contributions, and he could also receive money contributions of those who chose to give in that way. From the expressions that we have heard made by many farmers, we have no doubt that much help could be had for the sufferers.

Mr. J. C. Lewis appeared at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday evening in "Si Plunkard." Mr. Lewis is great in his specialties. Eliza Sympkins, the old maid, was rather over-acted. The "Felix Smart" of W. Milligan was well taken, while Ed. Rice personated Farmer Page exceedingly well. Phoebe Vyse as "Dora Page" appeared too young for the part, but as an elocutionist she is hard to beat. Her rendition of "And the Gobelins will git yer if yer don't watch out," was the best rendered we have ever heard it. She was encored to the turn in that. V. E. Love, as Robert Denny, does not put life enough into his character and is altogether too good-natured looking for a villain. He is too old-looking and too matter of fact for Vyse's "Dora." The Sheeny was very well taken by Wm. DeVault, and the orchestra is the best we have ever heard here. All in all the play was highly enjoyed.

Proceedings of an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held in the city hall on Thursday evening, August 13th, 1891.

Meeting called to order by President Cromb.

ROLL CALL.

Aldermen present—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen Absent—Marshall, McGlogan.

The city engineer presented a grade for Main street, between Robert and Third streets, as requested by the council.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of August, 1891, Alderman Jennings offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Alderman Marlette:

Resolved, That all street grades heretofore established on that portion of Main street between Fletcher and Third streets, be and the same are hereby declared to be annulled and repealed.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 13th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 14th day of Aug. 1891.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that bill No. 659 of the C. W. W., P. & L. Co., be allowed and that the proper order be drawn for the amount, $761.54. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the item in the C. W. W., P. & L. Co.'s bill which reads "eight street arc lights from Jan. 1st, '91 to June 30th, '91, inclusive, being 181 nights at 65 cents per night as per contract," be allowed and an order drawn for the amount, $941.20. Carried.

Ald. Steenerson offered the following resolution which was seconded by Ald. Walker:

Resolved, That the police department be and they are hereby instructed to ascertain and keep a record of all street lamps that are out, or partly out, in the future, and report same to council monthly.

Resolved further, That the purchasing agent is instructed to ascertain the cost of aparatus for measuring the power of arc lights and report to council.

A communication was read from Francis Reckett relating to occupying six inches of the street with his building.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of August, 1891, Ald. A. C. Schmidt offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. R. G. Marlette:

Resolved that Francis Reckitt be and is hereby granted permission to encroach on the street line at the corner of Main and Second streets to the extent of six inches where piers to his new building are located, the main face of piers to be set flush with the street line as per request hereto attached.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 13th day of August, 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 14th day of Aug. 1891.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

CROOKSTON, Minn., Aug. 18, 1891.

To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council, Crookston, Minnesota:

GENTLEMEN: I hereby respectfully request that your council pass resolution permitting me to encroach on the sidewalk at the corner of Second and Main streets to the extent of six inches, where the piers to my new building are located. The main face of the piers to be set flush with the building line, but the encroachment which I request is made necessary on account of the batter given to the three lower stones, which batter tends very much to the solidity and beauty of the building.

Yours respectfully,
FRANCIS RECKITT.
By A. E. PERMAIN, Architect.

At an adjourned regular meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 13th day of August, 1891, Ald. Jennings offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Buhn:

Resolved, by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That the profile of the grade of Main street, between Fletcher and Third streets, showing an elevation at the north side of Fletcher street for the grade line of the crown of the street of thirty-eight feet above a datum plane, which datum plane has an elevation equal to the bottom of brick sewer on Third street where the same empties into the river, and an elevation of 35 feet at the north side of Robert street above the datum; an elevation of 30 8-10 feet above datum at point 100 feet south of the south side of Second street, an elevation of 29.2 feet above datum at the south side of Second street and an elevation of 25.2 feet above datum at the south side of Third street. The water table of the Merchants' National Bank being used as a bench mark for the grade, having an elevation of 30 feet above said datum plane, be and the same is hereby approved, adopted and establised as the grade within said limits as per profile approved this day, August 13th, 1891, and filed in the office of the city engineer.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marlette, Steenerson, Schmidt, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Passed this 13th day of August, 1891.

The Railroad Bonds.

BY F. W. DAVIS.

Citizens of Polk County,
A question is now pending,
Which, if it is carried,
Is toward prosperity wending.
Citizens! 'tis a question
Of importance in the extreme,
A special election could not be based
On a more important theme.

Voters! Be careful
And be sure that you vote right,
Do not look for a dark side,
But look upon the bright.
Its victory means the dawn
Of an era of prosperity,
Which will not benefit you alone,
But also your posterity.

It means a market for our wheat
Where prices will be higher,
It means a market for our straw
Which is annually consumed by fire,
It means a market for potatoes,
And a market for our hay
And, the men employed on farms,
Can draw better pay.

'Twill overthrow monopolies.
Which now rule o'er the land,
And put in its place, a market,
Honest, free and grand.
'Twill open a way to the water-road
Which stretches across the ocean,
And vessels will land our goods
At the docks of London.

'Twill make our taxes lighter
By bringing more settlers in,
'Twill make our business brighter,
And then will a boom begin.
'Twill bring factories to Crookston,
Because of very low rates.
And ten times as many articles
Will pass through the shipping gates.

What is this 'twill do us so much good'
And cause us so much gain?
What's this that will start a thousand drays
Down to meet the train?
Take my advice and you will see,
You, fathers and eldest sons,
Go to the polls on the 25th,
And vote for the railroad bonds.

Half Fare to State Fair.

A Very Seasonable Article on Fresh and Dried Flowers, with clear directions for drying them, and the process by which the color of the leaves is perfectly preserved, is given in the September number of Peterson's Magazine. There are also fine illustrations of dried flowers arranged in bouquets and baskets. The number is replete with engraving, illustrated stories miscel laneous articles and poems, all first class. "The Scene of a Famous Novel," gives a series of views of the neighborhood described in that ever popular novel. "John Halifax," together with incidents in the life of the author not hitherto pulished in this country. Ladies will find all sorts of new, pretty and useful things in the Fashion and Household departments. Available Cash in the Treasury.

New York Press.

The Democrats and Mugwump organs have broken out again in denunciation of Secretary Foster's cash balance of $155,783,718 in the Treasury of the United States. They object, as before, to the inclusion in this amount of the $100,000,000 held against the greenbacks, the $19,736,097 of subsidiary coin and fractional currency, and the $21,588,036 deposited in national banks, and insist that the "available cash" is only the $14,458,985 left after these are deducted. The objection against including the subsidiary coin is particulary puerile. It is obvious, says one of the critics, "that one must deduct the subsidiary coin, except so much as can be used in the actual payments of sums for which that coin is legal tender." That coin is legal tender in sums of five dollars. The reason of this restriction is perfectly plain. Subsidiary silver in excess of $5 is a nuisance to carry in one's pockets, whether it is in the form of halves, quarters or dimes, or all mixed. It would be a hardship to make a man take more than $5 worth of that sort of coin in payment for a debt, and the law wisely refuses to do it. But it would be perfectly proper to issue silver certificates on that coin and make such a certificate tender in denominations not exceeding $5, and any number of those certificates could properly be paid out to the limit of the quantity of such coin on hand in the Treasury. It is perfect nonsense not to call those small silver coins available cash.

Next, the critics object to counting the deposits in national banks. "They are liable to current demand." So they are. So is a citizen's bank balance liable to current demand. Yet the average citizen would call it cash on hand, just as he would the fractional currency in his pocket, his till or his safe. Why should it not be regarded as cash on hand? Apparently the force of the objection is its liability to be drawn on at any moment. Certainly, that is what it is there for. The goverment collects its revenue because it wants to use it. But if the bank deposit should not be counted as cash on hand because it is liable to be called for at any moment, the $100,000,000 gold held against greenbacks, by the same rule, has an excellent title to be called cash on hand, because it has been there over since 1879 without being called for at all, and it is not likely to be called for. It's a poor rule that don't work both ways.

Mrs. Carl Kretzschmar and the children returned last Friday from their extended trip to the East. One look at the change in Carl's face will convince anyone that this is a fact.

Mr. Carl Kretzschmar is this week putting in place the large turbine water wheel which he has lately brought from Red Lake Falls. It will be used for the purpose of running the feed machinery of the mill. This will give to Thief River Falls two mills of which we can boast.

Mr. Jerome Wheeler has purchased the Peter Smith farm just north of town and has hired Mr. Harry Pashley to work the farm. Mr. Pashley is from Crookston, a young man and is now at Crookston for his family who will arrive next week and move into the farm house which is being completely repaired and renewed. Mr. Wheeler is now employed in the First National Bank and has been for a long time and it is hoped that he may soon become a resident of our thriving village.

It is ordered, that all claims and demands of all persons against said estate be presented to this Court for examination and allowance at the Probate office in Crookston, on Monday, January 18th, 1892, at 10 o'clock a. m.

It is further ordered, that six months from the date hereof be allowed to creditors to present their claims against said estate, at the expiration of which time all claims not presented to said Court, or not proven to its satisfaction, shall be forever barred, unless for cause shown further time be allowed.

Ordered further, that notice of the time and place of the hearing and examination of said claims and demands shall be given by publishing this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to the day appointed for such examination, in THE POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said County.

Dated at Crookston, the 31st day of July, A. D. 1891.

By the court: C. M. BENSON,
[16-18] Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication August 6th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of five hundred eleven and 21-100 ($511.21) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Raghild E. Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole H. Bang, mortgagee, bearing date the 10th day of October, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of October, 1889, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 47, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole H Bang, mortgagee, to Hans Larson, by written assignment dated the 16th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 151, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine, (9) Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 19th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $511.21, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m., and recorded in volume "30" of mortgages, on pages 442-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 87-100 ($39.87) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 ($637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of twenty-five and 95-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, and $25 to become due, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Alphonse Paradis and Elmire Paradis, his wife, mortgagors, to A. D. Stephens, mortgagee, bearing date the 10th day of December, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of January, 1890, at 11:30 o'clock a. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 559, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said A. D. Stephens, mortgagee, to F. W. Dunton, by written assignment dated the 14th day of January, 1890, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 14th day of January, 1890, at 11:30 o'clock a. m., in book 37 of mortgages, on page 559, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter of Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty, (150) Range forty-two (42) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston in said County and State, on the 5th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $25.95 and $25 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, July 28th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Arthur Yvernault, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of John Cromb, setting forth the amount of personal estate that has come into his hands, the disposition thereof, and how much remains undisposed of, the amount of debts outstanding against said deceased, as far as the same can be ascertained, the legacies unpaid, and a description of all the real estate, excepting the homestead, of which said deceased died seized, and the condition and value of the respective portions or lots thereof, the persons interested in said estate, with their residences; and praying that license be to him granted to sell all the real estate belonging to said deceased mentioned in the petition. And it appearing by said petition that there is not sufficient personal estate in the hands of said administrator to pay said debts, the legacies or expenses of administration, and that it is necessary for the payment of such debts, legacies or expenses, to sell all of said real estate.

It is therefore ordered, that all persons interested in said estate, appear before this Court on Monday the 31st day of August, 1891, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Probate Office in Crookston, in said County, then and there to show cause (if any there be) why license should not be granted to said administrator to sell all of the real estate of said deceased as shall be necessary to pay such debts, legacies and expenses.

And it is further ordered, that this order shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 28th day of July, A. D. 1891.

By the Court, C. M. BENSON,
[16-18] Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 9th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, Eugene St. Mars and Marie St. Mars, his wife, of Polk County, State of Minnesota, as mortgagors, did, on the 10th day of February, A. D. 1887, duly execute and deliver to Mary V. A Campaign Lie Nailed.

A story has been put into circulation by some one to the effect that the Duluth & Winnipeg R. R. Co. had offered to build their line into Polk County for bonds to the amount of $150,000, and that certain Crookston parties had gone to Duluth and there arranged the matter so as to call for an issue of $220,000, with the agreement that they (the aforesaid Crookston parties) were to receive the difference between $150,000 and $220,000, or $70,000. It having been told these gentlemen that County Treasurer, J. T. Beaudry, had been heard to report this story, several of the interested parties waited on him on Friday, whereupon he gave them the following statement, made under oath:

STATE OF MINNESOTA, }
County of Polk. }

I, J. T. Beaudry, hereby certify that the statement I circulated that the Duluth & Dakota Railroad Company offered to build their railroad to Crookston for $150,000 is a lie, so far as I know. I further certify that the story that the Crookston gentlemen were to get the $70,000 above the $150,000 is a story, and I cannot tell who told me.

THE GRIFFITH CASE.

The Larimore Pioneer:—The examination of the Rev. S. N. Griffith took place before Judge Cutts last Monday and Tuesday. He was bound over to the District Court. He is held over for trial. His bail was fixed at one thousand dollars. We believe that the conviction of every unprejudiced person who heard and impartially weighed the testimony was that Mr. Griffith is innocent of the charge made against him. The Pioneer after taking pains to be in a position not to wrong anyone will say unqualifiedly that we believe a great wrong has been done this old man. Considering his age, his circumstances and the results it will entail, together with the motives of his enemies, it amounts to little less than a tragedy. He will never be convicted by a jury, but the avowed object of his prosecutors has been accomplished and he will "preach no more at Arvilla." We believe this community will in time realize, that an able man and profound scholar who was on the eve of great usefulness has been ruined by the breath of a nine year old child that has been reared in an atmosphere laden with hostility to him.

Crops 28 Per Cent Better.

For Them the Farmer will Get $150,000,000 More Than Last Year.

New York, Aug. 17.—The American Agriculturist, in its annual crop review to be published in the report number, estimates the corn crop of 1891 at 2,000,000,000 bushel; wheat, 500,000,000 and oats, 622,000,000; against 1,500,000,000 bushel corn, 400,000,000 bushel wheat 524,000,000 bushel of oats last year. This makes the total prospective crop of corn, wheat and oats 3,125,000,000 bushel, or 28,8 per cent greater than last year, and 14,7 per cent over the average of the preceding eleven years. The Agriculturist estimates that for those crops the farmers will receive a total of $1,750,000,000. This is $450,000,000 more than the value of these crops in 1890 and $625,000,000 more than the average value of these crops from 1880 to 1890.

REMOVE AT ONCE.

AGENT HALL HAS INSTUCTIONS TO TRANSFER THE CHIPPEWAS TO WHITE EARTH.

THOSE INDIANS WHO GO PEACEABLY WILL RECEIVE THEIR PAYMENTS IN CASH.

GEN. SANBORN IN WASHINGTON TO PUSH HIS CLAIMS AGAINST THE SISSETONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The acting commissioner of Indian affairs today handed to the secretary of the interior, for his approval, the instructions to be given to Chairman Hall, of the Chippowa commission. Hall will leave in a few days for Minnesota. He is instructed to proceed at once to remove the Chippewas to the White Earth reservation. He will have $200,000 to pay the expenses of the removal $23,000 to buy lumber and houses there and $16,000 for expenses of the commission in regard to the payment of that $150,000 reservoir fund due the Chippewas. The instructions are as foreshadowed by the Dispatch several weeks ago, namely, that all Indians who will remove to White Earth and those who will take allotment of land in severalty where they remain will be paid in cash. It is thought this course will insure removal or settlemhnt of all.

A Practical Farmer's View of the Railroad Bonding Question.

I regard the transportation question as the most important matter before the business men of the Northwest. We, the farmers of Polk County, have the whole world for our competitor, and in order to conduct our business profitably and successfully we must have the most favorable conditions possible, to meet the competition. Nature has provided us with an excellent soil of almost unlimited fertility and a climate for the production of wheat unsurpassed in the wide world. Our natural conditions are unexcelled, and when the question of transportation to the head of the lake is settled, as it may be, to a just and equitable rate, our success is assured beyond question.

I have had many years experience in the transportation business, especially railroading, and feel assured that a direct line well and honestly constructed from Polk County to Duluth can well afford to carry the farmers' products from Polk County to Duluth for the price named in the contract with the bond proposition. I have had eleven years practical experience on a farm in Polk County, raising wheat, and some experience in shipping wheat, and I look at this question entirely from the standpoint of a practical farmer and in a business way. I have investigated the question carefully from the official figures to be found at the county offices and find that the tax necessary to meet the interest on the proposed bonds, on each quarter section of land, would average inside of one and one-half dollar. That is the cost to me each year until the principal becomes due, in twenty years. Now, what is the gain? I am now paying, and have been paying for years, 10½ cents a bushel to get my wheat carried from Polk County to Duluth, the bond proposition guarantees a rate of 7½ cents per bushel for the same service, a clear saving to me of three cents on each bushel. Estimating the product of an acre at 15⅝ bushels of wheat, we get from one-quarter section of land 2,500 bushels of wheat, which multiplied by three cents, the saving on one bushel, gives us $75 each year. Taking from $75, the freight saved each year, $1.50, the interest tax paid out each year, we have a net gain of $73,50 on each quarter section of land. Now, I submit if that is not an investment to commend itself even to the most avaricious.

Again, on further consideration of the question I am inclined to think that the whole $75 will be net gain, as the enhanced prosperity of the farming community would re-act upon every line of business, would stimulate industry, would induce immigration and would bring under settlement and taxation government and railroad lands now exempt and which cannot be assessed only in second parties hands, that the percent of increase of revenue from these additions would be larger than the added railroad tax.

How about the payment of the bonds at maturity, you ask? Allowing that if there is no offsetting advantages in enhancement of property, then even the tax on each quarter section necessary to pay the bonds is less than one-half the net gain for one year, but we do not allow any such thing, for the profits of each acre of land cannot be increased one-half dollar per acre without honestly adding to the value of that land, practically and commercially, $5 per acre, because 50 cents pays the interest on $5 per acre at 10 per cent. annually.

We must have freights reduced in order to meet our competition, and a long experience has convinced me that the practical and surest way of accomplishing this, is by competition, and with this added proposed competition I would not be surprised to see rates forced below even the figures named in the contract.

Farmers of Polk County, let me say to you in all earnestness, that now is the opportunity of years. I have considered this question very carefully and am fully convinced that it means to me as a fund not less than $1,000 a year. My interests in this matter are only common with yours. I ask of you to consider this question on its merits. Get at the bottom facts and see if I am not correct and then vote for your interests. There is no more difficulty in carrying out this business arrangement honestly and successfully than any other business arrangement.

I have considered this question so far simply upon the theory that the farmers of Polk County are to give $220,000 to the Duluth & Winnipeg Railroad, but that is not exactly true; they are to purchase $220,000 worth of stock to build that road; they are to own so much of the road and they have the extraordinary privilege of controlling the maximum wheat rate from Polk County to Duluth in addition to the ordinary stockholder. There is no reason why this stock, before the bonds mature, should not be worth its full value and long before that time paying a dividend to offset or even exceed all interest charges against the bonds. Or the stock may be sold and with the proceeds the bonds cancelled.

So looking at it on all its sides, we can see nothing but gain to the people of Polk County.

Again, this opportunity of investing the bonds and controlling the minimum freight rate of the Duluth & Winnipeg Railroad, gives us a superb opportunity to practically apply the principal so often enunciated in the platforms of several prominent reform parties of our country, of government controlling the railways.

With all the advantages on our side and no liability for loss, for are not the people of Polk County the government of Polk County, and is this not a proposition for the people of Polk County, and are not the people of Polk County, the government of Polk County to invest in and control a direct line from Polk County to Duluth with a minimum capital and great gain.

Where I do not expect this proposed road to come within miles of my farm, I do know that when it reaches the competing center of Polk County, that all railroads in the county must reduce their freight rates to the same price, hence my advantage will be just the same.

Free and Unlimited Silver Coinage.

Editor New York Press:

SIR:—I frequently read of a free and unlimited coinage of silver. Will you oblige me by explaining the difference between them?

A.

At present the United States Mint coins 371.25 grains of pure silver, and 41.25 grains of alloy into a coin of 412.5 grains weight, and call it a dollar. The 371.25 grains of silver, at yesterday's market price of $1.0025 per ounce of 480 grains, are intrinsically worth 77.5 cents. Those who believe in the free coinage of silver, but not the unlimited coinage, believe that the government, instead of making this profit of 22.5 cents itself by coining 77.5 cents' worth of silver bullion into a dollar, should coin silver bullion free of charge for American silver producers, so that if you owned a silver mine you could take $775 dollars worth of silver to the Mint and get $1,000 for it. Those who believe in the unlimited coinage of silver would have the government compelled by law to do this for anybody who would apply to it with any part of the world's total production of $160,000,000 worth of silver. As we produce only about 40 per cent. of this, there is quite a difference, as you see, between the free coinage of America's $64,000,000 worth of silver and free coinage of the world's $160,000,000.

The "free and unlimited coinage" idea seems to be that we, the United States, alone and single handed, should enter into a financial war with the rest of the world by turning into money all the silver not needed for use in the arts, whether other nations want to add to their currency in that way or not, or whether, if they do want silver money, they want it at our ratio to gold or not. The plain result of such an attempt would be that the silver produced by other nations would not only be coined here, but would stay here, while gold went abroad to pay for it. Our silver currency would be vastly inflated, and our gold currency in circulation contracted, not only by the departure of the gold that went abroad to pay other nations for the silver that they did not want to come back to them as dollars, but by the locking up of such gold as stayed at home in bank vaults, and in the stoves and stockings that do duty as savings banks in the rural districts. Then there would be a difference in the value of the gold dollar and the value of the silver dollar, whether you called gold the standard and said that the silver dollar was selling at a discount, or called silver the standard and said that gold was selling at a premium. The fact is that gold is the world's standard, and the silver dollar would decline, till, if the market price of silver bullion were what it is to-day, it would buy only 77.5 cents' worth of goods, because prices would go up as gold went up or silver down. Then the transient benefits of free coinage would disappear, while the workingman who worked for $10 a week would get only $7.75 worth of wages, because he would be obliged to take ten silver legal tender dollars.

How much more sensible it would be if, instead of continuing to coin silver on our present ratio to gold—a different one from that of other nations, and one that we keep for no other reason than that it prevailed "before the war"—we were to make a treaty with other nations providing that all should coin silver at the same ratio. Then England, France and Germany, all of which are willing to coin silver, and to make a treaty, but which, because of the attitude of our silver theorists, stick to gold, would coin silver as the equal of gold. Last year these three nations alone coined $55,500,000 of gold and only $10,300,000 of silver, while we coined $22,000,000 of gold and $35,000,000 of silver. It is not the United States that discriminates against silver but Europe, and the remedy for that discrimination is not a new national silver law, but a new international silver law.

The Blade and the People's Party.

Toledo Blade.

We are in receipt of the following letter from a gentleman residing in a thriving little town in Northwestern Ohio;

EDITOR BLADE:—We are sorry to notice the frequent recurrence of scandalous editorials in the Daily Blade regarding the Farmers' Alliance and the People's Party. We feel that this style of journalism is uncalled for, and assure you that it only lessens the regard of the people of this section of the country for your otherwise able paper. If you can modify your utterances so as to make your paper still acceptable to us, please write me or your agent here to that effect

The Blade has the most thorough sympathy with the farming community in the difficulties which have encompassed them for the past few years, due to the extraordinary low prices for the staple products of the soil, which in turn were due to the fact that the agricultural capacity of the world has been increasing more rapidly than its consuming capacity. Aside from the matter of low prices on grain and some other products—which, happily for the American farmers, has been changed this year by the failure of the crops in other countries—there are other minor matters of injustice under which the farming community suffer, which The Blade fully realizes; and has never, in any editorial opinion in its columns, said aught to the contrary. Its feeling is one of hearty sympathy with the farmers.

But it does not follow, we must remind our friend, that because we sympathize fully and entirely with any and all evils under which the agricultural community suffer, that we must perforce advocate certain proposed remedies therefor, which, in our judgment, not only would not have the effect desired, but would bring ruin not only upon the farmers, but upon the workingmen and the business world as well. We refer especially to the free coinage of silver, the loaning of greenbacks by the government upon land or other security, the movement indorsed by the People's party convention in this state for substituting greenbacks in practically unlimited quantities for other forms of currency, and the sub-treasury scheme of the Southern Alliance.

We have given our reasons from day to day in The Blade why we are opposed to these things, and we shall continue to discuss them at length as the campaign progresses. As to the open Farmers' Alliance, it has our hearty sympathy and co-operation in this state, where it has declared itself not a political body, but an organization laboring by non-political means for the improvement and advancement of its members. We wish our friend to carefully note the distinctions we have drawn above. The Blade is Republican in its politics, because it believes most thoroughly and entirely that the policy and the aims of the Republican party are those best adapted to promote the prosperity and the well-being of the whole nation, farmers and workingmen, as well as everybody else; and it will oppose any political organization opposed to the Republican party.

It has fought the battles of Republicanism against Democracy from the days of the slavery struggle until now; it fought for honest money against the greenback craze, in the days of the old National party; and it now takes up the fight against free silver, irredeemable greenbacks and the other financial heresies of the new born people's party—which, let us say, is by no means a party of farmers, if we are to judge by the class of men most prominent in its deliberations in its state convention at Springfield. The men who forced themselves into the leadership there are the same men who were leaders in the days of greenbackery; and there is not one of them, with whose political history we are acquainted, who is fitted either by education or by mental qualifications to be a leader. When the blind lead the blind, both fall into the ditch.

We are not aware of anything that has appeared in The Blade concerning either the Farmers' Alliance or People's party, which can be considered "scandalous." We have labored to tell the truth as to the financial heresies advocated as remedies for farmers' ills, and shall continue to do so. We believe that very many who adhere to them are absolutely sincere; but they are mistaken. The remedy would aggravate the evil instead of curing it.

Geo. Vine will sell beef for harvest at wholesale rates.

Geo. J. McManus estimates his loss by hail at $2,700.

F. & A. will soon have their new store ready for occupancy.

And now the prospects are for a long spell of weather without frost.

Mat Dauser has moved his photograph gallery over the bankrupt store.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wilkinson came up to attend the wedding last Thursday.

Mrs. Edward George has been quite ill for several days. Threatened with typhus fever.

Jack Bunnell and wife departed on Friday evening for a short visit to Homer, Minn.

Charlie Lowe has money to loan on favorable terms. See Charlie when you want to borrow.

Harvesting will be pretty well advanced this week, and next week will finish most of it.

A light frost occurred on the night of the 22d, but so far as we can learn no damage was done.

The engine of the excursion train was gaily decorated. It looked like a whole 4th of July.

The mercury rested uncomfortably close to the dead line on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Dr. Cable gave an entertaining magic lantern show at the Congregational church on Monday evening.

The Congregational Sunday school picnic in Stone's grove on Wednesday was a very enjoyable affair.

Attorney General, John N. Ives, of Kansas, was in the city on Wednesday, shaking hands with old friends.

J. V. E. Wyatt expects very soon to get into his new quarters, which are now in the hands of the painters.

Doc. Dunlop went out to Will Peterson's claim with Will and Henry to be handy when they need a prescription.

Ira De Camp left on Friday evening for Minneapolis where he has accepted the position of clerk in the hotel Brunswick.

Alderman I. U. Jennings expects his wife home from Tacoma early in September. Mrs. Underhill will remain there awhile.

Mrs. E. E. Bangs left for Milwaukee on Tuesday evening on a business trip. She may decide not to remove to Salt Lake City this fall.

Wm. Kistenmacher has received the lumber for his new house and Joseph Netzer will soon have the building ready for occupancy.

John Hack came up last Saturday to look us over a bit. Talks of putting a brick on the Hack & Gallasch property opposite the big hotel.

The Bankrupt store will take possession of the store on the corner of Main and Robert streets just as soon as Fontaine & Anglim move out.

Iver Krohn takes possession of his new rooms this morning and expects to have his lunch-room ready for business to-morrow or Saturday morning.

K. D. Chase was up last week looking after his harvesting interests. He says that he is more than ever convinced that Crookston will be a big city yet.

Some of the papers don't seem to know that the bond election was postponed and are still whacking away at it. It did not come off, nevertheless.

Barnsvills Review:—Mr. E. Martin of Crookston has accepted a position with D. E. Bay. Ed. enjoys the reputation of being away up in his profession.

Albert Halverson, who was until recently our devil, is now night clerk at the Sherman. Albert is a bright, genial young fellow, one who makes lots of friends.

Rev. Geo. W. Jackman, of Alexandria, will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church, day and evening, on Sabbath next. He is said to be an eloquent speaker.

Pete Misgen has returned to civilization again to abide. The Journal is informed that he will engage in his old business, the manufacture of illigant pop, in this city.

Miss. Edith Copeland came up last week to attend the wedding of her friend Miss Cecelia Cromb and returned to St. Paul on Thursday evening to finish her musical course.

John C. Welles was in the city on Saturday. Is up looking after the harvest and reports a fine crop on his farm this season. He is immensely satisfied with the prospects this year.

The merry harvesters are humming away in one of the best harvests this country ever saw. Very soon their work will be completed and they will be stored away for another year.

S. E. Chapin was over from Grand Forks last week. He expects soon to start for the Red Lake Indian Reservation accompanied by his brother Ed., where they will locate pine claims.

Prof. Rocheleau delivered an interesting lecture on Africa at the old opera house on Tuesday evening, and this evening Prof. Shepard will lecture before the institute at the same place.

The New York Press gives us the surprising information that Hon. W. D. Washburn was once Governor of this State. Such news makes the smallest Minnesota schoolboy smile all over his countenance.

Work on the new hotel building progresses lively. Charlie Jefferson has completed the foundation and the brick are going in right lively. It is the intention to have the building enclosed before snow flies.

On Tuesday morning Alex. Burnam brought in one of his harvest hands who was slightly off his mental equilibrium. In the absence of Judge Benson it became the duty of court commissioner D. Hatlestad to act.

Major Mix, E. M. Walsh and Dr J. H. Thomas went over to Grand Forks on Thursday to attend the funeral of Rev. W. T. Currie who was a mason in high standing. The funeral was the largest ever held in Grand Forks.

Rev. R. H. Battey went out to Andover on Sabbath afternoon to hold services in their school house. He will exchange next Sabbath with the Alexandria pastor and will leave for that point on Friday evening.

C. A. Sharkey is receiving a pleasant visit from his father who lives in Floyd County, Iowa, near Charles City. Mr. Sharkey expresses great pleasure in what he has seen of our county, and says he thinks Crookston is bound to be a large city.

Don't forget the Twelve Temptations Company, Tuesday evening, September 8th, at the Grand. See special dispatch to The Journal announcing crowded houses in Montana. See also a brief synopsis of the play and then go and see the play itself.

It behooves Conductor Harry Norrie to get a hustle on him since the arrival of another boarder at his house last week. On Tuesday's run he put in his extra time shooting ducks and got quite a lot of them. He says that boy must have plenty to eat, somehow.

Miss Minnie Bailey is prepared to make seamless waists or any style desired. It will pay you to see her before you order your work elsewhere.

We have a few pounds of that pure manilla twine yet on hand. If you need twine remember that our twine is all we have to sell of our crop this year and you can help us out a little by buying of us; besides it is very cheap—only 9 cents a pound while it lasts.

Last week we pulled a head of lettuce from our little garden and upon weighing it found it to weigh two pounds and one ounce. We thought that was pretty good for a lettuce head, but there may be others in the county that would beat it. If so we should like to see 'em.

Dr. Geo. A. Cable preached two eloquent discourses at the Congregational church in this city on Sunday last, which were listened to with interest by very many of the doctor's old friends and neighbors. The doctor is at present very pleasantly located at Brainerd. His wife came up with him and went out to their old home at Mentor to spend the Sabbath.

Upon the return of dept. postmaster McLean from Michigan City last week he did not seem to have any evidences of "that wife" anywhere apparent, and some wonder was expressed thereat. The Minneapolis Tribune, in a recent issue, says: "Mrs. McLean has gone to Sioux City to obtain a divorce." This certainly looks as though explanations were in order, George.

An excursion to Maple Lake from Grand Forks went through the city on Tuesday morning. During the halt at the depot the band gave our city a nice serenade. Among the gay excursionists our reporter noticed Charlie and John Kops, Col. W. H. Topping, and W. H. Beecher—old-time Crookstonites. Some of our people joined and others who had talked of it allowed the threatening weather to bluff them.

We gave notice through these columns last Thursday that we would offer for sale 800 lbs. of pure manilla twine, and on Saturday night we had only 400 lbs. left. Uncle Frank Robar was the first to call on Thursday, and he said: "I saw your notice in The Journal and I sympathize with you in your loss of a fine crop so I thought I would show that sympathy by buying some of your twine. I want 100 pounds and here is your cash!" Such sympathy as that is practical christianity.

Minor Rood was down from his Maple Lake farm on Wednesday of last week with some excellent garden vegetables among which was as fine a sample of sweet corn as we ever tasted. Mr. Rood says he is building a fine sailboat which will be ready for service soon and will be a daisy. The builder is an old ship carpenter who lives near the lake and who will build boats for any who desire his services. He would like business enough of that kind to keep him employed during the winter.

The wife of J. L. Friberg, a tailor employed in the C. O. D. store, died suddenly on Sunday morning of heart failure. She leaves a babe a little over a week old and two other small children. She was about the house on Sunday morning attending to her duties, when she suddenly said to her husband that she felt strangely and would lie down a few minutes. Before she reached the bed she fell and expired before help could be summoned. Mr. and Mrs. F. had been married about five years and had four children, one of which died some time ago. The funeral occurred on Tuesday.

Another "Bond Fraud" Punctured!

TURN LOOSE THE DOGS OF WAR! GIVE SOME CROSS-ROADS SCREAMER "$250" TO SUPPORT THE BONDS!

Where's Ki-yi-sir?

A mysterious and darkly portentious event occurred this week and the "fraud scenters" are again on the qui vive to give the thing away to the dear people for a consideration. A bran new portable engine arrived last week consigned to the Steenerson Bros., and we learn that the G. N. officials have ascertained for a dead certainty that the "Crookston Schemers" intend to put this legend upon it in cold glaring letters: "The Crookston and Rainy Lake Railroad," and run it on the new line for which bonds were recently voted. And these "cold-blooded," "deeply dyed" "villainous cutthroats" actually intend to do this dark deed "right in harvest time," so that no "honest, rheumatic old rooster" can get out of the way to prevent being run over. The most surprising part of this is that the heroes of the country press are not bursting with indignation to expose this terrible plot against the peace and dignity of the h. g. in such case made and provided and the horrible suspicion stalks abroad that the S. Bees have them all "subsidized!" Arise, awake! and Yump onto it, you fellers! This double-dyed indignity must not be perpetrated upon a free people!!

The preliminary examination in the case of Rev. S. N. Griffith, of Larimore, resulted in his being bound over to answer at the next term of the district court at Grand Forks. Elsewhere we publish the comments of the Larimore Pioneer, which embodies our own views of the case. It seems singular that if Mr. Griffith was the character his enemies are trying to make him out that evidences of this evil disposition never cropped out before; that after a long and useful life, after having raised as fine a family as he has, that now, when his hairs are whitening for the grave and he is just rounding out a useful life with honor, he could so far forget his estimable wife and lovable family as to commit the dastardly deed of which he stands accused, to us seems incredible, and we don't believe it. It is also significant that the parties who bring the charge were deep in a plot to remove him from the pulpit. We have taken occasion to interview many of his old friends and acquaintances in Crookston and we have found no one who does not express confidence in the honor of Mr. Griffith, while they deeply regret the position in which he is placed.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Cecilia C., oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cromb, to Herbert C. Boisser, occurred on Thursday last at the Episcopal church in this city in presence of a housefull of the friends of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Fortin, formerly rector of the Episcopal church here. The groom's best man was Frank Brown and the bridesmaid Miss Annie Cromb, sister of the bride. The church was gayly decorated with a profusion of flowers and evergreens and the ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner. Following the ceremony was an elegant reception held at the residence of the bride's parents until 6:30, when the happy couple began to make preparations to leave on the evening train for their new home in Winona, Minn. The popularity of the bride was attested by a host of presents, to enumerate which would take at least two columns of The Journal, while as large a list awaited them at their new home from his friends in Winona and England. The groom is one of the most popular young business men of Winona, highly respected by all. The Journal joins with hosts of friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Hail Insurance.

Every year there is more or less loss from hail, and in a large majority of cases this loss is an individual one. The alliance, when first formed, attempted to afford relief in this particular by organizing mutual insurance companies, but for some reason or other the relief sought has not been found, and this for several reasons, chiefly because there are too many companies in existence, and because farmers will not, as a rule, insure, and one reason why they will not is because the rates are too high. We believe this matter ought to be taken up by the alliance, one company formed whose officers should be elected by the alliance at their regular alliance meetings, just the same as they elect their other officers. That is, they should create a sufficient number of officers to cover the needs, and elect their president, their vice-presidents, lecturer, secretary and treasurer, and their insurance president, vice-president secretary, treasurer and inspector, all of whom should be under and subject to the orders of the State Alliance. This course would have a tendency to leave but one company in the State and a glance over the past shows that if every acre in the State was in one company, a few cents per acre would cover the largest losses we have ever sustained, and a plan could be adopted to assess even higher in unusual years. In years wherein a large surplus was gained the assessments would be less. If some such a plan was adopted, hail and storm insurance could be made practicable. Last year not one hail company in Minnesota or Dakota paid their loss dollar for dollar, although every man who was insured had to pay his full rate—25 cents per acre. This matter should be made just as obligatory upon every member of the alliance as every other obligation he incurs, and it would be to his advantage, because it would secure to him actual immunity from loss by storms that are sure to come. This subject is at least one that might be profitably considered by the alliance.

Wednesday, about 10:45 a. m., a team belonging to Bill Welsh, hauling brick for the new hotel, started from the corner of Main and Second streets, at the opposite corner they got freed from the wagon and darted up Main street at a rapid rate. At the store of Larson Bros. they collided with the rear end of a wagon belonging to Ole Hoven and threw one of the horses down upon its back. Going on further they collided with a telephone pole in front of the residence of Alderman I. U. Jennings, throwing one of them violently to the ground and separating them. Quickly springing to his feet he rejoined his mate in the grand skedaddle as though nothing bad happened, and they were soon caught and taken to their stable. One of them received a bad cut in its breast and they were both marked up some. Mr. Hoven's horse did not seem to be very much hurt.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well, understanding the business, cuts them up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

Fargo Argus:—Speaking of the Griffith case at Grand Forks. A score of years ago, away back in '79 or '80—a good "Christian brother" came to the writer in Fargo and said—"I have requisition papers for a Grand Forks party, and you have a chance for a great sensation." Those papers were served, and the very man who is now prosecuting Rev. Griffith was taken back to Pennsylvania a prisoner. The Argus was for Bossard then, and it's for him now. He is prosecuting attorney, and thinks he is doing his duty. It is no man's duty to besmirch another. Judge Cutts, before whom Rev. Griffith had preliminary examination, got into trouble, left the state under a cloud—The Argus defended him then—which was years ago—the Judge came back vindicating himself and his friends. The Argus has always sought to be a pronounced defender of those who are persecuted—from any cause—and more especially when malice is at the bottom—as in the Griffith matter—it is believed to be General Grant laid down the maxim—"a man needs friends when in trouble"—he has plenty when all goes well.

The Railroad swamp lands owned by the Wisconsin, Minnesota & Pacific Railway Co, have been re-examined and prices fixed according to the value of the same. The grass is for sale at fifty cents per ton. I. U. Jennings, of Crookston, Minn., is agent for the company. [19-20]

Ladies, have you seen those elegant dresses Miss Minnie Bailey is making for her customers? She cuts and fits by the United States system and all her work is stylishly made. This we have on the authority of ladies who have had work done there, and the fact that she is having a very large business is significant, for the ladies are very quick to find out where they can have work done to suit them.

BELTRAMI ITEMS.

Beltrami, Aug. 24, 1891.

The G. N. R. R. Co. is making extensive improvements on their property here.

All the farmers near here extend thanks to the D. & W. R. R. Co. for withdrawing their proposition. It would have been a loss to them to have been obliged to leave their fields to vote at this time of year.

The case of Johnson vs. Flakne before 'Squire Hallock last Saturday was adjourned for a week.

John Hanly, of Faribault County, who has threshed around here for a number of years, is with us again. He says that nearly all the grain is stacked near his home.

W. J. Nickle has a flowing well 258 feet deep which flows over 100 barrels a day. He says that he will put no more "sticks" in his water and invites the editor of The Journal to come down and take a drink—of water.

J. Jensen, of St. Vincent, was in town this week looking after his "chittens."

State weigh-master, Ed. McManus, of Duluth, was here Saturday night helping the farmers smoke their grain. Ed. says it is a cold day when he gets left.

John C. Welles, of Fond du Lac, Wis., is in town looking over his big farm. We need a number of men who have as much faith in Polk County as he has.

'Squire Hallock's daughter, Miss Olive L., a graduate of one of our best Normal schools, has accepted the principalship of the village school at St. Hilaire. The people of St Hilaire were very fortunate in securing the services of one so well qualified for school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphey's daughter, Mrs. Frank Haight, of Roslyn, Washington, is here on a visit. Her husband will reach here Friday with a carload of horses. Mary has a warm spot in the hearts of all our people. Edna.

A JOB FOR THE ALLIANCE.

Pioneer Press.

The Farmers' Alliance has always shown a singular appetite for business undertakings. It is ready on demand to regulate the most intricate affairs of corporations. It favors all sorts of schemes which have only the most indirect relation to the daily experience of the agriculturist, and its platforms contain elaborate and wonderful ideas on difficult questions of finance. Cynical people have attributed this to a tendency of human nature to interest itself distinctly in the things about which it is least informed. But, since the leanings of the Alliance are so distinctly toward business operations, it is fortunate that there is to be found at least one field of employment for the exercise of that talent which is most important to the farmer himself. We propose the business of crop insurance as a subject most suitable for the Alliance interest and infinitely more advantageous to its members than dabbling in finance.

No other interest, of equal magnitude with the agricultural, would dream for a moment of discarding the insurance safeguard. To no other interest is it of more vital moment. The farmer's crop represents the visible total of a year's hard labor and expenditure. If anything happens to injure or destroy it he has no second resource. It is all dead loss. He has nothing to do but borrow money for another venture, and carry a heavy debt and a heavy heart to his fields for the ensuing twelvemonth. For weeks and months he is at the mercy of the elements, and watches with apprehension the forming of a stormcloud. And at the very last moment, when the fruition of his labor seems secure, all may be swept away in an instant; and the crop which had already been mentally measured and valued may disappear before the shock of the wind or the pelting of a hail storm. It is a chance which no man in any other line of business would be content to take.

The insurance of farm crops is a business that has made slow headway. Farmers are the most conservative class in the community, and are slow to unite for mutual advantage. Only a few of them have seen the benefits of insurance clearly enough to go into it. Their numbers being so scanty it has followed of necessity that the premiums charged them by such crop insurance companies as were in the field were heavier than they felt able to bear, and far higher than they would need to be if the risks were more widely distributed. Therefore, it is that the companies doing a business of insurance against losses by hail or tornadoes has been but small, and that some of them think of discontinuing that department of their work altogether.

Can the farmer afford to go without insurance? If so, he is the only member of the community who believes it. No merchant now-a days would dream of carrying a heavy stock of uninsured goods in an uninsured building. The farmer himself, as a rule, has his farm buildings covered against loss by fire. And yet their destruction would be, in most years, a trifling loss as compared with the damage wrought upon his fields by a single storm. Why should he not guard with equal care against the greater danger? In this year of plenty there will be some scores or it may be hundreds of farmers in the Northwest who will not be able to join in the general rejoicing of the harvest. With the assurance of crops that would mean to them a year of abundance and comfort, they have seen the whole beaten down in a night or an hour by some untoward conjunction of meteorological influences. They have been found in the narrow track of the wind or hail storm; and they are to suffer in the midst of plenty.

This is exactly what used to happen to people in other branches of business before the principle of fire insurance became practically universal. As a rule, nobody is bankrupted now by fire, because his insurance guarantee is at least sufficient to give him a new start. It is the farmer only who takes this appalling and altogether unnecessary chance. And yet it would cost him far less to make himself secure than it does any other member of the business community. It is estimated that if every acre of wheat in Minnesota and the two Dakotas were insured, a rate of 2½ cents per acre annually would more than cover all crop losses from storms, and leave a surplus for profit. What farmer is there who cannot better afford to pay this sum than to take the chance of losing a crop worth from $15 to $40 an acre? Yet he is taking just that chance; and losses in the three states amounting to some hundreds of thousands of dollars annually are now borne by individuals, meaning their absolute ruin or their encumberment with debt for years to come, as a consequence of neglecting the simplest rules of business common sense. General insurance means cheap insurance. Rates on crops are high because farmers, as a rule, have preferred to risk a hazard which might well appal any but a desperate gambler.

Now this is a business which the farmers themselves are quite competent to conduct. But, though of such interest to themselves, they have not moved in the matter as yet. Through their alliance they have the machinery required for organizing a great insurance system. It must be made general so that risks may be widely distributed. Mutual associations will hardly do; for these are generally limited in their territory, and a storm sweeping over a single county might play havoc whose losses could not be sustained by the survivors. But an insurance business spread over an entire state, and including in its lists a majority of the farmers of that state, would impose a burden too light to be felt by any one, while it would offer perfect security against the accidental destruction of crops which now brings annually the cruelest disappointment and actual suffering to worthy and hardworking people. It matters not by whom this business is done. We have suggested it to the Alliance because of the eagerness of that body for business employment, because its members are the parties interested, and because it seems easy to create through its machinery an insurance business covering the field and commanding the confidence of the parties to be reached. But, by whomsoever carried on, the principle of mutuality involved in the great and beneficent insurance idea ought to be applied at once to the farmer's case. Nowhere can its operations be more simple or more easily secured. Nowhere can its benefits be greater or the hardships it averts more severe.

The above is taken from the Pioneer Press and is reproduced in these columns because it contains many suggestions that are good, and also because it shows how easily great minds may sometimes make mistakes. The writer starts out with the presumption that everything the Allsance sought to do is wholly impracticable, and winds up his tirade with these words: "WE propose the business of crop insurance," &c. Why, bless your innocent heart, where have you been all summer that you do not know that YOUR suggestion is one of the ground principles of the Alliance and has been in practical operation ever since the alliance was formed? The very arguments you use in support of your position have been urged by the Alliance for lo these many years, and if you know as much about the whole aim of the Alliance as you seem to on this point, you don't know one little bit about the business.

"The Twelve Temptations."

On Tuesday evening Sept. 8th, the Grand Opera House will present a spectacle which for its worth as a stage entertainment has never been excellend here. Reference is made to the "second edition" of William J. Gilmore's magnificent spectacle. "The Twelve Temptations," which will be introduced here with every thing new in the way of scenery, ballets, premiers, specialties, costumes and music. It is one, if not the largest theatrical organization that travels, which has a numerical strength of sixty-seven people.

STORY OF THE "TEMPTATION"

"The Twelve Temptations" presents a mythical story of the elements, an idyl of ice and sun. It is not more improbable than the average "yarn" that is woven into the ordinary drama. It requires some little elasticity of the imagination, of course, to people the solar and polar region with creatures and objects so familiar, and to make a Prime Minister of Boreas and a goblin of Jack Frost. The overcritical may be disinclined to yield to the blandishments of gnomes, spirits and queen of sun and snow, and some may be found who are so matterof-fact as to deny these strange creatures the delight of merry-making, the perils of love, the pangs of jealousy, the bliss of fellowship and all the sympathy, sorrow, happiness and all kindred feelings possessed by mortals. The same persons declare Willam Tell to be a myth; that Shakspeare was not the author of his own plays, and that Pocahontas existed only in the fancy of Captain John Smith. Surely something ought to be left to us in the way of enchantment so why not spare the fairies, the elves and the sprites?

It is of this materal Mr. Yale has fashioned a legend alternately warm and cold, changeable as the season and one that flips from the council chamber of Boreas, past village and sea, through caverns of the Green Dragon, over golden galleys and jeweled terrace to the home of the dazzling Queen of the sun. The plot is thus epitomized; Zero, the Queen of the Polar Region, has fallen in love with a mortal known as Hubert, a valiant Count of Wurldburg a supposed principality in Norway. With the aid of Boreas, her Prime Minister, Zero concocts a scheme to place Hubert in her power, Boreas, in the disguise of a monk, visits Hubert and inflames his mind with marvelous stories of the gold, silver and jewels that lie buried in the Arctics. Hubert hesitates, remembering that eleven of his ancestors had perished in the attempt to possess these treasures, but Boreas quiets the young hero's fear by stating that the twelfth of his race was destined to win the great prize. It is from this incident the novel narrative derives its name. "The Twelve Temptations," Hubert finally consents to make expedition, and, with his followers, agrees to set sail the next morning, the disguised Boreas to accompany them as guide. In the mean time, Zero to make certain of the young hero's undivided love, dispatched one of her attendant goblins Jack Frost, to abduct Hubert's betrothed, Felicia, whom she intends to offer up as a sacrifice to the Green Dragon, as a tribute for total possession of the Arctic Kingdom. Hubert is warned by Solaris, Queen of the Sun, of the porposed abduction, but arrives too late to prevent it. He therefore embarks immediately for the Arctic Region in pursuit of his betrothed. On the voyage he is attacked by Malay pirates, led by Jejeeh who impersonates a shipwrecked mariner. Jejeeh and the other pirates, after being cared for by Hubert, endeavor to massacre all on board. In this they are thwarted by Snoro Apropos, one of Hubert's henchmen. The Malays are captured and are about to be executed when Boreas, throws off his disguise and claims the entire party as prisoners of Zero. Through magic art, summoned by Boreas, the ship becomes a wreck and is driven into the heart of the frigid zone, where all perish except Hubert and Snoro, who are eventually rescued from death by Zero. Hubert discovering the power of Zero, apparently accepts her proffered love, and is proclaimed king before her court. Bright Eyes, a snow nymph, who has become enamored as Snoro, informs him of whereabouts of Felicia. Snoro tells Hubert, and they resolve to rescue her. Their plan is overheard by Zero, whereupon she repudiates Hubert and attempts to remove him as a captive, but is unexpectedly thwarted by Solaris, the Queen of the Sun, and Hubert's good angel, Hubert subsequently finds the hidden treasure and returns to Norway with Felicia and Snoro. The marriage ceremony is about to be performed when Zero and her attendents appear and endeavor to carry off Hubert and Felicia, the plot being preven ted by Solaris, who banishes Zero to her icy dominions. never to return.

The Pioneer Press Bureau of Claims.

For the Speedy and Economical Settlement of All Valid Claims Against the United States Government.

The enterprise and public spirit of the St. Paul Pioneer Press has never been more forcibly illustrated than in the establishment of what is known as the "Pioneer Press Bureau of Claims," with headquaters in St. Paul and Washington D. C., through which claims of all sorts against the government may be pushed, at a minimum of expense, and a maximum of expedition and economy. Under the offer made by the Pioneer Press, any person living in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota or Montana, having legal business of any kind requiring attention at the seat of government, can avail himslf of these advantages. In order to render it possible for the poorest of mankind to make an intelligent and systematic effort to secure his just dues from the government, whose network of official red tapes so often strangles deserving cases, the "Pioneer Press Bureau of Claims" proposes to make no charge whatever for services unless successful in whole or in part in its effort, and in such cases the fees will be more moderate than have ever obtained for like work in the past.

We are informed that in this enterprise the Pioneer Press has associated itself with those brilliant and progressive types of Western journalism, the San Francisco Examiner and the Omaha Bee. With the idea of making it a national affair the entire country is to be divided up between a limited number of newspapers of highest class. A special effort will be made to successfully prosecute pension, Indian depredation, land, patents mining and postal claims, and with the assurances offered by the well known business, financial and political standing, not only of the Pioneer Press, but its associates in the new enterprise, it is easy to see that the work will insure to the benefits of hundreds and thousands of persons who otherwise might be the victims of the numberless sharks who make the legal ways of our nation's capital a terror to everyone having cause to venture therein.

All communications or applications from any one living in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota or Montana, having a valid claim against the United States government should be addressed to the manager Pioneer Press Bureau of Claims, Pioneer Press Building St. Paul, Minn.

Spectacle Made Practicable.

The production of spectacle has been made practicable outside of the large cities by Messrs Gilmore and Yale, who have given years of study to this interesting style of stage amusement. Two special sizes of scenery are carried, so the production is feasible upon any stage of fair dimensions. Everything is carried, so the cities that are visited are not depended upon for anything. The prices of admission are no more than in the large cities, and the same grand performance is given. The company is not "split up" for the smaller cities, as many suppose, but comes in its entirety, so you can see spectacle at home without going to the larger points. Tuesday Sept. 8th.

Half Fare to State Fair.

The Great Northern will sell tickets to the Minnesota State Fair, September 5th to 12th at one fare for the round trip.

An Interview with Canning.

Norman County Index.

Hon. Chas. Canning was in the city last Saturday, and when he dropped into the Index sanctum the reportial pump was applied on some of the live questions of the day. Speaking of an extra session business, he says: "Governor Merriam has more since than to call an extra session of the legislature to appropriate $100,000 more for the Columbia Exposition. I don't see why the farmers of Minnesota should tax themselves to boom Minnesota for the benefit of land speculators. The farmers have no land for sale. What farmers need is less taxation and increased power to pay—free trade and deep water from Duluth to the sea is the building up of the Northwest. The present wheat crop will advertise this state far and wide, and a prosperous, contented people is the best advertisement for a country. This Valley is the sirloin of America and its citizens will soon be the foremost of farmers, but they must not relax in their efforts to free themselves from the oppressive hand of monopoly. The farmers Alliance, under the leadership of Barret, Halt, Hixon, Brandborg and a few others, have done a great deal for the people in opening a free market for wheat and reducing the price of binding twine. The day is not far distant when the Red River farmers will own their own elevators on Lake Superior and will sell their wheat to the buyers of the world and the conspiracy at Minneapolis, with their custom houses all over the valley, will be dictators no more.

Speaking of the late wheat investigation, Canning said: "The investigation is a good thing for the wheat growers. He who growls at $10,000 spent to find out if the grain laws of this state are fairly enforced is a fool or a tool of the wheat combine. If the law is justly enforced it is worth $10,000 to know it, If not enforced it will bring the defections to light so that it can be amended and will be worth many thousands,

FEATURES OF THE STATE FAIR.

Opens September 7; Closes September 12.

A Farmer's Fair.--$12,000 In Premiums For Farm Products and Live Stock.

The exhibit of cattle will be the finest ever seen in the state.

Competition for the prizes offered for county exhibits promises to be exciting.

The fruit and vegetable display will be enormous.

The poultry display will be unusually fine.

The dairy department will be filled with the largest collection of dairy products in the United States. The manufacture of cheese will be one of the features of this division.

A popular feature of the fair will be the Farmers' Institute held daily, and also each evening for the benefit of farmers who camp on the grounds. Tents and cots provided for all who wish to camp.

Friday will be "Farmer's Day." Mr. Jeremiah Simpson of Kansas is expected to be present and will talk on topics of the day.

The machinery division, both agricultural and mechanical, will be unexcelled.

There will be exciting trotting races every day.

A bicycle tournament opens the fair on Monday, Sept. 7.

Ladies races on several days.

First class accommodations on the grounds.

Half fare rates on all railroads.

PILLSBURY ACADEMY.

Pillsbury Academy located at Owatonna, Minn., was founded in 1878 and greatly enlarged in 1886 and 1889. The new Academy building is heated with steam and contains Recitation Rooms, Library, Gymnasium, Chapel, Study Room, Offices and a large Auditorium. Pillsbury Hall is heated with hot water and is furnished with every convenience of a comfortable home for young ladies. The grounds are spacious and well kept. The school is furnished with a well equipped chemical labratory and is fully supplied with apparatus for scientific teaching. There are three regular courses of study furnishing excellent training in any direction desired. The Auditorium is a fine audience room and frequent recitals, concerts and lectures afford unusual opportunity for general culture. Millitary Drill is a very popular feature of the school. The purpose is to furnish the best preparatory education at the lowest possible cost.

The mid-summer number of the Home-Maker comes in attractive guise, and with a table of contents that is good both for the eye and the mind. "Sketches in Madison Square" leads, with charming illustrations of the pretty children and characters to be found there. Ella Wheeler Wilcox has a capital, though rather daring, story, "The Old Sanders Wimin;" and Mary Kyle Dallas one of her bright stories, "An American Knight Errant." The "Three Fates" of F. Marion Crawford is continued, and growns more interesting with every chapter. Mr. Nathan C. Parshall tells the story of Nantucket, which is illustrated; and there is an illustrated skatch of Mrs. J. M. Lozier, the sixth President of the Sorosis, with portrait and sketches of her home. The "House Wife" department is excellent, and there is an illustrated Fashion department which is thoroughly sensible and practical. The editor, Mrs. Croly, writes under the head of "Our Little World," and the "Arm-Chair," and there is the always interesting "Cycle" department, which gathers all the Women's Federated Club news and is full of curious suggestion.

Presidential Conventions.

A presidential nominating convention, be it of what party it may, is always a great event for the city where it is held. The number of delegates is not so very large, rarely exceeding four or five hundred persons, but the army of hangers-on and would-be political bosses often mounts up to 40,000 or 50,000 people. For the Republican convention of 1892 Chicago is understood to be a candidate, while Minneapolis is half minded to make an effort to secure it. This reminds us that when the republican convention of 1888 was held at Chicago, "The Burlington" carried, in three days, over 4,000 Northwestern people to the city by the lake. In fact as a route to Presidential conventions, let them be held wherever they may, "The Burlington" is always at the front, reaching more prominent Western cities than any other line. For proof of this get its maps and time tables of any agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon. Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Northern Pacific Railroad Harvest Excursions.

From Eastern terminals to all points on Northern Pacific R.R. as far west as Helena and Butte, Montana, and return. Come and see the biggest wheat crops ever harvested in Minnesota and North Dakota. Low rate excursions August 25th, September 15th and 29th.

This will enable all who are in search of new homes, farm lands, mining claims, business openings and investments to make us a visit.

South Bend Journal:—When a man takes a cigar out of his mouth to tell the editor to stop his paper, that he can't afford it, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a good deal. And when he stops it because he hasn't time to read it and then goes down town and whittles a dry-goods box for hours, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a good deal. And when he stops his paper because a two-line item does not suit him, and then pesters his neighbor by borrowing the paper, the editor may say nothing, but he thinks a good deal. And when some business man says he does not advertise because it does not pay, and then uses the entire sidewalk displaying his goods, plasters them over with such cards as "I am cheap buy me," etc., the editor may say nothing, but he thinks—a great deal.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication July 23d, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Harry Fleury, unmarried, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, at 3:20 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 27; and

Whereas such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $3.80 that became due November 1st, 1889, $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1890, $9.00 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Three hundred and thirty-six dollars and four cents ($336.04), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The northeast quarter (ne¼) of Section thirty-five, (35), in Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), north, of Range forty-one, (41), west, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in said County and State on MONDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

[Last publication Sept. 10th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m., and recorded in volume "26" of mortgages, on pages 412-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty nine and 37-100 (39.37) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 (637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

(First Publication July 23d, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eleven hundred ninety-two and 30-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by John Dethloff and Martha Dethloff, his wife, mortgagors, to W. E. Damon, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of January, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 31st day of January, 1886, at 1 o'clock p. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 93.

Which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said W. E. Damon, mortgagee, to Alice S. Colton, by written assignment, dated the 29th day of May, 1886, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 4th day of June, 1886, at 8 o'clock a. m., in book 21 of mortgages, on pages 559, 560, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage viz:

The northwest quarter of Section twenty-two (22) Township one hundred and fifty-four (154) Range forty-eight, (48), containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston in said County and State, on the 5th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eleven hundred ninety-two 30-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars, Attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by George Goodrich and Emma S. Goodrich, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 31st day of May, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3 o'clock p. m., in book 45 of mortgages, on pages 338, 339, 340 and 341; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $15.00 that became due November 1st, 1889, $18.00 that became due May 1st, 1890, $18.00 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $18.00 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred and eighty-two dollars and eighty cents, ($682.80) and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the northeast quarter (e½ ne¼) and lots one (1) and four (4) of Section twenty-one (21) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-three (43) west, containing 125.59 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by William H. Godfrey, a bachelor, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 25 of mortgages, on pages 142-145.

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the principal $800 that fell due June 24th, 1891, and interest coupons for $24 each that fell due on the 24th days of December, 1888, June and December, 1889, June and December, 1890, and June 1891.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum to-wit: Nine hundred and sixty dollars and sixteen cents ($960.16); and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot four (4), and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½ nw¼) of Section fourteen (14) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-four (44) west, containing 117 acres more or less according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on Every Wheat-Producing Country in Europe Deficient in the Cerial.

What the Crop Figures Show.

THE OLD COUNTRY DEFICITS—EUROPE MUST HAVE AMERICAN WHEAT—OUR 650,000,000 BUSHEL CROP.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—There is no blinking at the fact that every wheat producing country in Europe, with the possible exception of England, is largely deficient in its harvest. Roughly speaking, Europe will want 200,000,000 bushels of wheat this winter, while according to the latest estimates received here, America will have barely 200,000,000 bushels for export.

Reporters have visited all the prominent merchants, both in Mark Lane and at the Baltic exchange, to get their estimates of the deficiency and the probable amount each country will likely require from America.

Wheat operators in London are divided between two exchanges. Mark Lane buys chiefly in samples, the bulk of its business being confined to British harvests. The Baltic buys in cargo and deals mainly with import wheat.

The following figures are derived from both sources. They are based on the most favorable estimates possible upon harvests yet ungathered. The great bulk of wheat is still in the fields, and there are fully three weeks of weather yet to count on.

The grain usually harvested in August will not be touched this year until September. If the weather turns fine the wheat crops in England and France may reach somewhere near an average. It it continues wet and unsettled, as at present, the outlook for farmers on this side of the Atlantic will be discouraging and matters will be made much worse. The figures given are based on the assumption that the remaining three weeks of the harvest season will be fine. Probably this is assuming too much, as all this week England has been afflicted with a succession of severe storms of thunder, lightning and a pelting rain. In some districts the crops are half under water. London and its vicinity has been without sunshine. Reports received from Germany and France are just as bad. In Paris it has rained 142 days so far this year. Reports received to-day from Ireland say that heavy rains and high winds have done tremendous injury to the crops, and that harvest operations have been suspended. The blight has appeared again among the potatoes.

At the best the wheat crop of Great Britain will hardly reach an average of 72,000,000 bushels. When England produces 72,000,000 bushels it must import 140,000,000 bushels more to feed its own population. Its principal source of supply is America, Russia and India. Russia generally exports 100,000,000 bushels of wheat. This year it will not export more than 60,000,000. The reports that Russia will put an export tax on wheat are declared absurd by London operators.

But the Russian ukase on the exportation of rye goes into practice next Thursday. Its effect on Germany, Austria and other countries where black bread is the staple article of food among the poorer people, is going to be very bad. No such stringent measure as this has been adopted since the Crimean war.

Next to Russia itself the country to suffer most and at once is Germany, especially Prussia. To Germany rye is the staff of life. It not only eats what it grows—viz: 220,000,000 bushels, but imports largely from Russia. This source of supply cannot be replaced.

Austria-Hungary comes third in the production of rye. Its total growth is 130,000,000 bushels. It can give no aid. In Germany the price of rye has risen rapidly and bread must become dearer. Germany is holding cabinet meetings to see what can be done about it. Russian merchants are getting as much rye as they can out of the country before the prohibition ax falls. Mills are grinding night and day, and cars have been engaged in advance on all the railways to export as much as possible before Tuesday.

The Russian ministry of finance has just issued a statement showing that Russia had no option but to prohibit the exportation of rye. Last year's rye crop in Russia Poland was 675,000,000 bushels. This year it is not likely to reach 440,000,000 bushels, which quantity falls short of the requirements for home consumption by 160,000,000 bushels. Germany and Holland alone take annually about 45,000,000 bushels of Russian rye. Wheat is to supply its place this year. Influential German journals are pressing the government on the necessity of reducing the duty on imported cereals. It is believed that the Emperor is inclined to do this, but is advised against it.

Germany generally imports from 20,000,000 to 24,000,000 bushels of wheat. This year it will, according to present estimates, be obliged to import 36,000,000 bushels. Even the most favorable estimates this year figure the deficiency at 25 per cent.

According to the latest figures received from France, one of the greatest wheat growing countries in the world, the crops will fall much behind the average. The National Association of French Millers, which is disposed to put a cheerful face on things, estimates the wheat yield at 224,000,000 bushels, against 312,000,000 bushels last year. France exports little wheat, even when it has a good crop. This year it is likely to import fully 120,000,000 bushels. Italy, as a rule, imports about 28,000,000 bushels of wheat each year. It grows on an average about 128,000,000 bushels. It is not appreciably short of wheat this year. Part of the deficiency in this cereal will be supplied by maize, of which the Italian crop is good. In fact, in many countries where the wheat crop is poor the maize and barley crops are large. It is not believed that Italy will want 2,000,000 bushels of wheat at the highest estimate.

Austria's yield is estimated at 40,000,000 bushels, which is far below the average. It generally ships 8,000,000 or 10,000,000 bushels, but this year it is likely to import that amount.

Hungary will show about 150,000,000 bushels, Roumania last year produced 64,000,000 bushels, exporting 27,000,000 of it. This year it will not have a surplus of more than 16,000,000 bushels.

India will probably export from 40,000,000 to 48,000,000 bushels. It has a fair crop, almost up to her average of 200,000,000 bushels. Wheat shipments from India last week were 1,800,000 bushels. The total quantity of Indian wheat now on passage to Europe is 6,500,000 bushels, as compared to 30,800,000 bushels this time last year.

All the wheat operators to whom reporters talked said there was no question of famine, but simply the problem of a rise in prices, which would bring severe distress to continental countries which are exceedingly economizing under high prices. Men who have been in the business 40 years said they had never seen a more thriving condition of the wheat market. Within a fortnight wheat has advanced six shillings a quarter, of eight bushels, in the London market. Red winter wheat shows an equal advance, and flour is up in proportion. The reserves from last year are small in England and on the continent.

The opinion of Sidney Klein, of the firm of William Klein & Sons, one of the wealthiest wheat firms, is worth quoting: "American farmers ought to realize that they have the whole world under their thumb. They are letting wheat out freely. Russia is 172,000,000 bushels short of rye for home consumption. Most of its rye used to go to Germany, where the whole army was fed on rye. Belgium, Holland and Germany are also short of rye. This deficit must be made up by wheat from somewhere. Italy won't need more than 12,000,000 bushels for import this year, possibly less. France has fallen short, and will require about 96,000,000 bushels. England will need the usual import of 140,000,000 bushels. I should think that the states's harvest would yield fully 650,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. One of the big handlers in the Northwest puts it as high as 700,000,000 bushels. This may be extreme. One of the best crop statisticians puts the yield at 650,000,000 bushels. Europe must have wheat, and American handlers have the market entirely at their command. Almost any reasonable price will be given for it. There are two things which are factors in the present market. I believe that the young German Emperor will finally get the import duty taken off of wheat shipped to Germany. This would send up wheat four or five shillings per quarter all over the world. American speculators will probably run it up 15 or 20 cents a bushel beyond present prices; then, if Russia prohibits the exportation of wheat, the price will mount from 30 to 50 cents a bushel. These will be the two great factors for the advancing price of wheat in the near future. There is next to nothing left of last year's stock. Everything has favored the states and hurt the continent this year. In 1879 there was almost a famine in England and America commanded the highest prices it ever got. America's wheat crop beats that of any wheat-producing country in the world."

The greatest authority in England on wheat is Dornbusch's list, which is a private circular, sold only to subscribers in the trade. The last issue indicates that there is no cause for immediate alarm; but it fully admits the gravity of the situation, which is due to continued bad weather. It says that in Holland and Belgium only medium results are expected from the grain crops. In Germany the broken weather interferes greatly with harvest work. As a result the rye crops do not fulfill expectations indulged in earlier in the season. Italian wheat is not doing as well as expected. Latest estimates say that about 25,000,000 bushels will be required. The most remarkable feature of the market is the abstention from buying on the part of the British merchants and millers. They are waiting until something definite is known regarding the results of English harvests. Continental buyers take all they can get.

VERDICT SATISFACTORY.

LARIMORE. Aug. 26. [Special.] The committee of the M. E. church appointed to investigate the charges against Rev. S. N. Griffith met in this city on Wednesday, and after an earnest investigation, lasting from nine o'clock Wednesday morning, all day and all night until five o'clock Thursday morning, came to an unanimous verdict. Rev. Alex McGregor of Grand Forks was appointed counsel for the prosecution and Rev. J. W. Griffith of Crystel, counsel for the defense. Rev. A. T. Foster, presiding elder of the district was ex-officio chairman and R. M. Hardman of Bathgate was elected secretary. After all the evidence was in and carefully weighed, the committee made the following report.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.

We, the committee to whom the charge against Rev. S. N. Griffith was referred beg leave to report that the charge was not sustained.

CHAS. A. MCNAMARA,
JOHN R. YOST,
WILLIAM LOVE,
C. F. GREEN,
M. B. TURNER,
DANIEL C. IRWIN,
R. M. HARDMAN,
Select committee.

The committee was then discharged. Moved and carried that we adjourn.

A. T. FOSTER, Chairman.
R. M. HARDMAN, Secretary.

In the September Wide Awake there is good history, biography and travel (see "The Prince Imperial" and "Stanley's Bananas"), outdoor sport and indoor ethics (see "Two Fishermen," "The Margaret-Patty Letters" and "All Because a Bluebird Sang"), curious natural history (see "How I tended Silkworms," "An Odd Set," and "Two Acquaintances of Mine"), fanciful tale and the higher sort of fairy story (see "Peterkin and Pollikin go to the Fair," and "A Tale of the Black Forest"), practical art-lessons (see "Drawing the Child-Figure"), a masterly serial (see Margaret Sidney's "The Peppers Grown Up"), a fine array of short stories (see Mrs. Bates's "Red Lilies," Mrs. Sherwood's "Sovereign of '45," Clarissa Potter's "Aunt Betsey's Cap Box," etc.), pages of original anecdotes and pictures and poems galore; among them Hassam's drawings of "Gossamer Girls," and Mrs. Mary E. Blak's "Masquerade" are especially delighting. $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop Company, Boston.

Red Lake.

ENGINEERS PRONOUNCE THE PLAN TO DREDGE RED LAKE RIVER PRACTICABLE.

Minneapolis Journal.

The fascination that surrounds a country hitherto unexplored exerts itself as strongly over the United States engineer as over any other mortal, at least so says Engineer Jackson, of the recently returned Red Lake expedition. The object of the expedition was to discover whether or not Red Lake could be made available as a reservoir for supplying the Red River of the North in such a manner as to maintain the latter at a navigable depth throughout the open season. There seems no doubt from conversation with the returned explorers that the plan is practicable and, in fact, easy of accomplishment. Civil Engineer F. L. Douglas, of Minneapolis, and W. F. Hunt, of St. Paul, were also of the party. Red Lake—that is the southern half of it and the only portion explored so far—is 27 miles wide from the south shore to the narrows and 38 miles long. It has six large rivers feeding it in the east, south and west, with the outlet to the Red River of the North on the western shore, a stream 40 feet wide and with an average of 7 feet depth, known as Red Lake River. At this point the work of the government will be concentrated.

The feeders referred to are the most of them good-sized rivers. On the northeast side is Battle River, 150 feet wide and 10 feet deep on an average. On the southeast is Black River, the largest of them all, 200 feet wide, and with an average depth of 20 feet. A tour up this river from its mouth demonstrated that an uniform depth of 20 feet was maintained for six miles from its mouth, and thence for an unknown distance 15 feet. Milk Creek, on the south shore, is 20 feet wide, and at its mouth is the Chippewa Indian agency. Sandy River, on the southwest, is about 40 feet wide and seven feet average depth. Ten miles to the north, directly in the west of the lake, is the Red Lake River, which traverses the marshy country between the lake and the Red River. The entire west shore as far as the eye can reach is one vast marsh, teeming with all sorts of water fowl, and covered with rank slough grass growing to a height of 10 feet. At the northern extremity are the narrows, an isthmus 100 feet wide connecting the lower lake with the upper. Engineer Jackson thinks the solution of the reservoir problem will be in the dredging of the Red Lake River to such a depth as to increase the flow into the Red River. This, he says, can be done without danger of lowering the lake level to any appreciable extent, for the reason that its sources of supply are many and adequate to furnish material for a much greater outlet. It is pointed out that no course has as yet been decided on, but the one referred to is regarded as the most practicable. The effect of improvements such as are proposed in the Red River country will be good. Most of the farmers in the country it traverses, ship their grain by river in barges. It is to admit of the passage of boats of greater capacity for the carrying trade, that the improvement is contemplated. Mr. Jacobson cannot at present furnish an estimate of the cost of dredging Red Lake River the required depth, but from the very nature of the stream and the work proposed to be done in it, the expense cannot be great.

There is heavy pine and tamarack timber in the northeast and south of the lake. It is just as wild to-day, except for the marks of Indian habitation as it was when Columbus set foot on the coast and thanked his stars for getting ashore somewhere. An interesting point on the east shore of the lake is the mouth of Battle River, which is thus named from the fact that there the Chippewas and Sioux fought their last battle. The Indian mounds on the river banks proclaim that many a dusky hero has found his last resting place here by the Red Lake of the North.

BUTTE, Aug. 24.—The Twelve Temptations was a revelation of scenic beauty to-night at Maguire's. Curtains of unexcelled magnificence pleased the eyes, while the dancing forms of scores of beautiful and grotesque figures occupied the foreground. The fairyland scene, with which the show closed, was the finest scene ever produced on a Butte stage. The human frog and the equilibrist furnished their share of the evening's entertainment. The show will be repeated to-morrow night.—STANDARD.

PRIZES FOR WHEAT.

SCHEME TO STIMULATE THE PRODUCTION OF GOOD WHEAT BY THE FARMERS.

Probably no one is more interested in the improvement of Northwestern wheat than the Hon. C. A. Pillsbury, the head of the great Pillsbury-Washburn Flour Mills Company of Minneapolis. He has found a great many oppratunities in the past to stimulate the production of good wheat, and now has a new scheme, which he is carrying out in connection with the experiment station of the state university and the officers of the State Fair. Last year the experiment station sent out a large quantity of pure Scotch Fife seed. Mr. Pillsbury now offers the following prizes for wheat grown from this seed: First $30; second, $25; third, $20; fourth, $15; fifth, $10. The basis of the award is as follows:

Color of grain	100	do
Plumpness	100	do
Percentage of gluten	100	do
Quality	100	do
	500	points.

The prizes will be awarded to the five best samples in the order in which they approach the 500 points mark. To compete for the prize each farmer must send one bushel of the wheat grown from the seed furnished, in a suitable sack, addressed to D. N. Harper, care of Secretary State Fair, Hamline, Minn. A small, typical sheaf of wheat must be sent as soon as harvested; also a statement giving the following information: When ripe and harvested, kind of land, amount of seed sown, amount of crop from same and date sown. The sample sent must not be hand-picked, or will be disqualified. All samples must be plainly marked with name and address of grower.

Following are the official conditions of competition:

1. It shall be planted on new ground—that which has not grown a crop—or on summer fallowed land, or on land which has just raised a crop of potatoes, corn or millet.

2. A record shall be kept of the date when planted, size of plot, time when ripe and dates when harvested and threshed.

3. A small sample of the crop (in addition to the bushel sent to the state fair), together with a copy of the record shall be sent to D. N. Harper, Experiment Station, St. Anthony Park, Minn.

4. It shall be seeded at the rate of at least one bushel per acre. The wheat will be distributed in packages not to exceed five bushels, and it is suggested that one bushel be the rate at which it is seeded when a press drill is used, and a bushel and a peck when seeded broadcast.

5. A bushel from the crop shall be sent by each farmer to the state fair of 1891. The expense of transportation to the state fair will be borne by the experiment station, and the wheat will then be the property of the experiment station. The wheat will be distributed next year.

Excursion to Minneapolis Exposition.

The Northern Pacific Railroad will sell excursion tickets to Minneapolis at one and one third fares for the round trip, plus twenty-five cents for admission to Exposition, on the following dates: August 25" and 28", and September 1, 4, 15, 18, 22, and 25th.

We will sell September 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12th at one fare to St. Paul and return plus 25 cents.

Tickets sold on above dates are good return the first Monday following date of sale,

The most conspicuous feature of the forthcoming September number of the Review of Reviews will be an elaborate political article upon the Hawaiian Queen and her kingdom. The article is admirably illustrated with portraits of the Queen, the young Heiress Apparent, and the principal man who are in authority or wield controlling influence at Honolulu. The special timeliness of the article is due to the manner in which it discusses the international relations of the Sandwich Islands, and particularly the recent negotiations which have sought to secure for the United States an exclusive control of the best harbor in the Island for a naval station and to establish such special relations as would amount to a protectorate. The article is written by a high authority in Honolulu, and will arouse the keenest interest in diplomatic and goveanmental circles in Europe and America. All the world now recognizes the immense strategic and commercial importance of the Hawaiian group in view of the rapid development of North Pacific trade, and in view of the approaching completion of the Nicaragua Canal. The discussion of Mr. Blaine's recent negotiation, and the Canadian attempt to render them unsuccessful will be read with very marked interest in both countries.

The new sidewalk now being built along west Main from Robert street to Rap's new walk causes kicks innumerable as it materially changes the order of things along there.

This week practically finishes harvesting in Polk County, with the exception, perhaps, of a few pieces of ate grain. As a rule the wheat is of excellent quality and lots of it.

Prof and Mrs. Moore returned from thetr vacation visit to Canada last Friday morning all ready for their duties in school. The fall term commences on Monday next.

I. E. Baker, inspector for the Millers' and Manufacturers' Insurance Co., spent Friday and Saturday in the city. Baker was for a long time head miller for Lee & Herrick, in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Read, of Chicago, are visiting with their grand-daughter, Mrs. C. H. Saake. Mr. Reed has large property interests in the county and considers it a good investment.

Boots and Shoes? Call at the new Opera house store and see that nice line of good, substantial and cheap ones that Sture offers. You can find as elegant or as plain styles as you wish.

McKinnon Bros. have moved their machinery into their old carriage shop on Main street, north of the Merchants' National Bank, where they may be found by all their old friends and patrons.

The date set for the Twelve Temptations Co., has been changed to Monday night Sept. 7th intead of Tuesday night Sept. 8th as announced in our last issue. Note the change and get ready for the big show.

Stacking and threshing will be the order of business on the farms from now until that important work is all done. While many will thresh from the shock about the usual amount of stacking will be done.

We are told that Mrs. E. E. Bangs has engaged a store in the new Reckitt Block and will take possession with her millinery establishment as soon as it is ready. Tom Morris has also secured a shop in the same building.

Doc. Dunlop and Will Peterson returned last Thursday from a visit to Will's farm, near Fosston. They also extended their trip about 70 miles into the wilderness and enjoyed some most excellent fishing and hunting.

Samuel Putnam delivered an address on Liberalism at the old opera house on Tuesday evening. He was introduced to the audience by Elias Steenerson. Suggestive—the prophet Elias introducing Samuel to a Crookston audience.

"Good bye," said Prof E. J. Grefthen on Monday evening, "farewell everybody. I am going down to Fosston tomorrow morning and if I live to return I will see you all again, later." He goes out on a missionary tour to schools.

A jolly party started for a big hunt north of St. Hilaire, on Monday. They are T. G. Thompson, O. H. Lucken, Andy Locken and A. G. Anderson. They are coming home when they destroy all the game there is in that country.

THE JOURNAL is informed that G. M. Barber has rented the store room in the new block on the corner of Main and Second street and will put in a stock of boots and shoes just as soon as the building is completed and ready for occupancy.

Our reporter drpped into Sture's store in the new opera house block and was shown as fine a line of crockery as ever brought to this city. And the the prices? That's the funny part of it. We dont see how he can sell them so cheaply. He invites your inspection.

Did it ever occur to you that Mr. L. Fontaine, of Fontaine & Anglim, and Mr. Donavan, have departed for the great wholesale markets of this country for the sole purpose of buying novelties for the opening, which takes place on the 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th of September.

McKinnon Bros. have rented the room heretofore occupied by their machinery business to a Mr. O. R. Williams, of West Superior, and the room is now being made ready for occupancy as a dry goods house. It is to be finished and ready by Sept. 5th.

Come to the opening of Fontaine & Anglim's new store on September 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th, and feast your eyes upon the unparalleled stock while it is in its full glory. You know how welcome our friends, the public, always are, regardless of whether you buy or not.

Steenerson Bros., started thrashing for the season on Chris. Steenersons place last week. They report 22 bushels per acre of wheat of excellent quality. We are told that they will not put that engine on the Rainy Lake go-to-thunder road until after threshing season.

The militia company, at the meeting on Friday evening, elected P. Bodine 1st Lieut. and Will Hoch 2d Lieut. P. J. Russell had previously been elected captain. The boys intend to put a military play on the boards at an early date. They expect to have their uniforms about the middle of this month.

Dame fashion has been successful in creating many new, rare and novel designs in dress goods this fall. We leave it to any unbiased judgment whether our claim of being the leaders in extensiveness of assortment, good styles and maintaining the lowest prices, is just and well deserved. See our ad. on local page.

A. Sture would very much like to purchase—right away quick—any quantity of new oats, for which he will pay the highest market price. Dont wait until everybody has plenty of oats for sale and then kick because we didn't tell you where you can find a good market right now. Go to Sture at the new Opera House Block.

Jacob Stambaugh, of Youngstown, Ohio, was in the city last week. Mr. Stambaugh is a Polk County old-timer, and has not lost all interest in us yet, and when he gets lonesome among the Buckeyes he takes a trip up to this airy land to get a breath of fresh air. He is confident that McKinley will carry Ohio this fall.

Rev. R. H. Battey will occupy his pulpit again at the Congregational church next Sunday. Morning subject "Self Sacrifice; evening "Soul and the Witch of En-dor." The Lord's Supper and admission of new members into the church after morning sermon.

Bro. D. P. R. Strong, publisher of the only paper at East Grand Forks, the Review, gave THE JOURNAL a pleasant call on Wednesday. Bro. Strong seems to be a writer from way back and he is making a good local paper, thus filling a "long felt want."

THE OPENING

——OF OUR——

NEW STORE

——TAKES PLACE ON——

Sept. 16th, 17th, 18th & 19th

Our modern system of store keeping and the progressive changes we have adopted to serve our customers quickly and courteously, and the arrangement whereby each of our departments is, of itself, exclusive and under special management, is a forward step in comparison with the average stores in our community. Through this system little details in merchandising with us receive the same minute attention as the larger ones, and we appreciate, and shall further try to merit the praises we hear bestowed upon us by our patrons, that through this completeness of every detail in our stock, their wants are supplied, as well, and often better, than were they residents of one of the larger cities. We have enlarged our is well under way. If there is any worthy going style missing in our stock, it is certainly rare and obscure. The latest fabrics, such as "Cote de Cheval," or Bedford Cord, "Henriettas," "Vigogne," "Drap d'Avazure," "Cordurette," "Melange," "Vigoureaux," "Fancy Jacquanets," "Cheviots," "Camel's Hair Effects," and Broadcloths are way out of sight. When we speak of "Broadcloths" we mean Broadcloths—flannels are not Broadcloths, even if some merchants have fallen into the habit of calling them so. Broadcloth has a twilled back. You can't mistake them if you are careful. Full range of colors in three qualities—$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. The latter is a genuine French Broadcloth and is considered to be the best sold in this country.

Quilts and Blankets.

Our Quilts and Blankets are shown on the main floor. No dark and dingy basements; no stairs to climb. In order to do a large early business, some special values will be offered.

John Dohaney, brother-in-law of Geo. W. Lewis, arrived in the city on Sunday evening from a trip to Washington, and stopped off for a visit with his relatives. Mr. D. is proprietor of the opera house at Council Bluffs, Iowa, than which there is none finer in that state. He looked over our opera house while here and complimented it highly.

Sheriff Hill, of Clay Co., came up on the N. P. train on Tuesday morning. We do not know what he came for, we only know that he left on the next down freight with R. L. Elder, who informed our reporter, just before the sheriff got him, that he had been doing nothing worse than harvesting one of the finest crops in the Valley.

Iver Krohn has taken possession of his new lunch room and has everything arranged in apple pie order. Below he has his kitchen department where the nicest lunches imaginable are concocted and upon the first floor is the lunch room where you can roost upon a high stool while you enjoy them. He will also keep a choice line of tobacco and cigars on tap. Open day and night.

Quite an exhibition of wild western scenes was given on Main street on Saturday of last week. A wild three-year-old steer, belonging to Hoch & Ott, got loose in the streets and the boys got one of the cow-boys after him with a pony and a lasso. After an exciting chase of only a few minutes duration Mr. steer was duly captured after the most approved "wild and wooly west" style and led to the barn. A hundred or more of our citizens were interested spectators of the interesting spectacle.

If you are looking about for a place to invest in real estate of any kind you should not neglect to find out what golden opportunities are offered in Polk County this fall. With good markets practically assured there is no better place for investment than is presented right here. If you want a farm you can buy one for at least one-half what it is worth. This is also true of all kinds of real estate in the county but it will not remain so for very long.

W. D. Wilson is making preparations to move his business into the store now occupied by Fontaine & Anglim's clothing store and expects to be ready for business on Monday or Tuesday next. The name will be changed from the Bankrupt Store to "The Fair" because the boys intend that there shall be no fairer place in the city to trade. They will give a fair exchange of goods for your money.

Fred G. L. Hunt, representing the Minnesota State Fair, passed through Crookston on Saturday. He has traveled on bicycle over eastern and southern Minnesota and North Dakota, and is now on his way back to St. Paul. Finds crops in good condition; saw no grain of any account injured by frost; crops splendid all over. He uses one of W. W. House's English pneumatic bicycles, and has averaged 60 to 80 miles per day.

J. V. E. Wyatt opens out his new stock this week in the new quarters. He has the old stand fixed up far more elegantly than ever before, with closets for his caskets and racks for his picture frame mouldings, all nicely painted. He is also prepared to sell you anything you desire in the line of furniture at close prices and it will be to your advantage to call when you need anything in his line. He invites all JOURNAL readers to give him a call.

HAIL INSURANCE.

In our last issue we republished an article from the Pioneer Press in which the writer of said article very broadly intimates that the farmers were such a precious set of fools that they would not insure in old line companies, therefore the said old line companies were actually thinking of withdrawing from the business. Said the writer:

"The insurance of farm crops is a business that has made slow headway. Farmers are the most conservative class in the community, and are slow to unite for mutual advantage. Only a few of them have seen the benefits of insurance clearly enough to go into it. Their numbers being so scanty it has followed of necessity that the premiums charged them by such crop insurance companies as were in the field were heavier than they felt able to bear, and far higher than they would need to be if the risks were more widely distributed. Therefore, it is that the companies doing a business of insurance against losses by hail or tornadoes has been but small, and that some of them think of discontinuing that department of their work altogether."

On the other hand the methods of conducting insurance of this class have been such that the farmer pays his good money for insurance and virtually takes all the risks himself. For instance, suppose a farmer insures in an old line company, and his crop is destroyed by hail, and supposing somewhere in the country another farmer's crop is destroyed by frost to such an extent that he can only get 25 or 30 cents for his wheat. The adjuster for the insurance company bases the loss the farmer sustains upon what the frosted wheat is worth in the market and the insured farmer gets practically no insurance. It does not take a shrewd Northwestern farmer forever and a day to catch onto these points and to ascertain that insurance does not always insure. A case in point was told us recently of a farmer near Gentilly, who paid an old line company $140 in good hard cash for insurance on 300 acres of grain. The grain was totally destroyed by hail and the adjuster actually offered the man $40 to settle and the man had to take that or nothing, as he found by looking up the matter, that he had no recourse. The fact that the old line companies do not intend that their insurance shall insure has become patent to the farmers and that is why those companies get no more business than they do, as there is hardly one farmer in Polk County who would not insure if assured that he would receive what he pays for and he would be willing to pay more than 2½ cents per acre for it. The mutual plan is better that this, but the trouble with that is there is liable to be too many companies. One company, covering every acre in the State would probably be all right, but we are not sure but that a better plan would be for the State to take up the matter, (if it can be legally done,) and assess every acre of land in crop from 2½ to 3 cents per acre, to be collected as other taxes, thus creating a storm insurance fund from which all losses could be paid. The adjuster could be one of the county officers. If this arrangement could be made practical we believe that it would be the most satisfactory plan yet suggested.

A General Jail Delivery.

Sometime on Saturday night six of the prisoners confined in the county jail took French leave of that institution, and, strange as it may seem, their absence was not discovered until Sunday afternoon. It seems that the jailer, although a capable young man, placed too much confidence in the honesty of his boarders, and they took him in. They have been in the habit for some past of lying in bed until after breakfast had been handed in and the jailer had gradually gotten into the habit of not looking into the cells to satisfy himself that they were there. So on Sunday morning when he handed the breakfast into the corridor he simply inquired of the four who remained where the rest were and when they told him the boys had not got up yet, instead of satisfying himself of the truth of this statement he took their word for it and departed. In some manner the prisoners had secured saws and files and cut through the floor—not a very hard job as the flooring is much decayed. One of them was captured at East Grand Forks and returned on Monday, and he is the worst pill in the box. This escape but emphasizes what THE JOURNAL has often urged—the need of a better jail. As it happened there were not any extra desperate characters in the jail at the time, but the necessity for a good and sufficient jail is now too apparent. Will our county dads take the hint or will we have to wait until something more serious occurs?

SHIP YOUR WHEAT

While I am using present warehouse and there is room, my contractors can have wheat of their own raising, shipped for one cent a bushel including use of sacks to haul the grain there. Others can have same for two cents a bushel. I have a large supply of sacks and will rent them on reasonable terms. Two or more persons can join and fill a car. Four days at least allowed to fill a car at above prices and as much more time as desired, if room is not needed for others.

[20-31] D. N. TAYLOR.

F. E. Stauff spent the Sabbath in the city. In conversation with THE JOURNAL man Fred said: "Polk County is getting to be the poor man's paradise. With one more crop like the present there will be no better place in the world for the laboring man and the man of average means, and to-day I consider it the best place in the world for investments in any kind of property. I believe your farmers will see their farms appreciate in value at least 100 per cent within the next two or three years. Everything indicates a rapid and permanent increase in business for the next year or so."

An Ugly Tumble.

On Wednesday night of last week Mr. E. S. Corser met with a severe accident at his farm house three miles east of the city. Together with his wife, he is at the farm superintending harvesting operations. About nine o'clock in the evening of that day he was up stairs in his room making preparations to take the early train north, and stepped out into the hall to go into another apartment to get some clothes he wanted. The stairway is unprotected by a banister, and in some way he managed to step off and fell to the foot of the stairway. He was taken up insensible and Dr. Just summoned who remained with him until nine o'clock Thursday morning, at which time Mr. C. had not recovered consciousness. His partner. Mr. Elwood, of Minneapolis, was wired and arrived on Friday morning, at which time Mr. Corser was considered out of danger and he has been slowly improving ever since. It was a fearful shock, but fortunately no bones were broken.

Practical Christianity.

The Steenerson Bros., Andrew, Eli, Levi and Chris., told Ole Rude, (one of the hail sufferes,) that if he would come down to the farm they would give him 25 bushels of oats each. It would not require that amount from every farmer in the county who can afford it to furnish plenty of oats for every man who was hailed out. If any other feel that way THE JOURNAL would be pleased to announce that fact.

This Makes Us Smile.

The railroad boys are just now wearing a broad grin over the rumor that is floating about that President J. J. Hill's party which went north last week mistook the date of the open seasame of the prairie chicken and shot a few on Saturday, or perhaps Sunday, anyhow before Tuesday morning, and rumor further says that the party duly deposited $110 with hizzoner, some justice of the peace of Kittson County. It is said that the magnate's only remark was "Sam Hill!"

Fontaine & Anglim are bustling right lively to get their clothing department ready to get into as soon as possible. It will occupy the room recently used as the dry goods department. They expect to move the clothing in this week and be all ready for business next week. They are rapidly getting the dry goods department adjusted in the new part and soon Tim Donovan, aided by an efficient corps of willing helpers, will have that department shining just like gold.

Z. A. Cadieux informs THE JOURNAL that they have not had a frost in Terrebonne as yet severe enough to injure tobacco plants, of which there are many patches in the town. What wheat remains uncut is too far advanced to be hurt by frost but we expect that when Terrebonne farmers take their wheat to the elevators to sell it we shall hear the same old cry, "Frosted wheat." There is no frosted wheat in Polk County this fall but we confidently expect to hear of lots of it bye and bye.

On Saturday evening D. Jacobus, Capt. P. J. Russell, Will Hoch and Billy Davis started for Goose Lake with the avowed intention of camping out a few days and incidentally taking in a few ducks and geese on the side. When within a short distance of THE JOURNAL stock farm they saw a flock of ducks and in making preparations to bombard them the Captain managed in some way to get a charge of duck shot which took off a portion of the thumb of his left foot and its nearest neighbor at the first joint. He was brought back to town and Dr. Dunlop dressed the wound and for a while Pat will dress that foot in mourning and wear a cane, but several hundred ducks and geese are living to-day that would not have been if the party had carried out its original intentions.

President J. J. Hill and a party of his friends passed through the city by special on Thursday of last week. Mr. Hill stopped an hour or so in Grand Forks to look over the site of the new depot there. We remember, not long ago, when the city of Grand Forks was contemplating voting a bonus for the N. P. R. R., that parties in the Great Northern interest made dire threats against that city should the bonds be voted. Well, the bonus were voted and ever since no sacrifice seems to be too great for the Great Northern road to make for that city, and now they are to build, (according to Mr. Hill) the finest depot in the Northwest, conveniently located, while that "distinctively Manitoba" town is left to shuffle for itself.

Something over a year ago the oldest son of J. C. Couverette signed the total abstinence pledge for a period of one year. Now the boy was somewhat fond of cider, home-made wine and was not averse a glass of beer occasionally, and the father was somewhat in doubt as to whether the lad really appreciated the nature and obligations of the pledge, so he had a talk with the lad and told him that should he live up to the pledge faithfully for the time he would make him a fine present. Well the time expired a short time since and as the boy had faithfully kept his pledged word his father went to C. H. Saake's on Monday and bought the finest violin and case that he could find as a present for the lad, who will now renew the pledge, as he is so inclined, and then perhaps it will be a piano next time.

Fisher Bulletin:—Last Sunday was Joe Jarvis Jr.'s birthday anniversary. Joe has been existing on this mundane sphere for nineteen long seasons, and he resolved to have a little ice cream and a proper observance of the important event. Dan Scobey and the Editor of the Bulletin drove out to Jarvais estate in the afternoon. After presenting Joe with a chuck full cigar case the guests proceeded to partake of their open hospitality. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith were guests, as was also Miss Aggie McConnell. A repast of delicious ice cream and cake was provided, to which ample justice was done. After a two houre's visit, we departed. Mrs. Jarvais and Miss Bertha are splendid hostesses and Joe, Sr., as an entertainer and story teller is certainly superb.

"The Twelve Temptations."

On Tuesday evening Sept. 8th, the Orand Opera House will present a spectacle which for its worth as a stage entertainment has never been excellend here. Reference is made to the "second edition" of William J. Gilmore's magnificent spectacle. "The Twelve Temptations," which will be introduced here with every thing new in the way of scenery, ballets, premiers, specialties, costumes and music. It is one, if not the largest theatrical organization that travels, which has a numerical strength of sixty-seven people.

STORY OF THE "TEMPTATION"

"The Twelve Temptations" presents a mythical story of the elements, an idyl of ice and sun. It is not more improbable than the average "yarn" that is woven into the ordinary drama. It requires some little elasticity of the imagination, of course, to people the solar and polar region with creatures and objects so familiar, and to make a Prime Minister of Boreas and a goblin of Jack Frost. The overcritical may be disinclined to yield to the blandishments of gnomes, spirits and queen of sun and snow, and some may be found who are so matterof-fact as to deny these strange creatures the delight of merry-making, the perils of love, the pangs of jealousy, the bliss of fellowship and all the sympathy, sorrow, happiness and all kindred feelings possessed by mortals. The same persons declare Willam Tell to be a myth; that Shakspeare was not the author of his own plays, and that Pocahontas existed only in the fancy of Captain John Smith. Surely something ought to be left to us in the way of enchantment so why not spare the fairies, the elves and the sprites?

It is of this materal Mr. Yale has fashioned a legend alternately warm and cold, changeable as the season and one that flips from the council chamber of Boreas, past village and sea, through caverns of the Green Dragon, over golden galleys and jeweled terrace to the home of the dazzling Queen of the sun. The plot is thus epitomized; Zero, the Queen of the Polar Region, has fallen in love with a mortal known as Hubert, a valiant Count of Wurldburg a supposed principality in Norway. With the aid of Boreas, her Prime Minister, Zero concocts a scheme to place Hubert in her power, Boreas, in the disguise of a monk, visits Hubert and inflames his mind with marvelous stories of the gold, silver and jewels that lie buried in the Arctics. Hubert hesitates, remembering that eleven of his ancestors had perished in the attempt to possess these treasures, but Boreas quiets the young hero's fear by stating that the twelfth of his race was destined to win the great prize. It is from this incident the novel narrative derives its name. "The Twelve Temptations," Hubert finally consents to make expedition, and, with his followers, agrees to set sail the next morning, the disguised Boreas to accompany them as guide. In the mean time, Zero to make certain of the young hero's undivided love, dispatched one of her attendant goblins Jack Frost, to abduct Hubert's betrothed, Felicia, whom she intends to offer up as a sacrifice to the Green Dragon, as a tribute for total possession of the Arctic Kingdom. Hubert is warned by Solaris, Queen of the Sun, of the porposed abduction, but arrives too late to prevent it. He therefore embarks immediately for the Arctic Region in pursuit of his betrothed. On the voyage he is attacked by Malay pirates, led by Jejeeh who impersonates a shipwrecked mariner. Jejeeh and the other pirates, after being cared for by Hubert, endeavor to massacre all on board. In this they are thwarted by Snoro Apropos, one of Hubert's henchmen. The Malays are captured and are about to be executed when Boreas, throws off his disguise and claims the entire party as prisoners of Zero. Through magic art, summoned by Boreas, the ship becomes a wreck and is driven into the heart of the frigid zone, where all perish except Hubert and Snoro, who are eventually rescued from death by Zero. Hubert discovering the power of Zero, apparently accepts her proffered love, and is proclaimed king before her court. Bright Eyes, a snow nymph, who has become enamored as Snoro, informs him of whereabouts of Felicia. Snoro tells Hubert, and they resolve to rescue her. Their plan is overheard by Zero, whereupon she repudiates Hubert and attempts to remove him as a captive, but is unexpectedly thwarted by Solaris, the Queen of the Sun, and Hubert's good angel, Hubert subsequently finds the hidden treasure and returns to Norway with Felicia and Snoro. The marriage ceremony is about to be performed when Zero and her attendents appear and endeavor to carry off Hubert and Felicia, the plot being prevented by Solaris, who banishes Zero to her icy dominions never to return.

A Good Suit.

For fall wear is the subject which is now engaging the attention of most men, and we remark, by the way, that our advertising columns contain the names of several reliable dealers who can supply all wants in this line. But we started out to say that in the purchase of a suit a good deal of care is necessary to get the worth of your money. There are lots of so-called "all wool" goods, that have in their composition more cotton than wool. If being well suited in spending money is all you want, then if you are a traveler, buy your ticket over "The Burlington" and you cannot fail to be pleased. It goes almost everywhere—Chicago, St. Louis, Peoria, Kansas City St. Joseph, Omaha, Denver, Cheyenne, the Black Hills, Des Moines, Dubuque, Burlington, Quincy, LaCrosse, Winona, St. Paul and Minneapolis, are some of the places it reaches over its own track. Apply to local agents, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C. B. & N. R. R., St, Paul, Minn.

Spectacle Made Practicable.

The production of spectacle has been made practicable outside of the large cities by Messrs Gilmore and Yale, who have given years of study to this interesting style of stage amusement. Two special sizes of scenery are carried, so the production is feasible upon any stage of fair dimensions. Everything is carried, so the cities that are visited are not depended upon for anything. The prices of admission are no more than in the large cities, and the same grand performance is given. The company is not "split up" for the smaller cities, as many suppose, but comes in its entirety, so you can see spectacle at home without going to the larger points. Tuesday Sept. 8th.

State wighmaster Ed. McManus left for Duluth on Monday evening after a pleasant visit of a few days. Together with a Mr. Kellogg, of Devils Lake and the writer, he made a tour of inspection of our new opera house and they both united in the expression "its a beauty." Kellogg, says it is every whit as good as the Grand Forks institution and a great credit to the city and its enterprising builders.

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Harry Fleury, unmarried, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of August, A. D. 1889, at 3:20 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 27; and

Whereas such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $3.80 that became due November 1st, 1889, $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1890, $9.00 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $9.00 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: Three hundred and thirty-six dollars and four cents. ($336.04), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The northeast quarter (ne¼) of Section thirty-five, (35), in Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), north, of Range forty-one, (41), west, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in said County and State on

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m., and recorded in volume "36" of mortgages, on pages 442-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 87-100 (89.87) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 (637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication July 23d, 1891]
[Last publication Sept. 3d, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Edward Labree, unmarried, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 20th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 1:30 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 3; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $21 that became due May 1st, 1890, $24 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $24 that became due May, 1st, 1891.

And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage, and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred and eighty-six dollars and ninety-five cents, ($886.95), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼), and lots three, (3) and four (4) of Section thirty-one, (31), in township one hundred and forty-seven (147) north, of Range forty (40), west, containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on

MONDAY, THE 7TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER,

A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

THE CAMPAIGN

In the Old "Buckeye" State.

The campaign in the Buckeye state has opened and as the battle cry is: "As Ohio goes this fall so goes the Nation in '92," the eyes of all are turned that way to watch one of the most interesting political struggles in the history of the country. The fight while not exactly a three cornered one is between the two old parties, who are not only fighting against each other but jointly, as well, against the new Peoples party, a combine of the Alliance and Labor party. And here is the question: "which of the old parties is the new party going to cripple the most?" That the new party will elect its candidate for governor, John Seitz, not even members of the party claim; but he is going to hurt someone. Governor Campbell will not have the hearty support of his own party because of his expose of the Cincinnati Board's rottenness. He was bitterly opposed in the convention and the men who opposed him declared they would not support him if nominated, but would spend money to defeat him. Since the opening of the campaign the governor has been ill and unable to make any speeches. On the the contrary Major McKinley, the champion of Republicanism, and thereby the protector of American institutions and workingmen, was nominated by a convention which knew but one name and that "McKinley!" He is making a square, clean, honest fight and daily convincing voters that the principles advocated by his party are for the benefit of our country and people. There is but one thing that can defeat him and that—ignorance. Ignorance of the worth of the great bill which bears his name, which is only just now commencing to show how inestimable it is going to be for the laboring man, farmer and manufacturer, for whose benefit alike it was framed. Could the battle be postponed long enough to allow the bill to show its benefits more plainly nothing could defeat him. However many of the bill's most bitter enemies have been convinced that it can only be of benefit to the country and many more will be before the polls are open in November. Ohio voters will know their duty and "McKinley is all right!"

Thanks Awfully.

Our esteemed contemorary of the Todd County Argus boldly tells the world that "Crookston has one railroad." Why, bless your generous soul, Bro. Sheets, Crookston rejoices in two great trunk lines, don't-cher-no, the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. Where can you have spent your time mostly that you don't seem to know that?

The average Republican country newspaper, in the state of Minnesota, is bothering its massive brain about the gubernatorial contest next year, and a large majority of them advocate the nomination of Hon. Knute Nelson. As far as their object is for the best interest of the people of the State this is all good and commendable, but as far as it is only for the sake of mere party preferment or success it is not so well. If they had advocated the nomination of Nelson last fall, as they should have done, there would have been some sense in it.

From the nature of the reports we are getting we consider it impossible that any serious damage was done the wheat crop by frost. When tobacco and garden stuff are not damaged more severely than they have been, it would be impossible to injure the wheat.

LIBERALISM

According to Samuel.

We dropped in to hear the lecture on Liberalism by Samuel Putnam on Thursday evening of last week, and must say that if the gentleman had no better shots in his locker than he fired on that occasion "christianity or orthodoxy" need have nothing to fear from his assaults. His discourse was a network of sophistries and stories, some witty and some not so witty. In the first place he placed "christianity or orthodoxy" in an utterly false position and reasoned, or attempted to, from that basis. After scoring "christianity or orthodoxy" from the ground up he drew a wordy picture of all that free thought would do for humanity, very much of which christianity aims to do for mankind. After all we failed to see what he was quarreling about, for much that he said free thought would do for mankind is just what christianity aims to and does accomplish. He found great fault with the different denominations but seemed to hold a special grudge against the Methodists. He might just as well argue that there should not be so many families in the world but only one family.

Slightly About Ourself.

Last fall we decided, if we could raise the incumbrance then on THE JOURNAL home, to build a more commodious structure in the spring, and so we sent out a statement to every subscriber who was in arrears on our list. These statements were sent out in December, a little late for some, and the result was that we did not accomplish our object. We had hoped this fall, with the help of a magnificent crop of wheat, to be able to accomplish our object but the hail totally destroyed the crop and now we will have to depend wholly on our patrons if we accomplish our purpose next year, and we can accomplish it if we but have the different sums due us. We are now at work on our subscription list and as soon as they are made out shall send to every subscriber a statement of his account and we trust that each one will make an effort to settle the account. There are but few who would not willingly donate the small amount he owes us to help out an unfortunate fellowman upon occasion but THE JOURNAL does not ask for donations—it only wants business and the small amounts due us, and we feel confident that these will be cheerfully accorded. We expect to have our statements ready to send out about Oct. 1st, perhaps a little sooner, and trust that all will be ready to respond. We shall send no statements to those whom we know have been hit by hail and should any such receive one it will be because we did not know that he had lost his crops. We are in that boat ourself and can sympathize heartily.

THE JOURNAL man acknowledges the receipt of a free season ticket to the Madison County (Nebraska) fair which occurs at Madison on Sept. 24th and 25th. We very much regret our inability to accept this kind invitation but it will be impossible for us to be there to any great extent as we are obliged to be at Rochester, N. Y., on those dates to attend the annual reunion of our old 1st New York Vet. Cav. Reg't, also we have to stay at home and attend strictly to our business on those particular dates and besides there is only one of us anyhow. However we just would enjoy going down there and see what those Nebraskans are up to anyhow and convince 'em how they are foolin' away their time cultivating Nebraska soil when such a glorious country as the Red River Valley exists so near 'em. We would invite the boys up to see our threshing machines pounding out 25 to 30 bushels of the world renowned No. 1 Hard and oats and barley proportionately. We have to admit, however, that it makes us just a little tired to compare the enterprise of Madison County, that gets up such a grand display as they advertise, while the great county of Polk—an empire in itself with its 40,000 population, cannot find the time to show what we have got. Such a display as we could make this fall would set every farmer in the country itching, aching to catch onto some of the dirt that could produce such crops. However there is some excuse this fall but if we continue so for all time there will be none.

Agent Fegan went out to enjoy a chicken hunt the first minute that the law said "go," and he discovered a fact in natural history that will be liable to result in a change of time of legal shooting back to the old date. He discovered that the chickens having become used to a certain date for ripening, are beginning to grow three-legged—probably because they were left unpicked so long and had nothing else to do to fill in time.

A SOLDIER'S MEMORY.

An Imposing Monument to the Memory of Col. George, Their Commander, Unveiled.

An Address Eulogizing the Memory of Col. George Delivered by Gen. J. W. Bishop.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Special Telegram to Pioneer Press, Sept. 2.—Despite the cloudy, cold weather, in response to the invitation of Custer post, 44, G. A. R., to other posts throughout the state to be present at the reunion of the Second Regiment Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, about 300 members arrived in this city yesterday and to-day. Of the Second Minnesota Regiment about 150 of the survivors are present, making in the neighborhood of 450 old soldiers in attendance. The headquarters have been decorated with $2,500 worth of silk and present a beautiful appearance. At one end of the room, tastefully decorated, is a large picture of the brave soldier in whose honor the reunion is held and whose monument was unveiled to-day—Col. James George.

In accordance with the arrangements made by Custer post the soldiers assembled at their headquarters at 9 o'clock this morning, where a general handshaking and renewal of old acquaintances was made. Many were the old stories and experiences related, and tears stood in the eyes of many scarred veterans as mention was made of their rapidly decreasing numbers.

At 11 o'clock ranks were formed, and accompanied by Custer post and visiting soldiers, the Second Minnesota regiment marched to Oakwood cemetery to attend the exercises of unveiling the monument erected to the memory of Col. George.

GEN. BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

Arriving there, prayer was said by Rev. A. R. Pope, of this city. Gen. Bishop was then introduced, and spoke in the following well chosen words:

We have assembled here to-day to commemorate the life and services of an honored and prominent member and commander of the Second Minnesota regiment. More than thirty years have passed since he with us was mustered into the service at the historic post of Fort Snelling, and more than twenty-seven years since, upon the expiration of his enlistment, we parted with him under the frowning shadow of Kenesaw mountain. Yet how well we all remember him. Noble and soldierly in form, voice and demeanor, he was a conspicuous figure in every assembly of men in military or in civil life.

His previous military experience in the Mexican war gave him with general approval the initial rank of lieutenant colonel in our regiment, and in that office he participated in the battle and victory of Mill Springs, and was commended by name in the brigade commander's report for "great valor and judgment in the discharge of his duty." On Col. Van Cleve's promotion to brigadier general shortly afterwards he succeeded to the coloneley, which he held to the end of his three years term of service. He commanded the regiment in the battles of Chicamauga, where as the record reads, after fighting all over the field, and losing more than 42 per cent by casualties, "the Second Minnesota had not a single man among the missing or a straggler during the two days' engagement."

Col. George was here recommended for promotion by his brigade, division, corps and army commanders. What unworthy influence may have opposed these recommendations is as yet unknown to us. It is sufficient to say here that he and his regiment bravely earned them on that bloody and desperately contested field. His physical infirmities, aggravated by the hardships and exposures of this severe campaign made it necessary for him to seek rest and relief for a time at home, and during his absence, the regiment enlisted for three years and went to Minnesota on veteran furlough. Col. George rejoined the regiment as it returned to the front with the avowed purpose of serving out his three years term, if he should live so long.

This promise he faithfully kept, and was mustered out at Chatanooga near the end of June, 1864. Returning to his home he laid aside the harness of war, and as a modest and estimable private citizen resumed the avocations of civil life. Our personal acquaintance and intercourse with him were limited to the three years of his service in our regiment. I had met him but once before the war, and had but few interviews with him after the regiment was discharged.

But our association during that memorable three years was confidential and intimate. The exigencies and experiences of active military service develop and bring to the surface a man's true character. No man who is cowardly, mean or selfish can for three years successfully mask these ignoble qualities from his comrades. Col. George had none of these. Defferential and respectful in the presence of superiors in rank he commanded their confidence and respect by his soldierly obedience and intelligent comprehension or orders. Courteous and considerate towards his subordinates and careful of the comfort and interests of his men,

THEY ALL LOVED AND TRUSTED HIM.

He was in some degree incapacitated by his years and physical disability from active personal attention to details of manual and tactics and discipline, and assigned these to subordinates; but he required good results and commended honest effort to secure them. He was as he had reason to be, proud of his regiment—proud of its personnel, of its conduct, of its sacrifices, of its achievements and of its final record. Its steadiness, coherence and managability under fire in the repeated engagements at Chickamauga, which compelled the admiration and commendation of the brigade and division commanders, was to him a theme of perpetual satisfaction during and after the war.

While, I think, he felt that many less deserving men had received from the war office recognition and promotion for services at Chickamauga, he used to say that he had rather be known in history as the commander of the Second Minnesota regiment on that bloody field than as a major general appointed through political influence. Col. George had a clear understanding of the political situation before and during the war. He was a prominent and earnest Douglas Democrat in the memorable campaign of 1860, and he was an equally prominent and earnest supporter of the Union and of the government when the war came upon us in 1861.

In December of that year at Lebanon, Ky., a dinner was given by the officers of our regiment to others of our brigade and division which we had recently joined. An after dinner exchange of brief, patriotic addresses was had, in the course of which an officer of a Kentucky regiment said in substance that while we were all agreed that the rebellion must be subdued and the government maintained, he hoped and understood that the war was not, as many of his fellow-citizens believed it was, to be prosecuted as a crusade for the destruction of slavery.

Col. George replied to this that himself and probably a majority of the officers of his regiment had, like his esteemed Kentucky friend, voted for Mr. Douglas; that he did not know of any man in his regiment who had enlisted as an abolitionist; that this was a war to suppress a wicked rebellion, and to sustain the Union and the constitution, and that it would not cease until these objects had been fully accomplished; that whatever slavery and its influence and advocates might have had to do in bringing on the rebellion, it was not as yet an object of attack, or recognized as a national enemy, but he warned his loyal Kentucky comrades that if, and whenever, the institution of human slavery appeared as an obstacle in the path of the Union armies, it would be trampled under loyal feet and forever crushed and destroyed, for "the Union must and shall be preserved."

How well this patriotic and prophetic declaration was fulfilled we all know. At that time, however, opinions on that subject were seldom so definitely formed and so impressively stated. Of his life here as a private citizen, others more competent than I will doubtless speak to you. We, his surviving comrades, are here to honor him as a soldier and to dedicate to his memory this monument to which it has been our privilege to contribute. Standing here for all time to come, let it teach to all who look upon it a lesson of loyalty and conscientious devotion to duty. More than a quarter of a century now intervenes between this ceremony and the close of the war. A generation of young men, born since we were mustered out of the service, were old enough to vote at the Presidential election three years ago.

Let us hope that occasions like these will to them shorten the perspective, and bring into nearer view the terrible four years of war and sacrifice through which the blessing of peace and and permanent prosperity have come to them and to their prosperity. And contemplating their cost, may they assume the active responsibilities of governmental affairs with better appreciation of the precious trust committed to their hands.

As for us—old boys—unwelcome as the confession may be, we are reminded as we look into each others faces, that we are growing old. In spite of rules and discipline we drop out of the ranks oftener and stay out longer, and here and there one lieth down to rise no more, while the column marches on. Van Cleve and Davis, and others, within the past year have disappeared from our thinning ranks. Let us close up closer comrades and keeping steadfastly in the line of duty, await the final summons, always at the "ready."

FROM A LIFE LONG FRIEND.

After a dirge by the band Judge Charles M. Start, of Rochester, was introduced and spoke for about a quarter of a hour. His remarks were listened to with rapt attention and interrupted by frequent applause. He spoke of Col. George more from the standpoint of a man, giving no stereotyped eulogy, but showing the colonel as he was, a man among men, and a brave soldier among soldiers. Being long and intimately acquainted with him, Judge Start was peculiarly fitted to speak of him, and his word pictures of the character and peculiarities of the colonel were truthful and life-like.

At the conclusion of Judge Start's remarks the monument was unveiled by Mrs. C. R. Van Cleve, of Minneapolis.

After the unveiling exercises the closing benediction was pronounced by Chaplain Gleason, after which the soldiers marched back to the G. A. R. headquarters. Here an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Darling, who made a short but eloquent address, and tendered the G. A. R. the freedom of the city. At 12:30 a complimentary lunch was given the soldiers by the Woman's Relief Corps.

COL JAMES GEORGE

was born May 27, 1819, in Jefferson county, N. Y. In 1854 he came to Olmstead county, Minn., where he pre-empted a claim of 160 acres, with a land warrant obtained for services in the Mexican war. For several years after his removal to this county he practiced law in Rochester, until June, 1861, when he volunteered and was made captain of Company C, Second Minnesota volunteers. On July 23 he was made lieutenant colonel. He commanded the Second Minnesota regiment in several minor engagements, and carried the day in the famous battle of Chicamauga, in which he lost 40 per cent. of his men. After his return he served four years as city justice of Rochester. He was candidate for congress on the Douglass ticket in 1860 and was before the legislature in 1865 for the United States senate. He married in 1842 Miss R. S. Pierce, of Preble county, Ohio, who, with one son, Edward George, of Crookston, survives him.

The colonel died March 7, 1882, and his remains were laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery in Rochester, Minn. Since then his grave has been unmarked until now it has pleased the survivors of the Second Minnesota regiment to erect over his last resting place the monument dedicated to-day.

The monument is a massive and handsome shaft of the cottage pattern, and is cut from Barre (Vt.) granite. The top portion bears the inscription, "James George, Colonel, Second Minnesota Volunteer Infantry. Born May 27, 1819. Died March 7, 1882. A loyal and worthy citizen and a brave soldier in the Mexican war, 1846, and in the civil war, 1861-1864." On the base the name "George" stands in relief. It has a commanding position in Oakwood cemetery.

PETER'S MULE.

The boys think they have a pretty good joke on Pete Cornelius. Among other fiery steeds, Peter is the proud possessor of a fine but rather indifferent mule that had just as soon stand in the barn all day as to haul a load of wheat to the city, and so it was that when Pete got his first load ready to bring to town and attached the mule thereunto, the mule refused point blank to draw—said he had rather pull the last load to town than the first. Pete took counsel of a pitchfork that stood handy and served a pretty sharp notice upon the mule's afterwards; this proved to be the mule's strongest point and the argument he entered in rebuttal knocked the pitchfork out in the first round and busted Peter's hand wide open. Pete then appealed the case to the ace of clubs which was conveniently nigh, but the mule still retained himself as attorney for the defense and entered up judgment on Peter's nose, drawing the claret freely, and sending Pete to grass. At this point Peter's wife appeared with a petition to discontinue the case and not having a shot-gun handy Pete agreed to the motion and the mule won the case. Pete wears his hand in a silk handkerchief now and says "darn a mule, anyhow!"

The Fertile Journal says: Clerk of the court, Nels Muus, was down looking after his farm last Wednesday.—Borlaug has sold his livery business to Hougan & Peterson, who will put up a new building.—Nelson & Opheim have rented the English building on the north side and will put in a stock of clothing.—Calvin La Due's family are having a serious time with typhoid fever. Five of the family are sick of it.

The Warren Register says that Geo. C. Holden has returned to Warren from Demersville, Mont.—A. P. McIntyre, formerly landlord of the Windsor hotel, has again become landlord of that popular hostelry.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vine spent Wednesday in Crookston.—A. B. Nelson has sold his residence to Sheriff Jack Kivel.

THE CONCERN OF ALL.

Railroad Employes Will Unite Against Radical Legislation.

Minneapolis Journal.

The railway employe's meeting at the capital yesterday afternoon was called to order by William Watson, of the Minneapolis & St. Louis. About 400 were present. James McCutcheon, roadmaster of the Milwaukee, was introduced. In his address he said that the object of this gathering was not to "down" the Farmer's Alliance, but simply to take measures for the protection of railroad employes from hostile legislation. John B. Copeland of Crookston, conductor on the Great Northern, and president of the organization, said:

"The agitation among the laboring men does not come from the laboring men themselves, but largely from politicans. Every candidate, when on the stump, tells the laboring men that they are down trodden and that the government could, if it would, pass laws that would make them all happy. The workingmen have, many of them, come to believe this. They are led to lose sight of the fact that wealth can only come from industry, economy and frugality. The farmers are told that all their troubles come from corporations, and are led to attack the institution for which we work. These companies must earn a fair interest upon their capital, and if they do not we suffer. If some of the bills that were introduced at the last session of the legislature were passed, the wages of every one of us would have been reduced, some of them one-half."

Mr. Copeland asserted that the defeat of the Currier bill last winter was largely due to the employe's club. Had the bill become a law it would have reduced the tariff on wheat 42 per cent and on lumber 37 per cent. In answer to the claim that the commissioners would not put such a law into effect the speaker noted that the Minneapolis Eastern had been ordered to reduce its switching charges to $1 per car, when it had been plainly shown that it cost the company $1.14. Mr. Donnelly, Mr. Copeland thought, was like the tumble weed, tossed by the caprice of the lightest wind. The speaker referred sarcastically to Farmer Erwin, and in speaking of J. J. Hill, said that in spite of all the talk in that direction, Mr. Hill distributed the money which fed him and his family, as well as thousands of others. A committee of one from each branch of the railway service was appointed to formulate a plan of campaign. The committee reported in the following resolution:

Resolved. That we form a state central committee, composed of one member from each division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Switchmen's Union, Brotherhood of Trainmen, Order of Railway Carmen, Track and Bridge Association, and each local club of railway employes. Its duties shall be to to take charge of all matters of state prominence that affect the welfare of railway employes and disseminate information for guidance of the different organization throughout the state, with a view of securing a united and successful issue of any point found necessary for the protection of the employes.

While awaiting the committee report the following resolution was offered and adopted:

Resolved. That it is the sence of this meeting that the proposition to organize or unite railway employes to protect themselves from the oppression of adverse action of public officers is heartily approved, and that every man here work with a view of securing the cooperation of all employes within his reach. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

Responding to the query as to what he knew about the prospects for immigration in the near future, Mr. M. B. Brown said: "Well, if I can judge anything from the number and character of the letters I have received during the past summer, I should say that very many people are interested anyhow. In the past few days I have been too busy to attend to these letters and I turn them over to C. M. Lowe to answer. I just received to-day a letter from a party in New York inquiring about cheese factories and creamery prospects. Yes, I look for a large immigration in the near future and should not be a bit surprised to see the population of Polk County double within a year or two. As you know, we have the soil to raise big crops and a climate unexcelled. If men want good land in a healthy climate we have just what they want."

Judging by the number of prairie chickens displayed at the various meat markets we should think that the crop was panning out several bushels to the acre. This is the only means we have of knowing however.

We'll be There!

THE OPENING

—OF OUR—

NEW STORE

—TAKES PLACE ON—

Sept. 16th, 17th, 18th & 19th

Our modern system of store keeping and the progressive changes we have adopted to serve our customers quickly and courteously, and the arrangement whereby each of our departments is, of itself, exclusive and under special management, is a forward step in comparison with the average stores in our community. Through this system little details in merchandising with us receive the same minute attention as the larger ones, and we appreciate, and shall further try to merit the praises we hear bestowed upon us by our patrons, that through this completeness of every detail in our stock, their wants are supplied, as well, and often better, than were they residents of one of the larger cities. We have enlarged our

CLOAK AND CARPET

DEPARTMENTS.

To double their former size, all of the space formerly occupied by the office and stairway is now taken up with our increased stock of Cloaks and Jackets for Fall Wear.

The Fall season in the

is well under way. If there is any worthy going style missing in our stock, it is certainly rare and obscure. The latest fabrics, such as "Cote de Cheval," or Bedford Cord, "Henriettas," "Vigogne," "Drap d'Avazure," "Cordurette," "Melange," "Vigoureaux," "Fancy Jacquanets," "Cheviots," "Camel's Hair Effects," and Broadcloths are way out of sight. When we speak of "Broadcloths" we mean Broadcloths—flannels are not Broadcloths, even if some merchants have fallen into the habit of calling them so. Broadcloth has a twilled back. You can't mistake them if you are careful. Full range of colors in three qualities—$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. The latter is a genuine French Broadcloth and is considered to be the best sold in this country.

Quilts and Blankets.

Our Quilts and Blankets are shown on the main floor. No dark and dingy basements; no stairs to climb. In order to do a large early business, some special values will be offered.

A decided bargain—good heavy 10-4 scarlet wool blankets at $3.00 per pair.

All wool 11-4 white blankets $5.00 per pair.

All wool 10-4 white blankets, $4.00, $5.00, $5.50, $6.50 and $7.00.

COMFORTABLES.

We make our own comfortables; we know what goes into them. No shoddy; no trash; nothing but pure, clean cotton. They're home-made comfortables in every respect.

Print comfortables, large size	$2.00
Challie " "	2.50, 3.00
Extra fine cotton Pongee comforts	3.50
1 case best Prints	5c
1 case 36 inch striped Henrietta	25c
1 case 36 inch Tricot	25c
1 case 54 inch flannel Suiting	60c
1 case 38 inch, all wool, Henrietta	50c

Our Opening will be noted for the special values.

Don't forget the date--16th, 17th, 18th and 19th of September.

Miss Edith McGrew has gone below to visit friends and see the fair and exposition.

The train on the Great Northern on Monday evening was two and one-half hours late.

Don't forget that Gervais' "the hustler's" opening days are every day.

Miss Edith Copeland returned from St. Paul on Sunday in time for school on Monday.

Jake Ide has been pounding out his wheat this week. He finds a yield of 22 bushels to the acre.

Comrade T. Harris is pounding out his wheat this week at the rate of 22 bushels to the acre.

Mrs. W. E. McKenzie is visiting friends in Minneapolis and doing the State fair this week.

The Sheriff and his deputies are on the jump these days trying to keep up with the business of his office.

Prof. Knudson of the Crookston Business College went to the Fair and Exposition via the N. P. line this week.

Herb Mason departed for Chicago on Monday evening to buy new goods. On his way he will take in the great State Fair.

B. Preistley & Co. black goods, the best made in the world, in silk warp, plain all wool and fancy effects at Gervais' "the hustler's."

Alderman A. C. Schmidt is said to own one of the best hunting dogs in the city, for which he has been offered a very long price.

Kilroe Bros. are rushing the brickwork at the new block on the corner of Main and Second streets. They are hustlers from way back.

F. M. Brown has accepted a position in the Scandia-American bank and his genial countenance will become a feature of that institution.

The Grand Opera House was filled to its utmost capacity on Monday evening. It beats all how many "Temptations" our people can resist.

A handsome line of Ladies' Aprons just received a Gervais' "the hustler's."

The fall term of school "took up" last Monday and now the small boy "with shining morning face and snail pace is creeping slowly to school."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Creamer and Miss Nellie Mullen departed for a visit to Osage, Iowa, on Sunday evening. They will visit the State Fair enroute.

Bert Welles dropped down upon us last Friday. Took tea with the family of J. G. McGrew, Esq. Bert looks as natural as life and twice as handsome.

The new addition to the central school building will be completed within a few days and add very materially to the beauty and convenience of that institution.

Dozens of threshing crews left the city Sunday evening for the harvest fields and have been uninterruptedly pounding out the golden No. 1 Hard so far this week.

Henry Nolan has the Broadway bridge fully completed and travel is now resumed. What Henry doesn't know about a bridge we should not attempt to tell him.

Mrs. J. L. Bailey and Miss Minne departed on Saturday evening for a visit with old friends in Wisconsin. Enroute they will visit the State fair and the Minneapolis Exposition.

The Grand Forks Herald calls us down on our statement that Grand Forks never knuckled to the Great Northern system. All right, George, have it that way if you like.

Joe Hoch leaves on Saturday evening for Wabasha to get his family, and expects to return next week prepared to live at home. Joe is building up a good trade in the new meat market.

Bert Duntley went out for a hunt on Tuesday.

John Locken is pounding out 25 bushel wheat.

Wm. Marin's wheat yielded 26 bushels No. 1 Hard per acre.

Mrs. Thune is visiting the State Fair and the Expo this week.

Register Dickmann and wife have gone on a visit to Winona.

New goods arriving in immense quantities at Gervais' "the hustler's."

W. C. Kelso came down from Hallock to see the play Monday evening.

Mrs. John O'Brien has gone to Chicago on a visit to relatives in that city.

Miss Annie Schouweiler was out visiting with Mrs. Anna Klinger a few days.

E. W. McCabe, route agent for this territory, was in the city a while last week.

Quite a number talk of going down to hear Donnelly speak on the Fair grounds.

That new landau of S. L. Collins' seems to be in great demand. Everybody wants it.

Tom Wallace says wheat in Fairfax is turning out from 23 to 29 bushels per acre, No. 1 Hard.

Ald. I. U. Jennings with Col. Goegas and Max went out for a hunt on Tuesday afternoon.

N. P. Stone has bought the old Brower residence, on the corner of Broadway and Seventh streets.

Charlie Vine won the broncho at the raffle on Monday evening and took possession on Tuesday.

Mr. McLaughlin, Fisher's prominent merchant, took in the "Twelve Temptations" on Monday evening.

Will Cleary claims to have shipped the first carload of wheat of the season over the Great Northern line.

Mr. Frank Bivins threshed out a little wheat and finds a fine sample of No. 1 Hard, 25 bushels per acre or so.

We see by the daily papers that J. O. Milne has received the appointment as deputy weighmaster at Duluth.

A. J. Arnold is busy at work this week on the carpenter work repairs to Joseph Gelhouser's residence on the hill.

Dr. M. Leguee was summoned to Edna by telegraph on Monday evening to see a sick horse for H. B. Budd.

Sture wants your trade and will make it an object for you to trade with him. Call at the new store in the opera block.

John O'Brien's mother and sister, who have been visiting in the city, returned to their home in Belvidere, Ills., last week.

Duke Jewell now has the St. Hilaire run and yard work. Duke says it seems nice to get a good square meal at home every day.

P. M. Dauser and wife were at Thief River Falls last week where P. M. goes occasionally to take counterfeit presentments.

S. L. Collins received another carload of those fine working mares this morning. Go and see 'em if you want a reliable team.

Wheat opened out on Monday at 81 for 1 Hard, 79 for 1 Northern. On Tuesday morning a drop of one cent was quoted.

Rev. O. H. Elmer has gone to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to accompany his wife home. He expects to return with her on Tuesday next.

Senator Henry Burkhardt is expected up from Wabasha in a short time with an eye to business in a line that is sure to pay a big percentage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Childs buried their little infant on Tuesday. They have the sympathy of many friends in this their sad bereavement.

Miss Matie Brown has accepted a clerkship with Gervais the Hustler, and entered upon the discharge of her new duties on Monday morning.

The corner stones for the new building on the corner of Main and Second streets have arrived and were brought to to the site ready for business this week.

Henry Silver, of Barker, Montana, returned to his home last Thursday, after a pleasant visit with his brother, A. M., in this city. Likes our city very much.

The little babe of Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Battey, which has been quite ill for some days, is very much better and strong hopes are entertained of its ultimate recovery.

On Wednesday of last week, Dr. Dunlop, assisted by Dr. Just, successfully removed an ovarian tumor from Mrs. A. Godbout and the lady is said to be doing nicely.

Henry Steege is pounding out the golden grain on his farm just outside the city limits. Thinks it will turn out from 22 to 25 1 Hard. R. G. Marlette will handle it for him.

It looks natural to see Pete Misgen driving the pop wagon about the city again as of yore and Pete says he is glad to get back. And that is about the verdict of all who go elsewhere to do business.

L. F. Menage,

[14-26] Minneapolis, Minn.

J. O. Sustad was on the State Fair grounds Monday and says he saw the finest display of stock and grain ever made in Minnesota.

Judge Ives and H. B. Davis, of Chicago, went up to St. Hilaire by train a week ago Monday and returned to this city by boat. The return trip occupied two days and was very enjoyable.

George Vine's horse took a notion to do a little delivering on his own hook on Monday and the way he distributed orders for a minute or two was a caution. The runaway was not a serious one.

The 12 Temptations Co. arrived Sunday evening via the N. P. R'y. They carry their own scenery and have a lot of it. The company was offered $900 to remain at Grand Forks for Monday evening.

Mr. Waterstadt, an old gentleman, aged 68 years, died at his residence in this city last Friday and was buried on Sunday. John Waterstadt, who is employed in the Crookston brewery, is his son.

Lots of calls for hired men in the threshing field last week. The men were demanding $2.50 per day and best offers were $2. Some crews are made up at $1.50 and $1.75 but $2 seems to be the regular thing.

Two train loads of wheat for Duluth went south on the N. P. line Sunday evening and two more on Monday evening. At this rate they will be running half a dozen trains a day before the end of the season.

Later reports from J. J. Ide's fields state that his wheat will pan out 30 bushels to the acre on an average. Some of his wheat yields 35 bushels per acre. Tom Harris gets an average of 25 bushels per acre.

At the sheriff's sale of the Ste. Croix elevator in this city on Tuesday, T. B. T. B. McManus and Adam Farley bid it off for $1,800. We are told that they intend to arrange to handle wheat through it right away.

Anderson, the druggist, and Olson, the jeweler, expect to occupy the building on Robert street just vacated by the Bankrupt store. They expect to be all ready for business this week.

Lee & Herrick are anxious to secure enough wheat to go to work on at once. They wish to start up and run right along now as long as the present crop lasts. Bring in your samples and see what the boys can do for you.

"Well, I don't know anything," said Jack McLaren to our reporter on Tuesday morning, "only that I am too busy nowadays to attend to anything but repairing elevators," saying which he departed in haste to catch the departing train.

Uncle Bailey goes around with a solemcholly smile on him all the same like he greatly missed something. And we reckon that's about the size of it for Mrs. B. and Miss Minnie have gone to the busy marts of trade for new fall goods.

Mrs. Fred Chapin and little Addison departed for their home at Devil's Lake on Monday morning. Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Chapin's mother, accompanied them and will remain for a fortnight. Meanwhile Tom will have to bake his own slapjacks.

The members of the Twelve Temptations Co. were lavish in their expressions of praise of our new Opera House. The only objection being that the stage was not quite large enough for all of their scenery. They were well satisfied with their house.

County Attorney A. R. Holston was down to Dassel on a visit to relatives last week. His wife's sister, Miss Huldah Nordine accompanied him on his return on Friday morning, and will remain with her sister and attend school during the fall term.

Will Cleary says that he has bought several carloads of wheat already, but it is all No. 1 Northern. One thresher whom we heard talking about his experience so far, said that he had threshed no wheat that weighed over 57 lbs. to the stricken bushel.

Rev. R. H. Battey received a telegram on Monday from Hesper, Iowa, announcing the serious illness of his father, an old gentleman 80 years of age, and started for that place on the evening train. He hopes to be able to return in time for services next Sunday.

At the time The Journal went to press Wilson expected to be in his new quarters this morning and fully ready for business by Friday morning. He has painted and papered the room throughout and will have neat and attractive quarters. Call and see the Fair, now located in Ed. Walsh's store, corner of Main and Robert streets.

Walter Walker, who has been agent or the Minneapolis & Northern Elevator Co. at Argyle, has been sent to run their elevator here this season. Mr. Walker comes well recommended by Argyle people.

We met Rudy Burkhardt on Monday and he had a smile onto his face a rod wide or so. Upon inquiry we found the reason to be that he expects his wife and little ones to return next week with Joe Hoch's family.

The Journal learns on good authority that Wm. Box, Sr., does not like living in that far western State of Washington not one little bit. Said he had lived in old Minnesota so long that no other place seems like home to him nor ever can.

All who have seen it unite in the opinion that the State fair now in progress is the best one in years. Such a display of stock and grain never was on exhibition before. It would be worth the while of every farmer who can do so to attend.

Andrew Knudson was arrested last Saturday on complaint of a young lady in the town of Godfrey and kept in limbo until Monday, when with one of his bondsmen, he went out to Godfrey and settled the affair by marrying the fair plaintiff.

The party that went up north of St. Hilaire hunting, last week, T. G. Thompson, O. H. Lucken, Andy Locken and A. G. Anderson, shot over 200 chickens during the short time they were there. They report that they were very shy on ducks.

Mr. Bell, the Fergus Falls hotel man, was looking over the city last week. While he did not say so in so many words it was thought that he was up to see about the prospects for renting the building now going up on the corner of Main and Second streets.

J. W. Cupp, of Bellevue, Ohio, arrived in the city last week. Mr. C. expresses himself highly pleased with what he has seen of Crookston and thinks we have a fine city. He has accepted a position in The Journal office and will try life in Polk County awhile.

Remember that R. G. Marlette has rented a warehouse in Carman and will handle wheat this fall. Hundreds of farmers have done business with R. G. in the past, and we have heard no complaints of his methods as yet. Before you sell your wheat see what he can do for you.

In the list of examiners appointed to help Chief Staples in the examination of pine lands on the Red Lake Reservation, we see the name of A. C. Rhinehart, of Polk County. A. C. is a leading Democrat and his appointment is as good a one as could have been made—in that party.

The new bakery firm of Gunther & Lauterman, who opened up on Second street last week, had a bit of bad luck on the start by the cracking of their new oven, which necessitates their taking it all down and rebuilding. They are said to be A 1 bakers and will no doubt do well.

On Monday one of the catch basins in the hall over Krogh's restaurant got filled up and overflowed and before it was discovered a young deluge came down into the restaurant. A few dollars will remedy the business—unless the plastering comes off, in which case it will be more serious.

A. N. Hixson starts his threshing crew this week. Among the list of hail sufferers Hixson's name was not mentioned, but he tells us that his loss on barley and oats will be fully $2,000. Notwithstanding this he has offered one of his neighbors who suffered more, 25 bushels of wheat for seed.

Tom Young got into a bit of misunderstanding with his broncho on Tuesday afternoon and the broncho started to run and ran in the lane back of the oat meal mill where he lit broadside upon an old stove, making a decided mash, and came out looking very much cut up over the affair.

Mrs. James George and Miss Edith Farnham, mother and neice of Edward George, Esq., arrived in the city on Wednesday morning for a short visit. Mrs. George is the widow of Col. George, of the old Minnesota 2d, to whom was recently erected at Rochester a fine monument, the occasion of the unveiling of which appears on our first page.

From reports received at The Journal office we judge that there is a scarcity of threshing machines in Polk County which will oblige many to stack who expected to thresh out of the shock. It is far better for the wheat if properly stacked to go through the sweat in the stack than in the granary, and the majority of farmers prefer to stack when practicable.

On our first page we republish from the Pioneer Press the account of the unveiling of the statue erected by the comrades in honor of Col. Jas. George, at Rochester. His son, Edward George, of this city, had been calculating to attend but owing to the extreme illness of his wife, who was lying very low with typhoid fever, he was prevented. It was a sore disappointment to him.

Harry Wyand told our reporter on Tuesday that John and himself would commence threshing 1500 acres of grain this week. An old Steuben County, N. Y. granger would be paralyzed to think of a 750 acre crop in one year, but that is nothing up here. Hixson has 1200 or 1300 acres himself alone, Pete Cornelius has over 800 acres, and the woods are full of farmers on our prairies who have from 400 to 1000 acres.

CROOKSTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Crookston, Minn.

Appearances indicate that fall plowing will be late unless we have a very late fall, as the rank growth of straw this year entails more than the usual amount of labor to handle. Your wide-awake business farmer is putting in every hour that he can not employ in securing his crop at the plow and this will tell on the fall plowing. Farmers generally agree that the earlier the land can be plowed in the fall the better it will be for the next crop.

G. M. Barber has purchased the stock of boots and shoes of Carl Riedesel, on Second street, and when the new block is completed will move it into the room he has rented and add a large stock thereto. Mr. B. is a Crookston old-timer, having been in business here several years since. A short time ago he sold out and went out to the new State of Washington, but the fact that he soon sold out there and returns, speaks volumes in favor of Crookston. Mr. B. will no doubt do well in his new venture.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

On Sunday last while John Cowan was driving a self raking reaper up to John Wyand's farm he managed to fall off it, when near the stock yards, and the bull wheel passed over his head, bruising it badly and cutting one ear almost entirely off. He was found in a semi-unconscious condition and Chief Gonyea notified, who procured a hack and took the man to Dr. Watts' office, who patched him up in good shape. How he escaped instant death is the conundrum.

"Have you any of that twine left?" said A. N. Hixson to The Journal man on Tuesday morning. When assured that we had a little he said: "I have had my eye on you and determined if I had to get any more to help you out, and I will use all I need of it. I want 100 pounds this morning and may want more." We have a small amount yet on hand and should any one happen to want it, we would be glad to close it out to help out farm expenses a little.

GIRL WANTED.

A good girl for general housework at once. Apply to Mrs. Wm. Beck, or at The Journal office. [21-22]

Cape May, N. J., Sept. 8.—President Harrison this morning appointed Hugh Thompson register of the land office at Crookston, vice H. Dickmann removed.

Band Program.

The Queen City band will give their regular Friday evening concert at the corner of Main and Second Street, presenting the following

Program

1. March, "Calico."
2. Descriptive piece—Charge of the Hussars.
3. Overture, "Le diadem."
4. Waltzes, "Bid me Good by."
5. Gavotte "Rivolett."
6. Quick Step, "Hooly."

That Broncho.

Soon after the rafiled broncho was delivered to Vine on Monday afternoon T. B. McManus got his eagle eye upon him, and, having purchased one elevator in the morning, he naturally wanted to take in one in the afternoon, so he bought the broncho and told his hired man to mount and ride him home. The man mounted him all right and rode him home—i e almost. Just across the bridge on Jerome's addition the broncho decided not to go, commenced to buck and soon had the man piled up in a ditch breathless. He was discovered soon after and taken to Durand's drug store, where it was discovered that no serious injury was sustained.

What Will Your Destiny Be?

Every person has, or at least once in his life has had, a desire to know what his future would be. A good opportunity is given every day as long as Prof. G. Anfin, Clairvoyant, stays in this city. Prof. Anfin is a born clairvoyant and can tell with certainty what has happened and foretell what shall happen in the future. Every one who wishes to learn anything about his future life ought to visit Prof. Anfin, who can be found every day at the Northwestern Hotel, corner of Broadway and Third street.

Crookston Business College.

Elsewhere in this issue will be seen the new adv. of the Crookston Business College. This institution has been established long enough to be upon a firm basis and is said to be the best of its kind in the Northwest. It is heartily endorsed by all leading business men. It is now no longer necessary to send the young people away to St. Paul for a business education when we have one of the best business colleges in the State right at home.

Good Races.

The Driving Association has decided to join the Northwestern Circuit and has named October 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th for races at the driving park in this city. We are told that the prospects are good for some fine sport as many noted horses are in the circuit, and we have some here that are anything but slouchy. Look out for a fine time.

We Stand Corrected.

U. S. Engineer's Office, Globe Bldg,
St. Paul, Sept. 8th, 1891.

H. E. Cooke, Esq., Polk County Journal, Crookston. Sir:—I would be much obliged by your sending me papers of Sept. 3d issue, for which I enclose 10 cents. Your account of the survey of Red Lake contains some inaccuracies. For instance, the river is about 200 feet wide at outlet, not 40 as stated, and only about 2 feet deep for one-half mile down river. No plan has yet been decided on for making a reservoir of the Lake, whether to put in a a dam on the river or to deepen the channel of same.

Yours truly,
Alfred Jackson.

Suicide Probably.

The body of S. S. Avery was found in the river at Minneapolis Sunday morning. Mr. Avery was agent for the Standard Oil Co., at Fargo, and his death is supposed to be suicide caused by financial troubles. He owned a large farm in Lambert, this county. He had been missed in Fargo for several days and was supposed to be at his farm looking after harvesting operations.

The Great Northern Company is putting electric lights into their depot here.

The Great Northern Company puts another switch engine on their yards here.

On Sabbath last Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Slocum united with the Congregational church by letter.

W. H. Walker has secured a job of braking on the Great Northern Railway. He will run between Crookston and Minot.

Geo. W. Peake has taken out a permit to erect a fire-proof building upon his property corner Main and Robert streets.

Mrs. I, U. Jennings left for the east on Tuesday evening for her fall stock of millinery. She will visit the State Fair and Expo also.

Gervais "the hustler" has the prettiest line of Black and Colored Dress Goods you ever saw, in all the newest shades and latest novelties.

Iver A. Krohn has secured the services of Henry Ronne as clerk at the new lunch room and will now be ready to attend to orders by day or night.

Miss Emma Verrenneau goes to Chicago this week to get the fall styles for Mrs. E. E. Bangs' millinery store. She will enjoy a visit to the Exposition enroute.

The first daily train on the Fosston line made its rounds in great shape on Monday. It will prove a big improvement and, you might truly add, "will fill a long felt want."

Among the list of petit jurors, drawn to serve at the term of the United States Court, which opens at Fergus Falls on the 22d inst., appears the name of J. J. Ide, Crookston, Minn.

Pat Russell went out duck hunting again this week. When we reminded him of the loss of one toe and part of another, he said: "I have eight more good ones to shoot at."

R. L. Elder says he will use his barley to pay the running expenses of making the crop and save his wheat for $1 per bushel. This seems to be the opinion of all our leading farmers.

Go to Gervais "the hustler's and see those fancy dress flannels and broadcloths in all the newest shades that England, France, Germany and the United States can produce.

Dr. M. Leguee was busy all last week over in the Red River country attending to the needs of sick equines. He is kept very busy in these days, sometimes having to be out day and night.

Mr. H. N. Casad with his cornet and Mrs. Casad with her violin assisted the Congregational choir very materially on Sabbath evening. We understand that this will be a regular feature hereafter.

M. Schouweiler and wife, of Kellogg, Minn., spent Sunday and Monday in the city the guests of Adolph and Mrs. Rauch. Mr. S. says he never saw such crops as Polk County has this year.

Engineer Fred Almy was in the city Monday on a visit to old friends. Fred is one of the oldest engineers on the Great Northern line and one of the best. He is now stationed at Minot and running west from there. He looks as hearty and good natured as of old and is always as welcome in this neck of the woods as June flowers.

On our last page will be found a few additional locals. If anything escaped us this week it is the fault of someone who did not report the circumstance as JOURNAL reporters were around everywhere, as usual, "wanting to know, you know." We like to obtain all local happenings and are especially grateful to those who kindly "put us on."

It is rather late for an item of news but we have not seen in print a notice of the marriage of Dick Hussey to a widow lady, formerly a resident of southern Minnesota, a few months since. We are reliably informed that this is correct and hereby hand in our congratulations. We are also told that Dick has a lucrative position out in Seattle in the employ of the N. P. R'y.

Chief Gonyea is kept busy trying to regulate humanity these days. On Sunday evening he received a dispatch from the chief at Grand Forks to hold a young man with a bicycle who was on the down train. He held him but on Monday had orders to "let him go," so he duly let him go. On Monday he raked in an individual who had been rather too fresh in the jail delivery business.

Johnny O'Brien has a fine young Marshal Ney filly that he thinks the world of. The colt will be two years old in November but you would think she was a four-year-old at least, to see Johnny driving her about the streets, she goes so steadily. Johnny is biding his time till the filly gets a little more age when he will let her go against any of the renownd Polk County world-beaters.

Albert Anderson was a subject from Fosston for Judge Benson's attention last week. He was consigned to Fergus Falls. Anderson was apparently about 20 years old but was possessed with the idea that he was more ancient. Said that he was a general in a war that occurred several hundred years since; that he was an engineer on the boat from which Jonah was thrown when he went on that whaling voyage and many similar ideas of like nature.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings reports having had a splendid time visiting relatives and old time friends in Tacoma and she was very favorably impressed with the country. She brought along a sample of the star fish that lives in the bay and which is a curiosity in its way—looks more like a dried up specimen of church festival decoration split into two parts than anything we know of. If we had to eat him or a ludi-fisk we should prefer both or the ludi-fisk. It strikes us that we should rather cultivate wheat in the Red River Valley—when it don't hail, however.

The Dalen's attack on Louis Ellington was wholly uncalled for and unmanly, not to say ridiculous. To all who know Ellington it carried its own refutation upon the face of it and we can hardly believe that there is an intelligent person in the county who would believe for a moment the story that "Ellington threatened to hire tramps to burn out every farmer who should vote against the bonds." As to Bydal's motive we know nothing at all and while we condemn his course in waging that kind of a fight, we consider it honorable compared with that of the editor of a certain paper printed in English, who, it is said, made an offer to the committee to support the bonds for a money consideration of $250, and upon their refusing to pay him that sum at once took sides against the bonds and filled his columns with rank personal abuse against the committee. The committee acted perfectly square and honorably and by no means deserve the rank personal abuse that was heaped upon them even by newspaper men whom they had refused to buy up. In the cases of Louis Ellington and Mayor Alexander McKinnon we have good reason to believe that both expended a goodly sum of money traveling about in the interests of the proposed road and the only personal interest either had in the matter was for the general public welfare. This campaign, if it did nothing else certainly developed a great deal of purchasable material lying around loose. In the case of Bydal, Mr. Ellington promptly demanded a full and complete retraction of the charges and we told that this was done. After having done all that he could to benefit this county, Mr. Ellington did not propose to allow that matter to stand in that light before the Dalen's readers.

MENTOR, MINN., Sept. 5, 1891.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Yesterday afternoon a big bear went north about a mile east of here and soon about a dozen hunters with rifles and shot guns were after him. After chasing him about three miles we caught up to him in a little grove. A. Cleveland went in the grove and give him a big charge of shot right in the head, which caused old Brun to run out right in front of about a dozen guns. About thirty shots were fired and he soon fell dead. He was a big fellow and it took all hands to get him loaded into a wagon. We felt a little large too. We took him to Mr. Myers' place where the meat was divided. Everyone of us thought we had given him a good shot but when the hide was taken off it was found that only three bullets had hit him. It takes the Mentor boys to kill the bears. Everybody went home well pleased to have had a call at the king of the forest. Cleveland brothers, A. Robinson, Myers, Geo. McLaughlin, Drinkwine and the undersigned comprised the party who got the bear.

Yours truly, P. C. MOE.

While on his recent trip with the Peterson boys, Doc. Dunlop lost his favorite hunting dog, and had about made up his mind that he would never see him again, but upon the arrival of the Fosston train one day last week the dog arrived all safe and sound. And that was not all. A bill of expenses amounting to $38 came by mail. Among the items were "To board one week $8; to police protection one night $2," and others of like nature. When Doc. showed the bill to the dog the animal dropped its tail and slunk out of sight and Doc. has not seen him since. He thinks the dog has either gone back to Fosston to settle the bill or else has gone off to hate himself to death.

The Thief River Falls Press says:

Geo. Crocker was in town last week. Miss Virginia Le Due was united for life to Joseph Boiselle, of Crookston, last Sunday.—Edward Porter, who is working in the Great Northern Railway Co's surveying crew was in town early in the week.—some threshing has been done in this vicinity. The yield is large and the quality the best.—A hunting crew composed of O. H. Lucken, T. G. Thompson, A. G. Anderson and A. Locken, all of Crookston, spent last night in town. They had some fine dogs with them and will no doubt return home with a fine lot of birds.

City of Crookston.

Notice is hereby given that application has been made in writing to the City Council of said city of Crookston, and filed in my office, praying for license to sell intoxicating liquors for the term commencing on Sept. 1st, 1891, and terminating on June 31st, 1892, by the following person, and at the following place as stated in said application respectively, to-wit: Edward Murphy in the two story frame building situated on lot 5, block 2, original townsite of the city of Crookston.

[First publication Sept. 10th, 1891.]

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, Sept. 7th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Ole Isakson Austad, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of O. Osmundson, executor of the estate of Ole Isakson Onstad, deceased, representing among other things that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered, that said account be examined, and petition heard, by this Court, on Monday, the 5th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office in the city of Crookston, in said county.

And it is further ordered, that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 7th day of Sept., A. D. 1891.

By the Court, C. M. BENSON,
Judge of Probate.

Chas. E. Sawyer is entertaining his father and mother, who are in the city for a visit.

Everybody in the whole world is cordially invited to come and see Polk County crops.

Remember the play by home talent at the opera house on Thursday evening, Oct. 8th.

If you want the people to know what you are doing make your wants known through THE JOURNAL.

Charley Misner went to Euclid on business last Thursday, leaving the boy on deck to run the shop.

Hoch & Ott purchased 11 fine young beeves last week. Say, but wasn't those steaks just rare and juicy? Yum! yum!

City treasurer L. C. Couverette expects to commence threshing this week. He has 300 acres of heavy grain to pound out.

Have you tried one of those rare, juicy steaks on tap at Hoch & Ott's new market? Go and see the boys once and be convinced.

The Episcopalian minister attended the lectures on Liberalism and will attempt to answer some of the sophistries next Sabbath.

Something of a frost occurred on the night of Sept. 2d. It was not severe enough to injure what wheat or oats were yet uncut.

Sture will give you value received for your money in groceries and general merchandise. Don't mistake the place, opera house block.

Anything in the line of job printing neatly and promptly executed at THE JOURNAL job rooms. Bring on your work and give us a trial.

Iver A. Krohn received a consignment of fine oysters last week. For oysters in any shape call at the new lunch room in McKinnon block.

Mrs. Judge Reynolds arrived last week to look after property interests here and to visit her old-time friends. Mrs. R. is looking in very good health.

Sture has a splendid line of crockery, just received at the opera house store.

We have heard many expressions similar to this: "Well, after all, I guess christianity is good enough for me," since the lectures on Liberalism last week.

Mr. E. S. Corser has almost fully recovered from the effects of his fall down stairs. It was an ugly tumble and he was very fortunate in escaping as easily as he did.

J. E. Morrisey's little boy, who was so badly hurt by the kick of a horse a few weeks since, is improving encouragingly and the prospects for ultimate recovery are exceedingly good.

Iver Krohn's new lunch room, in the McKinnon Block, is getting to be a very popular resort, and no wonder, for the nice little lunches that he serves up are just too slick for anything.

And now the busy hum of the thresher is heard in the land and the No. 1 Hard is being shelled out at a rapid rate. Very soon we can tell "what will the harvest be" by what it has yielded.

Give A. Sture a trial order for goods of all kinds.

Chris Anderson started his threshing machine last week. Reports very heavy straw and wheat very well filled.

Charley Misner is putting on a capacious addition to his tonsorial parlors, which new addition is a coal shed.

Look out for a big demand for Polk county lands next year. Everything indicates a big rush to this country from the older states.

The delegates elected to the meeting of the Congregational convention at Duluth on Sept. 15th, are Mrs. N. P. Stone, Mrs. H. E. Cooke and Rev. R. H. Battey.

Don't fail to call at the new store of A. Sture in opera house block when in need of groceries or general merchandise. Everything in that line nice and fresh.

Lewis Ellington returned from a business trip to St. Paul and Duluth on Friday last. Everywhere he was met by the question: "How is the wheat turning out?"

O. Thoraldson has gone to Duluth to arrange for shipping wheat for the Association. It is said that very much of the wheat will be shipped this year through this agency.

Judge Benson received word last week of the serious illness of his uncle, Mr. Christianson, and went out to see him. Mr. C. is well along in years and it is feared that this illness may have a fatal termination.

Hoch & Ott invite a call from all who enjoy a nice tender juicy steak or a fine roast. The boys have everything in apple-pie order and are prepared to do business to the entire satisfaction of their patrons.

Sture's new store, in the new opera block, is a nice place to trade. Sture knows just what kind of goods people want and his prices are extremely reasonable. Try the new store once if you have not already done so.

"A wilderness of beauty," is what the dry goods department of Fontaine & Anglim's new store will be when everything is fully arranged for their opening; that is, if so fine a building as they have can be called "a wilderness."

Fred Hall got a hustle on the boys last Thursday and moved the clothing department down into the new block. He now has things in apple-pie order and is ready to show you a suit of clothes from the plainest to the finest.

While in the city George Crocker gave orders to Charlie Jefferson to fix up the underpining of his building a bit but not to be too elaborate "for," said he, "it will only be used until next spring when I intend to put up a fine brick block on that property.

Call at the meat market of Geo. Vine on Robert street for choice meats of all kinds in his line. George will not use any but the very choicest of beeves and is an adept in preparing them for the cook. When you buy your meats of him all you need is a good cook for a royal meal.

When you see our antiquated ? mark stalking about the street as though in quest of something and you have a choice tid-bit of news stored away in your inward consciousness please reveal it, even though the reportorial pump should not be applied. Its "all of the news" is what he wants to know, you know. Savey?

The Mission of Modern Freethought—"Church and State" and "The Bible," will be discussed, morning and evening, respectively, on Sunday, Sept. 13th, in Episcopal church. A very earnest invitation is extended to all christians and non-christian free-thinkers, and other thinkers. So come and give religion an opportunity to answer for itself on the above subjects. 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Mrs. P. S. Ware has gone to Minneapolis for a visit. In the morning—while wrestling desperately with the pots and kettles and great unwashed dishes, etc., it is comical to see Pauline Sware, while he inwardly wishes his wife was in Jerricho (or Crookston). Pauline makes a fine stage appearance as an old maid but as a common housemaid he is "not at home" just a little bit.

Joseph Simpson informs us that it required four pounds of twine per acre to bind his crop this year. The grain was extra stout but it was the hail storm that made the difference in twine to bind it. Simpson used hemp and says that every so-called bale of twine was from one to seven pounds short of fifty pounds. He thinks if farmers should weigh their bales they would find several small mice in weights that eat up considerable of the profits.

We have heard many favorable comments by farmers on THE JOURNAL's ideas on hail and storm insurance by which it would appear that all the farmers want is insurance when they pay their money for it. The only object of the old line companies is to make money out of it and their methods are such that to insure with them the farmer takes all the risk but derives no benefit. He had better by far save his money and take his own risk and this fact he has not been slow to learn.

Lake Superior Trout.

Hoch & Ott receive every Thursday a consignment of fine Lake Superior trout. All orders promptly filled.

Backsetting.

I have 800 acres of breaking to backset and will let it by contract to responsible parties. Inquire at the farm, west of Carman. [21-24] E. S. CORSER.

Shall We Have a New Jail?

The recent escapade at the county jail but renders emphatic the necessity for a good and sufficient building. For some time the apology we have has been in such a poor shape that it has been necessary to send the tough characters, those confined for serious crimes, to other counties for safe keeping, thus entailing a far greater expense than need be. It would seem to be good practical common sense to go to work and build a jail.

The Rebellion.

Watch out for the grand military play, "The Rebellion," at the old opera house on Thursday evening, Oct. 8th. See program elsewhere.

Give Us the News.

Have you a friend visiting you? Are you going on a visit anywhere? Do you know of any little news item of interest to your neighbors and friends? If so let THE JOURNAL know of it so that we may enlighten the world. We like to get all such things and every other item of news, and if you don't happen to see a JOURNAL reporter drop us a postal. In that case don't forget to sign your name to the card.

Ed. Chapin, brother of Fred and Stewart, came over from Devil's Lake on Wednesday evening for a visit with friends here. Ed. has been at Devil's Lake for ten months, ever since he arrived from the old home in New York, and says he likes what he has seen of Polk County better than anything he has seen in Dakota. He expects soon to come to stay and grow up with the country—which hadn't or'to take him long as he is over six feet high now.

Last week THE JOURNAL said: "Tom Harris is in Hallock moving the big mill," &c., and the first man we met on Thursday morning when we put THE JOURNAL in the post office was Tom Harris, who, it seems, had returned on Wednesday evening. It seems that the mill he was to have moved had a mortgage upon it and the parties interested refused to allow its removal, so Tom lost his job and several others that he could have had only for that. Tom thinks he will take a much needed rest awhile now.

Work on the new block goes merrily along. The room on the corner, where Van Dyke's drug store was, seems very small for a corner store. It is to be occupied by Tom Morris as a jewelry store, and the room adjoining on the west, fronting Second street, will be occupied by Mrs. E. E. Bangs as a millinery store. The room adjoining Tom Morris on the south, facing Main street, will be occupied by G. M. Barber with a full and complete line of boots and shoes. This will be a large store, 25x75 or 80 ft. Tom Morris is to take possession of his by December 1st.

There's no use talking, we have got to tell how nicely Hostetler, Charlie Misner's fashionable barber, was done up by a slick, clerical-looking individual, (and we will remark right here, though, that he is out of that line of business now; he will trade no more razors now.) One day just as he finished one business man and shouted "next," a long, cadaverous meek-looking specimen of humanity took his place in the chair. After getting one of the slickest shaves in the city he quietly remarked that that was the best shave he ever had, and said, as he quietly pulled a razor out of his own pocket, that he wished he knew where he could get his own razor put in such excellent shape. This compliment caused Hostetler to lose his head at once, and taking the razor he said that it only needed the hone and a good strop to make it all right. "But I have got no strop," said the individual, "couldn't you sell me one?" "Certainly," said H., "we can sell you a fine one for 75 cents." "Well," said the fellow, "I am a little shy on money but there is a razor I paid $2.00 for not long since; how will you trade me a strop for it?" "I will give you a strop for the razor," said H. After jewing awhile the fellow said: "Well, throw in the price of the shave and hair-cut (35 cents) and I will call it a whack." "All right," said H., whereupon the fellow took a fine new strop that H. handed him and departed. Shortly afterward Hostetler, in looking over his purchase noticed the merchant's cost mark, "$1" upon it and nearly fainted; afterward he ascertained that the razor was of no earthly account whatever—a fact that his clerical-looking friend had no doubt discovered before and now he is quietly laying for the individual aforesaid. He don't got any more strops to trade for razors now.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B. Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication July 30th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 10th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of fifty (50) dollars, installment of interest which became due and payable on the 17th day of November, 1890, upon a certain mortgage made, executed and delivered by Loren H. Walker and Sophia Walker, his wife, of the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, mortgagors, to the Netherlands American Land Company, of Amsterdam, Holland, mortgagee, bearing date the 17th day of November, 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, 1886, at 9:50 o'clock a. m., and recorded in volume "26" of mortgages, on pages 443-7.

And a further default having been made in the conditions of said mortgage by the mortgagors failing and neglecting to pay the taxes assessed against and levied upon said mortgaged premises, prior to the date of the sale of lands for the payment of taxes, and the mortgagee was compelled to pay, and prior to the date of this notice did pay, in satisfaction of the taxes due and delinquent on said premises, the sum of thirty-nine and 87-100 (39.87) dollars, in order to protect the lien of its said mortgage; and the said defaults having each continued for a period of more than thirty days, the whole sum secured by said mortgage is hereby declared to be due and payable as stipulated in said mortgage in case of a failure to comply with the conditions thereof; and that by reason of such defaults and declaration there is claimed to be due, and there is due and payable on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of six hundred thirty-seven and 50-100 (637.50) dollars, and no action or proceeding at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by virtue of the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and conveyed thereby, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section eight, (8) in Township one hundred forty seven, (147) Range forty-four, (44), containing one hundred sixty (160) acres, more or less, according to the United States government survey thereof, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest, taxes and twenty-five (25) dollars as attorneys fees, stipulated in said mortgage to be paid in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the City of Crookston, in the County of Polk, and State of Minnesota, by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., on the 15th day of September, 1891, subject to redemption at any time within one year, in manner provided by law.

Dated at Moorhead, Minnesota, July 17, 1891.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication July 30th.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of one hundred twenty four and 30-100 ($124.30) dollars which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Elizabeth Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole O. Haven, mortgagee, bearing date the 2d day of January, 1890, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 27th day of January, 1890, at 9:30 o'clock a m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 105, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole O. Hoven, mortgagee, to Caroline Anderson, by written assignment dated the 9th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 150, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: Southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine (9) of Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty, (150) Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 12th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of one hundred twenty-four and 30-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Eugene Bernard and Emma Bernard, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 22d day of January, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1889, at 9:10 o'clock a. m., in book 43 of mortgages, on page 464; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the coupons for interest that fell due July 22d, 1889, January 22d, 1890, July 22d, 1890, January 22d, 1891, and July 22d, 1891, each thereof being for the sum of $17.50, and whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described, the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred dollars and forty-five cents, ($600.45), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼) and lots three (3) and four (4), of Section nineteen (19), Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty (40) west, containing 144 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof, Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by William H. Godfrey, a bachelor, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 25 of mortgages, on pages 142-145.

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the principal $800 that fell due June 24th, 1891, and interest coupons for $24 each that fell due on the 24th days of December, 1888, June and December, 1889, June and December, 1890, and June 1891.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum to-wit: Nine hundred and sixty dollars and sixteen cents ($960.16); and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot four (4), and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½ nw¼) of Section fourteen (14) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-four (44) west, containing 117 acres more or less according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.

2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.

3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.

4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

A Base Ballist in Prayer Meeting.

His nose had been knocked a little awry,
But his glance was straight and true;
And the three fingers left on his big right hand

And he said: "My friends, I am off my base
When I stand in a box here like this;
But I feel, when the umpire says 'Play ball,'
That we ought to play, hit or miss.

"When we sign with the church we are expected to play
Every day, hot or cold, rain or shine;
And I tell you, my friends, a very strong game
Is put up by Satan's nine.

"If we come to bat in the strength of the Lord,
Grip the willow for giving hard knocks,
We'll just get onto the devil's curves
And knock him out of the box!

"Sometimes we line her out for two bags,
Steal third in most elegant state,
But get stuck on ourselves, take too many risks,
And get nipped by Old Nick at the plate.

"And plenty of times when your side's about out
You seem doomed to die on a base,
But whenever you hear our captain say 'Go'
Get away at your very best pace!

"Never mind what the crowd say, go hard for home!
Slide in on your face! Darn the clothes!
There's an Umpire above who will know if you're in,
His judgment is right, and it 'goes.'"

Concerning Back Numbers.

Crookston Times.—Will some McKinleyite step to the rack and tell us this: "If free sugar is a good thing, why not salt also?"

Glyndon News.—We do not know what a "McKinleyite" is—but if the Times will quit asking back-number questions some long suffering friend will answer because Michigan is not in the West Indias.

Neither is Louisiana. If you object to back-number questions why don't you avoid that kind of answers. Try again, Osborn.—Farmington Tribune.

—The late tariff on sugar was say one-third the price of sugar. The tariff on salt was and is greater than the price of salt. The sugar tariff was a tax on the American consumer. The tariff on salt is not. The distinctions and differences between Louisiana sugar and Michigan salt production, and a multitude of similar comparisons, in their bearings on American policy, were exhaustively treated in the press and on the stump and on the floor of Congress during the McKinley racket of three years ago. Doubtless the lumber attics of both the Times and Tribune contain documents from the government printing office which, while they may not settle the question of the right or wrong of free sugar or dutiable salt, do assuredly make clear the reason for the discriminations of the new tariff.

Reduction of the revenue was what tariff-reformers, protectionists, Democrats, Republicans and mugwumps all wanted three years ago. Sugar was yielding over fifty millions of revenue. How much from salt? In the poor man's house three pounds of sugar go where two pounds went before. Louisiana has not been able to do in fifty years what the McKinley law appears to have done in a season. But Saginaw county, under a stiff tariff law, has been yielding salt at a rate which enables the American farmer to roll the barrel into his pasture, knock the head in, and invite the voracious cow to help herself. The Tribune knows that nature has put the different marks on Louisiana sugar and Michigan salt. "McKinleyism" recognizes the difference. Back-number answers are too good for such questions as that of the Times, which if it indicated a spirit of true inquiry would need only to be referred to McKinley's speeches, or his House committee report of the tariff bill, or Greeley's political economy, or any of the scores of primers on the subject. Flings or gibes such as are called forth by our free sugar experience betray the confusion into which certain lazy reformers have been thrown through not knowing what it is that needs reforming.

McKinley finds foemen worthy of his steel, and it is well that the opposing school of economists has worthy champions; but whoso sets him down for a dullard or coward falls into a ditch. Moreover, those who essay to extinguish McKinley on the sugar or salt issue find that neither of these commodities has lost its favor. He is all right if he is as well kept at other points.

It is a spectacle indeed for a news paper that aspires to discuss current politics to be found asking for information as to the "McKinley" distinction between the revenue tariff on sugar and the protective tariff on salt. Why not borrow an old almanac?

OUR CROPS.

Senator Willian D. Washburn who has made a tour of the old country and studied the European situation, was recently interviewed and his opinion concerning it and its probable effects on the United States is invaluable. Senator Washburn declares that to all appearances Europe will want every grain of the 200,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat raised in the States this year. The crops of wheat, rye and small grain in Russia he pronounces a partial failure from personal observation. Russia, as heretofore, not only fed herself from her crops of grain, but has sent large quantities into Germany and even into France. Mr. Washburn concludes that the Russian crop deficiency will create a large demand for American cereals.

Referring to the Russian ukase prohibiting the exportation of rye, Mr. Washburn says it was purely an act of self-preservation, and not a hostile movement toward Germany. It has caused anxiety in Norway and Sweden, where the people depend for their bread on rye from Russia, and these countries, as well as Germany, will be obliged, he declares, to import wheat from the United States. In Buda-Pesth, the largest milling center of Europe, Senator Washburn says that the millers estimated the crops of that region as 30 per cent less than last year, in Germany 15 per cent, and in other countries correspondingly. His general conclusion of the effect of the European grain situation is summed up in the remark that as the crops of the United States were never so large as this year, especially in wheat, he thinks we can take care of the rest of the world, and, as he adds, with much force, "the rest of the world must pay for it."

The judgment of one so well equipped as Senator Washburn to form an accurate opinion as to the crop situation at home and abroad is almost incontrovertible, and THE JOURNAL takes it as the basis for congratulating the country on the speedy return of gold, and the consequent prosperity that will follow on the beginning of the shipments of grain to Europe. We have the key to the situation, and only need to turn it to give the United States an era of prosperity such as it has not known in years.

Senator Sherman Speaks.

New York Press.

The name of Senator John Sherman is synonymous the country over with the cause of honest money. No man in the United States stands so high as an authority on national financial questions. The interview with the veteran Ohio statesman which the Press prints to-day deserves the attention of every one of our readers. Senator Sherman sounds in it the keynote of the Ohio campaign. He shows how vast the issues at stake are. He exposes with merciless logic the absurd fallacies of the free coinage doctrine of the Buckeye Democracy. He makes plain the tremendous importance of victory for Republicanism and sound currency.

The Ohio contest, which seemed destined at first to be waged almost solely on the national issue of the tariff, is now to be fought on the two questions of protection and honest money. Republicans will not shirk either issue. The Republican party is committed as irrevocably to the dollar that is worth a dollar as it is to the protection of American industry. Senator Sherman's statement of the way in which free silver would affect the workingman is especially forcible. He shows conclusively how unlimited coinage would cheapen the purchasing power of the laborer's dollar:

The man who is to-day getting $1.50 a day, or $1.50 for a bushel of wheat, would find that under free silver the purchasing power of that $1.50 would very rapidly drop to $1.25, and that the twenty-five cents loss would fall, not on the merchant or manufacturer, but upon the man who labors or who tills the soil. That is the inexorable law of trade, because the price of commodities is fixed by the markets of the world, and cannot be changed by any local legislation or the vagaries of any single country.

These are true words. They should be studied by every man who earns wages. A debased currency always injures the laboring man more than any one else. For a time it helps the man who has property and is in debt, by enabling him to pay off in debased money obligations incurred in honest money. But even this advantage, essentially dishonorable, soon disappears. If there is an instance in history of the workingman's wages rising in proportion to the debasement of currency we are not aware of it.

The Republican party is fighting the workingman's battles on both the great vital issues now before the country. It should receive the workingman's hearty and unqualified support.

The Land Boom.

Minneapolis Journal.

The Journal publishes a very exhaustive exposition of the real estate situation throughout the state. Reports have been received from reliable sources from nearly 60 of the 80 counties of the State and from nearly all of the principal agricultural counties. In every case the report is an increased demand for farming land, and in most cases at prices that are steadily advancing. The land commissioners of the railroads having large land grants confirm the reports from local sources by figures showing a great increase in sales during recent months, and in the face of advanced prices. The fact is that even during the dull times which have been prevailing generally and while crop failures have embarrassed all classes of business in some sections of the country, the crops of Minnesota have been better than the general averege throughout the West and the agricultural interest of the state has prospered. This has served to attract attention to Minnesota as an agricultural state and to inspire confidence where, on account of mistaken notions about our climate, wrong impressions of our agricultural advantages had been obtained. And now, with the phenomenal crops of the present year to still further substantiate the claims of Minnesota to high rank as a state where agriculture is profitable in a peculiar degree, the demands for the lands capable of producing such satisfactory returns for the labor expended upon them has risen to a heigth which occasions comment and justifies the attention which has been given it by the Journal. Figures are every day made as to the amount of money the wheat crop will bring to the Northwest and how much the other agricultural products will add to the general wealth, but no less important in the calculations of increased wealth for this section of the country are the millions of dollars that will be brought into the Northwest for investment in lands and town and city property. The demand for lands is probably the best indicator of good times. And the demand for farm lands is the most substantial basis for activity in town and city property. It is impossible that the country tributary to Minneapolis should enjoy such a high degree of prosperity and that the agricultural lands should come to be in such demand without its effect on the real estate interests of all the towns related in a business way. And surely no city sustains such an intimate relation to the state as Minneapolis, the great market for the products of the state and of the entire Northwest.

"Eliminate the Frauds."

New York Press.

We have at last had a distinct statement from one Democratic newspaper as to the course that will be pursued by the Democratic party, if it comes into power, in relation to pensions. This journal says they will not repeal the pension laws and stop all improvements by way of saving expense, but "will scrutinize the pension lists so as eliminate the frauds from them, and they will put a heavy foot upon all manner of dishonest jobs that masquerade under the disguise of improvements. They will cut off the grabs and steals. They will stop robbery and waste."

This specious announcement is a reminder of the tremendous howl that went up during the campaign of 1884 "to open the books." The Republican party, it was charged, had been corrupt in the management of the finances of the country during the twenty-four years of its power. The proofs would be found, it was declared, if the country would permit the Democrats to "open the books." Well, the books were opened and never a penny could they find that was not honestly received, accounted for and expended.

Where is there any proof except in the same lying sheets and the same falsifying mouths that there are frauds in the pension lists which it is necessary for Democrats to scrutinize, dishonest jobs to be cut off, grabs and steals to be stopped, robbery and waste to be prevented? The Democrats had possession of the Pension Bureau for four years. They found neither fraud, nor jobbery, nor grabs, nor steals, nor robbery, nor waste. They showed their spirit and temper toward the veteran by making insufficient appropriations to meet the pension payments, and left it as a legacy to a Republican Congress to meet the deficiency.

Would they discover any different condition on coming into power a second time? Would they act any differently? The pension Bureau is not honeycombed with fraud, as the Democratic papers charge. If they can produce a single case of fraud the pension list is subject to revision. They have not brought out proof of a single pension that should be discontinued. They only "howl" against the pension system and pensions as they howled for the books to be opened, and with just as little foundation. If there is fraud to be eliminated in this country the biggest fraud is the anti-pension shriek in the Democratic organs.

Wages in England.

New York Press.

One effect of the Royal Labor Commission, now in session in England, is likely to be a correction of inflated ideas regarding wages paid in that country. The evidence already given shows that the figures generally accepted do not agree with the figures given by the men in their testimony, and that, as a matter of fact, the average wages paid are not more than half the average in the United States, and considerably lower than the amounts stated in official reports.

The reason for the difference is plain enough. Official reports are gathered chiefly from employers, who naturally wish to put the wage question in the best possible light for themselves. The testimony before the Royal Commission is being given by employes, who have no interest except in stating ungarnished truth.

The Englishman can afford to sell certain goods cheaper because he pays less to those who do the manufacturing. And that is the best reason possible why a tariff should be maintained that will protect American labor from such competition.

Retaliation.

New York Press.

The retaliatory feature of the McKinley law is one especially obnoxious to the Mugwump free trade press beause it has given a weapon to the President of the United States with which to compel Europe to pay respect to that American industry which free traders hold in deepest contempt. Experience has already proven that this is one of the best best provisions of the law.

The French, as shown in the Paris correspondence of the London Times, have been clearly influenced by fear of retaliation into taking a long step toward the repeal of the prohibition on American pork.

In Germany the same influence has been potent in the direction of a similar result, and the British Islands of the West Indies, which have heretofore lived upon and sneered at America, are in a fever of excitement as to what they shall do to be saved from the dreaded retaliation.

The Mugwumps may be interested to learn, also, that England talks of copying the retaliatory policy of America, and that the British Government has thrown out a hint to France that virtual prohibition of any British goods will be followed by an increase of British duties on brandies imported from France.

Science in Bread Making.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Chemical Society, held in Washington, D. C., the question of the value of carbonate of ammonia as a leavening agent in bread, or as used in baking powders came up for discussion, in which Prof Barker, of the University of Pennsylvania, and President of the Society; Dr. Richardson, late of the United States Department of Agriculture in Washington; Dr. Wm. McMurtrie, late Prof. of Chemistry in the University of Illinois; Dr. D. H. Bartley, late Chemist of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Board of Health, and Prof. of Chemistry of the Long Island College, and others took part.

The concensus of opinion was overwhelming in favor of the employment of ammonia. It was stated as a fact that ammonia rendered the gluten of the flour more soluble than the original gluten, and that the bread in which this action was produced by carbonate of ammonia must be more digestible and hence more healthful, and because of extreme volatility of carbonate of ammonia, and its complete expulsion from the bread in the process of baking, it is one of the most useful, most healthful and most valuable leavening agents known.

These conclusions are borne out by the very elaborate and exhaustive experiments made by Prof. J. W. Mallet, of the University of Virginia, which show conclusively that bread made with a baking powder in which one per cent of carbonate of ammonia is used, in connection with cream of tartar and soda, is not only of uniformly better color and texture, but a product more wholesome, because the ammonia serves to neutralize any organic or lactic acids present in the flour.

Sell for a Fair Profit.

The opinion of the farmer of the Northfield News that a farmer ought to keep an account of the cost of growing his grain and sell when he can get a price that pays him good profit is surely worthy endorsement and adoption as far as relates to keeping account of the cost of raising certain crops. But unless a man can be sure of the ability to follow the rule of selling at a fair profit all the time, he ought not to adopt it as his controlling guide at any time. In other words he would follow it, or not in any case as it may seem best. Sometimes the cost of producing 40 acres of wheat is greater because of a partial failure of the crop than the amount raised on it can be sold for. If he had raised as much as common he could sell at the prevailing price and make a fair profit. What is he to do? There is nothing for him to do but sell what he has got at the best price he can get and pocket the loss. Every farmer in Minnesota must do so under circumstances. How shall they recover the sums they then lost? Why, after a little while there will come a time when they will have extraordinary large crops at ordinary cost, and that same season other growers in other countries have their turn of poor crops. Now the Minnesota farmers could sell at fair profit a lower price than usual after such a harvest, and at that very time crop failures elsewhere would point to a scanty general supply and higher prices for that very grain. Is it the Minnesota farmer's duty or his best policy to sell as soon as is offered a fair profit? Why may he not make a far more than "fair profit" on the cost of that wheat, considering that on a former year's crop he did receive, and on any subsequent crop he may receive, no profit at all?

It seems to us that the farmer should keep an account of the cost of his crop, not for the purpose of knowing when to sell, but in order that he may know which way he is going in business and go out of those lines which yield him only a loss. His business is also to keep posted as to the probable demand for each of the products in which he is interested, and as to the yield of each in all the countries which contribute to the supply and regulate his willingness to sell at any particular price by what he concludes, from that knowledge of demand and available supply the price is likely to be.—Red Wing Republican.

"We can flood this country at an hour's notice," is what the United States government rainmakers claim. They claim it exultingly. If they can there need never be any more drought or failure of crops anywhere. Well, it is no longer safe to say that anything is impossible. It was near Midland, Texas, in a district where rain is unusual at this time of the year, that the experimenters got in their work. It was accomplished by a large baloon filled with explosives, a large number of kites having their tails loaded with dynamite, and many charges of powder were scattered in various directions over the ground upon an area of two miles. First the huge baloon was exploded by electricity. Ten minutes later the dynamite tails of the kites were let off in the same manner. Last of all the powder was touched off. In ten minutes the barometer fell rapidly and a rainstorm of six hours followed. The explosions were heard forty miles away and made a noise like artilery. The rain covered an estimated area of 1,000 square miles, and the cost of it is put at one and one-half cents per acre. If the explosions did really create the refreshing showers then they mark the beginning of an area in civilization and constitute an achievement no less great than the invention of the steam engine.

OF OUR

NEW STORE

TAKE PLACE ON

Sept. 16th 17th 18th & 19th

Our modern system of store keeping and the progressive changes we have adopted to serve our customers quickly and courteously, and the arrangement whereby each of our departments is, of itself, exclusive and under special management, is a forward step in comparison with the average stores in our community. Through this system little details in merchandising with us receive the same minute attention as the larger ones, and we appreciate, and shall further try to merit the praises we hear bestowed upon us by our patrons, that through this completeness of every detail in our stock, their wants are supplied, as well, and often better, than were they residents of one of the larger cities. We have enlarged our

CLOAK AND CARPET

DEPARTMENTS

To double their former size, all of the space formerly occupied by the office and stairway is now taken up with our increased stock of Cloaks and Jackets for Fall Wear.

The all season in the

"Dress Goods Stock"

is well under way. If there is any worthy going style missing in our stock, it is certainly rare and obscure. The latest fabrics, such as "Cote de heval," or Bedford Cord, "Henriettas," "Vigogne," "Drap d'Avazure," "Cordurette," "Melange," "Vigoureaux," "Fancy Jacquanets," "Cheviots," "Camel's Hair Effects," and Broadcloths are way out of sight. When we speak of "Broadcloths" we mean Broadcloths—flannels are not Broadcloths, even if some merchants have fallen into the habit of calling them so. Broadcloth has a twilled back. You can't mistake them if you are careful. Full range of colors in three qualities—$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50. The latter is a genuine French Broadcloth and is considered to be the best sold in this country.

Quilts and Blankets.

Our Quilts and Blankets are shown on the main floor. No dark and dingy basements; no stairs to climb. In order to do a large early business, some special values will be offered.

3 Northern 64.

Will Cleary went to Warren this week to buy wheat.

Charlie McKay went over to Grand Forks on Sunday.

A heavy rain on Friday last delayed threshing a few days.

Wheat opened out on Monday morning at 75 cents for 1 Hard.

R. J. Hall was in the city this week looking up Alliance matters.

Send on your men. The harvest is bountiful and the laborers few.

J. H. Locken enjoyed the State Fair and Expo a few days last week.

Mayor McKinnon did the State Fair and Expo Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Jack Bunnell and Miss Dollie returned from their visit last week.

Edward George, Esq., has gone to Rochester, this state, for a short visit.

W. A. Marin, Jr., has gone to Gladwin, Mich., for a visit at the old home.

Farmer E. Roberts will this week pound out what grain the hail left him.

Rolstad's restaurant is still at the front with all of the delicacies of the season.

Hon. W. D. Washburn writes that he will visit our city some day in the near future.

Conductor Jack Ward went up to Fosston last week to shoot lots of chickens.

Col. Uline, the right of way man for the Great Northern road, was in the city on Monday.

Sheriff Grundysen says he will be obliged to hire another man if business keeps up this way.

Knute Opheim and Dr. A. Nelson, of Fertile, took in the big doings in the Twin Cities last week.

Hugh Thompson was up on Monday looking for men. Says they are a scarce article at Fisher.

The Rickett building is going ahead rapidly and will have one of the finest looking fronts in the city.

Geo. Ralph started for the Red Lake Reservation on Monday morning to finish his job of surveying.

There seems to be a great demand for men in the threshing field. The cry is "send us more men."

Watts & McGrew are going into the new McKinnon, in the office recently occupied by Mayor McKinnon.

Frank Haseltine, our enterprising nurseryman, is hustling as usual. Says business is unusually good this season.

John C. Welles, of Fon du Lac, Wis., was in the city on Sunday and attended services at the Congregational church.

Mayor McKinnon and Comptroller Walsh have moved their office into the suite of rooms in the rear of those just vacated.

E. O. Flanders started on Wednesday night for a pleasure trip to St. Paul and Minneapolis, returning on Monday morning.

Prof. Rocheleau and Mrs. E. K. Jacques went north on Monday morning to hold a teachers' institute at Hallock in Kittson County.

If the rumors that farmers intend to hold their wheat causes a few cents rise in price what would not the FACT of their holding it awhile accomplish?

D. Jacobus was interested in the races on the State Fair grounds during the latter part of the week. Jake is a good judge of horses and seldom gets left.

Chris Houston commenced to thresh what wheat the hail storm left him, on Tuesday, which was but a small portion of the fine crop he had before the storm.

C. de Bruyn Kops and wife, of Grand Forks, attended the State Fair last week and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Knuppe during their stay in St. Paul.

Rudy Burkhardt is happy once more. His wife and babies arrived on Sunday morning from Wabasha. Rudy talks of going in with the new bakers on Secord street.

Dr. Dampier was enjoying the State Fair and Expo last week. Of course he put up at the Brunswick with Ira De Camp. All the Crookston boys do that when they go to Minneapolis.

The irrepressible Henry Kellar, of Sauk Center was in the city this week and left for the south on Tuesday morning. Henry was chock full of windmills, binding twine and electricity as usual.

See the new adv of The Fair in this issue and go and chat with Wilson awhile in the elegant new quarters he has fitted up on the corner of Main and Robert streets, Stewart & Spottiswood's old place.

Conductor Scott had the good luck to get hold of some prairie chickens last week, and having heard Judge Spendley say how well he liked them he sent him a brace of them. The Judge remarked "bless my sole."

M. W. Jensen was down from McIntosh this week. Says the mill is getting lots of good wheat.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings returned from below on Tuesday, having secured the latest styles and novelties in millinery.

If there is anything that you want that is not to be had in the city go to the new Fair. Wilson is sure to have it.

Rev. R. H. Battey will preach at Andover school house, six miles southwest of Crookston next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The McKanlass Colored Musical Co. is booked for Sept. 23d and 24th, at the Grand Opera House. This is said to be an excellent troupe.

Uncle Joe Netzer is pushing the work on Kistenmacher's new house as rapidly as possible. Hasn't got quite all the help he would like.

Mat Dauser shouldered his machine on Wednesday morning and skipped out to some town to capture pictures. Mat is a good artist.

Now is the time to get a share in the fall trade and the best way to get it is to advertise in THE JOURNAL. Call and see us and get our rates.

An interesting lecture will be given at the M. E. Church on Friday evening next. All who can make it convenient to attend should do so.

Charlie Lowe and Geo. McManus will move into the new McKinnon block, occupying part of the suite just vacated by the mayor and comptroller.

Ole Sannes came down from Sletten this week and called at THE JOURNAL office to say that the crops in his vicinity promise an abundant yield this year.

Duluth will commence the erection of a new 1200 barrel flour mill this fall. Slowly but surely Duluth is coming to the front as the great flour manufacturing center.

Minneapolis advertises a grand harvest home festival on Sept. 23d. We shall wait until we see how the farmers come out of the deal before we jubilate extensively.

A little bird whispers in our ear of a marriage ceremony in our city on Thursday next. Mr. Nicholas Funk to Miss Clara Walter, daughter of August Walter, Esq.

The Northern Pacific road has averaged a train of wheat per day for the past week, the large majority coming from Dakota and shipped by farmers The elevators don't seem to be in it this year.

Pauline Sware gravely remarks that it is no sich thing. He ain't tryin' to be a house-keeper not a little bit, but that he is taking his meals with Mine Host Bemis at two shillin's a take. We stand corrected.

Jake Ide has finished threshing and says his wheat turned out 24 bushels per acre. What his grade will be he cannot say until he sees some elevator man but thinks that he should get 1 Hard for it anyhow.

A. Sture returned from the busy marts of trade on Sunday morning. While away he purchased a large stock of fall goods which are now arriving daily. Go and see what Sture can do for you in anything you need.

Ira De Camp fits into his new position as clerk at the Brunswick in Minneapolis as naturally as an old shoe. Ira is a natural born hotel clerk and it is a pleasure to visit the Brunswick just to see Ira attending to his duties.

Henry Steege finished threshing on Tuesday and we are told that his average is only ten bushels per acre. While the most of his grain was apparently outside of the hail belt there is no doubt but that it was all materially damaged.

Henry Osterlok was down from Keystone this week and told a JOURNAL reporter that he threshed 2800 bushels of wheat from 90 acres. Henry has marketed enough to pay his debts and feels like a lord. He will hold about 1800 bushels for $1.

Horace Locken returned on Sunday morning with his bride to make their home in this city. He was married in St. Paul on Thursday last to Miss Helen Kemke, of Emmetsburgh, Iowa. Horace has accepted a position in Lee & Herrick's mill.

From the present outlook it would seem the part of wisdom for every farmer who has wheat to sell to hold it awhile. We cannot see any good reason why wheat should not bring excellent prices a little later. We confidently expect to see dollar wheat here before next spring.

The Northern Minnesota Agricultural and Driving Association will offer $2,000.00 in purses at their annual meeting at the driving park on Oct. 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th. Some noted horses from abroad will contest the honors of the turf and a big time is anticipated. Everybody come.

Among the list of names comprising the Grain Growers Association which filed articles of incorporation on Tuesdoy, as reported in the St. Paul Dispatch, appears this one, "E. J. Goe-fly-high." It would require a vivid imagination to discern our handsome county superintendent in that name.

Miss Mary Van Wie was married to Walter Horton at the residence of her brother in Wisconsin on Tuesday. Our readers will remember the trial of Horton who was charged with drowning his wife and child and acquitted. Miss Van Wie was once a teacher in our public schools and was very much liked.

Call at THE JOURNAL office for plain or fancy job work. We are better than ever prepared to do all business in this line. Remember we can do all kinds of work in this line and at as reasonable figures as the same can be done elsewhere. We invite your patronage.

Much disappointment is expressed by the friends of Hugh Robertson because he was not appointed Register of the Land Office in this city. Mr. R. is an efficient, capable man, a hard worker and a true blue Republican but he is not a rich man. He was the people's choice but from all we can learn of the present administration that seems to cut little figure.

☞ Elsewhere we re-publish an article from the St. Paul Globe, purporting to be an Alliance circular advising farmers to hold their wheat. While we are not sanguine enough to believe in $2 wheat we do believe that the price of a bushel of wheat in this market will be at least $1 to the farmer before another season. As to holding the wheat the circumstances of each individal farmer should dictate whether he holds or whether he sells on the early market.

L. F. Menage,

[14-26] Minneapolis, Minn.

Wilson has fitted up his new quarters in elegant shape and is ready to greet his friends both old and new and show them a fine line of goods in all sorts of fancy notions. This week he occupies a large space in THE JOURNAL columns to tell the people what he has that they may need.

Rev. S. H. Barteau and Mr. Waggoner came down from Stephen on Monday evening and took the train on the N. P. line for Duluth, to attend the convention of the Congregational Association at that place. Mr. B. says the deal we are getting in wheat this fall reminds him of old times very much.

Herb Mason returned on Tuesday morning from a business trip to Chicago and we expect that every train from St. Paul will be just loaded down with goods for him for a week to come. Maybe not but Herb is a rustler all the same and generally gets lots of goods when he goes for them.

Chief of Police Louis Gonyea went over to East Grand Forks on Monday after a man who was accused of stealing a $45 suit of clothes from the Sherman House. He found the man, who claimed to have bought the clothes for $3, but Louis raked him in and brought him back for trial all the same.

If our kind little friend of the Times will pay as much attention to trying to run his own paper properly and less in the attempt to run every other city paper perhaps he will get along just as well in the long run. He certainly would not expose his ignorance and his malicious, jealous disposition so deplorably.

During the absence of our better half in Duluth this week we are being nicely cared for by Uncle Joe Netzer at the Germania hotel. Joe keeps as nice a hotel as our city can boast of and sets a bountiful table. We are prepared by experience to recommend that hostelry to all who are looking for a good place to stop at.

We are in receipt of a complimentary to the corn palace at Sioux City, which will open for business on October 1st and continue 17 days. The building was nearing completion when we saw it last Friday and will be a mammoth structure. Both Iowa and Nebraska will make such displays as will be well worth seeing.

"Through Europe in 90 Minutes." Alexander McGregor will deliver a lecture on the above subject at the old opera house Friday evening, Sept. 18th, at 8 o'clock. Lecture illustrated by 90 stereoptican views. Matinee at 4 p. m. for the children, subject, "Egypt and Palestine." Admission, lecture 50 cents matinee, adults 25c, children 10c.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning Rev. R. H. Battey will have for his subject: "Christian Education." In the evening Rev. Mr. Elmer will speak on Temperance before the union audience at the Congregational church. Orchestra will assist the choir both morning and evening. Services open promptly at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. All come.

Fontaine & Anglim formally opened their mammoth new building on Wednesday morning and if you enjoy seeing a beautiful store elegantly furnished and completely equipped go and gaze upon this institution. Our pen utterly fails to convey an adequate idea of the wonderful transformation that has taken place. It must be seen to be fully appreciated.

The greatest objection we have heard to the appointment of Mr. Thompson is in the manner in which it was done. It is argued that while the majority of the people favored the appointment of Hugh Robertson, it was upon the recommendation of only a few of the politicians that the appointment was made. There is a vast amount of kicking in this neck of the woods.

Miss Emma Verronneau is expected to return from Chicago next Tuesday morning with all of the latest styles in millinery, having spent a week in the leading shops in that city learning what they are. She may be found at her post of duty in Mrs. E. E. Bangs' fashionable store on Second street ready to supply the requirements of the ladies in the line of fashionable hats and bonnets for fall wear.

About the time J. J. Hill's sons were arrested and fined in Kittson County for shooting game out of season the Times of this city bridled up consequentially and remarked that "we" don't allow even big bugs to infringe the laws with impunity, or words to that effect. Well, la me, how "we" apples do swim to be sure! Wonder if those same boys didn't have just bushels of fun shooting chickens in this county just before their trip to Kittson County and get off scott free?

While in Nebraska last week it was our pleasure to visit with many farmers on the train and when they learned that we were from the Red River Valley they kept us busy answering questions by the hour. They had heard of this famous Valley and all seemed anxious to know more of it. Many said that if they could only sell out down there they would come up to Polk County and try farming in this country. The skeleton in their closet is drouth.

Chris Houston: "I noticed that in your crop report from Fairfax you gave one man a yield of 29 bushels of wheat per acre. Now I happen to know that he did not get more than 10 bushels, and furthermore there is not a 30 bushel crop in the county. This habit that some farmers have of reporting from 10 to 12 bushels more per acre than they have is a ruinous one for upon these reports the prices are fixed and the farmer has to suffer for it. I do not think this is judicious to say the least."

Go and see Sture in the opera house block when you want anything in general merchandise.

Comrade Snyder expected to thresh last week; couldn't get a machine so he concluded to stack and is at it red hot.

Our better half is in Duluth this week visiting relatives and attending the convention of the Congregational Association.

Every farmer should read that wheat circular elsewhere in this issue and then use his own judgment as to whether to hold or not.

Chester Blanchard has accepted a position as book-keeper at Elk River, Minn., and has gone to enter upon the discharge of his new duties.

We have hardly had a chance to get fairly into the harness since our trip to Nebraska last week. We hope to be fully on deck by next week.

J. R. Clements was down to the Twin Cities last week enjoying the sights. J. R. talks of building a large addition to the Commercial House next summer.

If any one needs to be convinced of the advantages this country enjoys he has but to visit other parts of the country and witness their disadvantages—that will settle it.

It may be all right to hold your wheat but if we had 10,000 bushels to sell we should not take any further chances on it if it reached $1 in this market. The experiences of the past are not encouraging.

Joe Hoch was so busy last week that he could not possibly get time to go to Wabasha for his family and so it transpired that his family did not wait for him but came on by themselves, arriving on Wednesday morning. Joe will now live at home in Crookston.

Rev. R. H. Battey returned on Sunday morning from his sad journey to Hesper, Iowa. His father had passed away before his arrival, at the age of 80 years. He had been a church member for 70 years and an officer of the Quakey church at Hesper for 34 years.

Rev. S. N. Griffith, of Larimore, gave us a pleasant call on Monday evening. While he deeply feels the position in which he is placed by the recent unjust attack made upon his honor he is calmly confident of acquittal by the civil courts as he was by the result of the church trial. Mr. G. is a firm believer in the doctrine of governmental ownership of railroads and believes that all freight business should be done similar to the mail system, which is to annihilate distance. Say that a ton to St. Paul costs $1, it should cost no more to deliver it in New York or San Francisco, the freight to be paid in advance the same as postage now is. The Rev. gentleman has some excellent ideas upon the condition of affairs and the true remedy. He has proved up one of the few tree claim entrys ever perfected under the timber culture act.

Tollif Haviland is another hail sufferer whose loss so far has not been reported. He had a fine crop, including 80 acres of excellent wheat, which was totally destroyed. Mr. H. is an honest economical farmer, one who has no bad habits to account for lack of success in farming and as he is situated by this misfortune it seems impossible for him to go ahead with farming operations. Such cases deserve help and some steps should be taken to provide feed for their teams and other present necessities so that such men shall not be driven out of the county.

Two of the riders in the ladies race on the fair grounds on Thursday last were severely injured by the horse of one of them falling and the other was thrown by running over the prostrate animal and its rider. It was thought at first that one of the ladies was killed but such was not the case, though both were severely injured. One was Miss Villa Poole, of Dakota, and the other a South St. Paul lady rider. Both are said to be rapidly recovering.

Thos Ulvin, of McIntosh, secretary of the Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association, is in the city this week soliciting memberships. The eastern and western portions of Polk County are very well organized and the central should be. This movement, which is an effort on the part of the farmers to control the markets in their own interests, seems to us one of the most practical yet suggested and the more farmers that join it the more successful it will be. THE JOURNAL published the articles of incorporation and by-laws a few weeks since.

Sterling Evening Bulletin:—"The McKanlass Specialty Company played to a very good house last night, and the performance was splendid throughout—better than any minstrel show that has ever been here. Prof. McKanlass is a good musician, and is no novice with any instrument, from the harmonica to a piano. His playing two cornets at one and the same time took the house by storm. The company will be welcomed should it ever come this way again." At Grand Opera House Sept. 23d and 24th.

A Severe Accident.

On Monday last Julius Wentzel met with a severe accident that will be very painful and lay him up for awhile. In some way, while he was fixing the cylinder to a threshing machine the machine was started up and one tooth went through his hand, making a bad wound. He was up to see a doctor and had the hand dressed. Fortunately no bones were broken and his escape from losing his hand seems almost miraculous.

The Minnesota World's Fair Commissioners are still wrestling with the problem of how to raise sufficient money for a creditable exhibit of Minnesota products. The State has already appropriated $50,000, which is fully as much of the burden as the average taxpayer, whose benefits therefrom are problematical, should pay, but as yet we have seen no eagerness to catch on manifested by railroads and real estate dealers whose benefits derived would count up in the the thousands. Their just proportion of that fund, if they pay it, would place at least $200,000 at the disposal of the board of commissioners. Those who expect to reap large individual benefits from a good display should now step to the front and give the cause a boost. The average tax-payer has already contributed his share, and more than his share, and he should be given a rest.

General James Compton, Surveyor General of Logs and Lumber, was up last week and enjoyed a fine hunt near St. Hilaire with George Evans, of Fergus Falls, and one or two gentlemen of St. Hilaire. The General's crippled arm bothers him somewhat but he is still a dead winner on a line shot. It will be remembered that he hurt his left hand not long since while hunting, fell off a log and the gun catching in some bushes discharged, the whole charge passing through his left hand which had to be amputated. The General in talking of the affair said that upon arising from the ground and seeing that his left hand was shot away his first thought was that if he should leave the gun as it was somebody would get shot with the remaining charge so he deliberately took the gun in his remaining hand and discharged the last load into the air. He has a new hand now and gets along quite nicely.

That portion of Nebraska which we visited last week was originally wholly prairie land but the face of Nature is so changed by groves of trees that this fact is hard to believe. When we look about on our almost treeless prairie we heartily wish that every Polk County farmer who has no trees could see that country as we saw it and we feel fully convinced that he would not rest until he had a fine grove of his own growing. We were told that in the early days there it seemed quite difficult to get the trees to live and thrive, but to-day no finer timber is growing in the United States than they have. You seldom see a farm house unprotected by a fine grove there and they need it for blizzards in Nebraska are frequent in winter.

All last week he moved about as one in a dream—as though some mighty matter hedged him about and would not give him rest. Finally, one morning early he rose up—the light of a large determination—as large as a bushel basket, shining in his bright blue eyes and going forth unto the kennel wherein was a full grown canine enjoying his early morning nap, he called forth said canine and tying a two-inch cable rope gently yet firmly around his neck he led him forth to his doom—a grave in the raging Red Lake River. Upon the bank he took another rope, about six feet long, unto which he had fastened a brick-bat weighing as much as a pound and this rope he tied about the dog's neck and with a large-sized sigh of regret he threw the poor dog far out into the raging main—but the dog didn't sink worth a cent and started to swim to shore. Catching a pole that was near by the man kept the dog immersed in business (and water) until the dog got tired plum out and fainted dead away. Then, for the first time realizing the enormity of the crime, the man skipped out for home and breakfast, leaving the dog (and the rope) to their respective fates. The next morning when he went forth to attend to the duties of the day the first man he met as he opened the front door was the dog—rope, brick and all, joyously wagging his tail in a hearty welcome to his master, who at once released him and solemnly promised him never to try that joke again. The above harrowing tale relates the experience of one of our prominent business men in his efforts to get rid of a dog that he thought he had no further use for. He has now decided to let the dog tax go by default next year and thus furnish a job for the dog-catcher.

CROOKSTON, MINNESOTA

The evening papers of Monday reported a rise in the price of wheat, caused, it was alleged, by the recent circular (which we republish elsewhere in this issue) advising farmers to hold their wheat, but somehow when we looked upon the bulletin board Tuesday morning the same quotations of Monday stared us coldly in the face without the slightest change—the "rise" hadn't seemed to catch on this far from the busy marts of trade. While we as farmers are disposed to grumble at this state of things it should suggest to us the only remedy we have in our hands, but in many cases it does not seem to. For some time past winter wheat has been moving freely and the first of our spring wheat, thrown upon the market, already very well supplied, must naturally be disposed of at a price lower than it would if there was a greater present demand, and yet in the face of this fact our wheat is being dumped upon the market just as fast as it can possibly be threshed and delivered. While it is a fact that there will be a sufficient demand for all the wheat we have at a fair living price to the farmer it depends very much upon how that wheat is handled whether he gets that price or not. If every bushel of our wheat is threshed as fast as possible and rushed upon the market the result will be that the farmer will not get as much for his wheat as the conditions would warrant. If every bushel of our wheat had to be stacked the result would be a good fair price just as soon as the wheat was ready for the market for then the supply of winter wheat would be pretty well out of the way. We believe it would be wise for farmers to stack, as far as possible, do the fall plowing and then thresh. By that time there would be a good lively demand for wheat which would mean better prices. If our wheat continues to be thrown on the market as freely as it has started until the bulk of it is gone it will enable speculators to control it all through and pay just what they choose for it and no more.

THE JOURNAL man had the pleasure of a trip to Nebraska last week, and the truth compels us to say that we saw a very lovely country. From St. Paul to Sioux City we took the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha line. This road has an excellent train service, the coaches are elegant and lighted by electricity by the Pintsh system. Arrived at Sioux City at 7 a. m. on Friday. Here we found that rustler, Andrew Goff, who a few weeks since was in this city helping A. O. Rolsad drum up trade for the Robert street restaurant. Goff and Tom Brown, formerly of this place, are running a dairy restaurant, employing seven persons, and doing a rushing business. We enjoyed an excellent breakfast with Goff and then took the Omaha line for Norfolk, Neb. All along the route we saw immense corn fields, which were a novel sight to our Minnesota eyes, accustomed to see more wheat than corn. Large fields of clover, alfalfa and millet are to be seen, while now and then we will see a small wheat or oat field or a patch of flax, but corn is the great staple. It is planted by machinery, cultivated the same way and, when ready, the ears are picked by hand and cattle and hogs turned in to eat the stalks and what corn is left. Immense herds of cattle are everywhere to be seen and large droves of hogs. The cattle are all thoroughbreds and grade Shorthorns, Herefords and Polled Angus of the beef breeds and Holsteins for the diary. The hogs are mostly Berkshire and Poland China, the former apparently predominating. We were told that this is a banner year for this country, pork being high and beef good price and what corn they don't feed bringing a good figure. We saw many groves of fine timber which, we were told, were set out by the early settlers some fifteen or twenty years ago. This hardly seemed possible, judging from the size of some of the trees but the country has the appearance of having originally been a prairie country and these groves show what can be done when you try, and we only wish that every Polk County farmer, who has no trees upon his prairie farm could see those groves once. The timber is the same kinds that grow here and the soil looks very much like ours. This country was originally an Indian Reservation and has been settled about as long as Polk County. From Norfolk our route to our destination was via the Union Pacific. The train service on this line is good. The general features of the country are about the same as from Sioux City to Norfolk. We talked with many of the farmers whom we met on the train and as soon as they learned that we were from the far famed Red River Valley of the North they were full of questions regarding our locality and many expressed a desire to get out of corn and stock raising and get into wheat in the Red River Valley. They say that, as a rule, they do not have rain enough during the summer and then crops as a result are lighter than this year, in which they have had rain in abundance. Lands there are held at about the same figures as here and fine looking farms with good buildings can be bought at less than the cost of buildings and original outlay. Sioux City is making great preparations for the coming corn palace which will be finer this year than ever before. In our opinion it would amply repay the cost of the trip to see it, and, should any of our readers be tired of living in this country, if they should take this trip and converse as freely with the inhabitants as we did we believe they would return better satisfied to remain right here, for while they would see some extremely lovely looking country they would find the "skeleton in the closet" even there and would find the drawbacks even greater than here.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

Wheat Will Go Up.

Another Circular Advising the Farmers to Hold Back Their Wheat.

Editor Muller Claims That the Rush of Wheat is About Over.

Two Dollars Declared to Be a Figure That Will Be Reached.

The Grangers Counseled to Hold the Cerial for $1.50.

St. Paul Globe, Sept. 13th.

"Facts Worth Money," is the heading of a new circular in relation to the wheat question now being sent out by the State, of this city. In it the arguments contained in the famous "Hold Your Wheat" supplement of six weeks ago are reviewed, and the farmer is urged to hold back his crop as better prices await him in the next few weeks. The claim is made that wheat will be $1.50 soon, and possibly $2, a review of the European shortage being made the basis of this assertion. Editor George H. Muller, in speaking of this new address to the farmers, last evening said:

"We still believe that a large amount of grain will be held back, that the rush is practically over. Our advices from thousands of correspondents are all to this effect. The winter wheat rush is practically over now. These early sales were by those who were distressed for money and those who were not connected with the Alliance.

We do not believe that a majority of the farmers are foolish enough to co-operate with the speculators to depress prices further.

There is no question but that prices will take a turn upward in a few days.

We are sending out another million supplements.

Our regular issue this week is 60,000 copies.

The wheat growers' association just organized is co-operating with us. The secretary, ex-president Hall, is in the field now working the thing up. State Alliance Secretary, MacInnis, of North Dakota, is doing all that he can there. In fact, the Alliance secretaries all over the country are doing their best to prevent a sacrifice of the wheat crop.

Of course the crop is being overestimated by those who desire to depress prices. The resolutions adopted by the executive committee of the People's party yesterday hit the subject squarely."

The circular opens with the statement that the farmers will be saved millions of dollars if the advice given in the document is followed. Alliance secretaries are instructed to give the circular as wide a distribution as possible, while newspapers are requested to publish the same. Continuing, the circular says:

THE CIRCULAR.

The farmer heeds honest advisers who understand the situation, because he has too many of the other kind just now, and it is high time that he learned to discriminate among counselors.

There are in the first line the elevator men and the millers, the grain dealers, speculators and large commission firms, and those newspaper men who go to them for their information about the conditions and lay it as valuable truth before the public.

Two months ago all of these advisers predicted low prices on account of enormous crops in the United States, and advised the farmers to sell as soon as they had a chance.

If at that time these advisers did not tell the farmer that the condition of the European crops were such that during this crop year wheat must inevitably reach the highest price ever obtained, they were either very ignorant men, or they were knaves who wanted to benefit themselves by spreading lies or suppressing the truth.

In either case they were unfit counselors, and as two months have not likely changed their intelligence or honesty, the farmer had better beware of them.

They of course admit now, when the question has been thoroughly ventilated, that an immense shortage exists in Europe, which no surplus of our country can offset; but still they try to tempt the farmers into sacrificing their crops by different tricks.

The press, for instance, is literally overflowing with articles congratulating the farmers on the immense crop raised.

These newspaper articles are at least suspicious, for we hope that few newspaper men are so ignorant that they don't know that a large crop of itself is no ground for congratulation to the farmer. It is the which does not depend on its size, as the following official figures will prove:

Crop Year.	Crop, Bushels.	Farm Value.
1884	512,765,000	$330,862,000
1886	457,218,000	314,126,000
1887	456,329,000	320,613,000
1889	490,560,000	342,492,000
Total	1,916,872,000	$1,298,493,000
1880	498,550,000	472,202,000
1881	383,280,000	456,880,000
1883	415,868,000	385,248,000
1890	399,262,000	334,773,000
Total	$1,696,960,000	$1,651,103,000

The above figures are very significant.

They prove that it does not matter how large the farmer's crop is, but what he gets for it; for, while the crops during the first four years in the above table exceeded by 200,000,000 bushels the other four years, the farmer got $400,000,000 less for them.

Therefore, look with suspicion on the newspaper articles congratulating about the immense crops, and on those who inspire them.

The same parties now enlighten the farmers that Europe will need all they have raised and more, but that they cannot buy it at exorbitant prices. This is true, and it only remains to be ascertained when exorbitant prices commence.

The shortage in Europe can now be figured with accuracy. About a week ago a congress of grain dealers from all parts of Europe met at Vienna, Austria, and computed figures about the crops in Europe. These figures are the highest which well-informed, reputable men could furnish; for if, in a famine year like this, they should give for the crop of any one country lower figures than circumstances justified, the government of that country would certainly remonsrate. It is surely the policy of Europeans not to exaggerate their disaster.

The figures of the Vienna congress show that Europe raises 258,000,000 bushels of wheat, and 490,000,000 bushels of rye less than last year.

Last year it consumed all of its own wheat crop and at least 50,000,000 bushels reserves, 100,000,000 bushels imported from America, all that other countries could supply, and all its rye crop. This year it will have from America 120,000,000 bushels more than last, if we take the extreme figures which any reputable authority has made for our really splendid crop.

It will have, as usual, what other countries supply, which is very insignificant, but it will have 748,000,000 bushels less of its own crop, and 50,000,000 less to be drawn from reserves. In short it will have 120,000,000 bushels extra from America to make up a deficiency of 798,000,000 and must consequently eat 678,000,000 bushels less grain.

Rye being dearer in Europe than wheat, the latter becomes a substitute, and is equally affected by deficiency in rye or wheat supply.

When it is entirely certain that Europeans will have to economize in bread to the extent of 678,000,000 bushels, and when the situation is aggravated by the partial failure of the potato crop, it is to be considered what prices they would

PAY FOR AMERICAN WHEAT.

The above named advisers of the American farmer tell him that a price of $1 per bushel in Chicago is about the highest Europeans will stand, and that they would rather eat other things than pay more for wheat.

Let us see how true that is.

They can surely not substitute meat for bread, because at the highest price of wheat ever known bread still remains the cheapest food. When driven to extremities they could substitute corn, barley or oats, and they will have to do so anyhow, without question, for of wheat and rye there is not enough on this planet to come anywhere near making up the deficiency; but when it becomes necessary to draw upon these products to fill the shortage they will also rise to heretofore unknown prices.

It being admitted that the shortage in European crops is far the worst ever known in history, it would be only natural for Europeans to expect high wheat prices.

The average price for wheat for the last thirty two years in England, on a gold basis, was $1.41 per bushel, which now corresponds with a price of $1.21 in Chicago.

During the eight highest years of that period, namely 1861-67-68-71-72-73-74 and 1877, the average price was $1.77¼, equal to $1.27¼ in Chicago. During 1867 and 1868 the average price was $1.95, and prices went as high at $2.21 per bushel, equal to more than $2 in Chicago.

Though well posted about European affairs, we do not recollect that these high prices of wheat changed the diet of Europeans to any great extent, and the exorbitant prices at which Europe as the farmer's advisers say, will refuse to take our wheat, must, therefore, be somewhere beyond past experience.

The shortage in Europe being four times as large as the American surplus, there is no doubt that the price of wheat will reach the highest figure ever known, before this year is up, and will exceed it by far before the new crops come in.

European countries which lend us thousands of millions of dollars are not going very easily on boiled hay and root diet.

The talk that $1 wheat in Chicago is a high price under present circumstances is absolutely idiotic, for an average price in England being $1.41, no one in Europe dares expect to eat wheat 21 cents below an average price this year.

Speculators having made reckless contracts with Europeans, succeeded in drawing out of the farmer enough winter wheat to fill their engagements so far, by offering for cash wheat about as much as they promised to sell for in December.

Holding up the Chicago quotations, and proving that the prices for cash wheat were equal to December futures, the agents who overrun the country said to the farmers: "Why should you hold your wheat and incur all expenses and risk if you can buy for delivery in December the same article for the price at which you sell now?" This argument that speculators grew bolder, and even reduced the prices a little in hopes of getting the spring wheat crop a little cheaper.

It is talked all over Europe and America that wheat from Minnesota and the Dakotas will flow into the market at a rate which will be limited only by the capacity of railroads for carrying it. It is said that wheat will come so fast that there will not be money enough to buy it and elevator capacity to store. Of course, if the farmer should insist on offering more wheat than there is money to buy it with, he could keep prices down a little, even if his grain were actually worth its weight in silver; but, unfortunately for speculators, there is little prospect that this tremendous rush into the market will take place.

The warning came in good season to the spring wheat farmers, so that they have had time to discuss the question, and they will hold back much better than the speculators expected. We are perfectly assured of this by our immense correspondence. Those who are forced by absolute necessity to sell, or who are too imbecile to understand the situation, are not so numerous that their actions can keep down prices any length of time, and as soon as the fools are out of the market intelligent farmers will get prices adequate to the circumstances.

The above mentioned class of advisers want to make farmers believe that they must come in before navigation closes, while as a fact, during the last five years, without exception, wheat has brought more money in December than September. The same men talk incessantly about our tremendous surplus, though they know it is only one-fourth of the European shortage, while in other years it was equal to it.

Never was there any good reason for having wheat prices so low as they are even to-day, for wheat crops have never been so far in excess of the demand that extremely low prices were justified, nor was it due entirely to the action of speculators that prices became unremunerative. It was the idiotic way of Western farmers selling their wheat which broke prices, kept them poor, nearly ruined Eastern farmers, reduced English farm property to half value and compelled Germany and France to protect their farming industries by high import duties.

By selling a year's supply during a few months, prices naturally and generally stay there. This year, however, it will, fortunately, not make much difference how low prices start in, for wheat will soon be over $1.50, no matter how much farmers and speculators work together to keep prices down; and we would advise those who can comprehend the situation to hold their wheat for $1.50, and add for every month they keep it, say 5 cents to the price. There is no doubt they will get that price and probably more, and they will get it in the near future.

We have consulted with many prominent farmers, and the executive officers of the grain growers' association; their unanimous opinion is that farmers should provide themselves with granaries. We give working drawings for a very substantial granary, which holds 1,500 bushels and costs little over four cents per bushel. Such a granary can be insured at low rates, and furnishes as good security for loans as elevator receipts. It can be put up in a couple of days and will pay ten times the cost this season.

We summarize the above as follows:

Beware of ignorant or interested advisers.

Remember that the yearly Vienna congress is the best authority in the world, making its figures entirely from official reports, never over-estimating the shortage.

Remember that these figures show a European shortage four times as large as our possible surplus.

Hold your wheat. You cannot get left.

Wheat is cheap at $1.50 this year. You will soon see it at $2.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]
Last publicatian Oct. 29th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:40 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.37 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44)) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Council Proceedings.

Proceedings of a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston, held in the City Hall, Tuesday evening, Sept. 8th, 1891.

ROLL CALL.

Aldermen present—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker and Cromb.

Aldermen absent—none.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read and approved.

Alderman Jennings, as a committee of one, who was appointed to write Mr. Starkey in reference to completing his contract with the city, reported as follows, that he had written Mr. Starkey and requested an answer at once, but had not received any reply to his letter.

A communication was read from the health officer relating to stagnant water standing on streets; also a petition was received from A. A. Just and others praying that an outlet might be made for the water standing in the ditch and that it be made to flow to the river. Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that the petition be referred to the city attorney and if he finds he has power to act, to do so, if not, that he be instructed to draw up an ordinance under the provisions of Subdivision 31, of Section 5, of Chapter 4 of the city charter governing such nuisances. Carried.

A petition was read from Francis Reckett relating to his putting a part of his building on the street to the extent of about three inches. Moved by Ald. Walker, seconded by Ald. McGlogan, that the petition be granted.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, Marlett, McGlogan, Schmidt, Walker, Cromb.

Alderman Steenerson not voting.

Motion declared carried and petition granted.

A petition was received from G. W. Peake asking for the privilege of erecting a building covered with sheet iron on his lot number 1, block 5, Fletcher & Houston's addition to the city of Crookston. Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the request be referred to the fire committee with full power to act. Carried.

The finance committee reported favorably upon the following bills:

Moved by Ald. Buhn, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the report be accepted and the bills paid. Carried.

Bill number 726 of D. Jacobus for assessor's salary was referred to the council without recommendation, by the finance committee.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Steenerson, that the resolution fixing the assessor's compensation as being paid in three installments be so far amended as to make the full amount of unpaid balances now due and payable, and that the amount be paid. Carried.

A communication was read from P. J. McGuire relating to rebate of a certain amount of taxes on lot 2, block 26, of original townsite of Crookston, and on motion was referred to the city attorney with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the city engineer be instructed to visit Mr. Starkey in St. Paul and to consult with him in regard to the sewer plans, street levels and grades of the city. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that it is the sense of this council that a wooden structure with a sheet iron covering is equally fire-proof with a brick wall.

Ald. Steenerson raised a point of order. Chair sustained the objection.

The fire committee reported favorably upon the request of G. W. Peake, amended by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Marshall, as follows: Providing said structure be such as to fill all of the requirements of the fire ordinance. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Marshall that the report as amended be adopted. Carried.

Alderman Childs presented an ordinance relating to hitching posts on the streets. Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the ordinance be referred to the ways and means committee. Carried and so referred.

The Comptroller's annual report and estimate sheet was read and on motion was referred to the finance committee.

Edward Murphy presented an application to sell intoxicating liquors. Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Buhn, that the application be granted and a license issued after the proper publications have been made. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the purchasing agent be and he hereby is authorized to purchase two lamps for use in the council chamber at an expense of not exceeding ten dollars. Carried.

At a regular meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 8th day of September, 1891, Ald. Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Cromb:

Resolved, That a suitable street crossing is hereby directed and ordered constructed across Houston avenue, opposite the southwest corner of Hunter street, and the street commissioner be and he is hereby directed to carry the above into effect.

Upon the call of ayes and and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, Marlette, McGlogan, Steenerson Schmidt, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the president of the council.

Passed this 8th day of Sept. 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 9th day of Sept. 1891.

ALEX. McKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

A petition was read from T. H. Bjoin and others asking for a permit to construct and maintain a cross walk across Main street between Opera block and McKinnon block. Moved by Alderman Steenerson that the petition be granted. Carried.

The City Engineer presented a communication on the sewer and grade on Ash and 3d streets.

At a regular meeting of the City Council of the city of Crookston held the 8th day of September, 1891, Ald. Marshall offered the following resolution which was seconded by Ald. Schmidt:

Resolved by the City Council of the City of Crookston, That it is the sense of said council that a sewer three (3) feet in diameter, built of brick, eight (8) inches in thickness be constructed along the center of Third street, in the city of Crookston, from the east side of Main street in said city, where the same intersects said Third street, and the city engineer is hereby requested to make and present to the city council at an adjourned meeting thereof, to be held on the 22d day of September, A. D. 1891, an estimate of the cost of such improvement and the proportion of such costs which shall be required to construct such sewer in front of abutting lands, and the proportion of such cost to construct said sewer in front of streets and alleys and in front of lands not subject to assessment, and also a list of the several lots and parcels of land fronting upon such improvements, with the number of feet thereof fronting upon such improvements, and the names of the owners of the several parcels as near as may be. Said sewer to be constructed in accordance with the plans used in the construction of the brick sewer extending from the east side of Main street where the same intersects said Third street, westerly along the center of said Third street to Red Lake River.

Upon the call of the ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marlette, Marshall, McGlogan, Steenerson, Schmidt, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 8th day of Sept., 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 9th day of Sept., 1891.

ALEX. McKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

Moved by Alderman Steenerson, seconded by Alderman Marlette that when we adjourn it be to meet on Tuesday, Sept. 22d, at 8 o'clock. Carried.

Moved by Alderman Childs, seconded by Alderman Marlette, that the complaint of Mrs. LaChapelle be referred to the City Attorney with instructions to report at the next meeting. Carried.

Amended by Alderman Steenerson, seconded by Alderman Childs, that the matter be referred to the Ways and Means committee. Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Steenerson, Walker and Cromb. Aldermen voting in the negative—Jennings, Schmidt. Declared carried and referred to the Ways and Means committee.

On motion council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH, City Clerk.

A CANARD.

THE NEW YORK PRESS EXPOSES THAT "IMPORTANT BILL" BUSINESS.

The article credited to the New York Press going the rounds of the papers, in which it is alleged that unfavorable action had been taken in the New York Legislature against the Royal Baking Powder, proves to have been a canard, gotten up and circulated by opposition baking powder makers for purposes quite apparent to every one.

The New York Press, in exposing the fraud, says: "No such legislation as that stated in this article has ever been had in this State—or in any legislature, to our knowledge." The lie is made from whole cloth. The Press disclaims any responsibility for the publication, and objects to being made a party to such methods adopted by some baking powder manufacturers in their efforts to substitute their goods for others now in use.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, Sept. 7th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Ole Isakson Austad, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of O. Osmundson, executor of the estate of Ole Isakson Onstad deceased, representing among other things that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered, that said account be examined, and petition heard, by this Court, on Monday, the 5th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office in the city of Crookston, in said county.

And it is further ordered, that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 7th day of Sept., A. D. 1891.

By the Court, C. M. BENSON,
[21-23] Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication August 6th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of five hundred eleven and 21-100 ($311.21) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Christian N. Sathre and Raghild E. Sathre, his wife, mortgagors, to Ole H. Bang, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of October, 1889, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 29th day of October, 1889, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 31 of mortgages, on page 47, which said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was duly assigned by said Ole H Bang, mortgagee, to Hans Larson, by written assignment dated the 16th day of July, 1891, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of July, 1891, at 11:55 o'clock a. m., in book 57 of mortgages, on page 151, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of southwest quarter and lots eight (8) and nine, (9) Section thirty-two, (32) Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-six (46) west, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 19th day of September, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of $311.21, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars, attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th 1891]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Eugene Bernard and Emma Bernard, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 22d day of January, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1889, at 9:10 o'clock a. m., in book 43 of mortgages, on page 464; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the coupons for interest that fell due July 22d, 1889, January 22d, 1890, July 22d, 1890, January 22d, 1891, and July 22d, 1891, each thereof being for the sum of $17.50, and whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described, the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred dollars and forty-five cents, ($600.45), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼) and lots three (3) and four (4), of Section nineteen (19), Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty (40) west, containing 144 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by William H. Godfrey, a bachelor, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 25 of mortgages, on pages 142-145.

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the principal $800 that fell due June 24th, 1891, and interest coupons for $24 each that fell due on the 24th days of December, 1888, June and December, 1889, June and December, 1890, and June 1891.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum to-wit: Nine hundred and sixty dollars and sixteen cents ($960.16); and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot four (4), and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½ nw¼) of Section fourteen (14) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north, of Range forty-four (44) west, containing 117 acres more or less according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Although the World's Fair is yet a couple years off the question of keeping the Fair open on the Sabbath day is being extensively discussed, many societies going so far as to say that they will have nothing to do with its advancement if it is to be kept open on the Lord's Day. In our opinion there are two sides to this, like every other question, and it should be looked at from both before a decision is rendered. We believe in the observance of Sabbath and always shall and with this belief think that the great exposition could be kept open to a great extent and do no harm to anyone. There are thousands of poor people in Chicago and the surrounding cities who are working every hour of the day during the week to provide for the bare necessities of their families, who cannot well afford to quit work to go and see the wonders on exhibition. Would it be a desecration of that holy day to allow these people to visit the buildings and exhibits on Sunday? We think not and are heartily in favor of it. There need be none of the great processions and such-like on this day, neither need the machinery be running, but there will be thousands of curiosities and wonders from all parts of the world and we say let the poor people see them on Sunday, the only real holiday they have. Then, too, there are religious societies, the Seventh Day Baptists, for instance, who are perfectly conscientious in observing Saturday as the day of rest. If the Fair is to be closed for one religious belief why not both? But we do not believe it should be closed entirely on Sunday or any other day.

THE JOURNAL is a firm believer in a grand future for our county. We have the best and richest soil on earth, a good healthy climate and all we need to insure the farmers good prices is equity in our markets. The past year has shown encouraging improvements in this particular and we believe the day is not far distant when we shall have the best market facilities in the world. We need direct communication with Duluth and the prospects are that we shall soon have a direct road there, probably two of them. We think that farmers have every reason to take fresh courage and with renewed hope press forward.

The New York Central railroad has made a record for the boastful English roads, which claim a solidity that allows a speed not approachable on American lines. Last week a train with three passenger cars made the 487 miles from New York to East Buffalo in 440 minutes, including fourteen minutes of stops, the crossing of two great bridges and some loss of time in passing through cities. This is more than a mile a minute of running time. For so long a run this beats the world's records. There are few features in railroading, including the watering of stock, in which this country does not hold the belt.

It is to be regretted that our two great cities, St. Paul and Minneapolis, could not have been united under the one name of Twin City, as was recently attempted. It would have been a good thing for both places and the whole State. However it is not the first time that the public good has been sacrificed for private greed.

Gov. Campbell and Major McKinley will jointly discuss the great political questions of the day at Ada, O., Oct. 8th. It will be a battle between giants and well worth going a great distance to hear.

The tariff article on the first page of our last issue, entitled "Concerning Back Numbers," should have been credited to the Glyndon News, from which it was taken.

It is rumored that the Great Northern, Canadian Pacific and Soo railroads will be consolidated under one management. If this proves true it will make the largest railroad combination in America. And think of it, Crookston is on the line.

New York State is now in the political cauldron and the fight promises to be a warm one. Hon. R. P. Flower is the Democratic gubernatorial candidate while Hon. J. S. Fassett is the leader for the Republican hosts who promise to wrest the State from the Democratic party and place it back in the right column.

While we were not born under the traditional lucky star we cannot but feel that we were lucky in not being the son of a President of the United States, for we can think of nothing which handicaps like this. The young scion of the Harrison family has a doubly hard row in the struggle with business, from this fact.

Solid hours of enjoyment are obtained each month from the pages of Peterson's Magazine by its many thousands of readers. The October number is overflowing with choice reading and fine illustrations. It opens with an excellent illustrated sketch "A Trip from Naples to Amalfi." There is a clever story, "As long as the River Flows," also an entertaining illustrated article on Cups, Gourds and Vases. A paper on the Princes de Lamballe, also one on Women in Ancient Rome, together with much other interesting and instructive matter makes the number a valuable one. Send five cents for a sample copy to Peterson's Magazine, Philadelphia, Pa.

We shall soon complete our list and shall then send out a statement of account to our subscribers, and we trust that each one will do all he can for us this fall. The loss of a fine crop of wheat is heavy enough under ordinary circumstances, but this one, which we had counted upon to help us in our endeavor to put in needed improvements, seems to fall upon us with added weight. We are confident, however, of being able to accomplish a part of our plans if our friends will all stand by us, and by the expressions we have heard we think they will. Our statements will be ready for mailing on or about Oct 1st. Last year, notwithstanding our statements were sent out late and the season was unpropitious, they met with very encouraging responses, which we trust will be the case this year.

A dispatch from New York, Friday, said:—"To-day marks the formal opening of the Republican state campaign, and from this time on the political fight will be waged in earnest. The state committee assembled at the Fifth avenue hotel this morning for the purpose of looking over the field and making the necessary preliminary arrangements. It was decided to make permanent headquarters at the hotel and a campaign committee was appointed. Candidate Fassett has already taken up his residence at the hotel and will use it as his headquarters during the campaign. It has been decided to hold mass meetings on the subject of Hillism and the ballot in all the Democratic strongholds, and Fassett will personally visit every important center of population from one end of the state to the other.

St. Paul Globe:—Secretary A. L. Stromberg, of the State Alliance, ran into the city from his home at Forest Lake yesterday, and spent the day attending to duties in connection with his office. Mr. Stromberg is not as a rule inclined to talk a great deal but yesterday he broke down the barricade which usually surrounds him and chatted quite freely over the Alliance outlook. Just at present, he said, the farmers are too busy to spend their time organizing new Alliances but as soon as their fall work is over the work will commence again.

"What do you think of the 'Hold You Wheat' circulars, Mr. Stromberg?" asked the Globe man.

"I think the advice very good," answered the secretary. "The wheat is being rushed to the market too rapidly, and I am afraid that there will actually be a blockade. I hope many of our farmers will hold back, for a time at least."

Everybody Wants Minnesota's Fertile Agricultural Lands and is Willing to Pay Big Prices.

Reports on the Land Market From Nearly 50 Counties.

THE SAME STORY EVERYWHERE.

MINNESOTA IS RECEIVING THE REWARD WHICH HER MERITS DESERVE—THE EFFECT WILL BE FELT IN THE CITIES.

Minneapolis Journal.

The rapidly increasing activity in Minnesota farm lands is attracting general attention throughout the country, and it is very evident that confidence in the Northwest is stronger to-day than in and other agricultural section of the country. There has been a steadily increasing demand for Minnesota lands since last fall, and it has grown rapidly since spring. No section of the state seems to have been specially favored over another, and general prosperity among the farmers has resulted in acquisitions to their farm holdings in all sections. This is not a statement without verification, for the railroad companies know whether the land they sell goes to settlers or to new arrivals, and their business is a good test of whether there is an increased demand for farm lands.

The Journal has investigated this and submits figures which give an idea of what the demand is. The Great Northern Railroad Company has 1,500,000 acres of unsold land in the state, and on account of the greatly increased demand for agricultural land this summer the price was advanced uniformly Aug. 1st, $1 an acre. The sales of the company for the year ending July 1st, 1890, were 86,000 acres; but so rapidly did the demand increase during the year ending July 1st, 1891, that 112,000 acres were sold—a gain of 26,000 acres in one year. The present demand is very active, and Land Commissioner Braden says it must continue because of the wonderful crops. Many farmers will add 40, 80 and, in many cases 160 acres to their holdings. The majority of last year's business was in additional sales to farmers who had got out of debt on last year's crop. Then, the sons of farmers are starting in for themselves by buying small farms.

"The conditions governing farm lands are very different now than 35 years ago," said Mr. Braden. "Then Illinois was only open for settlement, a large portion of Wisconsin was subject to pre-emption, Iowa was new and all of Kansas and Minnesota. The two Dakotas and Nebraska, all agricultural land, had not been looked at. Now nearly all of this great region has been taken up, so that the land purchaser must buy at second hand. This condition has warranted a pretty rapid advance in the price of farm lands when it has been effectually demonstrated that they are in a region of great crops.

The Great Northern lands are along its two lines running out from Minneapolis to Willmar and Fergus Falls, uniting at Barnesville, and extending down the Red River Valley. The largest acreage is in the Red River country, but relatively as much land has been sold in the other counties in which land is held. An idea of the general demand for Minnesota farm land may be gained from this statement of sales made this year by the Great Northern company. The first 10 days in August showed sales equal to all of August last year:

Counties.	Acres sold.	Counties.	Acres sold.
Anoka	418	Otter Tail	2,479
Benton	280	Polk	22,940
Chippewa	820	Pope	4,736
Douglas	640	Renville	1,006
Grant	6,258	Sherburne	539
Isanti	240	Stearns	5,350
Kanabec	8,318	Stevens	1,754
Kittson	11,165	Swift	4,709
Marshal	30,888	Todd	210
Meeker	2,510	Traverse	2,957
Morrison	561	Wilkin	1,710
Norman	240	Wright	801

The sales in these counties is not an indication of the relative demand, for in some of the best Northwestern counties the company owns but little land, and the sales are therefore small.

The Northern Pacific has a good deal of land in Minnesota, but it is more timber than agriculture, lying largely in the northern part of the state. The road reports an increased demand for lands this year, and especially in its agricultural portions. The gross sales for the year ending June 30, 1891, were 157,951 acres for which $394,400 was received. The lands range in price from $4 to $8 as an average, the best farm lands being a little more.

The Journal, believing that the prosperity in the state was more pronounced than even enthusiastic city residents elieved, and especially non residents, has secured reports from nearly 60 counties as to the demand for farm land, and in nearly every case a strong demand and good prices are reported. There are 80 counties in the state, but of those not reported, but few are chiefly agricultural counties, although all have excellent agricultural land.

Notwithstanding the comparatively dull times experienced throughout the country for several years, it appears that Minnesota has done much better agriculturally than most other sections of the west. This fact has attracted attention eastward, and with the splendid crops of the present year it seems to the Journal as if a marked revival of immigration might reasonably be expected, an improvement of business generally, and an increased demand for farm lands and real estate in the smaller cities and towns of the state. It is also probable that if the existence of a good demand for farm property exists it will stimulate it to larger proportions if the fact that such a demand has set in becomes generally known.

The increasing demand for agricultural lands is the best indication of prosperity. It shows that the country is actually leading the larger cities, and they too must soon experience an active movement in property, that the conditions in the country so fully warrant.

THE FIGHT FOR PURE FOOD.

Success of the Efforts to Scotch Bad Baking Powders.

The aggressive war waged by the Royal Baking Powder Company upon the hosts of adulterated and impure baking powders sold throughout the country is having a desirable effect. The scandalous attacks upon the Royal company by the manufacturers of the impure goods (which are made doubtless both from a spirit of revenge and in the hope of breaking the effect of damaging exposures) show that they were hit, while the official reports which have come from various public authorities fully corroborating the statements made by the Royal company, have awakened a wholesome public sentiment in favor of repressive laws, which means mischief to the illegitimate traffic.

The Royal Baking Powder company set out some time ago to expose the character and to break up the sale of adulterated baking powders. Having found from an examination of many specimens that there was a large number of actually injurious powders in the market, they brought the matter before the public and denounced the makers by name in the press and to the health authorities. The affair was taken up by physicians, Boards of Health and Legislatures throughout the country, chemists were employed to test the various powders in the market, and the government itself directed analyses be made before it would purchase the supplies needed for army, navy and Indian uses.

The result justified the charges made by the Royal company. Not only were the majority of baking powders in the market found to be largely adulterated but many of them were found to contain alum and other poisoness ingredients to such an extent as to render them positively unsafe for use in human food. In making the charges the Royal Baking Powder company did not hesitate to enter into competition with every other baking powder in the country, and it is a public satisfaction that in the official tests by the government and State chemists and by Boards of Health, the Royal Baking Powder has been declared to be the superior of all others in strength, purity and wholesomeness, and absolutely free from all inferior or detrimental substances.

From recent official reports it is evident that the alum and otherwise impure goods have again come upon the market in dangerous quantities and their old enemy, the Royal, is again upon the warpath. In continuing its warfare against these goods the Royal is meeting with the old time opposition and abuse. The public, however, will appreciate, as heretofore, both the object of the abuse and the action of the Royal company, and award full justice to the company that so fearlessly stands up for its protection from such adventurers.

Rumors are flying thick and fast in regard to the construction of a railroad to this place this fall.

Mr. Chas. Heornig, brother of Mrs. Kretzschmar, is visiting in town. He is proprietor of the largest meat market in Oshkosh, Wis., his home.

School commenced Monday. The intermediate department occupy the new school house which has been nicely fixed up under the direction of the school board.

Threshing is quite general now. R. Jacklin reports 240 bushels of oats from three acres, wheat 31 bushels to the acre. Fred Wendt, 26 bushels of wheat per acre, other fields about the same. But little damage by frost has yet been found.

As we mentioned last week, Rev. Sharp, of Crookston, held Communion service in the village last Friday evening. A short but eloquent sermon was preached to a good audience. Music was furnished by the choir accompanied by the new organ, which is a great improvement.

School opened Monday in full blast, with Miss Helen Wallin teacher in the primary department, 18 scholars enrolled, and Miss Helen Davies in charge of the intermediate department, 16 scholars enrolled. Still there's more to follow as soon as harvest and threshing is done.

The County Fair.

Who is there that does not remember the "county fair." No one, unless some unfortunate who was born "grown up," or whose childhood was unhappily cribbed and confined behind city walls. What a gala day it was when the farmers took a holiday, the big wagons were loaded with the children, the "women folks" and big baskets of lunch, the stores in the county town were closed for the afternoon, and the town folks turned out, too. The fashion of much that was simple, genuine and harmless holiday in our American life has now changed, but the county fair remains almost the same. The fat oxen, the enormous porkers, the big pumpkins, the be-ribboned horses, the sloppy dining halls, the vociferous venders of pop corn and lemonade, the plowing match, the man with toy balloons, the races in which 3:08 was great time for a mile—all these are unchanged. The only difference is that we now get there largely by rail, and if it is the big State Fairs we visit, we go by "The Burlington," the best equipped railroad, getting tickets of the local agent or writing to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Detroit (Minn.) Free Press:—Hon. "Dar" Hall, chairman of the Chippewa Indian commission, came up from Minneapolis this morning and was seen at his office by a Free Press reporter to-day. After some talk about the work accomplished by the commission, the reporter asked him if there was any dissatisfaction among the Indians regarding allotments, to which he replied: "There has been no dissatisfaction reported to me though I suppose some will kick, but they have no reason to. Under the treaty of 1867 each head of a family was allowed 160 acres of land provided he improved 40 acres, each boy over 18 years years of age was allowed 80 acres, and each younger child 40 acres, but the wife was left entirely unprovided for. Under the amended Daws bill each man, woman and child is entitled to 80 acres of land, so it amounts to about the same thing. All those who have complied with the law will be entitled to 160 acres. On the 22d of this month an examination will be held at White Earth to determine who should be enrolled among the Chippewas and those entitled to allotment of lands and annuities. Many of those who were enrolled were objected to by the chiefs and these stand suspended. They will have to bring proof from the chief and head men to show that they are unjustly deposed of their rights."

The great German eye water is the best known remedy for weak or inflamed eyes, or any inflamation caused by overwork or injury to the eye. It will improve, strengthen and preserve the sight. For sale at Saake's jewelry store.

A. N. Hixson: I threshed 100 acres of wheat for J. P. Marcum and it yielded 2,500 bushels of wheat that grades in this market No. 1 Northern. This is an exceptional yield and I do not think the average in Polk County will exceed 20 bushels,

The fact that the price of wheat is steadily rising in the face of the extraordinarily large deliveries for this time of year, gives a hint that if the wheat could be delivered more slowly the producer would get a little nearer the correct figfor his wheat.

Peter Misgen: What do I know? Well, I don't know as I can state it for a positive fact just now, but it is rumored that the Milwaukee beer folks will establish bottling works in this city at an early day. That will be a new business institution for Crookston.

The Great Northern, it is said, will build an elegant new depot at Grand Forks in the near future. If they would do the same in Crookston it would be greatly to their advantage, as the need for a good one here is great and our people would appreciate it.

The finest line of silk and chenille curtains and draperies can be seen at Gervais', "the hustler's."

Extensive prairie fires in Emmons County, N. D., have destroyed many houses and barns and much grain in shock and stack. This calamity should serve to emphasize the necessity for providing safe fire breaks, as all prairie countries are more or less subject to this danger. Have you got a sufficient fire break?

"Anchored Souls," and "The Voiceless Night Witness," are to be the subjects of Mr. Battey's sermons next Sabbath at the Congregational church. The young people of this church cordially invite the Scandinavian young people of the city to attend their Sunday evening meeting at 7 o'clock. Welcome for all at this church.

Marshall County Leader:—Mr. V. Harrington has entered into partnership with A. S. Elford of Crookston in the life insurance business. They are a team of hustlers, there is no doubt about that, and will do lots of business. They have as fine set of offices in the Opera House Block at Crookston as there is in the Northwest.

Geo. J. McManus: I don't know as I have any news of interest to your readers, but I have an idea that at the present prices for barley it is more profitable to feed to stock than to sell. H. B. Budd, of Edna, last week shipped the first carload of No. 2 barley ever shipped from Polk County, and the price that he got for it below affords no encouragment to farmers to raise barley to sell. I think the price will be far better though, later.

Our little neighbor on Second street is a great "business" man! He admits this himself in his own self-conceited style. In fact from his own say-so there is not his equal in the world, yet even he seems wholly to overlook one essential matter which ordinary business men think essential, "Mind your own business," and thinks it is "business" to try to run every other institution in the city. We sometimes wonder what kind of a world this would be if composed entirely of such wonderful "business" men.

Chris. Anderson, finding that one threshing machine was too slow work to suit him, went and bought another rig, and now has two in the field with all the business both can handle. He says that he threshed 30 bushels per acre for Ole Hoven on the farm that Ole bought from M. R. Brown. This farm has always been in the hands of thorough farmers, has always been thoroughly worked and ought to show good results. It does show just what results may be obtained by good farming in this country.

On Tuesday, after dinner, Geo. Vine went down to his smoke house with some bologna sausages to smoke, kindled up his fires and got them in shape to receive the benefit. Not burning as readily as he wished he got down on his hands and knees and commenced to blow. Directly, hearing some noise and excitement, he looked up and there stood the whole fire department ready to turn the hose on him. Somebody, seeing a big smoke down that way had sounded the alarm. Vine says the price of that sausage will be the same as usual.

A head-end collision between two freight trains occurred just in front of the N. P. Hospital, at Brainerd, on Saturday last. The switch engine, with a car of wheat, was just crossing the bridge over the Mississippi River when the engineer discovered the approaching freight from the west. He saw that a collision was inevitable and crowded on all the speed possible so as to prevent a meeting on the bridge. As soon as the engine cleared the bridge he and the fireman jumped and escaped unhurt. The engineer of the east-bound freight discovered the approaching train about the same time, reversed and jumped, together with his fireman, and they, too, escaped. No one was hurt, but the engines and a few cars were total wrecks. The east bound train was loaded with wheat.

Wanted, places for a few young men who want to work for their board while attending our school.

CROOKSTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

We have taken occasion as opportunity presented to interview threshers in regard to the average yield of wheat, and while we find a few who report an average yield of from 25 to 30 bushels per acre, the universal opinion among them seems to be that the average yield in Polk County will be from 16 to 20 bushels. So far there is but little wheat being graded 1 Hard. All who are talking an average yield of 25 to 30 bushels are doing it for a purpose, and that purpose is too obvious to need mention, and THE JOURNAL aims to get the exact facts in the case and publish only such, feeling assured that the simple truth can injure no one. The facts will show that Polk County is one of the best wheat producing counties in the United States. If our average should be 20 bushels, that is about double the average of the United States, and that sustains our claim that Polk County is in the lead, as usual. Some farmers object strenuously to seeing a report of a 25 or 30 bushel yield, claiming that the wheat speculators depend upon these reports as a basis upon which to fix the price of wheat, and, if this was true, it would perhaps be injudicious for the papers to report yields at all; but it is not wholly true. These same wheat operators are a shrewd lot of fellows, and they have their special agents abroad in the land from the time the wheat is sown until it is threshed. These men are experts in their business and it is no doubt true that the speculators know even better than the average farmer what will be the actual yield, and no matter what that yield is to be, or what the real facts are, the speculator always insists upon an average yield of from 30 to 35 bushels, and they point to occasional yields to corroborate their statements. The local newspaper man has to depend almost wholly upon the report the individual farmer himself gives of his yield, and if they report a yield from 10 to 15 bushels more than they actually get, how in reason's name can you blame the newspaper men for publishing these statements, whose only object in everything is to subserve the best interests of the community in which he lives? THE JOURNAL is interested in seeing the agricultural interests of the country built up and the farmers all prosperous, knowing that the basis of our prosperity is agriculture, and we have labored long and faithfully for this object, and expect to do so as long as we live. We are conscientious in the belief that Polk County is one of the best agricultural counties in the world and we fully realize that it is for the best interests of all to have it fully settled up, and such facts and figures as we can give this fall will have that tendency. These facts can in no wise hurt progressive farmers, if they do tend to build up the county as they are intended to do, and all such will have no cause for complaint.

Wanted, board in private families for students.

"And They're After Me!"

Architect Permain now understands the significance of this song more fully than ever before since his experience of Monday. Together with a party of jolly hunters he went out for a hunt. At the first stopping place, as he got out to shoot a duck he got it before he had time to shoot, for as he passed the horses one of them lifted its foot and placed it with considerable emphasis into a convenient mud-puddle completely deluging Permain from head to foot with nice, soft, oozy Polk County farming lands. Had somebody suddenly sprung the chestnut: "What is it going to be," he would not have been more dumbfounded. A convenient watering trough soon cleaned out his mouth, nose et al, and they went along. To every man they met during the day, who knew the party all but Permain, he was introduced as the architect of the new building on the corner of Main and Second streets, and the very first words usually were: "What is it going to be?" Finally, at dark, they arrived at a house tired out, wet and hungry, and they asked the farmer if they could stay all night. "Of course you can," said he. Whereupon Fred Durand said to the farmer: "I suppose you know all of these gentlemen except this one, this is Mr. Permain, the architect of the new building on the corner of Main and Second streets." "Happy to meet you, Mr. Permain," said the farmer, "and, by the way, but Permain was miles away before he had finished the question, preferring death on the open prairie to slow torture with the everlasting query.

WHAT IS IT GOING TO BE?"

Next Monday

The Crookston Business College reopens. New classes in bookkeeping, shorthand, typewriting and all the common English and commercial branches will be organized. Day and evening sessions.

A comparative statement of the receipts of wheat at Duluth for Monday, Sept. 21st, 1891, with the receipts for the same date in 1890, issued by the Duluth Board of Trade, shows how the wheat is rolling in at that place. Of No. 1 Hard wheat 167 cars of wheat were received; one year ago same date only 26 cars; of No. 1 Northern 273, as against 109 of the same grade last year; of No. 2 Northern 104 cars, last year only 22; No. 3 Northern, 26; none last year; no grade wheat 25 cars against 7 last year; rejected 15 cars; none same date last year, making a total of 610 cars of wheat received on Sept. 21st, 1891, against a total of 170 cars on Sept. 21st, 1890, or 440 cars more this year than last. At this rate, if we have no more wheat this year than last, it will be but a short time before the crop is practically beyond the control of the farmers.

Shorthand and Typewriting.

New day and evening classes will be organized at the Crookston Business College on Monday, Sept. 28th.

The Crookston Business College.

The subject of this article is an institution in which all our citizens should be deeply interested; and the object of this is to let our readers know what kind of an institution it is. We quote the following from the catalogue of the school: "This college is designed to teach all the branches essential to a symmetrical commercial education, qualifying the students for intelligent engagement in business pursuits; to supplement the training of the graduate of high schools, seminaries and colleges with such a knowedge of affairs as will give utility to his education, and to supply a knowledge of the useful branches to that large class of young people whose early advantages for obtaining an education were limited or neglected. It is our plan, first, to adopt a high standard of business education; second, to educate our students for the practical affairs of every-day life; third, to employ experienced teachers; fourth, to surround our students with such influences as shall contribute to their moral and physical, as well as their mental welfare. We ask you as a believer in practical education and a friend of young people, to mention our school to any of your friends who contemplate attending a commercial, shorthand or private English school." It is a well known fact that schools of this character usually demand from the city in which they locate a cash bonus. The only bonus the Crookston Business College demands and expects is the good will and support of every business man in our city. This institution has done, does and will do more to advertise our city than any other institution that can be named. This year, which is practically the first year, 2,000 catalogues and at least 10,000 circulars will be sent out all over this state, North and South Dakota and Manitoba. Business men of Crookston, will you not advance the interests of our city, and your own inter- interests by doing what you can to advance the interests of this institution?

From the Bulletin.

Mrs. A. Dufresne and little daughter Cora, of Crookston, were the guests of Mrs. J. E. Brewster on Monday.

W. E. Slocum, the hustling merchant of Crookston, accompanied by his wife, drove over from the county seat Tuesday afternoon, their carriage being conveyed by a broncho, in whom W. E. says he has but little faith.

Mr. Wm. Plumb, after a protracted visit with his cousin, Mr. R. Plumb, left for his home at Brazil, Ind., Tuesday evening. Mr. Plumb leaves the Red River Valley with a more exalted opinion of its merits than when he first arrived. Those Hoosiers down at Brazil informed Mr. Plumb that this Red River country was on the verge of ruin; that our crops are all frozen, and that our people are half-starved paupers. Mr. Plumb was agreeably surprised to find things so prosperous. These reports with which Mr. Plumb was regaled are but a sample of some people's ideas of the Red River Valley and are exceedingly fatiguing.

Arnie Canniff and Miss Alice Topping, of Grand Forks, drove through the village enroute to Crookston on Sunday last.

Marshal O'Reilly returned from Crookston Wednesday, having taken Sanders, the thief who stole Dick White's watch, there for trial.

A. Chabot, Crookston's energetic dry goods merchant, drove into the village Sunday afternoon, accompanied by—we don't know her.

EVENING SCHOOL.

If you expect to attend our evening school this term you should begin Monday, Sept. 28th, if possible. New classes will be organized in all branches.

Advices from Duluth state that the State Inspection forces are working hard to keep up with the volumil of wheat now pouring into market, and although several men have been added yet they find it difficult to keep up entirely. While it is a fact that in order to do all the threshing, some machines must necessarily be employed from the time the grain is in shock and ready yet we can see no need for crowding it all through the machine from the shock. With the present price of labor and the fact that the market is very much oversupplied it would clearly seem to be the part of wisdom to have very much more of the wheat in stack than has been. Not only are these facts strong arguments for stacking but the fact that this very rush is used by the buyers as an excuse for depreciating the price below what it should be and thus the farmer loses again. The present rush, continued until stack threshing is generally commened will have a tendencey to hold the price down through that period and that means for the whole season. This crop, if properly handled would no doubt leave many millions more of money in the hands of farmers than it will if it is all dumped upon the market just as fast as it can be pounded out. Whether wheat-farming pays what it should or not depends just as much upon how it is handled as it does in the manner in which it is raised and this suggests the fact that a farmer to be successful needs to be very much of a business man.

DULUTH ALL RIGHT.

The Wheat Rates War, Duluth Has Them on the Hip.

Duluth Tribune, Sept. 16.

Wm. F. Phelps, of St. Paul, ex-secretary of the Duluth chamber of commerce, was in Duluth last evening for a few hours and talked amusingly on the late Minneapolis outbreak on the wheat rate situation: "You see," said he, "that people in St. Paul are rather amused to see a little of the starch taken out of the big village up the stream from the state capitol. They have always been a community of kickers and have ignored the fact that Duluth from its geographical position was destined to set the pace in rail rates as well as to take rates for the Northwest. They are beginning to realize the fact now, and the way the press down there cries peccavi and throws up both hands makes those who can appreciate the situation smile just as we would at the punishment of the clown in the circus. It is bitter medicine for sore entrails, but the railroads have all virtually told them in so many words that they have got to grin and bear it. They are not only mad, but despairing at the result. The Northern Pacific road having lines of the same length reaching to Duluth and Minneapolis, of course sets the rates for all the other roads, and the other roads are forced to duplicate these rates so long as Duluth pays more for the wheat. It's a ground hog case, you know, and its going to take the bad boy near St. Anthony Falls several Sundays of figuring and guessing to even get the scent of his Sunday dinner. Duluth has them on the run and worse than they are between the devil and the deep sea on the flour question. They cannot pay as much for wheat as Duluth and get their flour to market so as to compete with the Zenith City, on account of being 150 miles away from lake navigation.

Should the Farmer Sell or Hold?

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

It is extraordinary how many people there are these days who are willing to tell what they don't know about the policy that the farmer ought to adopt in disposing of his crops. There is one set who figure out a grain surplus in in the United States about equal to the probable foreign demand, who maintain that present prices are as high as any likely to be obtained, and who urge the farmer to sell while he can. And there is another set who have calculated an enormous deficit in the world's supply of breadstuffs, who say that the wheat of the United States must be had at any price, and who berate the farmers for not holding their crops until wheat is $1,50 or $2 per bushel.

In the presence of these conflicting advisers, the farmer of the Northwest has been following what we conceive to be an eminently sensible policy. He has paid little attention to any of his advisers, but has consulted his own convenience and his own necessities. And so we find the wheat crop of the Northwest moving steadily to its market, neither with such rapidity as to glut elevators, overwhelm buyers and send prices down with a rush, nor with such reluctance as to threaten a blockade in the Northwest, and the carrying over of an immense surplus to depress the market and keep it depressed during the whole of the next year. For there can be no doubt about it that concerted action by the farmers in either of these directions could have only an effect demoralizing to the market and disastrous to themselves.

There seems every reason to believe that the price of wheat will be higher than it now is before next spring; probably a little higher, possibly a good deal. Just as our crop proves to be better and better, the more we learn about it, so is the European failure apparently more complete as the returns comes in. The demand on us will be heavy. But it would be very foolish to assume that this demand must equal the full measure of the foreign shortage. It is true of every commodity that, when the price rises materially, consumption declines. Europe must and will have grain from us. But Europe will not take the same quantity at high prices as at low, because her people have not the money to pay for it. It is therefore, altogether impossible to compute in advance what the demand will be. And of the two misfortunes, it would be a greater to have the price of wheat so high as to cut off our export trade, and compel Europe to buy from other sources if they can and eat coarser food if they cannot, as has happened before, than t sell our wheat for somthing less than we might have had for it weeks or months later. The farmer is always in danger of making one of these mistakes or the other. And the men who advise him to sell every thing and those who beg him to sell nothing are about equally ill advisers.

So the farmer is doing now the eminently sensible thing. He is marketing grain freely, but is not in a panic one way or the other. A large portion of the crop has to be disposed of at once. In the case of those farmers who have had poor crops in preceding years and have pressing indebtnesses, this is a necessity. In most instances, however, it is probably only a part of the crop that is sold. The magnificent yield of this year need not be marketed at once from any farm. A certain portion will, when sold, put the farmer in funds for his present need. The remainder can be held for a later market. In this way the farmer gets a supply of ready money, the transportation agencies get all they can handle, and the export grain trade is kept active, while there still remains in first hands a very handsome proportion of the entire crop, to be disposed later. This principle of a steady market supply is undoubtedly the best for the producer. He is inevitable loser by endeavoring to control the market. He is foolish if he trusts too much to advices either to hold or to sell. But if he deals out his grain to the market as he does his sheaves to the thresher, just enough to keep it busy, without choking or running empty, he will find the steadiest running and the best results.

What Had We Better Do With the Great Northern.

Another Big Kick Forming

Marshall County Leader.

The Warren Sheaf suggests that a mass meeting of representative farmers and business men of Marshall, Kittson and Polk counties be called at Warren as soon as practicable to protest against the treatment we are receiving from the Great Northern Railway.

The Sheaf enumerates some of our grievances, making special mention of the miserable and uncertain mixed train service afforded this part of the line, the lack of depot facilities, the difficulty of securing permits for the erection of elevators, and the exorbitant rates of transportation as compared with those charged by other companies.

The Leader heartily seconds the motion.

Indiscriminate kicking against existing conditions is a mark of the dyspeptic but is provoked by these railroad abuses, We venture the opinion that there is not another hundred miles of the Great Northern system that merits fairer recognition, through the business it affords, than the line from Crookston to St. Vincent, The Great Northern will gather five millions of wheat from this portion of its line this season and the aggregate of its traffic is immense. And yet, anything like train service or railroad accommodation is a stranger to us. We have a right to demand some regularity in the mail service. Justice demands a passenger train or great improvement over the present service. The road should be made to recognize the statutory provision concerning elevator sites. Transportation rates are not proportionate to the labor performed or the service rendered.

Quite evidently the correction of part or all of these wrongs lies within the power of the State Railway Commission and since moral suasion has been ineffectual to appease the greed of this modern moloch, let us try the resourre suggested by the Sheaf.

"The Trouble Grandpa Nature had with the Horse;" by L. J. Bates, "Bee-Hunting," by Rowland E. Robinson, and "A Joint Snake," by E. Olin, are three peculiarly interesting Natural History articles in the October Wide Awake. "A Night with Russian Wolves," a blood-curdling true story by Lieut.-Col. Thorndike, "Jessie's chickens," a home-life story by Hattie Tyng Griswold, "Edith's Guinea Pig," a travel story by Esther George and "Bronson Company (Limited)," another home-life story by J. H. Jamieson, are very entertaining. A Moqui folk-tale of "The Genesis of Earth and Moon," a Norse folk-tale of "Why the sea is salt," the "Margaret-Patty Letter," the "Drawing of the Child Figure" (Miss Rimmer's art-paper) "The Lake Maidens," a literary narrative by Miss Garland about the daughters of Wordsworth, Southey, and Coleridge, with portraits, and the Peppers Serial, the Italian Child-life Serial, and "Miss Matilda Archambeau Van Dorn," together with the poems and pictures, and four pages of "Men and Things" anecdotes, make up a most readable number. $2.40 a year. "Lohengrin" in Paris.

The republican government of France is to be congratulated both on its resolution to protect the performance of Wagner's opera of "Lohengein" from mob violence and the success with which it carried its purpose out. Only the presence of a powerful police force, skillfully handled, kept the furious populace around the Grand Opera House in Paris at bay on Wednesday night, and it was found necessary to make hundreds of arrests.

It is to be hoped that the prompt action of the authorities will awe the Parisian mob into decency and order. The outcry against the production of Wagner's masterpieces in Paris, merely because the famous composer was a German, is as ridiculous as it is disgraceful. A great genius like the author of "Lohengrin" is not the property of any one nation. He belongs to all lands and all time.

The admirers of Wagner had perfect right to produce his operas in the French capital, and the government would have failed in its duty if it had not defended the production from outrage. Intelligently patriotic Frenchmen will applaud its course. There is no despotism worse than that of an ignorant and irresponsible mob. The excitable populace of Paris has too often ruled France at critical moments in the past. It is a good omen of the republic that the government of President Carnot is determind to enforce law and order in the future.

Send us your job work.

Don't forget the races in October.

Everybody agrees that we are having lovely fall weather.

A. Anderson was up last week visiting with Tom Bjoin.

Remember the McKanlass Comedy troupe. It is said to be A 1.

Wheat took a two cent rise on Friday reaching 79 cents for 1 Hard.

A new cross-walk is laid between August Wentzel's hotel and Collins' office.

McManus & Farley are on deck for wheat at the old Ste. Croix elevator on the N. P., in Jerome's Addition.

Saake can put up more first-class jewelry for the money than you can buy elsewhere. Seeing is believing; try it once.

A. J. Arnold was busy all last week fixing up Alderman Buhn's kitchen. A. J. is on deck for all kinds of carpenter work.

THE JOURNAL acknowledges a complimentary to the races that are to occur on Oct. 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th. Lots of fun promised.

Iver Krohn went out to his farm on Saturday to look after the threshing of his fine crop. Iver says this looks like the best year he has ever seen in Polk county.

R. G. Marlette says we may tell our farmer readers that if they wish to sell their wheat to advantage they will do well to bring it to him at his warehouse in Carman.

L. S. Hancock, of Euclid, put up at the Germania House while in the city last week. There are too few threshing machines in that vicinity to accommodate all who want to thresh.

There is more track-buying this year than for several years before. It looks as though we were getting back to the good old days when there was brisk competition in the wheat market.

When you have marketed that crop remember the printer. With so fine a crop as Polk County has this year produced, we hope to be able to square our subscription list up and one year ahead.

O. T. Langen, of Leaf Mountain, Otter Tail County, was visiting Peter Cornelius last week. Mr. L. was very much pleased with the appearance of our city and says our crops are a surprise to him.

W. E. Walker finished the shelving in Williams' new store on Wednesday last and the room was all ready to move into on Thursday morning, or at least as soon thereafter as the paint could dry. It is going to make a fine store room.

M. W. Crocker, of Stevens' Point, Wis., came up last week and registered at the Germania House. M. C. was a former resident of Polk County and sees many improvements since he left. He went up to Angus where he still has property interests.

Mr. A. Sture is one of those progressive merchants who believe in keeping pace with the requirements and needs of the country, and, if anything, ahead. Hence it is that he has everything that his patrons require in his line. Sture is a rustler and his new store in the opera block is replete with a full line of fall goods, complete in every department.

R. G. Marlette, has shipped six carloads of wheat from his new flathouse in the Fifth ward. He is now receiving a lot of wheat from the west side along the Red River. One sample that we saw weighed 59 lbs. to the bushel in the dirt and was an exceedingly fine sample which should grade 1 Hard. Mr. M. is giving entire satisfaction on his weights and grades and we would advise our readers to see him before selling their wheat.

Charlie Misner has added to his barber shop sufficient room to put in another chair and we shouldn't wonder if he contemplated doing so. He has repapered and re-painted the whole business and put down a new floor and just looks too slick for any use. Charlie says he is not ashamed to invite his friends in to see him now.

O. R. Williams, the new merchant in the McKinnon block, took formal possession of his new store on Friday morning and began to arrange his goods in ship-shape. He will have an elegant store when he has everything arranged, which will probably be to-day or at the latest the latter part of the week. Mr. W. is from Beaver Dam, Wis., and is a man of experience in his line.

Meeker (Col.) Herald: Fred Attix, who has held down the position of "devil" in this office for several months back, will leave for Denver the early part of next week, where he will enter St. John's College, one of the finest collegiate institutions in the country. Fred is a bright boy with strong leanings towards the newspaper business, and we believe, if he sticks to that trail, will in due time make his mark in journalism.

C. T. Lanman was down from McIntosh on Thursday, remaining over night. He says farmers in that vicinity will be in no hurry to sell their wheat, preferring to stack it and let it go through the sweat in stack, believing that the price will be better later. Some are arranging to hold until next spring and only a few car loads have been shipped from that station as yet. The wheat is universally of good quality and and an excellent yield and the farmers are naturally anxious to realize all it is worth to them, and in the present condition of the market naturally think the price will be better after awhile. Lanman puts the average yield at about 20 bushels per acre.

A. A. White, in Moorhead News: Mr. Comstock and I were in East Grand Forks last evening, which place Frank Mead gave such a going over and it was as quiet and orderly as could be, although lively. It is not true that there is no business there besides the liquor business. There are grocery stores, hardware stores, dry goods stores, banks, livery stables and other branches of trade and it is a place of some 1,500 people instead of 500. The saloons are confined to one locality, where they can be handled and we saw nothing out of the way. I suppose we might have found gambling if we had looked for it, but if it is carried on it is not done openly, as claimed.

While in Canada visiting with old friends Geo. Vine was persuaded by his better half to attend church one Sunday. The preacher was congratulating his hearers upon the fact that they lived in a civilized country where they could hear the gospel preached from Sunday to Sunday. "Why," said he, "suppose you lived in the far-off heathen lands of China, or the great Northwest; how deplorable that would be!" George said he thought of the numerous churches in the city of Crookston, in that same "benighted Northwest," and smoled a quiet smile or two all to himself, while he thought if that preacher would post himself a little he would not make such ridiculous breaks as that.

The McKanlass Colored Musical Comedy Co. are to appear at the Grand Opera House, Sept. 23d and 24th. The company is headed by Prof. Wm. H. McKanlass, the musical wonder of the world, a graduate of the college of music at Cincinnati, O., and a master of every instrument known. He is the Levy of the cornet, king of the banjo and the colored Ole Bull of the violin; and the only artist living who has ever performed the feat of playing two cornets at one and the same time, which he does each evening, playing different airs on each. The professor is supported by a large company of picked artists in the latest farce comedy, "Shooting Crapps." A few of the features in the specialty line are Miss Susie Griffin, the man-voiced woman—sings as low as E flat and with a volume that jars the house; Master Willie and sister in their unapproached dancing and singing; the wonderful Reese twin brothers, in their lightning gun, sword and baton drill; Messrs. Al. Sales, Ed. Saunders, L. Hines, David Ross and Clarence Estells comedians. None should fail to hear and see this excellent company. Seats on sale at usual place. Prices 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents. Watch the main streets at noon sharp.

CUT THIS OUT FOR FUTURE REFERENCE.

Excursions for Home Seekers and others will be run by "The North-Western Line," Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha R'y, on Sept. 29th, from St. Paul and Minneapolis, and stations east of St. Paul, to all points west of and including St. James, Minn., in Minnesota, South Dakota, and Northwestern Iowa; and from all points on the line north or east of LeMars, to Omaha, St. Joseph, Achison, Leavenworth and Kansas City and to all points in Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, the Black Hills, Oklahoma and all points in Arkansas and Texas and to certain points in Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

Tickets will be sold at very low rates, and will be good to start only on the day of sale, and good to return within thirty days.

For rate to any point, through car service or any information call on agents of the "North-Western Line," or address T. W. TEASDALE, Gen'l Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

ST. HILAIRITIES.

St. Hilaire Spectator.

The railroad graders have all moved out of town and are now camping on the line. Work is progressing rapidly and the grade will be finished in thirty days more, when the iron will be laid.

County Attorney A. R. Holston, of Crookston, was in town last Monday. He was looking up delinquents in the seed wheat matter, of which there was a few left in this part of the county.

C. G. Rapp has invested in a safety bicycle and has afforded considerable amusement to our citizens for the past week. It looked at first as if the bicycle had the best of it but he manages now to keep on top at least half of the time.

The flour mill received a couple of hundred bushels of new wheat the first of the week and miller George Fricker reports that it is of excellent quality and makes the best quantity of flour.

The contractors here claim that it will be almost impossible for the contractor at Red Lake Falls to finish his contract this fall. He has some very heavy cuts and men and teams are very scarce. It is thought that the road will not be completed further than the Red Lake River this fall on this account.

Very little wheat is being marketed here at present, the farmers evidently believing in doing their fall work before taking their wheat to market.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred and sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Benjamin Milette and Mary Milette his wife, mortgagors, to Narcissa Milette, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of November, A. D. 1886, and with power of sale therein contained, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, A. D., 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 90, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12), Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-six (46), lying and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in forenoon of said day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred sixty-five and six one hundreths (265.06) dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 17th, A. D. 1891.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]
Last publication Oct. 29th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:40 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.87 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been intituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44)), containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Eugene Bernard and Emma Bernard, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 22d day of January, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1889, at 9:10 o'clock a. m., in book 43 of mortgages, on page 464; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the coupons for interest that fell due July 22d, 1889, January 22d, 1890, July 22d, 1890, January 22d, 1891, and July 22d, 1891, each thereof being for the sum of $17.50, and whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sum in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described, the following sum, to-wit: Six hundred dollars and forty-five cents, ($600.45), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The east half of the southwest quarter (e½ sw¼) and lots three (3) and four (4), of Section nineteen (19), Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty (40) west, containing 114 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. In Probate Court, Special Term, Sept. 7th, 1891.

In the matter of the estate of Ole Isakson Austad, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of O. Osmundson, executor of the estate of Ole Isakson Onstad, deceased, representing among other things that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing the final account of his administration, and for the assigment of the residue of said estate to the parties entitled thereto by law.

It is ordered, that said account be examined, and petition heard, by this Court, on Monday, the 5th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Probate Office in the city of Crookston, in said county.

And it is further ordered, that notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the POLK COUNTY JOURNAL, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Crookston, in said county.

Dated at Crookston, the 7th day of Sept., A. D. 1891.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Aug. 13th, 1891.]
[Last publication Sept. 24th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS BEEN MADE in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by William H. Godfrey, a bachelor, mortgagor, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 24th day of June, A. D. 1886, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 7th day of July, A. D. 1886, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., in book 25 of mortgages, on pages 142-145.

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the principal $800 that fell due June 24th, 1891, and interest coupons for $24 each that fell due on the 24th days of December, 1888, June and December, 1889, June and December, 1890, and June 1891.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof, upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum to-wit: Nine hundred and sixty dollars and sixteen cents ($960.16); and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Lot four (4), and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½ nw¼) of Section fourteen (14) in Township one hundred and forty-eight (148) north; of Range forty-four (44) west, containing 117 acres more or less according to the United States government survey thereof, said premises situate and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on

MORTGAGE SALE.

(First publication Sept. 3d, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Thomas B. Welsh and Mary Welsh, his wife, mortgagors, to Jane M. Goodnow, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of February, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of February, 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 113, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of Section four (4), Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), Range forty-eight (48) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 17th day of October, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

ASTOUNDING FACTS.

Some Points of Interest Brought to the Attention of American Farmers and Other Classes.

A Deficit in the World's Food Supply of Two Hundred Million Bushels of Wheat and Rye.

It May Be Double That Amount, Notwithstanding the Colossal Crops of America.

Wheat Declared to Be Worth Fully a Dollar To-Day on the Farms Where It Was Grown.

NEW YORK Telegram to Pioneer Press, Sept. 22.—An exhaustive study of the world's food supply, in the forthcoming number of the American Agriculturist, emphasizes facts of grave importance to both America and Europe. It declares that the half has not been told about the European shortage in breadstuffs, which not even a bountiful crop this year would have relieved. Continental powers, especially Russia, suppress the facts so far as possible. In many Russian provinces the scarcity of food became pronounced as far back as February last. In the Constantinovka district many families have not cooked a meal since Easter, but subsist on bread, soaked rye, grain, etc., bestowed in charity. The prohibition of rye exports is followed by a ukase forbidding the shipment of bran and other cereal cattle foods.

The astounding shortage in Russia's yield of rye, announced a month since by the ministry of finance, proves even greater than the most extravagant estimates, and effectually obliterates all possibility of Russia exporting any of her scant wheat crop.

That Eastern Germany is in practically the same plight admits of no doubt. The European reserves that have heretofore eked out insufficient harvests are everywhere exhausted. The parade made by Russia of the existence of such stores in the Baltic provinces is done for effect—to convey the impression that military stores are abundant. Such reserves are of small importance. Indeed the danger of famine is destined to spare Europe the horrors of war for fully a twelve month hence.

Accepting the largest estimates of production, both at home and abroad, and even assuming that the United States and Canada can export 225,000,000 bushels, there is a deficit in the world's food supply of at least 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and rye, with a possibility of the shortage being twice as great. Added to this is the almost total failure of the potato crop in Ireland, and a serious curtailment in the yield of [illegible]toes on the continent. Even with the utmost economy of distribution and an unheard of consumption of American maize, grave distress is before the masses of Europe.

Enormous exports of wheat and flour from the United States, in August, prove that Europe regards the situation as worse than it has yet been painted. Otherwise, why should she buy in a single month close upon the harvest nearly half as much wheat as she took from the United States during the eight months of the year following one of our largest wheat crops and a period of bedrock prices? Indeed, August wheat exports were almost treble those of the same month last year, and over four times as much as the average exports at this season last year.

For the first time in years wheat, bran and middlings are exported to Europe thus early in the season. These circumstances are accepted as the strongest possible reason for believing that prices of wheat are to-day unusually low. It looks for a sharp advance in all cereals as soon as the demand realizes the limited extent of the world's actual supply. Every bushel of high grade wheat is to-day worth fully one dollar on the farm where it grows.

One of the most marked features of prosperity that is already upon American agriculture, noted by the same magazine, is the extent to which farmers are planning to unite in co-operative buying and selling.

A Terminal Elevator.

H. E. Boen Wants the Farmers to Build One at Duluth.

Editor Fergus Falls Journal.

The crop just gathered is in quantity and quality the most valuable yet harvested here. But its full value will not be realized by those to whom it belongs, namely the farmers. It was shown before the wheat investigating commitee, appointed by the last legislature, that all wheat elevators in Minnesota and Dakota practically are under the same management.

It is generally understood that the price of wheat is fixed in London, but that appears to be an error, as the price here in the northwest is fixed by a man hired for that purpose, by the elevator and mill combinations, and who has his headquarters in Minneapolis.

Whether a man ships his wheat to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, or sells to the local buyers, or to the mills, the result is the same; a member of the combination gets it. When the farmer elevators were built they seemed to give some relief.

But when it is remembered that the elevators in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth are controlled by the wheat ring, form a kind of Chinese wall around the state and stop the wheat in those elevators, while part of it is stolen and the balance of it mixed with inferior grades of wheat, it becomes at once apparent that the farmer elevators at country stations are of very little use and will remain so until the system is completed by the building of large farmer elevators at the terminals.

It is often claimed and never denied that the eastern millers need the hard wheat of the northwest to mix with the softer varieties they obtain from other states, and I believe it has been stated and not contradicted that our No. 1 hard wheat never reaches Europe unground. The grain growers pay for the elevators and the expense of operating them, but do not own them or have any control over them. Ownership alone secures full control. It is therefore necessary that the farmers own one or more elevators in Duluth and Minneapolis. They could then through their own board of managers sell their wheat directly to the eastern millers, thereby securing the same price obtained by the elevator companies, which is certainly higher than that now paid to the farmers, or they could ship their wheat to London, Liverpool or other European markets and thus get the highest price possible for their produce.

It is said that an elevator, of 1,000,000 bushels capacity, will at Duluth cost about $100,000. If 10,000,000 bushels of wheat could pass through it during the autumn, it would at one cent per bushel, pay for itself, leaving the operating expenses to be covered by the business the succeeding spring.

The preliminary steps towards organizing a company to build such an elevator at Duluth have already been made, and a meeting will be held either at St. Paul or Moorhead, during the first part of October, to further consider the question and complete the organization.

As everyone knows I am no longer a member of the county alliance or state alliance executive committee, still I take the liberty to call the attention of the secretaries of the local alliances, and other farmer organizations in northern Minnesota and North Dakota to the matter under consideration, and would respectfully suggest to them that they call together their respective organizations as soon as convenient to consider the question of building a farmer elevator at the terminal points, and to elect delegates to the meeting which will probably be held in Moorhead, Minn.

The time and place for the meeting will be announced later. H. E. BOEN.

Fergus Falls, Sept. 15, 1891.

Gand Forks Herald:—Mayor McKinnon and Secretary Wyatt, of Crookston Driving Association, favor the Herald with an invitation to attend their annual meeting which takes place Oct. 13, 14, 15 and 16. $2,000 in purses are hung up, and some of the speediest horses in the country are entered. Grand Forks will send over a good representation.

BAKING POWDERS.

What the Minnesota State Authorites Know About Them.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

If there is a doubt in anybody's mind as to the quality of the various baking powders of the market, it will be settled by the evidence given upon the subject by the State official of Minnesota. The Dairy and Food Commission and the State Chemist are the highest official authorities upon such subject in this State, and their evidence will be accepted as disinterested and unprejudiced. It is their business to examine the quality of the different food products, and to suppress the sale of those found impure and unwholesome and all will admit that they have performed their duties without fear or favor.

At a recent examination by a Legislative Committee to determine the qualities of various baking powders sold in Minnesota, State Chemist and analysist to the Food and Dairy Commission, Dr. Benjamin F. Drew, gave the following evidence.

Ques.—Dr. Drew, I see by the report of the Dairy and food commission of this state that in making analysis of the various baking powders of this country you report as a result of your work that the Royal Baking Powder contains and gives off in baking a greater per cent, of carbnic acid gas (leavening gas) than any other baking powder made; is that true?

Ans.—Yes sir, that is a fact.

Ques.—Doctor, you also found from experiment that the Royal Baking Powder will keep longer and retain its qualities better than any other powder made did you not?

Ans.—Yes sir, I think it does.

Ques.—Now, the two most desirable qualities in baking powder are the amount of carbonic acid gas it contains and gives off and the length of time it will keep, are they not?

Ans.—Yes. sir.

Ques.—Then the Royal Baking Powder, possessing these qualities, is the best powder made, is it not?

Ans.—Well, that would be the natural conclusion.

Ques.—Well, that is the fact, is it not.

Ans.—Yes, think it is. I consider it one of the best baking powders made.

How to Reform an Evil.

St. Paul News.

The Moorhead News, in noting what a contemporary said about failure to collect county fair printing bills, makes this sensible comment:

This is a good deal like the experience the News has had with political committees, and next year when it is desired to have calls and handbills printed and advertisement of meeting published such committees must pay in advance or furnish security. It is not right to compel newspapers to bear these expenses, and for one the News doesn't propose to do it in the future.

This platform is a good one, and one which should be laid down by every newspaper in the State. The Daily News has always advocated this policy, both as a matter of justice to the news papers, and also as having a tendency to do away with the "boodle" question.

It is proper that newspapers should be compensated for their legitimate services just as much as other people are who engage in political work.

When halls are hired, brass bands employed, torches used, bunting displayed, etc., it is all paid for by the political parties or politicians interested in the matter, but when it comes to the newspaper the theory is that the editor must furnish his columns and do his printing free for the good of the cause, simply because some of his subscribers belong to the political party whose principles the editor advocates.

The politicians seem to forget that there is no paper without subscribers from both parties, and while the party whose principles are sustained by the editor, that gives them no claim upon his legitimate business, and there is no reason why the editor should contribute in the manner named because he is supporting the party. On the contrary, the very fact that he is giving such support entitles him to compensation at full prices for all that he may do in a business way for his party. He furnishes a good deal more than an equivalent for his subscription price in the paper he delivers.

If this principle of paying newspapers for legitimate work was once established, it would tend to squelch the corruption which has grown up in our politics, and put a stop to accepting the bribes of wealthy men who come into the open market and pay for editorial support.

What Is Good Baking Powder?

New York Journal.

It is a well known fact that carbonate of ammonia is used by bakers in the preparation of the finest and most wholesome bread and cake, and has been from time immemorial. It is among the oldest and at the same time most healthful constituents of baking powders. It is all evolved in gas by heat of the oven, and leaves no trace of itself in the food, and it is this that gives it its great value as a leavening agent in the opinions of the physicians.

Why the Low Price of Wheat.

Moorhead News.

A farmer of this county and esteemed friend of the News said today that the wheat crop is not turning out so immense as the farmers themselves anticipated before harvest, and a great deal less than the boomers are trying to make it appear. He said the News was doing wrong in publishing the statement of wheat yields which were exagerated and himself cited one piece of wheat that had been threshed that yielded only 6 bushel per acre. He also said a Norwegian farmer told him that his crop went 13½ bushels per acre. He said further that the price of wheat today was 24 cents less than it ought to be in view of the shortage in the Old World and he supported this statement with the following alleged facts. He said: The price is now 13 cents lower in this country than it was last year and the price in Liverpool is 11 cents higher than the market price in this country. Therefore the farmer was robbed 24 cents a bushel on every bushel of wheat. In other words he gets 24 cents less than he would get if if he could ship his wheat direct to Europe without it going through the hands of the wheat gamblers and speculators. The market was absolutely in their hands. The News has stated the amount of crop just as it has been given to it, by the individuals quoted, and if it has been exaggerated or depleted, and it is not our fault. The News believes that the truth is the best in all cases, and the yield should be reported just as it is. It thinks the speculation in wheat is a demoralizing business to those who engage in it and is more or less injurious to the producers. At the same time it is unable to see how it can be that with one half of the crowd working all the time to bull the price and the other half working with just as much energy to bear the price, an effect will always be produced by the latter and none by the former. The difference between the price of wheat today at Minneapolis, and the corresponding day last year is about 9 or 10 cents instead of 13 cents, and the local price was about the same then as today. As to the statement that the Liverpool price is 11 cents higher than the New York price, we have no data, to deny or corroborate it. It seems to the News, however, that the price of wheat in this country today, taking into consideration the tremendous shortage of breadstuffs in the Old World, ought to be higher than last year instead of lower, We believe also that the estimates of yield in Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota, this year have been made altogether too large. If the three states produce 100,000,000 bushels instead of 150,000,000 as estimated, it is the largest crop ever grown.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is ordorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pinsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line" and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

Fall Millinery
OPENING,

On Friday, October 9th.

From 1 o'clock until 10 P. M.

The ladies of Crookston and vicinity are cordially invited to attend my fall opening on above date. I take special pleasure in calling attention to my stock this fall, feeling confident that if everything in the latest and newest styles and novelties will please, I can suit your taste and wishes.

MRS. E. E. BANGS,

H. L. Melgaard was down from Argyle this week.

An apprentice girl wanted at Mrs. I. U. Jennings' millinery store. French preferred.

County Attorney Holston was called to Wylie on Wednesday on importan business.

Laurence Larsen was over from Grand Forks on Tuesday.

R. P. Herrick entertained his brother from Buffalo for a few days and then accompanied him home for a visit.

R. L. Elder came up from Edna on Tuesday morning just to say that he thought the cold snap would knock the rain out.

Hoch & Ott have had a long experience as butchers and are confident of their ability to please. All they ask is a trial to satisfy the most particular.

Good weather from now until freezing up time is needed to secure the wheat in good shape. There is yet altogether too much of it in the shock.

W. D. Pinkerton came over on Monday after the wife and babies and to look after business matters in the city. He reports his business good this fall.

Mr. Moorhead, of St. Cloud, was up this week looking for threshing jobs. He will arrive on Saturday with his machine and a crew all ready for business.

Will Walker took the contract for building Eli Steenerson's new house on the avenue. Eli will have one of the finest residences in the city when completed.

Some fellow, too full of benzine, walked into Sundit's on Friday evening and commenced to "put a head onto" J. O. Ellingbo took a hand and run the fellow in.

Veterinary surgeon M. Leguee is kept busy night and day attending to the needs of sick equines. Mike is a good veterinary and his labors seem to be appreciated.

The week's delay in threshing will have a tendency to check the stream of wheat that has been flowing into Duluth and Minneapolis and will probably result in better prices.

The races to be held in this city from October 13th to 16th inclusive bid fair to be the best ever witnessed in this city. Many horses of note are expected and a good time is assured.

Fred Rauch has bought a neat cottage on Sampson's Woodland Addition of Fred Anderson. When asked if the cottage was for rent, Fred said: "Sthop a leetle! Wait till I see."

If all the plans that are being laid do not miscarry, this city will see more buildings erected next year than ever before. Many residences are projected and several business blocks.

Levi Myers was up from the west side this week, driving that trotter that would be a world-beater with practice enough. His big crops this year makes Levi a good bit of a capitalist.

Carl Olson was in from Black River this week. Says wheat is yielding well in that town as far as heard from. Most of the farmers have stacked. Oats and barley will beat all former records.

J. O. Sundit has received a carload of wood from the Fosston line. This is about the time of year when it pays to bring wood to the city to supply the fall and winter trade. Later on everybody brings it.

Mrs. I. U. Jennings' opening of fall and winter millinery will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 8th, 9th and 10th. Ladies of Crookston and vicinity are cordially invited to attend.

Wm. Wylie was down from Black River on Tuesday greeting his many friends. Wylie says his neighbors are all rejoicing in a bountiful crop, but will rejoice more if they get bountiful prices for it.

Louis Duval died at his residence in this city on Sunday at the ripe age of 75 years. Mr. Duval leaves a wife, seven boys and two girls to mourn his loss. The funeral was largely attended on Tuesday morning.

Call on C. H. Saake, the jeweler, for genuine bargains. Brazilian Axis cut pebble spectacles are natural stone, pure, hard and brilliant; will not scratch nor will moisture collect on them in going from a cold to a warm room.

Never before in the history of this city has the demand for good tenement houses been so great as this fall. Owners of vacant lots located convenient to the business center could make a good income by building houses to rent.

Mrs. J. M. Palmer, of Angus, came down on Tuesday evening to meet her daughter, Daisy, who has been visiting with relatives in Hudson, Wis.

A dispatch was received on Tuesday announcing the death of Mrs. M. Filiatrault, at Two Harbors. Mr F. was at one time a resident of this city.

The ladies of the Congregational church, assisted by best local talent, will give an entertainment called "Temple of Fame." Time and place later.

A new play entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is advertised for the Grand Opera House on Saturday evening. If there is one person now living who has never seen that play no doubt it would be interesting to such an one.

The great German eye water is the best known remedy for weak or inflamed eyes, or any inflamation caused by overwork or injury to the eye. It will improve, strengthen and preserve the sight. For sale at Saake's jewelry store.

Sam. Cunningham bought a threshing machine last week, and, by the way, it strikes us that was the same week that a fine daughter arrived for Sam. The machine, however, is to be used only on his own and his neighbor's grain.

Charlie Rapp came down from St. Hilaire on Monday to close the deal for a farm north of that place which he recently negotiated for. Charlie says there is big money in Polk County farms and he is on deck to buy all he can handle.

O. R. Williams, the new general merchandise man on Main street, invites Journal readers to call and examine his new stock and get acquainted. He will tell us more about his business later. Remember the place, McKinnon's Block, Main street.

Wm. Beck reports the arrival of a bran new boy at the house, which event occurred about the middle of last month, but his innate modesty prevented his making a report until last week when he dropped in to make us glad by a renewed subscription.

On Thursday last Miss Carrie Walters was married to Nicholas Funk, at the residence of her father, August Walters, Esq., in this city. Mr. Funk is a railroad man in the employ of the Great Northern road and the young couple will make their home in Barnesville.

Mrs. E. E. Bangs would again announce to the ladies of Crookston and vicinity that she is now ready to attend to their wants for the fall trade, in all the very latest styles. She also has over 100 stamping patterns for embroidery of the latest designs and invites a call.

Martin Swanson who has been threshing in the Thirteen Towns this fall was down home this week waiting for the clouds to roll by. Martin says most of the farmers out there have stacked and the result will be a better grade of wheat. He says wheat is turning out from 18 to 20 bushels per acre.

Appearances indicate that business will be the best in Polk County ever before known. At least such is the case in this city and we have reason to believe this is true throughout the county. Collections are said to be better and everything indicates the most successful year we have ever had.

W. N. Box was down from Warren on Monday chatting with old friends. W. N. expects to move to Tacoma as soon as he can settle up his business here. It would seem that Box, Sr., has a bonanza out there in the lumber business, and W. N. goes out to take a hand at coining the shekels. We hope he will have all kinds of good luck.

M. B. McClellan, representing James H. Bishop & Co., wholesale paper house of Minneapolis, gave The Journal a pleasant call on Tuesday. Mac says Crookston is improving rapidly, but needs a hotel the most of anything. He says "a big hotel with a man like Sam Matthews, of Fargo, to run it, would be a drawing card such as you need here."

Charlie Thomas has found it necessary to engage the services of another barber to keep up with his growing business, so he has secured an experienced man from below—a man who is thoroughly up in all of the latest improvements in the art. Charlie is now ready to attend to all calls promptly and without delay—can shave you while you wait.

County Attorney Holston informs The Journal that about $5,000 remains uncollected on the old seed grain notes and as some of the parties have left the country the probability is that some of it never will be collected. Sixteen letters out of the whole number of notices sent out have been returned to him. Probably the most of those who are here will pay up as soon as they are able.

In his sermon one week ago on Sabbath day Rev. Mr. Battey suggested an idea that it would be well for our business men to act upon and work out. The establishment of a Congregational academy in this city would not only be very beneficial from an educational standpoint but from a business standpoint as well. Such an institution would not necessarily be expensive and would be worth many times its cost to the city.

Crookston Business College commenced the fall term last Monday under very favorable auspices. Without very much parade the institution has grown to be a very important one and we are pleased to note its success. It is now no longer necessary for young men to go to St. Paul to obtain a business education as they can take as good a commercial course as they can get at any institution right at home—and at very much less expense.

East Grand Forks Courier:—Sheriff Grundysen came over from Crookston Wednesday to see if East Grand Forks was really as painted. He also made a levy on the crop of a farmer living on the point to satisfy a judgment of $225, in favor of the Plano Manufacturing Co., the original debt being $100. The sheriff incidentally remarked that he thought the police of this city were deserving of much praise for the able manner in which they handle the tough element now here.

The McCandlass Colored Comedy Troupe played two nights at the Grand, in this city, Wednesday night to a very good house, but Thursday night it was not so good. While there were some good features about the performances, such as the double cornet business and the instrumental music, as well as the singing of the little folks, the rest of it was rank, especially the part of McCandlass wherein he essayed to be funny. The time has passed when a mere variety show can amuse and hold a Crookston audience.

Two professional gentlemen went out for a hunt one day last week and when a few miles out Dave suddenly says: "Doc, I believe that animal is a chicken!" No sooner said than Doc let drive at the object with one barrel and and as it rose gave it the other. With a terrible "meow" the "chicken" lit out for a farm house near by and Doc's countenance was a study for the space of half an hour. Dave promised not to tell—and he didn't, and the farmer says if Doc will mend the cat he will not tell how she happened to get filled with bird shot as she was prowling about in the weeds hunting for mice.

Wheat opened out on Monday morning at 77 cents for 1 hard. If the figures given by the American Agriculturist are any good there is such a tremendous shortage in the old world that every bushel we have produced will be needed at a good figure before another harvest. And when we come to add to that fact the fact that speculators so far have estimated the American crop at many millions more than it is, it would seem as though the farmer who had wheat to sell ought to get just any price he has a mind to ask for it. We believe it is to-day worth one dollar per bushel in the farmer's granary.

If the theory of devoted men and millers, that the surplus of wheat was what has caused the small prices of the past few years, is correct, wheat raising for the next few years ought to prove a boranza to the farmer, for last year the surplus was said to have been completely knocked out and this year then will not be enough to supply the world with bread and seed, and it would require several years of bountiful crops to produce the surplusage we were said to have. Whatever may have been the cause we confidently expect to see better prices prevail for several years and we believe that our farmers will have great opportunities to make big money for some time to come.

O. R. Williams.

"Havn't turned a wheel in a week," said E. D. Childs on Saturday last in reply to a query by our reporter as to how he was getting along with his threshing, "and I do not expect to do so before next Monday, for I want to tell you that wheat has softened up remarkably during these showers and is altogether too soft to thresh and go into bins. And did you know," continued he, "that there is an awful lot of frosted wheat this year? I was at the Board of Trade in Minneapolis on Friday and of all of the samples of wheat I saw on exhibition there, I dare say from 50 to 60 per cent was badly frosted. I have found no frosted wheat in my crop nor in that of any of my neighbors." Replying to a query as to the reported sale of the Duluth & Winnipeg Railroad to the Canadian Pacific Railroad, Mr. C. said: "Now don't you worry about D. & W. railroad, young man. That road is not sold, neither will it be, but it is going ahead as rapidly as possible even though strong corporations are doing, and will do, all they can to hamper our operations. We shall lay 20 miles of steel rails yet this fall and the road will soon be an accomplished fact."

Uncle Daniel Cameron came down from Erskine on Monday evening's train returning Tuesday morning. Uncle Daniel spends his summers in Polk County and his winters at his Louisiana home, thus managing to have good warm weather all the year round. Uncle Daniel was in New Orleans at the time the Italians were lynched and he says it was the best job ever done, and he has a large-sized admiration for Blaine for the way in which he handled the matter with the Italian government. Uncle Daniel says the dagoes in New Orleans, after the lynching, openly made their threats that for every one of the lynched men an American would be "taken away." Immediately following these threats handbills appeared announcing that for every one American so taken away 15 dagoes would be lynched. This game of bluff worked to a charm and the dagoes were very conspicuous for their adsence for a long time, neither have they as yet attempted to carry out their threats. Mr. Cameron says it is his opinion that while Polk County will undoubtedly produce more wheat this year than last, the wheat will not be of as good quality as last year. He does not think the average will exceed 20 bushels per acre. He intends to leave shortly for his winter's resort in Louisiana.

SUGAR BEETS.

Last spring Agent Fegan procured some sugar beet seeds from the experimental farm for distribution. Among those to secure some of it was Henry Nolan who took it out to his farm, planted it and now reports the first syrup of the season. Last week he pulled four beets of ordinary size, grated them up and boiled down the sap, making a pint of nice syrup that is equal to any sorghum syrup ever made. From this experiment it would seem to be practical to make syrup, at least if some means should be devised to grind the beets.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

The Wheat Demand.

St. Paul Globe.

It is a very shallow and superficial view that crop reports from portions of the wheat districts have much to do with prices. In every locality in any state where the producer feels that way inclined there may be the most vociferous exultation over the aboundance of the crop without affecting the market a particle. The fluctuations come from the advices in Europe. It is accepted as a settled fact that the deficit in the food supply in the old world will absorb all the surplus of this country, provided the prices do not go so high that the people can not buy and are forced to do with cheaper substitutes. The early sales have been enormous. It is computed that the shipments made and provided for up to Nov. 30 will reach 107,000,000 bushels, rather more than half the estimated surplus of the country. In consequence, the channels of passage are choked, the demand for the time is sated, and prices are receding. Cargoes do not now find buyers in Europe, and unless war menaces thicken, it is probable prices will go still lower. In spite of all the positive and detailed statements of parties, it is still a question as to the volume of demand that will be created by the shortness of the crop in Europe. There must be time for absorption of the vast purchases thrown upon the market. The deficit is conceded to be greater than the country can meet, but it is a question what they can afford to pay. At some point they will stop using the wheat. That, however, will be considerable in advance of present figures. It is entirely immaterial in the solution of the problem of returns whether any wheat belt yields a few million more or less. The pressure upon the arteries of transit is an important factor, however. The pouring of wheat into the great centers and forwarding points in the West and the crowding of the lines of traffic eastward do retard an advance in prices and tend to stagnation. It would be to the advantage of the farmers if they could hold their grain for the later demand. A flooded market inevitably reduces prices. The crop will all be wanted, but it cannot all be handled or consumed at once. To hold seems the present lesson.

Knute Nelson as a Republican.

Moorhead News.

The St. Paul Globe already has Knute Nelson defeated as republican candidate for governor. His defeat it claims has been brought about by this fear of senator Davis that if Nelson is nominated he will be elected and then become a formidable candidate for United States senator against him, and by the opposition of a certain class of old line republicans who do not like Mr. Nelson's liberal views on the tariff &c. With the Globe the wish is father to the thought. Senator Davis has no cause to fear Mr. Nelson personally, for the reason that if he is nominated for governor and elected, he will undoubtedly desire to serve the people in the executive office, and senator Davis is certainly a good enough republican to desire to have a man nominated that can be elected. Any other desire than that would compel senator Davis to put his personal interest and ambition above party interest, which his most lukeworm friends would not for a moment accuse him of. If senator Davis sees that the handwriting on the wall bodes him evil, he may ascribe it to his support of the Pacific railway steal, his championship of a pauper pension bill, his attempt to appropriate credit in connection with the school section in the ceded Indian lands which was not his due, his weakness in looking after the interests of the party and the state and his ingratitude toward the men who led in the movement which resulted in his uncontested election as senator in the first place. The old-line republicans the Globe speaks of will be in such a minority as to cut little figure and will hasten when they see how fast the shower is coming up, to go in out of the rain. Knute Nelson is a good republican today and has always been. He has never been defeated for office, but on the contrary has received a large number of votes every time he has been a candidate, than any other man for the same office before or sience. There is no reason why he will not have a similar experience if he is named for governor. Nelson is one of those men who thinks for himself, and having come to a decision in his own mind, has the courage to express himself and to act in accordance with his convictions. In other words he has an independence of character and courage which the people very much like.

As to his course on the Mills bill we have heretofore defined his position, but will do so again at the risk of repeating. At the time the Mills bill was under consideration, there was a universal demand for a revision and reduction of the tariff and had been for several years before. The senate was republican, while the house was democratic. Mr. Nelson felt it his duty to give an affirmative vote to the Mills bill in order that all opportunity to legislate on the tariff during that session might not be lost, as it would have been if the Mills bill had been defeated in the house. He was in favor of sending the bill to the senate where he hoped it would be changed to make it conform more nearly to the republican standard and that an agreement could be reached between the two houses that would partially meet, at least, the demands of the people of the West. There is no doubt that Nelson was right from a party standpoint, as if a tariff bill had been passed at that session which disposed of the question, the republican party would not have met with the defeat it did last fall. And yet Mr. Nelson is so much of a republican that he spoke in behalf of the McKinley law, which upon studying he recognized as embodying a revision and reduction to a much greater extent, than the Mills bill, and one which at the same time preserved the American protective tariff system, in which Mr. Nelson believes the McKinly bill is perfect. He recognizes the fact that in the very nature of the subject, it is impossible to frame and pass a tariff bill that would suit everybody.

The Black Hawk War.

The sturdy pioneer who occupied Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin of civilization sixty years ago, often had the monotony of frontier life broken by conflicts with the Indians. The last struggle of any importance in this section occurred in 1832 and is known to history as the Black Hawk War, the moving spirit of the savage outbreak being the noted Black Hawk, chief of the Sacs and Foxes. Gen. Henry Dodge, afterwards senator from Wisconsin, was the leader in the hot pursuit which finally brought Black Hawk, with his warriors, women, and children, to bay near the mouth of the Bad Axe river, on the east bank of the Mississippi, in what is now Veron county, Wisconsin. The sun of the second day of August 1832, set upon a bloody field, and the result was the death of nearly all the braves, and the abrupt close of the campaign. The chief himself escaped, and died years after at his home near Rock Island, Ill. The locality of the battle is now marked by the village of Victory, so named from this engagment, situated on and reached only by the Chicago, Burlington & Northern R. R., the "Scenic line," which touches most of the historic spots in the upper Mississippi Valley. For further information as to the attractions of the line, tickets, rates and maps, call on your local agent, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

DESIRABLE FOR LADIES.

The new Fashion Journals published by A., McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th Street, New York, are again on our table. The superiority of these Journals is abundantly shown on every page. "La Mode" is the smallest of the three, and is intended for family use. It has many styles for children, and is only $1,50 per year, or 15 cents per copy. "La Mode de Paris" is an elegant Journal, filled with everything of the latest style in Paris. This is a great favorite with ladies who wish to keep posted in the new styles as they come out. "Album des Modes" is also a popular Parisian publication, many ladies giving it the preference. It is replete with such styles as are patronized by the middle classes, its designs being neat and plain, yet all of the richest character. These three monthly journals claim to give the earliest fashions, and they are all printed in Paris. They contain lessons in practical dressmaking, which are of incomparable value and easy to understand. "La Mode de Paris" and the "Album des Modes" are each $3,50 per annum, or 35 cents for a single copy. Samples can be obtained from the house at single copy prices if there is any difficulty in obtaining them from newsdealers.

"The Livest of Living Methodists."

Probably the most timely feature of the October number of that peculiarly timely periodical, the Review of Reviews, is the group of articles apropos of the great Methodist International Conference that opens in Washington on October 7th, and lasts two weeks. Besides a general account of the Conference, in which some thirty different Methodist denominations participate, and a remarkable article by Mr. Stead upon the progress and influence of Methodism, there is a very brilliant character sketch of that young Boanerges of British Methodism, the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes of London. Mr. Hughes will be in many respects the most conspicuous man in the Washington assembly. He has been characterized as the "livest of living Methodists." The Review of Reviews illustrates these articles on Methodism with portraits of more than fifty of the most prominent Methodists of the present day, all of whom are expected to participate in the work of the Conference at Washington. The illustrations include all the Bishops of the Northern Church, ten Southern bishops, eleven of the most prominent visiting clergymen from Great Britain, and various others.

Grand Forks Plaindealer:—L. K. Hassell—M. T. Hagness shipped three cars of wheat from Merrifield to Mr. Tharaldsen, the agent of the Farmer's Association at Duluth. He had 1,400 bushels more to ship, but had not time to get cars so he sold it to the elevator there, receiving 76 cents per bushel. The wheat he shipped to Duluth netted him 82½ cents per bushel. He figures it that he is out $87,50 on the wheat he sold to the elevator, and on the other hand that wheat he shipped gave him a profit of $110 more than he would have received at the elevator.

It now seems probable that the estimated yield of the Valley of 150,000,000 bushels of wheat was one-third too large. 100,000,000 bushels is a good deal of wheat.

BELTRAMI ITEMS.

Beltrami, Sept. 24, 1891.

A game of cards was played here the other night to decide whether a wheat buyer would give one of the big farmers 40 or 50 cents per bushel for his barley. The farmer won, and we regret to say that it was followed by a big "wind storm" blowing from Ireland towards Germany.

Judging from the following circular the G. N. R. R. Co. must think the farmers are bigger fools than we take them for:

Barnsville, Minn., Sept 21, 1891.—On account of the very heavy grass crop this year and the increased danger from fire I wish to co-operate with all the farmers adjoining our right of way in protecting our mutual interests. I would respectfully suggest that each farmer plow a wide fire break on the edge of the right of way and we will endeavor to prevent the wide spreading of any prairie fire by burning the full width of our right of way.

H. L. James, Supt.

In order to prevent the snow from drifting on the track the R. R. Co must get rid of the grass on their right of way. It would be far cheaper for them to burn it than to cut it, but they need not think that the farmers in this township will help them, unless they get paid for it. The company gets enough out of them in freight.

Wheat around here averages about 20 bushels per acre.

J. P. Ellis, one of St. Louis' attorney's, who has hunted around here for many seasons, is with us again. Our people are always glad to see him.

P. Loveland is having good luck boring wells. He struck a flow of 1,000 barrels on W. Street's homestead and one of 300 barrels on the Dykeman farm.

The Union Sunday school has been discontinued. There must be but few christians in this neighborhood to let a Sunday school with 20 members die out or else they have little faith in the Almighty's power.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Dahl, who died on Friday, was buried yesterday. The family in their bereavment have the sympathy of all those who have a Christian spirit.

Edna.

Mentor Items.

The most important event of the year, the harvesting, is nearly over, the grain being well in stack, with the exception of some that was left to thresh from the shock. Your cosrespondent has seen some yields of 15 to 20 bushels per acre, but thinks the average will not exceed 20 bushels at the outside.

W. W. Attix has proved to be a valuable member of the board of equalization by assisting in securing ten per cent. reduction on live stock, together with other matters of importance. We have at least had a man who was thoroughly alive to the situation and who made an attempt to represent the farming interests and sometimes this is a big item.

Since the bear hunt, an account of which appeared in The Journal columns, many of our people have seen bears—or say they have at least. Not long since J. O. Buhn was going to his place on the lake and encountered two bears in the road. He did not stop to argue with them but went out one side, thus giving them the right of way.

Other game seems quite plentiful. Several deer have been seen, ducks are plentiful and wild geese are getting ripe and appearances indicate a full crop. (No pun intended.)

The lake seems destined to be a greater resort than ever before. Several cottages have been built and the company of gentlemen from Grand Forks and Crookston that bought a tract of land on the lake shore last summer, we learn, has been making arrangements to build many more next season.

Minor Rood has built a fine yacht which now rides the lake like a swan and will play an important part in next season's business. The builder of the yacht, an old sailor, will make his headquarters with him this winter and be ready to build boats for all who require that kind of work.

Moe & Buhn have put a large addition to their store building to accommodate their fall trade which was never better.

Our daily train service proves a very great convenience that we are fully prepared to appreciate. Now we want a depot and then we are all right.

Occasional.

State of Minnesota, County of Polk—ss.
District Court,

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, 14th Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the County of Polk, upon a judgment rendered in a justice's court in the said county, a transcript of which judgment has been duly filed in the District Court aforesaid, said judgment being rendered in favor of Steenerson Bros and against Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, I have levied upon the following described real estate of said defendants, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½nw¼) of Section thirty-three (33); also southeast quarter (se¼) of the southwest quarter (sw¼) and lot six (6) of Section twenty-eight, all in Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-seven (47) west. And that I shall, on Friday, the 13th day of November, A. D. 1891, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson in and to the above described property to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to fifty-seven dollars and 29 cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 3d day of March, 1890, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

Dated Crookston, Minn., Sept. 29th, 1891.

Council Proceedings.

Proceedings of an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, Sept. 22d, 1891. Meeting called to order by President Cromb.

ROLL CALL.

Aldermen present—Buhn, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Walker, Steenerson, Cromb.

Aldermen absent—Childs.

Reading of the minutes of previous meeting.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that the records be corrected by having it recorded that Ald. Schmidt was re-elected fire warden at the last meeting. Carried.

On motion the minutes as corrected were approved.

The ways and means committee reported upon the $150 for the fire department as follows: That the application be granted and the amount be taken from the fund derived from the State tax on insurance companies, and the same placed at the disposal of the fire department.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that the report be accepted and adopted. Carried.

The ways and means committee reported upon the ordinance relating to hitching posts as follows: Your committee upon ways and means to whom was referred the proposed ordinance licensing erection of hitching posts submit the following report: Your committee are of the opinion that hitching posts along the public streets would be an intolerable nuisance, and for that reason we would recommend that the proposed ordinance be indefinitely postponed. On motion the report was accepted and adopted.

The petition of residents which was referred to the Ald. of the 4th ward relating to the grading of Hurlbut street, between Hunter and Cowing streets, was reported upon as follows: That the grade had been established and recommended that the petition be granted. Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Steenerson, that the report be accepted and adopted. Carried.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 22d day of Sept., 1891, Ald. Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Cromb:

Resolved, That the grade of Hurlbut street, between Fletcher and Cowing streets as proposed by the report and profile thereof made by the city engineer, be and the same is hereby adopted and the said grade is hereby established as in said profile indicated.

Upon the call of ayes and nays the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the president of the council.

Passed this 22d day of Sept. 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 23d day of Sept. 1891.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

Moved by Ald. Cromb, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for grading Hurlbut street, between Hunter and Cowing streets, and that the bids be opened at the next regular meeting of the council. Carried.

The finance committee reported upon the estimate of the city comptroller for the expenses of the city (for the next fiscal year) favorably, and that the necessary tax be levied. On motion the report was accepted.

A communication was received from the Grand Army of the Republic Post, No. 90, of this city, relating to the annual encampment of the Park Region Association, G. A. R. of the State of Minnesota, which will be held in this city next year. The G. A. R.'s that were present were invited to speak upon the matter and remarks were heard from Maj. Mix and others.

The mayor recommended that the council appoint a committee of five to look up a location and prices of land suitable for park purposes; also that the council refer the communication of the G. A. A. Post to the ways and means committee.

The city engineer presented an estimate and plan of a brick sewer from the east side of Main street to the middle of Elm street, also a communication relating to the same.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the communication from the G. A. R. Post be referred to the ways and means committee and that they be instructed to report at next meeting. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Steenerson, that the plans, profiles and estimates of the Main sewer be accepted and adopted and filed in the city engineer's office for future action. Carried.

The city engineer presented a written report upon the matter of the city grades and levels under construction by Engineer Starkey. On motion the report was accepted and adopted.

The city engineer presented a report upon the matter of drawing up an ordinance relating to sidewalks on the streets where the grade had already been established, and requested the council to add to that committee an assistant. On motion the city attorney was added to the committee.

The city engineer presented an itemized account of the cost of building sidewalks in the city for tax levy purposes.

The finance committee reported favorably upon the following bills:

L. H. Walker, labor	$ 5 10
Fontaine & Anglim, merchandise	11 60
M. R. Brown, tax rebated	7 60
C. H. Mix, judge of election	4 50

Moved by Ald. Jerome, seconded by Ald. Walker, that the report be accepted and the bills be paid. Carried.

Bill No. 741 of I. U. Jennings, amounting to $7.50, was referred back without recommendation.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the bill be allowed. Amended by Ald. Schmidt, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the bill be allowed at the sum of three dollars. Amendment declared carried. The ayes and was then taken on the motion as amended.

Ald. voting in the affirmative, Buhn, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Ald. voting in the negative, Jennings.

Motion, as amended, declared carried.

Ald. Steenerson gave notice that at the next meeting he would move to reconsider.

The residents and business men along the west side of Main street presented a communication relating to the finishing of the sidewalk which is still uncompleted.

A petition was received from tax-payers and residents in Jerome's addition relating to the raising of the electric light on the bridge.

Moved by Ald. Marshall, seconded by Ald. Jerome, that the Crookston Water Works, Power & Light Co. be instructed to locate the light in Jerome's addition, in location and height as the city engineer may designate. Carried.

M. Watts presented his resignation as health officer to the council. On motion the resignation was accepted.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Marlette, that Dr. C. E. Dampier be appointed as health officer; amended by Ald. Schmidt and duly seconded, that the clerk be instructed to cast the vote in favor of Dr. C. E. Dampier, which was done, and C. E. Dampier duly declared elected as health officer.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the clerk be instructed to advertise for bids for the office of city physician for the fiscal year, said bids to be opened at the next regular meeting of the council on October 18th.

Mr. John Ross appeared before the council and delivered to them a communication from the weather bureau relating to having the service in this city.

Moved by Ald. McGlogan, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the purchasing agent be instructed to purchase a set of flags for the weather service and that the chief of police be instructed to attend to the raising of the flags at the proper time. Carried.

The resolution for a sidewalk along the north side of 4th street, which the mayor vetoed, was read:

At a regular meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 8th day of September, 1891, Ald. Walker offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Marshall:

Resolved, by the City Council of the city of Crookston, That a sidewalk six feet wide, made of white pine plank two inches thick, surfaced on one side, each plank to be not more than six inches wide and well nailed with twenty penny spikes upon three stringers, three by six inches dimension timber, is hereby directed to be constructed along and adjoining the north side of Fourth street, from the intersection thereof by Broadway street, in the city of Crookston, to the intersection of said Fourth street by Elm street, in said city, said sidewalk to be at least of as good quality as first common white pine timber, and is hereby directed to be constructed upon the line and grade to be established by the city engineer.

Upon the call of the ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Marshall, Marlette, McGlogan, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 8th day of Sept., 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

To the Honorable the City Council of the City of Crookston:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith return to your honorable body the within resolution without my approval. I have refused to approve of same for the reason that I fear that in your action in respect thereto you have acted hastily and unadvisedly, and I believe that if you investigate the matter fully you will find that the improvement therein ordered is not at all necessary to the public welfare at this time.

Very respectfully,
ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Dated Sept. 9th. 1891.

Moved by Ald. Walker, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the resolution be passed over the Mayor's veto.

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Schmidt, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—Steenerson.

Ald. Marlette not voting.

Resolution declared carried by the President.

The city engineer presented an estimate of building a sidewalk along the west side of Main street, between Robert and Second streets.

Moved by Ald. Schmidt, seconded by Ald. Jennings, that the street commissioner be instructed to build a watering trough on the corner of Broadway and 3d streets at a cost not to exceed $40. Carried.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston, held the 22d day of September, 1891, Ald. Steenerson offered the following resolution, which was seconded by Ald. Buhn:

Whereas, The city council has from the report and estimate of the city engineer ascertained the cost of constructing the sidewalk heretofore ordered built along the west side of Main street in front of lot 5, block one, original townsite of Crookston, lot 5 of block 4, Fletcher & Houston's addition to Crookston, and lots 2, 3 and 4, of block one, original townsite of the city of Crookston, to be the sum of $143.42, and that the cost of constructing such sidewalk in front of each of said lots is as follows:

N. Rapin, owner of lot 5, block 1, original townsite	$24 68
A. C. Cowing, owner of lot 4, block 4, Fletcher & Houston's ad	34 68
A. C. Cowing, owner of lot 2, blk 1, original townsite	34 68
A. C. Cowing, owner of lot 3, blk. 1, original townsite	34 68
N. Rapin, owner of lot 4, block 1, original townsite	34 68

Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the said amounts above specified be and the same are hereby levied and assessed upon and against each of said lots to defray the cost of constructing said sidewalk, and be it further

Resolved, That the street commissioner is hereby directed to cause said sidewalk to be built as heretofore ordered.

Upon the call of ayes and nays, the vote stood as follows:

Aldermen voting in the affirmative—Buhn, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker, Cromb.

Aldermen voting in the negative—none.

Upon this vote the resolution was declared carried by the President of the Council.

Passed this 22d day of Sept. 1891.

JOHN CROMB,
President of the Council.

Approved this 23d day of Sept., 1891.

ALEX. MCKINNON, Mayor.

Attest: E. C. CARRUTH, Clerk.

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Steenerson, that the fire committee and city attorney be instructed to draw up an amendment to the fire ordinance governing the pay of the fire department for attending fires, and such other additions as they may deem necessary. Carried.

Alderman Schmidt brought up the subject of slaughter houses in Sampson's Addition. Moved by Alderman Steenerson, seconded by Ald. McGlogan, that the health officer be instructed to investigate the slaughter houses, and if found detrimental to public health to order the same removed from the city limits. Carried.

On motion Council adjourned.

E. C. CARRUTH, City Clerk.

Revs. Millard and Mason, Sunday school missionaries for the American Sunday School Union, of Philadelphia, organized a Sunday school here a short time ago. The members named it the "Sand Hill Union Sunday School," and the services are to be held in the school house in district 17 every Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Supt., J. C. Hayes, Assistant Supt., Matilda Johnson, Sec. and Treas., Ole K Oftelie, Librarian, John L. Ellingson. All who are interested in the study of God's word are cordially invited to be present.

School in the southern half of district 5 begins Monday, Oct. 5th, with the same teacher they had last term.

During the severe wind storm on Thursday last sparks set fire to some shocks on the Hayes farm. S. Brekke's blacksmith shop was burned to the ground the same day. No insurance. The wind also blew the tops off of every one of Paul Simon's stacks.

C. E. Ford, Jr., the rustling merchant from Beltrami, was calling on the Hayes Bros. this week.

The threshers near Climax will please bear in mind that if they want to keep out of fights they must let the "Elixer of Hell" alone.

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred and sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Benjamin Milette and Mary Milette his wife, mortgagors, to Narcissa Milette, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of November, A. D. 1886, and with power of sale therein contained, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, A. D., 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 90, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12), Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-six (46), lying and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in forenoon of said day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred sixty-five and six one hundreths (265.06) dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 17th, A. D. 1891.

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:10 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.37 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nin and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

MORTGAGE SALE.

(First publication Sept. 3d, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Thomas B. Welsh and Mary Welsh, his wife, mortgagors, to Jane M. Goodnow, mortgagee, bearing date the 15th day of February, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of February, 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 118, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of Section four (4), Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), Range forty-eight (48) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 17th day of October, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Entered at the Post Office in Crookston as Second Class matter.

THE JOURNAL has upon its subscription list the names of some who are in arrears for several years. Last year our statements were sent out in December, too late for some of our farmer friends to arrange for settlement at that time, but most of them responded requesting that a statement be sent them earlier this year. We have been at work on our list for some time and have our statements nearly ready for mailing and expect to mail them this week. As we are very much in need of our money this fall and as we have cheerfully carried some of these names a number of years we trust that all such will make an effort to square the account as soon as possible. There are some people in this world who regard a statement of account in the light of a dunning letter and they get hot in the collar, but we hope we have none such on our list, as we intend to serve all alike, and we do not know why we should not send out one statement a year when we are subject to one a month from our paper house if we do not pay spot cash for our goods. If our paper accounts were allowed to run year after year without liquidation it would make no difference to us how long our subscription accounts ran, but we have paid out the good hard cash for every man whose account is in arrears on our books, and now that the crops of the country seem to enable all such to pay up we are confident that it will be done.

Kindly Meant, But---

Well, now, we are in a quandary for a fact, and all owing to the kindness of heart of Bro. W. G. Deacon, of the St. Vincent New Era, who sent us, last week a dinner ticket, good for one royal good meal, to be used on the St. Vincent fair grounds—ah, THERE's the rub, "ON the fair grounds." We might possibly arrange for transportation via the lightning express to St. Vincent, but how in the blazes are we to get IN TO the fair grounds where our elegant dinner is hung up awaiting us? We might just as well have an invitation to attend a banquet in the moon without the admission ticket to that institution. St. Vincent has made arrangements to cut a big cheese on the occasion of the fair and we should ever so much enjoy going up to see it—and yet a good dinner, but we don't relish the idea of going up and sitting on the fence out in the cold while some other fellow eats the dinner for which we have a ticket in our pocket—so near and yet so far, lacking only the quarter for admission to the grounds. Oh, Deacon, how could you thus tempt your brethren of the press? Knew ye not that the lack of admission to that charmed circle was an insuperable barrier to the enjoyment of that dinner? Never mind, though! If we can raise a quarter for admission to the grounds in time we will fool you and claim that dinner.

M. E. Kirsch went up to Euclid on Wednesday of last week and saw farmers pounding out No. 1 Hard wheat from the shock. This shows conclusively that up to that time the wheat had escaped serious injury from the rain.

The Noss family that will appear in our city on Wednesday evening, October 14th, was in the city about two years ago and captured everybody. We expect to see the Grand Opera House crowded to its utmost limits upon the occasion of their return. It is certainly one of the finest entertainments on the road, and all who saw the Noss family when they were here will gladly welcome them again. All lovers of good music will be sure to be on hand early.

FOR THIRTY DAYS.

DONNELLY BEGS THE FARMERS TO HOLD THEIR WHEAT A MONTH FOR AN ADVANCE.

HE CLAIMS THAT THE MINNESOTA CROP, IF HELD BACK, WILL BREAK THE MARKET.

ANOTHER BULL CIRCULAR TO BE ISSUED AT ALLIANCE HEADQUARTERS SOON.

St. Paul Dispatch.

Ignatius Donnelly has issued another circular urging the farmers to hold their wheat at least thirty days longer. In it he says:

"I think every intelligent man in Minnesota knows that wheat is now selling at far below its actual value; but the Alliance, as an organization, has not taken the responsibility of giving any advice upon the subject, believing it to be outside their function to do so, and a hazardous experiment to make in any official way. But it is very clear that, if not a bushel of wheat is sold in Minnesota by the farmers during the next thirty days, that the wheat pits of Chicago, New York and London would be full of dead "bears;" and the farmers would get for their wheat crop what it is really worth.

"Sell potatoes, barley, rye, anything else—stand off your creditors for a time, keep on ploughing—but don't sell any wheat for a month and see what will be the result. I do not say to you that wheat will go to $1.50 or $2 a bushel; nor do I ask you to hold your crop till next spring; nor do I speak in behalf of the State Farmers' Alliance, but in my individual capacity. I express my belief that the farmers are being robbed of one-fourth the value of their product, and that they should totally stop all sales of wheat for a time and then let it out slowly, so as not to break down the market."

MORE ADVICE.

The State will come out on Friday with another circular. The contents of the circular are much the same as that of the last one. This one simply takes up the wheat situation where the other left off. The crops of the ten years from 1880 to 1890 are taken as the basis of computation, and the circular holds that there is danger of exporting too much wheat. During the ten years in question it is claimed we raised 4,497,000,000 bushels of wheat. Of this amount 1,268.000,000 bushels were exported and 3,229,000,000 were consumed at home. The average population during those ten years was 56,000,000 people. We now have 64,000,000 people, and will consume 369,000,000 bushels, leaving for export 148,000,000 bushels. In other words, we raise 62,000,000 more than the average of those ten years, but we consume 46,000,000 bushels more, leaving only 16,000,000 bushels more for export.

The circular continues to say: We have now exported 50,000,000 bushels of our new crop and have 93,000,000 to spare, for 50,000,000 of which charters have been made at present. We export at the rate of 6,000,000 bushels per week and our surplus will be exhausted if we keep this up till Christmas. If we sell our wheat to Europe cheap we will have extraordinary high wheat prices here with a moderate boom, or we will have moderately high prices with an extraordinary boom if we hold our wheat for high prices now.

If we succeed in raising the price of cereals to the point the situation justifies the boom in business will be unprecedented and the workingmen will have the benefit of it like every one else.

It is a mistake to think that bread rises in proportion to wheat.

With wheat at $1 a bushel, a 5-cent loaf of bread weighs one pound in Minneapolis. A barrel of flour makes 230 pounds of bread, and the cost of the flour in a loaf of bread is about 1½ cents, the balance compensating the baker and grocer for work and distribution.

With wheat at $3, the cost of flour would not be three times as high as now, for the cost of manufacturing and packing would not be threefold, and as the bakers' and grocers' trouble would not increase at all, with the additional cost of wheat a pound of bread would rise from 5 to 8 cents, if wheat rose from $1 to $3.

Supposing a workingman's family used two loaves a day, his extra expense would be about 6 cents per day, if wheat should raise to a fabulous price, but a gain in wages would surely follow, which would compensate him tenfold for the 6 cents extra expense for bread.

THE NEW CIRCULAR.

In estimating our crop we have nothing tangible but the government papers. It is stated that the figures of these official documents are always below the reality, and that they are so this year; but, as the method of making this report in regard to acreage and percentage of condition has not changed, it is not particular whether it is over or underestimating the crop, as in either case it serves for comparison with other years.

To please those who object to the government report we will call the estimated bushels "statistical bushels."

During the ten years from 1880 to 1890 we raised 4,497,000,000 statistical bushels of wheat, of which we exported 1,268,000,000 real bushels, and consequently consumed 3,229,000,000 bushels at home.

Our population in 1880 was 50,155,783 and in 1890, 62,622,250, an average of 56,000,000 people during the ten years.

We have now 64,000,000 population. If 56,000,000 people consumed 3,229,000,000 statistical bushels in ten years, 64,000,000 people will consume 369,000,000 bushels in one year.

The government report gives the acreage as large as that of the year 1884, and says that the percentage of condition is a little below 1884, consequently the total yield in statistical bushels must be a little less than the crop of 1884, which was 512,000,000 statistical bushels.

No one has, therefore, any reason to suppose that our crop is more than 512,000,000 statistical bushels, of which we surely consume 369,000,000, leaving for export 143,000,000 real bushels, according to the experience of other years.

In other words, we raise 52,000,000 bushels more than the average of the ten years between 1880-1890, which counted in many enormous crops, but we consume 46,000,000 more, and have consequently only 16,000,000 bushels more to spare.

With the exception of three years, our crops from 1880 to1890 were exceedingly large, and to increase 62,000,000 bushels over their average is something so extraordinary that we need not look for anything better.

There is certainly no sense in comparing our present year with others by taking arbitrary figures for this year and the figures of the government report for others. If the government estimates are too low, it would only prove that the home consumption is larger, but not our export capacity.

We have exported 50,000,000 of our new crop, and have 93,000,000 to spare, for 50,000,000 of which charters have been made at present. We export at the rate of 6,000,000 bushels a week, and our surplus will be thoroughly exhausted if we keep that up till Christmas. There is almost a certainty that we will over-export, because our entire remaining exporting capacity is now probably bought by Europeans for future deliveries, and our people will be called on, without doubt, to economize in wheat consumption.

Some papers have criticized our advising farmers to hold their wheat because it would make the bread of our workmen too dear.

We think it will benefit the working classes nearly as much as the farmers.

If we allow our wheat to go out of the country at any price the Europeans wish to pay, we will over-export and have high wheat prices for all of next year without the benefit of great remittances from Europe.

On the other hand, if we hold our prices high, we will over-export also, but we will have much more money coming to us, and if we then have a kind of wheat famine, we will be compensated by an extraordinary boom in business.

In short, the situation is this: We will have extraordinary high wheat prices here with a moderate boom if we sell our wheat to Europe cheap, or we will have moderately high prices with an extraordinary boom if we hold our wheat for high prices now.

If we succeed in raising the price of cereals to the point the situation justifies the boom in business will be unprecedented and the workingman will have the benefit of it like every one else.

It is a mistake to think that bread rises in proportion to wheat.

With wheat at a $1 a bushel, a five-cent loaf of bread weighs one pound in Minneapolis. A barrel of flour makes 230 pounds of bread and the cost of the flour in a loaf of bread is about 1½ cents, the balance compensating the baker and grocer for work and distribution.

With wheat at $3, the cost of flour would not be three times as high as now, for the cost of manufacturing and packing would not be threefold, and as the bakers' and grocers' trouble would not increase at all, with the additional cost of wheat a pound of bread would rise from five to 8 cents, if wheat rose from $1 to $3.

Supposing a workingman's family used two loaves a day, his extra expense would be about six cents per day, if wheat should rise to a fabulous price, but a gain in wages would surely follow which would compensate him tenfold for the six cents extra expense for bread.

This will prove that we are not working against the interest of the working classes by our advice, but for theirs, to the best of our ability, and it will prove that we work for the interest of the manufacturers, merchants and the owners of real estate, in fact, for the interest of every citizen of this country, except, maybe, of the pawnbrokers, whose business thrives when everybody is depressed.

TRADE AND MONEY.

New York Press

Gold imports increase. It is estimated that the amount of gold in transit from Europe to the United States on Saturday night was in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. The prediction of Mr. Robert Griffen, the British statistician, that before $50,000,000 in bullion was sent to this country, both the Bank of England and the Bank of France would raise their rates of discount and check the movement, is discredited by financial authorities everywhere. As the Press on last Thursday pointed out, Europe is dependent upon our breadstuffs to avert famine this year. It must have our cereals to live. And it will have to pay for them in cash if we want cash. Raising the rate of discount would not alter this fact. It would only make the operation of purchasing more costly to Europeans. Mr. Griffen's other prophecy, that this country has become overloaded with paper currency to such an extent that a great financial crash is inevitable, is simply ridiculous. The tremendous gold exports of last spring did not impair public confidence in the ability of the government to redeem in gold all notes payable in that metal. Now that the specie tide is coming in instead of going out, and the country is becoming richer in gold every week, it is the height of absurdity to suppose that Americans are going to distrust the currency of whose stability they had no doubts when almost every departing steamship was lessening the amount of gold in the country. With the biggest harvest on record and an imperative foreign demand for all the food we can spare, Americans can afford to laugh at calamity shriekers, whether they are in Kansas or London.

Our wheat and flour exports for the week ending September 24 were 4,711,001 bushels. For the same week last year they were only 1,155,000 bushels from the United States and Canada both. The corn crop will be enormous. The extraordinary hot weather of last week has rushed the ripening of the late planted areas. The entire crop, late as well as early, is now safe. Reliable authorities estimate that it will be not far from 2,000,000,000 bushels—the largest yield ever known. The dimensions of the wheat crop are without paralel in our history. The yield of oats is also remarkable for magnitude. These great crops mean an immense and profitable traffic to the railroads. They mean rich remuneration for the farmers, and an unprecedented supply of food products for domestic and foreign consumption. In short, as The Press has repeatedly shown, they mean national prosperity in the fullest sense of the word.

The summerlike heat which has ripened the corn has tended to slacken some lines of fall trade in certain sections. The restriction, however, can be but temporary at most. It has not been serious anywhere. General trade shows an especial increase in Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Joseph, St. Louis and San Francisco. At Philadelphia, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Kansas City and Omaha it has been only fairly active. No special change in the movement of manufactured products has been noted at this city or at Baltimore. Cotton manufacturers are generally busy. Jobbers have been doing a good business in dry goods. Woolen goods sales are only fair on account of the heat. Staple cottons move slowly, but prices are firm, with some grades ⅛c. higher. Print cloths are firm. Ginghams sell well. Wool is quiet and firm. Cotton is 5-16c. higher. Leather and lumber are in fair demand, with firm prices. Boots, shoes, clothing, hardware and groceries, except coffee are selling freely. There is a small advance in Eastern manufactured iron. Pennsylvania reports a stronger and more active iron market. Steel billets are active in small lots at Philadelphia, and sheet mills and plate mills are running on increased orders. Inquiries for steel rails are growing. Anthracite shows a stronger tone but prices remain about the same.

The sensational movements of the stock market have been given daily in The Press. The wild manipulation of the Gould faction resulted in a sharp reduction in prices, but the end of the week saw a marked rally. The crop outlook, the wheat exports and the gold imports keep the tone of the share market bullish. The New York banks sent about $5,000,000 to the interior last week. Their gain from Treasury disbursements was about $1,000,000 less than that sum. The gold in transit has had a decidedly strengthening influence on the money market. Bank clearings at fifty-eight cities for the week were $1,338,729,760, an increase over the week last year of 2.5 per cent. At fifty-seven cities, excluding New York, an increase of 4.7 per cent. is shown. There were increases at Chicago, $10,318,487, and at Boston, $11,621,631, as compared with the week a year ago. New York's total increased $148,117,717 over last week.

Halvor Steenerson went to St. Paul on Monday evening to attend a session of the Supreme Court.

Two prisoners escaped from the county jail on Monday night. Just got tired of staying there and left.

The working week opened up on Monday morning cold and wet; rather discouraging for threshing.

Judge Wood, who was murdered in East Grand Forks, was well-known and highly respected in this city.

A stack of wheat belonging to Martin Jenson was struck by lightning on Thursday last and burned up.

A few carloads of wood from the Mable Lake country come in occasionally. It finds a ready market.

Work on the new block on Monday was suspended owing to the rain. It was not much of a rain, though.

Hoch & Ott still continue to deal out the choicest cuts and are headqarters for the real genuine bologna sausage.

We would like to contract with some of our subscribers on the Fosston branch for wood. Could use a carload or so.

When Frank Meade hears of that shooting scrape in East Grand Forks, will he mildly consider himself endorsed?

Theodore Smith, who has been in the employ of N. P. Stone for the past summer, left for Chicago on Sunday evening.

The oldest inhabitant is raking his brain for a precedent to the rainy weather of this fall. He says he will give it up.

Mrs. A. W. Stewart and the children left for Merrill, Wis., last week where Mr. S. will engage in business and make his future home.

The police arrested a man named Geo. Elger at the Norman house on Monday morning, charged with stealing $2.50 from a boarder.

H. A. Mason was re-elected manager of the cornet band at a recent business meeting. The boys evidently know how to appreciate a good thing.

Knute Steenerson came up from West Superior to visit his brothers this week. Knute is engaged in real estate and running a legal shop on the side.

The ladies are cordially invited to call at Mrs. E. E. Bangs fashionable millinery store on Second street, examine new fall styles and get prices.

Reports from the threshing fields indicate that it will require several days after clearing up to be able to move the machines, as the ground is so soft.

Ole Rude's house was struck by lightning during the storm last week. The only damage was a wrecked stove-pipe and an ugly hole in the kitchen floor.

Rev. R. H. Battey preached the first of a series of discourses on "Character" at the Congregational church on Sabbath evening. This course promises to be very interesting.

Rev. C. F. Sharpe is the new presiding elder for the Fergus Falls district. Rev. J. J. Edwards has been assigned to the Crookston M. E. Church.

Remember the entertainment, "Temple of Fame," to be given by the ladies of the Congregational church, assisted by best local talent. Time and place later.

S. Cruikshanks has his threshing all done and sent one carload to Duluth which graded 1 Northern and sold for 93 cents. He averaged 22 bushels per acre.

The jury in the case of Gonyea vs. Brouillett found a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount claimed—$80 and costs. The case will probably be appealed.

A jolly load of Fisherites, consisting of R. Bain and wife, A. G. Rutlidge, of the Bulletin, and Miss Lulu Thompson, drove up to attend Uncle Tom's Cabin on Saturday last.

Mr. Kistenmacher has his new house plastered and will be ready for the carpenters to put on the finishing touches very soon. He has had scores of applications to rent it.

A. C. Wilkinson has secured rooms in the new block of Fontaine & Anglim and will enjoy the new system of heating his office by hot water. This is said to be far superior to steam.

Go to Sture's new store in the Opera House block for anything you need in the line of groceries or general merchandise. Sture can sell you choice goods at very close figures.

L. F. Menage,

[14-26] Minneapolis, Minn.

A number of the friends of Mrs. W. Walker gathered at her residence on Tuesday evening, the occasion being the anniversary of the birthday of that lady, and left with her many testimonials of regard in shape of handsome presents.

Ship your wheat to O. Tharaldson, general agent of the Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association, at Duluth, and make from 4 to 7 cents a bushel. For further particulars as to membership, &c., inquire of L. K. Hassell, Grand Forks, N. D. [25-tf]

There don't seem to be so much wheat rolling into Duluth and Minneapolis since the rains commenced as before, so it would seem as though the rains may not be such an unmitigated evil after all—if they do not cause the utter ruin of the balance of the wheat yet in shock, and this does not seem probable.

H. P. Urness was arrested and taken before judge C. S. Spendley last Saturday, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, the event occurring in a saloon in this city. After hearing evidence for plaintiff the defendant waived further examination and gave bail for his appearance before the next term of district court.

Clerk of the Court, L. K. Hassel, of Grand Forks County, with his wife, put up at the Central house on Monday evening, on their way home from a visit to McIntosh. L. K. was formerly a resident of this city where for awhile he published a paper in the Norwegian language. He has a fine position and is coining wealth.

Uncle Lipscomb is very much under the weather with dyspepsia this fall and not able to do much work, which worries the old man extremely, as he is one of those individuals who must always be busy about something to be perfectly happy. THE JOURNAL hopes he will soon get the better of his malady and be all right again.

Wm. Johnson was arraigned in Justice Spendley's court last week charged with having stolen a suit of clothes from the Sherman House not long since. The evidence was insufficient to convict and the prisoner was discharged. Later on new evidence come to light and Johnson was arrested and taken before Judge Christianson on Tuesday morning.

Peter Cornelius shipped several carloads of wheat to O. Tharaldson, agent of the Protective Association at Duluth. Mr. C. says his wheat netted him 5½ cents per bushel, (above all expenses, including his membership fee in the Association) more than he could have realized in this market. Pete will ship all his wheat to the Association.

East Grand Forks Courier:—Harry E. Ives, politician, banker, editor, grain buyer, townsite proprietor, village corporation and consulting attorney, came over from St. Hilaire yesterday and may possibly buy up several blocks of realty in this city. Mr. Ives enjoys the distinction of being the "heaviest" editor in the state—some 280 pounds.

Rev. C. F. Sharpe went to the conference meeting last week. The probability is that he will not be returned to this city where he has served so acceptably for two years and his many friends here, regardless of church relationships will deeply regret his loss and wish him abundant success wherever his lot may be cast. Mr. S. is an able preacher and a noble man,

Our thanks are due to those of our subscribers who have kindly remembered us on subscription this week. It seems as if those little favors were never so welcome to us before in all of our sixteen years of newspaper work in Minnesota. We suppose there are times in the life of every man when he can appreciate the friendship of his fellows in a peculiar degree.

The sad news of the death of Miss Lelia B. Clements was received on Tuesday morning. Miss Clements has been ailing for some time and last week was taken to Hallock to consult a physician there. The remains were taken to Little Falls for interment. This is said to have been the wish of Miss Clements herself who, while there on a visit to her uncle, selected the lot and requested to be buried there.

Jack McLaren says he can rig up a machine that will grind the sugar beet and extract the juice as cheaply and rapidly as cane juice can be extracted. In this case we can see nothing to prevent the manufacture of beet syrup enough to supply this country. Henry Nolan's experiment seems to demonstrate that the syrup is in the beets all right. We suppose the next step—to make the sugar, is more complicated.

DIED.

BJOIN.—At the family residence, in this city, on Saturday morning, October 3d, 1891, at 7 o'clock, of consumption, Mrs. T. H. Bjoin, at the age of 31 years and 3 months.

Bertha Larson, daughter of Truls and Ellen Larson, was born in Winona County, Minn., on July 4th, 1860. In 1882 she came to this city to live, and on Nov. 1st, 1883 she was married to Thomas H. Bjoin. Four children have been born to them of which three survive, one having died in 1887. She was a faithful and consistent christian, a member of the Houges church, and it was largely owing to her individual efforts that that denomination secured a church edifice in this city which, as long as it shall stand, will be a living monument to her indefatigable labors to erect and maintain. Early last spring evidences of the presence of the dread disease, consumption, appeared, and all that the care of a loving husband could devise was done to save her life, and during the summer she was sent to Ada where the Koch system was tried without success, and later, Dr. Keith, of Minneapolis, was called to treat her, but all without avail and she passed gently into that sleep that knows no waking on Saturday morning. The funeral services were conducted at that church on Monday at 10 a. m. by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Westphal, and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of her former friends and acquaintances.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

Opera glasses, marine and field glasses, telescopes, microscopes, compasses, &c., &c., at Saake's jewelry store.

Thomas Ulven, Secretary of the Farmers' Protective Association, came down from McIntosh on Monday evening and spent the night in the city. Mr. Ulven says that the Association is daily growing in numbers and strength and that they will soon own their own elevator at Duluth. He says that everywhere the farmers are loud in their praises of the system as far as they have tried it and so far they have heard no complaints.

FIFTY DOLLARS will buy a thoroughbred registered Holstein-Friesian bull. For particulars call at this office.

During the temporary absence of cashier Ellington the other day the boys in the bank rigged up Ellington's pet frog with pen in hand and spectacles on nose so naturally that several delinquents stepped up and offered to pay up those notes that were regarded as uncollectable. Ellington enjoyed the joke as well as the others and kept the frog on Andrew's desk to do duty for that official for several days—he may be there yet for all we know.

The great German eye water is the best known remedy for weak or inflamed eyes, or any inflamation caused by overwork or injury to the eye. It will improve, strengthen and preserve the sight. For sale at Saake's jewelry store.

H. B. Budd was one of the JOURNAL subscribers who did not give us a chance to render a statement but walked into our office several days before his year was out and put up for the coming year. Mr. B. says he has four or five days threshing yet to do; has threshed 5,000 bushels of wheat and 4,700 bushels of barley. The barley already sold graded No. 2, a grade that very little of our barley ever gets. Mr. B. thinks his unthreshed wheat is all right yet.

Mrs. E. E. Bangs would again announce to the ladies of Crookston and vicinity that she is now ready to attend to their wants for the fall trade, in all the very latest styles. She also has over 100 stamping patterns for embroidery of the latest designs and invites a call.

The case of Laurent Gonyea and Octave Gonyea vs. Michel Brouillett and Levi Bronilett was on before Judge Christianson and a jury on Monday; Martin O'Brien for the plaintiffs and E. M. Stanton for the defence. The suit was brought to recover payment for making a well, the defence setting up a failure to fulfil contract in that a sufficient supply of water had not been obtained as contracted for.

Who Was He?

Last week Wednesday the engineer on the N. P. south bound train thought he struck a man near the crossing of the Fosston line on section 8 in Fairfax and stopped the train to pick up the remains. A diligent search in the rain revealed no one so the train went on to Fertile where the conductor wired back to Crookston reporting the circumstances. On Thursday morning deputy-coroner H. Snepard and chief Gongea went out and made a thorough examination but found no body.

Choice Millinery.

The ladies will do well to call and examine my fall styles and new novelties. Opening until Saturday evening next. MISS HELEN HALVERSON.

A Card of Thanks.

I desire in this manner to return thanks to the many kind friends whose acts of kindness during the last illness of my wife, and the subsequent trying scenes, testified their sympathy with us in our troubles. T. H. BJOIN.

Parents are invited to send their children to the Sabbath school, which is a busy hive of Bible students, happy in fellowship, and taught by wide awake and competent teachers.

On Friday an individual went into Durand's store slightly under the influence of liquor and becoming obstreperous policeman Ellingbo was called in to invite him to go outside. This he refused to do and seized the officer and began to choke him vigorously. Chief Gonyea happened in about this time and was obliged to club the man to make him let go of Ellingbo, and so violent did he become that they were obliged to take him to the lockup where they kept him until morning when he was waltzed up to the Justice' office fined and released. If he had not been so extremely violent he would have been let off lighter.

The Thief River Falls Press gives Superintendent E J. Grefthen a severe hauling over the coals, claiming that he paid no attention to an order for school books sent by that district. In relation to this matter THE JOURNAL reporter interviewed assistant-superintendent V. D. Carruth who said that the order for these books was copied on the very day it was received in the Supt.'s office, by Carruth himself and forwarded to the proper source by the next mail and if there was any delay it was not in the office of the Supt. of Public Schools for Polk County. Probably Mr. Mussey will be willing, in justice to Mr. Grefthen, to publish this explanation of the affair.

Swan Anderson was down from Black River on Tuesday after a carload of lumber with which to replace the house that was destroyed by fire earlier in the season. Swan is one of those fortunate farmers who had their wheat all in stack before the rain and he says that there are probably not to exceed 500 acres in shock in his neighborhood and, if help had been plenty early in the season there would have been none not in stacks. Plowing he thinks cannot be re-commenced inside of a week or ten days owing to the fact that the ground is thoroughly soaked and is drying slowly. Lots of potatoes up that way but no market for them.

Our reporter dropped in on Tuesday afternoon to see the opening display of millinery made by Miss Helen Halverson and was delighted at the display of beautiful hats and bonnets there on exhibition; and the novelties she has this fall are something unique and lovely. She has secured the services of Miss Spaulding, an experienced and tasty trimmer from St. Paul, and feels more than ever confident of her ability to meet the requirements of the ladies of Crookston and vicinity whom she cordially invites to call and examine her styles and get prices. The opening continues until Saturday evening.

R. G. Marlette informs THE JOURNAL that he took an extensive drive about the country on Tuesday and finds that the damage to wheat from the rain is not as extensive as he had been led to suppose from reports. The wheat will be somewhat bleached and sheaves lying upon the ground are sprouting badly, but where the shocks were standing up well he saw no sprouted wheat. "There is one good feature in the matter that I can see, and that is if any grasshopper eggs were deposited their name is Dennis for they could by no means survive this long cold rain. It will surely rot the casings and thus destroy the eggs." If his theory is correct, and it seems reasonable to suppose it is the rains may not have been an unmitigated evil after all.

W. A. Marin, who was in a few hours on Saturday, was speaking about the relief for the hail sufferers and thinks some move should be made at once if anything is to be done. Perhaps as good a way as any would be to have some bank designated as a depository where all who feel so disposed could leave contributions. The greatest need at present, as THE JOURNAL has before remarked, is for oats to feed teams so that fall plowing can be done. After their present need had been supplied then other matters could follow later. It is not reasonable to suppose that every man can be fully compensated for his loss, but a few hundred dollars to every man who lost his all would be a big help and, in some cases, place the man upon his feet. The only objection to calling a mass meeting is the fact that this is an extremely busy time for farmers, but perhaps enough could attend to accomplish something. It certainly would do no harm to try.

Several farmers, while waiting for the clouds to roll by, were discussing the destruction caused by the hail storm in this vicinity and the project of calling a mass meeting at an early day was discussed. It would seem to THE JOURNAL that some such method should be adopted and that right away if those who lost their crops are to be relieved in time to do any plowing this fall. The greatest present need is for feed for teams, and that to be of any benefit must be had at once. Chris. Hanson suggests that the county adopt the assessment plan, that everyone be assessed 3 cents at next assessment time to provide a fund for future losses. That three men in each commissioner's district be selected as insurance commissioners. It strikes us that one in each commissioner district would be ample.

Our statements on subscription accounts we expect will be ready for mailing about Saturday morning. Notwithstanding the re-iterated statements of a jealous neighbor to the contrary, this is not a matter of charity but simple business. THE JOURNAL does not ask charity, nor does it ask a loan, but it simply asks all to whom these statements shall come to do their best to help us this year when we have met with great trials and a severe loss by hail, and we feel confident that every true man on our list will, just as soon as he is able, cheerfully respond to our request for the money that he honestly owes us. We do not believe that there is one man among the number, who, if he should be asked to donate a like amount to a worthy, unfortunate fellow-being, would for a moment hesitate to do so were it in his power so to do, but as we said before, this is not our case, and we have been thus explicit because our envious neighbor has seen fit to sneeringly refer to us as asking charity. Perhaps he considers all his own bills in that fight, but such is not the case with THE JOURNAL. Our bills are rendered for value received for hard work faithfully performed, and we are in no sense soliciting for alms. We expect to commence sending out those statements on Saturday and to continue to do so until all have been sent out.

Wm. Johnson, who was discharged on preliminary examination before Judge Spendley was re-arrested upon the finding of new evidence and had his examination before Judge Christianson on Tuesday morning. On the previous examination an alleged affidavit from one John Jamison, stating that the said Wm. Johnson was at work for him at the time that the robbery was committed here. This affidavit was purported to have been drawn and acknowledged by Judge Robert Wood, (the man who was shot at East Grand Forks on Saturday.) The document was awkwardly drawn in a cramped hand and Judge Spendley, suspecting something wrong, wrote to Judge Wood inquiring after the address of the said Jamison. The reply of Judge Wood, in his own hand, was so unlike the purported affidavit as to show forgery on the face of it, and moreover another letter, written in the same hand, as the alleged affidavit, came later, stating that others besides Jamison could testify to an alibi for Johnson. When Johnson was arrested the first time by Chief Gonyea no money was found upon his person and he had none when released, but when the Chief arrested him the second time he took from his person $67.35. Judge Christianson considered the evidence sufficient to hold Johnson to the grand jury and so ordered.

BELTRAMI ITEMS.

BELTRAMI, Oct. 5, 1891.

The weather for the past two weeks has made the farmers who have grain in shock feel rather "blue."

Lewis Seeger raised on his place west of town 24 bushels of wheat and 45 bushels of barley to the acre.

All who have land for sale in this township have raised the price. One quarter section that was offered for $1,000 in the spring cannot now be bought for less than $1,600. Twelve hundred and fifty has already been refused.

K. O. Flakne has just struck a fine flowing well on his lot on Washington avenue.

C. M. Lowe came down on Wednesday evening to help the farmers thresh.

Harry Murphy, of Minneapolis, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother-in-law, C. E. Ford, Jr. He took away with him a few geese as the result of his visit.

Five sections of swamp land west of Rolette were sold a short time ago at $10 per acre to a New York company, who will seed it to flax and next summer will put up a flax mill, either here or at Rolette. Half the grading is finished.

W. J. Nickle begins a five months term of school near Neilsville to-day.

H. B. Budd has rented the Herriott farm for another year.

A FOUL MURDER

JUDGE ROBERT WOOD, OF EAST GRAND FORKS, SHOT DOWN IN COLD BLOOD

BY TWO HIGHWAYMEN

WHO ROB THEIR VICTIM OF HIS GOLD WATCH AND MONEY.

LIVED BUT A FEW HOURS

AND NEVER REGAINED CONSCIOUSNESS—THE MURDERERS ESCAPE.

Coroner's Inquest Today.

Grand Forks Plaindealer.

The little city of East Grand Forks was the scene of a most atrocious murder about 3 o'clock yesterday morning, Judge Robert Wood, of that city, being the victim. Thus far the assassins are unknown and unpunished. The excitement over the murder is most intense and if the murderers were apprehended now it is more than likely that summary punishment would be meted out to them by the excited populace. The facts so far as can be learned are as follows. Judge Wood, who occupied rooms in A. W. Preston's house on Second street, was awakened about two o'clock by Johnnie Hardin, a young man who occupied his sleeping room with him. The young man was quite seriously ill and suffering considerably. Judge Wood dressed himself and after doing what he could to relieve his companion started out at 2:30 for a physician. He had gone but a block when he met his fate. George Chalice, who was on his way to his room a little before three o'clock, and while crossing Second street, stumbled over the prostrate form of a man lying across the sidewalk. The night was very dark and he could not discern who he was, but retraced his steps to inform the police. Officers Murray and Robinson had both heard the report of a revolver and proceeded in the direction of the sound. Mr. Chalice met Officer Murray and conducted him to the man who proved to be Judge Wood. A hasty examination showed that he had been shot in the head and fallen on the cross walk. He was picked up and taken to the city hall. He was found to be alive although unconscious. A messenger was dispatched for a physician and Dr. Erwin responded, and after an examination he pronounced the wound a fatal one, and that the victim could live but a few hours. A bullet had struck him squarely in his right eye without so much as injuring either eyelid. His face was somewhat burned and blackened with powder, showing that the villain must have held the weapon in the face of his victim. An investigation showed that Judge Wood's gold watch had been taken, the cloth chain he wore having been broken. His pocket-book was gone. Twenty-five dollars in bills in his vest pocket escaped the attention of the robbers, but as the judge was known to have fifty dollars in gold at least on his person the evening before, and as he was in the habit of carrying considerable sums of money, it is probable the highwaymen secured quite an amount. A fifty-cent silver piece was afterwards found on the ground where the shooting occurred. Judge Wood's revolver was found near by, each of its chambers, however, loaded. It is surmised that when attacked by the highwaymen, he drew his revolver to protect himself, but they were prepared for this and fired before he could use his weapon. Two pair of freshly made shoe tracks were visible on the sidewalk leading away from the scene of the shooting, the steps at a distance which showed they must have been made while running, and proving clearly that there were two assailants. further than this no clue has yet been obtained.

Judge Woods never regained consciousness and expired at 9:30 yesterday morning. Coroner Sheppard was notified at Crookston and arrived at ten o'clock today. A jury was impaneled with Mayor Brown as foreman, and an inquest has been in progress with closed doors. Dr. Erwin made a post mortem examination and found the ball, a 32, in the brain near the back of the skull, having passed directly through the socket of the eye.

Judge Woods was thirty-six years of age and unmarried. His folks live in Ontario. He had taken out a life insurance policy a short time ago for $1,000 for the benefit of his mother. The deceased had been a resident of East Grand Forks for several years and was one of its most honored citizens, respected by all. Last fall he was elected to the office of justice of the peace, and had filled the position very satisfactorily. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and Knights of honor. The funeral will be held tomorrow under their auspices.

The saloon of Jacob Lobsinger, which occupies the corner building next to Second street where the shooting occurred was broken open some time after twelve o'clock Saturday night and some cigars, liquors and an overcoat taken. The theory is advanced by some that Judge Wood in passing by the place heard the burglars within and attempted to capture them, and met his death in so doing, but this has not been verified.

A telegram was received late this afternoon from friends in Ontario requesting that the remains of Judge Wood be forwarded to them for interment.

Mayor Brown has issued an order closing every gambling place in the city, and their paraphernalia will be confiscated if the order is not obeyed promptly.

TO DANCE BEFORE THE QUEEN.

Four Pretty Americans to Entertain Her Majesty With a Minuet.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Fashionable circles in this city are much exercised as to the identity of four pretty American girls who have arrived in London to dance a minuet before the Queen.

Their chaperon refuses to give their names, but says they are well known in the best New York society. A picture, however, is printed in the October number of The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar, entitled "Pretty girls learning to dance the minuet," which gives some clew to their identity.

Society here also is interested in the fact that each of the four Americans is to wear a dress similar to the one illustrated and marked No. 8 in the colored plates of the magazine, which has partly revealed their personality and set fashionable circles agog.

The young ladies have been practicing the minuet for eight months before venturing to ask the privilege, which has been granted, of dancing before Her Majesty.

The New York and Paris Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar is for sale by all newsdealers. It will also be sent, postage prepaid, for 25 cents per single copy. The subscription price is $3.00 per year. Address

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Comrade Flesch came down from Hansville last week to see the board of pension examiners.

The Noss Jollities introduce a great number of specialties in their comedy sketch, "A Quick Match."

A regular old-fashioned thunder shower occurred on the last day of September, and also on the first day of October.

The Press says that The Noss Jollities have become famous throughout the country, as they do just what they advertise.

Commercial men say that The Noss Jollities give one of the cleanest and best musical performances of any company traveling.

The rain of last week was the biggest event of the kind ever known at this time of the year. It is natural to suppose that this will end it for this fall.

Comrade Hamery was up from Fertile last week for examination before the pension board. A. J. is clearly entitled to draw more than the pittance he now gets.

There has been a greater demand than ever this fall for threshing machines and men. Owing to heavy straw one machine cannot thresh as many acres as usual.

The Noss Jollities' farcical comedy, "A Quick Match," suits everybody. Has plot enough to make it interesting; comedy enough to make it very funny; sentiment and music enough to make it an evening long to be remembered.

We expect to send out our statements as soon as Saturday, Oct. 10th. This will give all ample time to arrange for settlement this fall. To all to whom these statements are sent we have offered to receive payment at the rate of $1.50 per annum, the same as though paid in advance, if paid on or before January 1st, 1892, and one year in advance.

FERTILE ITEMS.

Fertile Journal.

Conductor Downer has charge of the gravel train that is now making Fertile its headquarters.

The Connery boys have just got through threshing. They had over 10,000 bushels of wheat, besides other grain.

A big black bear was seen near old Aldal, 1½ miles northeast of Fertile, last Sunday. Several farmers with pitchforks and clubs gave chase but old bruin took to the woods and has not been seen since.

Messrs. Truax, Carruth and Zarracher, of Crookston, represented the G. A. R. Post of that place at the camp fire here Saturday night. They are genuine "old soldiers" and can tell some hard things of the sufferings endured in the last war.

Mrs. Andrew Bak, of the town of Sundal, while in a pasture watering the stock was attacked by a vicious bull and was badly mutilated and but for prompt assistance would have been killed. This happened last week Tuesday, since which time Mrs. Bak has been unconscious and grave doubts are entertained as to her recovery.

CALVIN LA DUE DEAD.

Wednesday morning the sad news of the death of Calvin La Due reached our village, he having died the night before on his farm a few miles northwest of this place. The deceased had been feeling unwell for the past year but has always been up and around and it was only a day before he died that he took to his bed. Mr. La Due has been one of the most prominent and respected citizens of this neighborhood. He was a firm believer in Jesus Christ and he has gone to meet his reward. The deceased leaves behind to mourn his loss a wife and several children, besides his mother and one brother.

The funeral service took place at the residence to-day and the remains were interred in the cemetery at this place.

Thief River Falls Items.

Thief River Falls Press,

Editor Harry Ives, of St. Hilaire, was in town Sunday, viewing the improvements being made.

Otto Stoltz, who has been engaged in the livery business in Argyle for a number of years, was in town last week with the view of a possible investment. He has sold his business at that place.

During the past 24 hours a very heavy rain has been falling. It will stop threshing for some time and will, no doubt, start a great deal of grain to growing in the bundle.

During the past week, Chief Engineer Till, General Contractor Crook and Right-of-way agent Uline, all connected with the Great Northern extension, have been frequent visitors in and around this place.

Mrs. Chas. Wilcox and daughter Alyce, aunt and cousin of Mrs. F. H. Kratka, of Sunrise City, arrived yesterday to spend a month here. Mr. Wilcox is quite an extensive real estate owner of this place. Mrs. W. is very much pleased with our village.

Rev. Samuel Ferguson, of Fergus Falls, Presbyterian missionary working in the northern part of this state, arrived in town yesterday. Last evening he held service in the new school house which was filled. He gave a very interesting sermon-like talk. He intended to leave town to-day, but on account of the rain, will stay over till to-morrow and preach again this evening. Nearly money enough was contributed to buy a Sunday-school library, Mr. Ferguson contributing $10; the library will be sent immediately.

The Noss Jollities are the leading pioneers of musical comedy, and the only company traveling introducing a quintette of saxophones.

A Pure Baking Powder.

A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analyses to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities, the cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patents under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this market enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, wholesomeness and superior quality of the "Royal:"

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by both the United States and Canadian governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most economical in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food.

Everybody patronizes The Noss Jollities, because their performances are clean and full of wit and humor, and are the theme of praise everywhere.

Firm Action Demanded.

The triumphant rebels in Chili, now in absolute military and naval control of that republic, appear to think that they can safely insult and maltreat American citizens residing there. Assuming that the late dispatches relating to the arrest of Americans at Valparaiso and the surrounding of the American Legation by a cordon of guards are true it is the obvious duty of the United State government to assert, with calmness, dignity and firmness, the rights of Americans in Chili.

War need not be apprehended at present. The Chilian government should be left in no doubt as to the assured fact that American rights must be respected, and that there will be neither hesitation nor limitation in compelling respect for them. If a conflict should come, there is no need of fear as to the result. Chili, with her new and powerful warships, might gain a temporary advantage, but in the end she would pay dearly for all injury done to the United States.

In any event the administration can be depended upon to protect the honor and interests of the nation.

Don't fail to see The Noss Jollities in "A Quick Match." It is one of the brightest and most sparkling musical comedies. It is immensely funny. It is positively original, and is novel in conception.

Warren Register:—Col Rice, of Montana, shipped 2,700 sheep to Crookston last week, where they were unloaded and driven to the farm of Judge Lakin, near Warren, he having purchased them from Col. Rice.

In Twenty Years.

To the citizen of the Old World, who is observant on his travels in the United States, this is a county where development is marvelously rapid. In Europe, a family, a town, or a city which cannot trace its history back more than two hundred and fifty years is as hard to be found as a black swan. Old towns have grown, but new ones have not been founded. Sixty millions more of people are here than a hundred and fifteen years ago. But if the development of a hundred or two hundred years seems wonderful to the European, what shall we say of the material progress of the last twenty years? A single illustration is enough. Twenty years ago this week, Chicago suffered an unparalleled loss by fire. The business district was destroyed and thousands of people left shelterless in the streets. What is Chicago now? The second city of the United States. What were the states west of the Mississippi twenty years ago? What they are now can best be ascertained by taking a trip over the Burlington system of roads, which reaches all important places in ten Western and Northern States. For any information as to rates, routes, and time of trains, call on your local agents, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Detroit Free Press:—"Billy" Norcross came in town Friday, from his hunting trip to Rice Lake, about thirty miles northeast of here. He presented such a grizzled appearance that he had to get a friend to go along and identify him before his family would recognize him. He says that ducks are thick, up in that country.

The marriage of the late lamented Elliott to Miss Beatrice Cleary is announced. The Thief River Falls Press goes into rhapsodies over the aforesaid Ezra J., giving him a royal send-off. Guess you did not live in this county at the time Ezra J. so "successfully filled the office of school superintendent," H. E.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is ordorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pinsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line" and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

(First publication October 1st, 1891.)

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss. District Court.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, 14th Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the County of Polk, upon a judgment rendered in a justice's court in the said county, a transcript of which judgment has been duly filed in the District Court aforesaid, said judgment being rendered in favor of Steenerson Bros and against Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, I have levied upon the following described real estate of said defendants, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½nw¼) of Section thirty-three (33); also southeast quarter (se¼) of the southwest quarter (sw¼) and lot six (6) of Section twenty-eight, all in Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-seven (47) west. And that I shall, on Friday, the 13th day of November, A. D. 1891, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson in and to the above described property to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to fifty-seven dollars and 29 cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 3d day of March, 1890, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

Dated Crookston, Minn., Sept. 29th, 1891.

ARNY GRUNDYSEN,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minn.

P. J. RUSSELL,
Plaintiff's Attorney. [24-30]

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred and sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Benjamin Milette and Mary Milette his wife, mortgagors, to Narcissa Milette, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of November, A. D. 1886, and with power of sale therein contained, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, A. D., 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 90, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12), Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-six (46), lying and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in forenoon of said day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred sixty-five and six one hundreths (265.06) dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 17th, A. D. 1891.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]
Last publication Oct. 29th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:40 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.87 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 45-100 dollars, ($869.45-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

MONDAY, THE 2D DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1891,

Dated September 10th, A. D. 1891.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Farm Ballad.

BY FRED W. DAVIS.

I love to live a farmers life,
And raise the golden grain,
I love to watch the deep blue clouds
A pouring down the rain,
I love to watch the lowing herd
A grazing far away,
O! let me live a farmer's life,
Let me while I may!

I love to hear the old church bell
A ringing Sunday morn,
I love to hear the gentle breezes
Blowing through the corn,
I love to hear the meadow-lark
Sing his merry lay,
O! let me enjoy what I love,
Let me while I may!

I love to see the furrowed ground
Richly colored black,
I love to hear the herding-boy
Make his long whip crack,
I love to run the mower,
Or be raking up the hay,
O! let me have what I love best,
Let me while I may!

I love to watch the woolly sheep
A coming in at night,
I love to watch the ending day
And see the fading light,
I want to live upon a farm
Until I'm old and gray,
O! let me live a farmer's life,
Let me while I may!

Grand Forks Plaindealer: The Lisbon Star is authority for the statement that the expression "He isn't in it," was first used by an editor who died and went to heaven, and looked around for the man who took his paper for three years, and then left it in the postoffice marked "Refused."

Moorhead News, Oct. 6: Rev. O. H. Elmer came down from Crookston last evening. He accompanied his mother, Mrs. Elmer, who has been visiting his family for the past six months, to her home with Mr. J. H. Sharp in this city. Mr. Elmer left over the Great Northern Railway this morning for Evansville, Minn., to attend the meeting of the Red River Presbytery in that town. From Evansville he goes to St. Paul, where he will attend the synod which meets there in the Central Presbyterian church.

Grand Forks Herald: S. M. McKee, proprietor of the Sunny Ridge Stock Farm, Crookston, Minn., has a fine exhibit of choice Shropshire sheep at the fair grounds which all who are interested in sheep husbandry, and everybody else, should not fail to see. Shropshires are conceded by the most successful sheep growers to be specially adapted to our northern climate and are growing in popularity every day with the stockmen of North Dakota. A few choice animals for sale. Don't fail to see them.

Warren Register: In a conversation with Senator Wood, a short time ago, he gave us some very interesting information concerning grasshoppers in the Indian Reservation, obtained while he was examining the surveys there this last summer. He said there were thousands of acres of marsh land, over which he passed, that had been stripped bare of grass by the grasshoppers, which swarmed in myriads in all the marshes, which were then free from water. These hoppers had evidently hatched from eggs deposited in, or adjacent to, the marshes, and, doubtless, deposited their eggs this fall, in like manner. The recent heavy rains have filled these marshes with water, which will destroy the eggs and save the adjacent country from a hopper scourge next season.

Los Angeles (Cal.) Express: "Ray L. Royce, with a strong company of musical and comedy specialists, presented 'Tom's Vacation' at the Los Angeles theatre to an appreciative audience. The piece is devoid of plot, and consists of a string of specialties, in which duets, quartets, banjo and guitar music and character impersonations predominate. These are put together in a very attractive and catchy manner. As an impersonator Mr. Royce showed marked ability, and his character sketches were true to nature. Josiah Perkins was an interesting character and well sustained. The ladies were above the average in combinations of this kind and captivated the audience." Will appear at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

OMINOUS IN CHILI

YORKTOWN ORDERED TO PROCEED WITH ALL POSSIBLE DISPATCH TO VALPARAISO.

THE GREATEST EXCITEMENT IN NAVAL CIRCLES CREATED BY THE HASTY DEPARTURE.

BELIEF PREVALENT THAT STARTLING AND PORTENTOUS NEWS HAS BEEN RECEIVED.

UNWONTED HASTE, HOWEVER, MAY PROCEED FROM THE URGENCY OF AFFAIRS IN HAWAII.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The United States warship Yorktown will sail today for Valparaiso. Special orders were received from Washington at the Brooklyn navy yard yesterday ordering the vessel to sail with the greatest possible dispatch. The order created great excitement, for while it was well known that the vessel, together with the Boston, was destined to sail for the South Pacific, yet such a hasty departure of the warship was entirely unlooked for. The belief was prevalent at the yard that important and startling information concerning the Chilian situation had yesterday been received by the naval department. The Yorktown, in addition to her own stores, carries a large amount of ammunition for the San Francisco and Baltimore.

Need To Watch Hawaii.

AUTHORITIES AROUSED TO ACTIVITY BY REPORTS OF ENGLISH INTRIGUES ON THE ISLAND.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A special dispatch to the Herald from Washington says the reported serious illness of the queen of Hawaii and the serious political complications that are likely to follow her death have convinced the administration that it must be up and dsing if the efforts of the English government to secure supremacy in these islands are to be circumvented. The tidings have caused no little concern here, and the state and navy officials have dropped Chilian affairs for the time being in order to discuss ways and means for meeting the new contingency. The San Francisco, with Admiral Brown, will be ordered to Hawaii at the earliest moment that she can be spared from Chili.

No Revolt in Guatemala.

TROUBLES THERE AMOUNTED TO LITTLE MORE THAN A STREET BRAWL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Guatemala city says it is not true that any serious revolt occurred there on Sept. 15 last. There was some slight excitement, but nothing important happened. Nobody was hurt. The rumor that an army is marching an the city from Quesaltenango is false.

PARNELL'S DEATH.

St. Paul Daily News.

The death of Charles Stewart Parnell removes another prominent figure from the active sphere of life. Its suddenness makes it well nigh tragic, though it seems to have been due to natural causes.

Mr. Parnell's career is too familiar to need any detailed recapitulation of it as a matter of information.

He was a man of great ability and wonderful power over men. There was a time when, as a leader of the Irish cause, he surpassed in popularity all of his predecessors, because the circumstances which surrounded him gave him greater power and prominence.

His matrimonial venture, however, marred his political career, and since then his life has been turbulent and that of an almost desperate man struggling to retain his waning power.

But whatever criticism may have been passed upon him in life on that account, it is unnecessary now to consider that. He has gone to another tribunal than that of the public opinion of the world, and his career should be reviewed rather for what he did as a a public man than as a private citizen.

That he was a firm and loyal friend of Ireland no one can gainsay, and that during his lifetime he did much to advance the Irish cause is unquestionably true.

It is far betther to remember him for the good he may have accomplished than to criticise him for his personal errors.

His life and death can both be said to have aided the Irish cause, for his sudden taking off will undoubtedly tend to tranquilize the discord which has arisen over him during the past year, and give the friends of Ireland an opportunity to battle for their common cause instead contending with each other.

IT IS GAMBLING.

PUTS AND CALLS ARE NOT LEGAL, BINDING CONTRACTS.

SO SAYS THE SUPREME COURT.

THE LAST DECISION OF THE APRIL TERM HANDED DOWN TODAY.

THERE MUST BE ACTUAL DELIVERY.

A DECISION THAT IS FAR-REACHING IN ITS BEARINGS AND OF GREAT INTEREST TO GRAIN MEN.

The supreme court this morning handed down the last decision in cases on the calendar of the April term. It was the case of Oscar Mohr et al. vs. Anton Miesen, appellant. The appellants, who are brokers in the Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce, sued the defendant, Miesen, for money expended in the purchase and sale of grain. The answer sets up that the purchases and sales referred to were not actual purchases or sales of grain, but were merely colorable and were gambling transactions where the plaintiffs in form undertook to buy and sell on the Chicago and Milwaukee boards of trade, ostensibly for future deliveries, but without any intention or expectation on the part of either party that the same would be actually delivered, large quantities of wheat and barley, with the intention on the part of both parties of wagering on the market prices. The lower court held that the contract was valid.

The supreme court reverses the decision and holds in the syllabus that contracts for the sale and delivery of grain or other commodities to be delivered at a future day are not per se unlawful when the parties in good faith intend to perform them according to their terms. But contracts in form for future delivery not intended to represent actual transactions, but merely to pay and receive the difference between the agreed price and the market price at a future day, are in the nature of wagers on the future price and void.

Not Much of a War.

Charleston (Mass.) Enterprise.

More than one of our contemporaries have alluded facetiously to the "baking powder war." There is no war of the character indicated. A certain baking powder achieved fame because it was better than anything that had previously been prepared, and because it was advertised in a liberal, original and judicious manner. The success of this powder led to imitation, as success always does, but to assert or to imitate that there is war between the Royal Baking Powder and its more or less feeble imitators suggests the picture of a death grapple between an eagle and a house-fly.

KNUTE TALKS.

IN WASHINGTON—HE SAYS HE MEANT IT—TOO POOR FOR POLITICS.

A Washington special to the Minneapolis Tribune has the following:

"I am not a candidate either for the Governorship or Senatorship," said Knute Nelson this morning. "I am a Republican and am a believer in Republican principles, but I am only a private citizen practicing law and trying to make an honest living. When I gave you an interview three years ago, stating that I intended to retire from public life, and would not be a candidate for renomination to Congress I meant every word of it. I am a poor man and cannot afford to dabble in politics except to help my friends whenever I can, for they were always kind and helpful to me. I wish that the people would believe me and stop using my name for public places. I am out of politics for good."

"What brought you to Washington this time?"

"The steam cars brought me here and I came to look after business in the land office for some of my clents. As soon as this business is transacted I will return to Alexandria and go to work in my law office."

Announcement.

The eighteenth annual convention of the Minnesota Young Men's Christian Associations will be entertained by the State University Association in East Minneapolis, Minnesota, Oct. 21-25, 1891. The best speakers from church, college, railroad and business circles are being secured for this occasion. Any young man who is interested in the welfare of his fellows is invited to attend. A rate of one and one-third fares for the round trip has been given by the railroads on the certificate plan. Entertainment will be furnished those who attend. Further information may be obtained by writing T. A. Hildreth, 5 Syndicate Block, Minneapolis, Minn.

NO MIDDLEMEN.

FARMERS MAKE SOME CHANGES IN THE WAREHOUSE PLAN.

St. Paul Globe.

The principal promoters of the Farmers' Alliance scheme for doing away with the middlemen in the sale of farm produce met yesterday afternoon at Labor Temple and talked over some changes that must be made in the plan of operating the warehouse. As the plan was first adopted a good deal of capital would be required to operate the warehouse for the exclusive benefit of the farmers. Now it has been decided that as soon as $2,000 of the capital stock is paid in the operation of the warehouse will begin. The farmers also decided at the meeting yesterday that all produce must be paid for as soon as sold. That will give the producer the returns on his produce as soon as he could get it from the regular commission man. Out of the profits the expenses will be paid, and the residue, the net profit, will then be divided among the stockholders pro rata. All who were present at the meeting held yesterday were enthusiastic over the system. They hope to drive the middleman from the market, get better prices for their goods and make a little profit off the operation of the warehouse. The money that the farmer will receive as soon as the produce is sold, as mentioned before, will be the regular market price that he would receive from the commission man. The expenses of conducting the warehouse will come out of that. The next meeting will be held at Maple Plain, where the farmers can be reached to better advantage.

Higher Priced American Labor.

New York Press.

We have rarely seen a better tariff talk than the following paragraph from a column headed "Notes on Science and Industry" in the Sunday issue of a New York Democratic contemporary:

The singular fact is stated that the finest piece of broadcloth which ever left a loom was manufactured at the woolen mills in Vasalboro, Me. It was first exhibited at the World's Fair in London in 1851, and was exhibited at the Centennial in 1876, being pronounced by the judges in that line of goods as unsurpassed by anything of the kind there displayed; in fact, there is no public recognition recorded of any other manufacture of broadcloth superior either in texture or finish, and the only reason, as assigned, why these superior fabrics have not been made on a commercial scale is because of the higher price of American labor.

"The higher price of American labor." That tells the story. One such fact as that is worth all of would be Speaker Roger Q. Mills' misty theories about the higher priced labor being necessarily "more effective" than the cheap labor of Europe. It is more effective when it operates the machinery that accomplishes more than hand labor can; but to give a country the benefits of such machinery, it must keep its home market for its home producers.

It is only where there is a large market, and a sure large market, that people will take the risk of operating a plant of costly machinery, or invent plenty of such machinery for others to operate. The question between protection and free trade is simply this question between well paid labor and cheap labor; simply the question whether a thing that the consumer wants cheapened shall be cheapened by going backward to cheaper labor, or by going forward to improved machinery and cheaper production with better paid labor.

While County Attorney Holston was at East Grand Forks on Wednesday the police were on track of three men whom they has reason to suspect were interested in the Woods murder and they gave the description to Holston and told him to watch out who got on at Mallory and if these men did to secure the aid of Marshall Reilly of Fisher and arrest the men. They did not get on at Mallory but they did at Fisher and Holston did not get a chance to get the marshall. On the way to Crookston he came along to the seats they occupied and after talking with them made up his mind they were the men he wanted. At Crookston one got off behind and two at the forward part of the coach, and Holston, while keeping an eye on the two also kept watch for a policeman. He soon lost sight of his men and just then caught sight of Ellingbo whom he quickly informed what was in the wind and together they went across to the White Elephant. On the cross-walk they passed the three fellows in earnest conversation; a little beyond them Holston said to the officer "those are your men." One of the men, seeing that the officer had no revolver in his hand, made a break for the depot, followed quickly by the officer but managed to escape in the darkness among the box cars; the others fled in the opposite direction and all got away. No doubt, had they been caught some stolen property would have been found on them.

Three hundred and ninety-nine years ago this week, Christopher Columbus came in sight of the Western Hemisphere. To be exact, it was three hundred and ninety-nine years the 14th day of the present month. Familiar as it is to every child at school, and commonplace as the mention of it seems now to be, it is really one of those wonderful events in the history of our world which seems like romance when we come to learn the particulars of the story. Dying in poverty and neglect, the Genoese stepped from a troubled life to a place among immortal names. If his spirit is cognizant of what takes places on earth. It must be proud to know that all the great nations will soon send their representatives to the land he discovered to do honor to his achievements. To that celebration, the World's Fair at Chicago, the whole northwest desires to go, and when choosing a railroad route, they will make no mistake if they take "The Burlington." It reaches many prominent cities besides Chicago, and to ascertain rates of fare connections, etc., call on any ticket agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, C.,B. & N. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Shut Up Shop.

County Attorney A. R. Holston went over to East Grand Forks on Wednesday with a view to closing out the gambling establishments and since that the Grand Forks papers have announced that the gambling houses have quietly closed up and that the proprietors thereof have left for green fields and pastures new. That is as it should be and several other institutions of questionable nature should follow suit, then, perhaps a few less robberies and murders would transpire.

Just like our luck. Just as we had decided to go up to St. Vincent and trouble the Deacon for that fair dinner, we received notice from him that the fair was postponed until Nov. 5th and 6th because it was not fair weather. Well now, Deacon, that wasn't fair doncher-no.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

Crookston, October 15, 1891.

'Round Home.

Wheat—1 Hard 83.
1 Northern 82.
2 Northern 75.

C. W. Lowe was in St. Paul last week.

O. H. Lucken went up to Mentor on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. Johnson was up from Fisher on Saturday.

W. E. McKenzie, of the Times, went to St. Paul Friday.

Mrs. W. W. Fegan returned on Wednesday from a visit to Minneapolis.

Sam Huggard was out to the farm last week, returning Saturday evening.

Melville Milne occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church on Sabbath morning.

The boys were feeling pretty blue on Monday over the prospects for the races.

Remember "The Temple of Fame" at the Grand Opera House. Date announced later.

Geo. W. Sprague, formerly President of the Alliance, came up last week to visit Supt. Grefthen.

S. A. Sylvester took a run down to the old home in Pope County, returning on Tuesday morning.

A great many farmers improved the pleasant weather during the last half of last week to stack their wheat.

Henry Nolan boasts of a turnip weighing 14 pounds. the product of Henry's farm. It measures 32½x28¼ inches.

Will Hoch was exhibiting 55 ducks on Monday morning. He did not say when he got 'em but they all died since Saturday.

The Great Northern road is making special efforts to get plenty of threshing machines into the country to take care of the grain.

Last Sunday was a bad one on wild ducks. Hundreds of 'em died suddenly after listening to a sharp report by the festive hunter.

Janesville (Wis.) Recorder: Ray L. Royce is equal to Nat Goodwin or Sol. Smith Russell. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

A. C. Wilkinson has his new parlors in the new Fontaine & Anglim block fixed up in elegant shape and looks as cosy as a bug in a rug.

All who are to take part in "The Temple of Fame" are requested to meet next Saturday evening at the Congregational church for practice.

Andrew Eiken's handsome face and smiling countenance may now be seen behind the counters of Gervais & Gervais. Andrew is the beau ideal of a clerk.

Agent W. W. Fegan showed us a copy of a Japanese railway time table that would be handy to use on the St. Vincent line, because no one could understand it.

Ladies, you cannot afford to miss seeing my new fall styles of millinery. The novelties of the season are rare and beautiful. Call and see them. Mrs. E. E. Bangs.

It strikes us that the leaves on the trees are greener than is usual at this period of the year. Some predict a long open season for plowing for this reason this fall.

Platt Walker and ex-marshall Denny had a contract for surveying on the Reservation, but upon going up there they got discouraged and will back out—if possible.

Try the new barber firm of Thomas & Smith the Main street barbers. Everything in the very latest style of the art. Remember the place, Main street, opposite McKinnon Block.

The Grand Forks Herald says that Bert Welles has gone to Benson as the enlargement of the Commercial House in this city is again in the soup. Bert was figuring on coming here to live.

Some wheat that was threshed on Saturday from the shock and hauled in graded No. 1 hard. That don't look like very serious damage—but it makes a difference how wheat was shocked.

Superintendent Grefthen commenced to gain on Friday last and is now said to be improveing rapidly. He was a very sick man for a time. His brother was up during the week to take care of him.

The threshing machines were humming lively on Saturday and Sunday and up till about 10 o'clock on Monday when it commenced to rain again. A good deal of grain was saved however.

By a postal from our old friend Lester Gray, asking for change of address on The Journal we learn that he has gone from Washington to Oregon. We wish him abundant success in his new field.

J. H. Hill, Esq., of Jacksonville, Ill., returned to his home after a fortnight's visit with his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Wheeler. While here J. W. took him up to see his new farm at Thief River Falls.

Wheat reached 83 cents Saturday morning, showing conclusively that the circular issued by the clerk of the weather recently that obliged farmers to "hold their wheat" has its effect upon the prices.

Charlie Thomas has associated with him in the barber business Mr. Smith, who for a few weeks past has been working in his shop. The boys are good barbers and will make a good strong team.

The Royce & Lansing Comedy Company that is advertised to be at the Grand Opera House on Nov. 2d has been in this city before and was well liked. No doubt they will get a full house, as they deserve.

The Wilson Comedy Co. has engaged the Grand Opera House for the week beginning November 16th. This company, it will be remembered played one week in this city in the old opera house to a crowded house every night.

Will Himmelbach was in on Saturday picking up a crew to go out and stack for him next day. Said his grain was now ready to stack and he was going to save it if working day and night and Sunday would do it.

The Board of Railroad Commissioners notify us that they will be in session all day in Crookston on Oct. 19th, ready to listen to any and all complaints that may be preferred. If no other place is provided they will be at the hotel.

Monday from ten o'clock proved to be one of those days which have been altogether too frequent of late—rainy. If this sort of thing lasts until winter wheat now in shock will not amount to very much—except a bill of expense.

Minneapolis is getting a big hustle on herself to secure the coming republican national convention and with flattering prospects of success. Every loyal Minnesotian, of whatever shade of politics, will do all he can to second the motion.

Comrade Snyder reports the loss of a farm horse one night this week. The animal got cast in the stable and when found in the morning was past all help. It was one he bought of J. O. Milne and J. O. used to set much store by that old mare.

Architect A. E. Permain was married at Christ church, St. Paul on Monday Oct. 12, to Miss Lilla Back who came over from England on purpose to be present on that interesting occasion. The happy couple will be at home in this city after October 15th.

Capt. Convrette says he only succeeded in threshing his oats and barley and 1,700 bushels of wheat before the rain stopped operations. "We shall now stack what wheat is left and let it go through the sweat in stack and see if that will bring it back to color," said he.

Joseph Boiselle intends to bring suit against the Red River Lumber Co., for damages, alleging culpable carelessness on the part of the company whereby the plaintiff broke his ribs and suffered other internal injury. He has retained Martin O'Brien, Esq., and the action will soon be commenced.

A. C. Wilkinson gave The Journal man a potato which he raised in his garden that, when dug, was half as heavy as Cleveland's new baby—four pounds. We have it now on exhibition in our office—the potato we mean. Wilk. says he has no doubt he has many tubers that will weigh a bushel.

The responses to our subscription statements have been numerous and encouraging. At this rate our list will be collected up closer than ever before. It would be extremely gratifying to us could it all be collected this fall, and we have faith to believe it can if our friends will all make a little effort in our behalf.

On Saturday last J. B. Roome dropped in to square up one year ahead, three or four weeks before the year was out and informed us that he was on his way to York State to attend a family reunion to be held there in a few days. He may not return to Polk County before spring as he thinks some of going south to see the boys in Louisiana during the winter.

Dr. J. H. Thomas went down to Ada on Monday to try the new method of dentistry upon all who need a good set of teeth. The doctor is one of the pioneer dentists of Crookston and is well-known along the line in Norman, Polk, Marshall and Kittson Counties as an A 1 workman and genial whole-souled man. He is prepared to warrant all work done by him.

The attendance at the Congregational church has increased very encouragingly of late which must be very gratifying to the pastor, Rev. R. H. Battey who has labored so faithfully to that end. Mr. B. preached a very powerful discourse on Sabbath morning which he called "Modern Air-Ships in Religion." All cordially invited to enjoy these services.

The Journal is informed that many farmers are stacking their wheat. We believe that this is wise as it will have a tendency to restore some color to bleached wheat. There will be enough wheat that was stacked and wheat in shocks to keep the machines busy until the wheat now being stacked is ready. The damage to wheat seems to be principally from bleaching.

About 6 o'clock on Friday, Martin Finseth drove up in front of the Fair building on Main street and jumping out of the wagon ran inside intending to be gone only a minute. Hardly had he disappeared within the door when something frightened the team which started south along Main at a rattling gait. The fence on the river bank stopped them and they were captured without injury to any one. They were driven back to the store before Mr. F. knew what had happened, and he was much surprised as the team is very quiet generally.

The ladies of the Congregational church are getting up a play—"The Temple of Fame" that will be presented at the Grand Opera House some evening in the latter part of October, the exact date for which will be announced later. No pains nor expense will be spared in the effort to provide an enjoyable season. Everybody come.

Hugh Thompson, as he departed for Fisher on Monday morning said to our reporter: "I do not know but what you fellows who lost your crops by hail were in luck after all, as you did not have the expense of harvesting and if this morning's prospects for rain are fulfilled it will be mighty liable to ruin all the grain now in shock. I tell you the condition is critical in the extreme, as it would not take much to spoil the wheat that is now in shock."

Joe Harris hitched his broncho team to the telegraph in rear of the Fair on Saturday and a passing freight train scared them so badly that, failing to get away they threw themselves upon the ground and became so tangled up you could not tell tother from which. Harris came out of his office, straightened 'em up and found everything all right except the buggy tongue which was broken.

Casselton Republican: Conductor Copeland, who runs a train over the Great Northern from Crookston to Minot, is doing a great missionary work in favor of North Dakota and for Christianity. He is one of the most popular conductors on the line and a philosophical student. Last Sunday afternoon he delivered a lecture at Minot on the "Triumph of Christianity." Next Sunday afternoon he will talk on "Modern Canada," which he says is the Mouse River Valley.

Fifty Dollars will buy a thoroughbred registered Holstein-Friesian bull. For particulars call at this office.

T. G. Thompson received last week by express a thoroughbred Irish Setter from the Elm's kennell, St. Paul, presented by his brother-in-law. The dog is a beauty and T. G. says is a magnificent hunter. He's had him out for trial already.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

There is a marked falling off in the the receipts of wheat at Duluth this week. On Monday only 415 cars were received as against 792 the week before. It would seem that the notice served by the clerk of the weather to hold your wheat seems to be more effective than any quantity of "hold your wheat" circulars issued by speculators or any other man.

Knute Steenerson, while in the city, has negotiated the sale of his St. Hilaire property. Knute has been coining shekels down in Superior and says business has shaded off some since last spring but he looks for a resumption of lively times soon. He thinks Duluth is bound in time, and a very short time, to be the largest city in Minnesota because it has the Red River Valley behind it.

Geo. Ralph returned from the Reservation last Friday night and goes to St. Paul this week to secure another contract. In relation to the amount of damage sustained by the wind storm he says he thinks the reports over-estimated it though much timber was blown down. He says he never saw a harder rain storm than they experienced, some 18 inches of water falling in 24 hours. He expects to return to the Reservation as soon as it freezes up.

On Sunday last C. Anderson's cow came home missing and he at once instituted a search. After awhile he entered Hoch & Ott's butcher shop and found a hide that he thought to be the one that his cow was in the habit of wearing on Sundays. So he caused the proprietors to appear before judge Christianson on Monday. Several witnesses appeared who thought that was the old cow's dress all right enough and the case was postponed until next Monday. It is needless to say that Joe Hoch is not the man to waylay and butcher an old cow and those who know his partner, Ott to know that he aint built that way either.

In spite of all we can say and have said some of our subscribers persist in misinterpreting our statements to mean a demand for immediate settlement and they write us that they have not threshed as yet, etc., etc. Now we well know that many have not threshed and we do not expect them to pay us before that and we do not want to have them worry about it either. Our statements go out early in order to inform each one of the sum due and to give him a chance to pay it and while we hope and expect that each one will liquidate just as soon as possible we do not intend to crowd any man who is honest with us nor do we expect or ask impossibilities from any. Our statements plainly ask for settlement before Jan 1st 1892, before which time every farmer will have his wheat threshed and marketed no doubt. We are receiving so many letters with promises to pay after threshing that to answer all immediately would take more time than we can spare just now so we give this general notice requesting each to make a personal application.

Ship your wheat to O. Tharaldson, general agent of the Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association, at Duluth, and make from 4 to 7 cents a bushel. For further particulars as to membership, &c., inquire of L. K. Hassell, Grand Forks, N. D. [25-tf]

Letters like the following are always appreciated, doubly so this fall. A valued subscriber writes as follows:

Ramsey County.
Office of Judge of Probate.
St. Paul, Oct. 10th, 1891.

H. E. Cooke, Esq., Crookston, Minn.:

Dear Sir:—Enclosed will please find my check for $3.00 for my subscription for The Journal. Would have sent you the money long ago had I known amount. Reproduce within clipping. I thought it was pretty good when I saw it. Yours, respectfully, XXX.

The clipping referred to is as follows:

He walked in and put down a dollar, a silver dollar, that clanked like a carriage wheel in the stillness of the sanctum. Said he, "There, take it and credit my subscription quick." What's the matter?" we said. "Well," said he, "last week I was fishing out on Maple Lake; a thunder storm came up, and it rained and thundered and lightning flashed all around me. I crawled into a hollow log to escape it. The rain made the log swell up till I was fastened in and nearly sqeezed to death. I began to think of all my sins and to repent. Suddenly I remembered that my subscription to The Journal was not settled up, and I felt so small about it that I was able to back right out of the log at once."

List of Letters remaining unclaimed in the Crookston, Minn., Post Office for the week ending Oct. 19th, 1891:

The hop at Oddfellows Hall on Tuesday evening was hugely enjoyed by all present.

Charlie Pierson, Wright Barrett & Stilwell's man, was in the city on Monday. One reason for the success of W. B. & S. is in the fact that their travelling men are the very best in the field.

Invitations to all to attend services at the Congregational church next Sunday. Rev. R. H. Battey will speak at 11 a. m. on "Modern Air-Ships in Religion" (second sermon), and at 7:30 p. m. on "Music and Character," S. S. at noon. Young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m. to which all young people are cordially and earnestly invited.

Kittson County Enterprise:—Senator A. H. Bertram was registered at Hotel Hallock on Tuesday. The Senator tells a pretty good story on a farmer near Crookston who was plowing while he was passing. He said there was water on every side, but the farmer kept right on plowing and over his shoulder he was carrying a fishing rod and line and was hauling out pickerel as he drove along. Of course this is considerable of a fish story, but it shows that those men down there near Crookston are trying to combine business with pleasure.

Rev. R. H. Battey delivered the second lecture of his course on "character" at the Congregational church on Sabbath evening to a large audience. These lectures are highly entertaining and instructive and will be a regular Sunday evening feature until the course is finished. Mr. Battey has the faculty of presenting the truth in a very entertaining manner so that one never gets tired with the services.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Jacobus and family leave for their new home in Vancouver this week. Jake," as he is familiarly called, was one of the earliest of the early settlers of this city, and was, we believe the first station agent here for the old St. Paul & Pacific R. R. Co., now the Great Northern, coming in 1872 he spent the summer here, and, when the financial troubles came to the road in the fall he went to St. Paul where he spent the winter and in the spring he engaged with the Northern Pacific road as telegrapher with the construction corps, and went with that road as far as Bismarck. In the fall of 1873 he re-entered the employ of the St. Paul & Pacific road and remained in their employ until 1880 when he engaged in other business and finally, when the electric light plant was put in he took charge of that as general manager. In 1877 he was married to Miss Margaret Ross, sister of Wm. Ross, who was one of Crookston's first merchants and who finally went into the Merchants' National Bank as cashier when that institution was founded. Six children have been born to them, five being now living, the oldest of which is Ray, 14 years old on the 1st of June next. Mr. Jacobus is a Grand Army boy, a member of Col. Cobham Post a hustling, energetic man who has always been alive to the best interests of our city. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobus will carry with them to their new home the best wishes of a host of warm friends and they will long be missed by every one of the old settlers who, with them formed the nucleus of our prosperous city. Mr. J. has secured a good situation for the winter and a permanent one should he desire it, but The Journal echoes the wish of many of his friends that he may yet see his way clear to return and spend his declining years in the city he has done so much to build up, but in case it is ordered otherwise we heartily wish him and his a prosperous career wherever their lot may be cast in the future.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Inasmuch as there is no vacancy at the present time in either of the three militia regiments of the state, the military company recently organized in our city will be compelled to remain as an independent one until after the meeting of the legislature, or until some one of the companies in the state service fails to pass muster at some inspection in the future; thence it will be compelled to keep up its own expense account, and for that purpose quite a large sum of money will be required. To properly uniform forty men, as required by the militia law, will incur an expense of at least $500.00; therefore, rather than start a subscription list among our citizens for the purpose of raising any portion of that sum, the company have entered into an agreement with W. L. Palmer, of our city, to put upon the stage at the Grand Opera House, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, October 19th, 20th and 21st, 1891 the grand military allegorical drama entitled "The Rebellion," of which he is the author, for the purpose of raising at least a portion of the required amount, and the company hope that the citizens of our city and the county will liberally patronize this entertainment. Mr. Palmer has given much thought upon this drama, and having been a soldier for over four years during the war, has certainly incorporated into it everything that can be thought of to cause it to reflect upon the mind a true panorama of the greatest civil war known in history. He put it upon the stage at Fergus Falls four years ago in March last, when it captured the town, but as it has been greatly improved since that time it will be placed upon the boards in our city for the first time in its improved form, and the company feel assured that our people will not only enjoy a great treat in its production, but a surprise and a pride that a citizen of our town has conceived such a brilliant drama, and that our citizens and soldiers can render it so artistically. On behalf of the company, I subscribe myself,

Your obedient servant,
P. J. Russell, Capt.

The Races.

Owing to the rains the races have been declared off until next week, when, if the weather permits they will occur according to program.

Not Obnoxious.

There is not one word, action or situation in the great drama, "The Rebellion," that could not be witnessed by any one, no matter how religiously inclined even, with propriety. It is not calculated to jar upon the sensitive nerves of people as are some of the "blood and thunder" dramas written of the great war, but does actually carry an audience from the beginning to the end of the struggle, "just as things happened." It is a lesson to both old and young, while at the same time is is replete with mirth, pathos, patriotism, endurance, danger, suffering and tragedy. Do not fail to be present at least one night.

HUBBARD ITEMS.

Oct. 12th, 1891.

Union Sunday school services in the school house near John J. Ellingson's every Sunday, most of the time at 10 a. m., but on account of preaching next Sunday morning it will be held at 3 p. m. All children ought to be present. Others interested in the study of God's word will receive a warm welcome.

If the name of the P. O. in Vineland was intended to describe the scenery and the quality of land in that vicinity the name is surely very appropriate for it does "cap the Climax" in Polk Co.

The attendance in the five schools now in session in this township is very small compared to the number of children who are of school age. Before many years the parents will learn that the places of honor and usefulness in the U. S. are reserved for the men and women of character and trained minds and having a fair knowledge of the English language.

Miss Matilda Johnson spent Sunday at her home in Fisher.

T. T. Kiland and Mr. Paulsrud of Crookston are helping the boys thresh.

S. C. Hayes and J. C. Hayes and wife attended divine services in Belmont, N. D. last Sunday.

Two dances this week, one at Ole Spokkeli's near the Red River and the other at Tom Olson's. All who attended say they had a good time.

For many years East Grand Forks has had a bad reputation and from late reports it is worse than ever. Such a stench hole injures the reputation of our county, keeping many excellent people from coming here. But if the majority of the people there are opposed to all things which have a tendency to drag humanity downward the remedy is very simple—vote out the saloons. Bums, thugs, gamblers and low-lived villains never stay long in a place where liquor cannot be easily obtained. We are not prohibitionists but if we lived in East Grand Forks we would work early and late all fall, winter and spring to get votes enough to banish the saloons and make it what the unfortunate justice Woods wanted the rest of the world to believe it was, a law abiding, quiet, peaceable little town. STILL LOOK FOR SITES.

The Alliance Elevator Committee Has Several Excellent Propositions For Sites For Their Big Warehouse.

An Expansion of the Scheme is Now Planned to Include a Farmers' Union Coal Dock.

Duluth Herald, Oct. 10.

The committee representing the Minnesota Grain Growers association, in its endeavor to obtain an elevator site at the head of the lake, met with Mayor Davis and others at the city hall this forenoon. They have been offered a suitable site on the lower bay, just south of the Imperial mill, by Owen Fergusson for $40,000. Some time ago L. Mendenhall, who owns a tract of land just south of the Fergusson property, told Mayor Davis that he would sell it at a low price for a manufacturing enterprise. He is now out of the city and Mayor Davis has asked him to telegraph on Monday what he will do. It is thought that a site on his land will not cost over $24,000.

The St. Paul & Duluth has offered a site for practically nothing on the St. Louis bay side of Rices point, where it owns a large amount of property won in a late lawsuit.

The Superior people have been claiming that the elevator has been secured for the other side of the bay. There is nothing in it. The Superior people have thus far done some talking but have made no proposition. The committee promised to go over there again and so they are there this afternoon. They have agreed to meet in St. Paul at some future date and discuss any propositions that may be made. The chances are decidedly in favor of Duluth.

It is the intention to build a coal dock at the extreme end of any property the association may acquire, in order to furnish farmers with coal. The association is intending to make a big hustle for business.

There is no periodical published that so thoroughly meets the requirements of the entire household as "Peterson." Its varied contents offer at the same time entertainment and instruction. The November number is full of fine illustrations, and among its stories are "Christine," by Miss M. G. McClelland, one of the best short stories we have ever read by this popular author, and "The Gap Between," by Frank Lee Benedict. "The Isles of Many Names" is a charmingly illustrated sketch. Minna Irving contributes a beautiful poem, "The Flight of the Birds." "Folk-Lore of Finger-Rings," "Upholstering at Home," and "Some Interesting Relics," are all good and full of useful information.

Some pretty designs and valuable suggestions for making Christmas gifts are given. The Fashion and Household departments are, as usual, admirably edited.

For 1892, the magazine will be strengthened by some new contributors—among them Julian Hawthorn, Effie W. Merriman, author of "Pards," Henry Cleveland Woods, and Andre Gerard, a noted French writer. This additional talent will add much to the value of "Peterson."

Terms: Two dollars a year, with large reductions to clubs, and an elegant line of premiums for those who will get up clubs.

Proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners.

OCTOBER MEETING.

At the meeting of the County Board in October a grist of bills were allowed and other business transacted as follows:

School petition of B. O. Lindberg and others was granted; that of W. Sarge rejected; that of Lois Chairmond, also of H. T. Anderson, and of John Logan and of Barney Haggerty, all granted.

M. E. Kirsch reported progress of repairs on the Carman bridge, and the Auditor was instructed to draw an order for the sum of $253.33 for completion of said repairs.

Bond of A. Kaiser as Surveyor General of logs and lumber approved.

A communication from N. K. Hubbard was read and action thereon indefinitely postponed.

The Norwegian Methodist church lot in Clement's Addition was ordered stricken from the tax list.

A committee composed of the Auditor and the chairman was appointed to consider the matter of the county maps made by Geo. A. Ralph.

The petitions of the Scandia-American Bank and 1st National Bank recommended to State Auditor for approval.

Committee on hospital reported no aid from outside parties.

Bid of McKinnon Bros. to furnish 40 tons of coal accepted.

The petition of H. Gundro and others for opening and maintaining a county road in the towns of Crookston and Gentilly, granted, and the auditor instructed to direct the supervisors of said towns to open said road, and commissioner DeMers was authorized to procure a release of damages for right of way.

Trade and Money.

The prosperous condition of our foreign trade is shown by last week's report of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington. The official figures show that our exports of merchandise for August exceeded our imports by $6,858,000. August has not shown a balance of trade in favor of the United States since 1884 until this year. The August imports were heavy, amounting to $65, 895,000, but our tremendous shipments of breadstuffs and other favorable circumstances enabled us to increase the value of our exports $16,563,000 over those of last year.

General trade throughout the country needs cool weather. There is plenty of well founded confidence that the volume of business will speedily meet all anticipations, but the heat of last week exerted a restricting influence on the movement of fall goods. The business men of the west and northwest feel the effects of the hot weather least. The greatest activity reported in staple lines is at Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, St. Louis and San Francisco. An improvement in mercantile collections is reported in central western and southwestern states. Prices of tobacco are advancing. The staples generally most active are groceries and provisions, with the exception of lard. Lumber sales have improved in the west. The demand for leather is brisker and the prices tend upward. The success of the tin furnaces at San Jacinto is definitely announced, and regular shipments of tin from this region are now taking place.

Textile manufacturing in Philadelphia is slow, but the tone of the Pennsylvania iron market is strong. Within twenty-four hours at the last of the week, orders were placed in Philadelphia for 15,000 tons of standard forge iron at $14.50 delivered, and for between 3,000 and 4,000 tons of foundry at $17.50 to $17. Sheet mills are very busy. Plated tank iron and steel makers are doing a good business. Structural material for bridge and elevated work is in active request. Large orders for locomotives, cars and general equipments have been placed, and greatly increased activity in these departments is the result. Our exports of wheat for the week ending October 1 showed a considerable decline. They were 3,405,982 bushels, as against about 1,600,000 bushels for the corresponding week of last year. The farmers' shipments of western wheat are falling off. Time will show whether this restriction will be large enough to produce important results and also whether the "hold your wheat" circulars of the Farmers' Alliance have been influential in bringing it about. Railroad earnings continue good. The total earnings of eighty-eight roads for the third week of September were $8,091,808—$572,356 more than for the same period last year.

The bank clearings for September are encouraging. They reflect at length the better tone of business and the great volume of speculation. Total clearings at fifty-seven cities in September were $5,279,193,525, a gain over last year of 5.6 per cent. New York city's clearings, partly owing to stock speculation, exceed those of last year by 7 per cent. Outside of New York the increase is 3.4 per cent. The money market has been somewhat more active. An increase in confidence in the stock market was visible in the last two days of the week. A reaction has apparently set in from the effect of the blow dealt by the Gould faction in respect to the Missouri Pacific dividend and the later depression caused by reports of Mr. Gould's illness. The surplus reserve held by city banks decreased only $905,000 during the week and still exceeds the legal requirement by over $3,000,000. The gold exports steadily continue, and they are regarded as furnishing ample security against any pronounced stringency in the money market this fall. The receipts of gold from abroad for the week beginning September 26 were $5,546,300. Several millions more are in transit.

Peace, Rather Than War.

Northwestern Agriculturist.

The country is full of men and newspapers who are exulting over the prospects of a general war in Europe, believing that it will raise the price of our agricultural products and thus benefit all lines of business in America. Such people do not know that the world moves, and has moved during the last ten years at an amazing pace. Linked together as all nations are by the telegraph and rapid transit, what is a calamity to one can at best be only a transient boomerang benefit to the others. The greatest prosperity for all the nations now lies in the path of permanent peace, and while the selfish purposes of short-lived dynasties may result in another general war in Europe, it must be short, sharp and decisive and will only hasten the day when arbitration will settle national disputes, and the nations will learn war no more. From a selfish standpoint war would be a disaster to American farmers, though it might advance the price of agricultural products temporarily. The condition of things in Europe now is the best possible for the American Farmer, and the longer it continues the better the average price for the necessaries of life which we grow for export. War threatens and all the leading nations are keeping vast numbers of idle men, in the prime of life, consumers but not producers. As long as peace is not broken these idle men must be fed largely from our granaries and packing houses. Let war break out, with the present facility for moving troops and supplies, and in forty-eight hours the mighty armies of Europe can be concentrated within cannon shot of each other, and when battle joins, with modern arms, there will be such slaughter that Waterloo will seem a harmless scrimmage in comparison, and in thirty days there may be need of a new map of Europe. Every dead soldier means one less consumer for American wheat, beef and pork. Every farmer who has been wishing for war in order to advance the price of wheat this year, should begin devoutly to pray for peace in order to help the price of his wheat next year and the year after.

THE FARMER ON TOP.

Grand Forks Plaindealer.

A recent issue of the North American Review contains an able article from that hard-headed mathematician, Erastus Wiman, which is full of meat to the farmer and to those who live in purely agricultural sections. It is asserted by Mr. Wiman, upon what appears to be trustworthy data, that "the power of absorption or consumption of food products has at length caught up with the power of production, and that the possible ratio of increase in consumption is much greater than the immediate possible ratio of increase in the growth of food." This proposition is fortified by an array of facts and figures that is truly startling. Practically speaking, no new wheat lands remain unoccupied in the United States. Statistics show that while the population in this country continues to increase at the rate of 12½ per cent. in every five years, the area now being taken up has not in that period increased 7 per cent., and it is yearly and progressively lessening.

In support of these statements Mr. C. Wood Davis, who has also made the question of food products a careful study, and who has devoted to it the most painstaking research, says: "From the best obtainable data it would appear that with an average yield the world's crop of wheat and rye is now 70,000,000 bushels less than the yearly consumption. Each passing year, by reason of the increase in the population, adds at least 25,000,000 bushels to this yearly deficit, so that by 1895 it can hardly be less than 200,000,000, if the per capita requirements remain as large as they have been." Mr. Davis sets forth that up to this time the reserves accumulated during the existence of surplus acreage have met the deficit, but there are indications, he says, in every grain growing country going to show that these reserves are nearly if not quite exhausted.

The effect of these facts upon the farmers of the nation is at once apparent. It means that in but a few years the farmer is to become a landlord, richer in his fertile fields here in the northwest than ever was the English landlord in his palmiest days. And it is time the farmer should realize his future. Others realize it. What else does it mean when loan companies lend out such enormous amounts on land security—and willingly take the land when payments fail? What else does it mean when companies and syndicates come to Dakota to buy thousands of acres in a body? It means they know the bread supply of the world is a good investment. It means they realize that the public domain of the United States is practically exhausted and there is no new and fertile continent to discover, from which to feed the increasing horde of earth. It means that they realize the inevitable result of these conditions will be to enhance the value of everything which the soil produces. The future tendency of prices for the fruits of agriculture must, of necessity, be upward so long as the demand is greater than the supply. The census figures of the last year from all over the world show an enormous access of population without anything like a corresponding increase in either available area or in its productiveness.

The situation presents only one logical conclusion and that is that the farmer will be the primary beneficiary of conditions which cannot fail to increase the demand for his products. The nations of the earth must be fed and their subsistence must be derived from the soil. It is therefore a self-evident proposition that agriculture will become more and more remunerative, and that persons engaged in that pursuit will attain that degree of independence which it is proper they should enjoy. As the farmer is the most essential factor in human civilization it is fitting that he should be prosperous beyond all other classes. That is his manifest destiny, and the near future will bring him into the possession of his rightful heritage.

There is but one practical application to make of these facts. If you own a farm in the Red River Valley, hold onto it; if you do not, buy one.

SHIP YOUR WHEAT

While I am using present warehouse and there is room, my contractors can have wheat of their own raising, shipped for one cent a bushel including use of sacks to haul the grain there. Others can have same for two cents a bushel. I have a large supply of sacks and will rent them on reasonable terms. Two or more persons can join and fill a car. Four days at least allowed to fill a car at above prices and as much more time as desired, if room is not needed for others.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication Oct. 15th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, ANDREAS HAGBERG, an unmarried man, of Polk County, and State of Minnesota, as mortgagor, did, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1888, duly execute and deliver to Eleanor E. Wilmerding of the County of Suffolk, State of New York, his mortgage bearing date of December 15th, A. D. 1888, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 148, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1888, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 37 of mortgages, on page 186; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of fifty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of forty-eight dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party; and

Whereas, the said mortgagee, Eleanor E. Wilmerding, has exercised her option to consider and declare and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable and;

Whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred thirty-four and 32-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty Dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, Oct. 12th, A. D. 1891.

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication Oct 8th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eight hundred forty-three and 66-100 ($843.66) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Warren D. Palmetier and Ettie Palmetier his wife, mortgagors, to The New England Mortgage Security Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 6th day of July, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 20th day of July, 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 285, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The northwest quarter of Section twenty, (20) Township one hundred and fifty-three, (153) Range No. forty-seven (47) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 28th day of November, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eight hundred forty-three and 66-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Wheat opened out on Thursday morning at 81 for 1 Hard.

John Kops was seen on our streets on Thursday walking with—with a friend.

It is said that the Fargo Argus is about to change hands. The Argus will hardly seem natural without Maj. Edwards.

The races that were to have occurred at Grand Forks were postponed on account of the rains. The horses were sent to Crookston.

Dr. Watts went up to his farm near Warren last week to look after his threshing. The doctor is no slouch of an agriculturist himself.

That Red Lake Falls boomer, J. T. Knight, was in the city last Thursday enjoying the rheumatism with his old friends here. He left for home via Fertile in the evening.

Ladies, did you attend the grand opening of fall millinery at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' on Friday? If not you should not neglect to go and see a fine lot of novelties for the season.

Janesville (Wis.) Recorder: Ray L. Royce is equal to Nat Goodwin or Sol. Smith Russell. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

Prof. A. D. Wisbard came down from Red Lake Falls on Thursday of last week and rented a house of C. W. Palmer. He will move his family to Crookston just as soon as the going will permit.

Fred Tiedt came down from Euclid on Wednesday last and in the evening a telegram from Euclid announced the death of his baby sister. The little one had been sick but was not considered in a critical condition when he left for Crookston.

Thursday morning opened out with a heavy fog, something very unusual for this country, but before noon the sun shone out brightly, giving promise of fine weather in the future. For a full half day it did not rain and stack threshing was resumed right merrily.

Max Ericsson has a deep and abiding faith in the future of Crookston. When asked to name a price for his store building on Main street he mildly replied that he would sell it and sell it cheap too. He would take $16,000 for it and move out by November 1st, and he did not seem to be overly anxious to sell at that figure.

One of the Evanson brothers, who are threshing out east of Gentilly, was in on Thursday and expressed the opinion that the rain had not damaged the grain as severely as had been feared. The Evanson brothers are talking of buying a bunch of full-blood and grade Holsteins for their stock farm. They see that for some time to come butter will bring a big price and that stock is to be very profitable in the near future, and they propose to catch on in time.

A. D. Tice and wife came down from Mentor on Wednesday evening remaining in the city over night. While in the city A. D. dropped in to set that subscription ahead and chat a little with THE JOURNAL man. Mr. Tice was threshing from the shock when the rains came on and will now stack what he has left. This, he says, will give him a chance to separate the sprouted bundles from the others and will also improve the color of the wheat by the stack sweating.

Northwestern Agriculturist:—It requires great effort and good judgment to save the first $100 which is to be the foundation of future independence, but the young man who has saved that sum has demonstrated that he can save more, and is on the road to fortune. One year of industry on a farm as a farm hand in the Northwest will net a steady young man from $100 to $200 above all expenses, and if he has pluck and perseverance, he will soon become a land owner and independent.

Miss Edith McGrew returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Minneapolis last Thursday. She was accompanied by Miss Inez, who has been visiting for some time in South Dakota.

Northwestern Agriculturist:—A veteran Ohio farmer who spent some time just before harvest in looking over Minnesota wheat fields and studying the possibilities of development in the state, said that if he were a young man nothing would keep him out of the Northwest. Having struggled through the tough task of making a good farm out of the virgin forests of his own state he could realise the comparative ease with which a young man can achieve independence and a competence here.

Register, Danville, Va.: "Mr. Royce is a genius of the Sol. Smith Russell order, and keeps the audience convulsed with laughter." At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

Northwestern Agriculturist:— Western farmers are apt to think eastern men are small in their ways, and eastern farmers are shocked at the waste on Western farms. Both are partly wrong. The tendency in the west, where things are done on a large scale, is to despise small things, and the leaks on a badly managed farm waste enough to make a handsome income. On the other hand there are many economies that pay in the east that do not pay in the west. Conditions must be considered. Wages are higher here and feed and farm products cheaper, and would be an easy matter to pay more in labor in saving waste than the waste would be worth when saved. Most men can remember mowing out the fence corners when they were boys and gathering carefully all the hay, but when hay is only worth two dollars per ton such carefulness would not pay and therefore should not be practiced. All wise economies are founded on common sense. The successful farmer is, of necessity, observing.

The Great Northern Railway Company made exhibits of the products raised along its lines in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana at the following state fairs, viz: Des Moins, Iowa; Lansing and Grand Rapids, Michigan; Indianapolis, Indiana, and Peoria, Illinois, and was awarded in the first three places mentioned diplomas of highest merit certifying to the most excellent quality of crops exhibited, while at Indianapolis and Peoria the awards included five first premiums and two sweepstakes and two first premiums respectively.

The exhibits above mentioned, while quite an expensive venture for the railway company, were in every way a success, and judging from the interest shown and expressed by the visitors to these various fairs, who numbered nearly half a million people, it is certain that quite an influx of immigration from these states will be witnessed next spring to the Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota and the country west of it.

Interested by the fine displays at these places, many direct inquiries were made by farmers and home-seekers of the representatives of the railway company in charge of the exhibit, and the result will be a repetition of the good olden times where people seek the land abd not the land the people.

The splendid crop results of the past season should be the means of stirring up the people to do their share in inducing their friends from the east to avail themselves of the great opportunities offered them here, and the boards of immigration organized in the different localities along the Great Northern Railway should now take earnest hold of the matter, and do their share in assisting that company in its commendable work.

THE FIRST ACCIDENT.

A man named Thibarge fell from a scaffolding at the new Kickett block Thursday morning and was severely injured. He was unconscious for a few moments and upon recovery was taken to his residence and a doctor summoned who attended to his injuries.

A Legislative Endorsement.

A law was passed last winter in Minnesota affecting the sale of Alum baking powders. The interest excited by the bill when proposed led to a long and thorough investigation by a legislative committee of the qualities of all the baking powders sold in that state, with the result that the Royal was shown by very positive evidence from the state chemist, Dr. Drew, and others, to be the purest, strongest, and in all respects the best baking powder in the market.

Nominating a U. S. Senator.

St. Paul Daily News.

There is considerable discussion among the newspapers of the State relative to having the next Republican State convention name a candidate for the United State Senate.

The Moorhead News opposes this on decidedly peculiar grounds, making two categorical points; First, that such a course is not authorized by "law or custom," and would not be binding on members of the Legislature; Second, that it would bring on the Senatorial campaign prematurely.

It would be difficult to name two more absurd objections. There is no law providing for political conventions. That is a piece of machinery outside of the law, gotten up by political parties for their convenience, and there is as much law for nominating the Senator at a State convention as there is for doing anything else.

Such nominations would be morally binding upon the members of the Legislature belonging to the Republican party. Did it ever occur to our Moorhead contemporary that there is no law requiring a presidential elector to vote for the candidate of his party! If, for instance, Harrison should be the nominee of the next Republican national convention, there is nothing to prevent the Minnesota electors, when they meet to cast their votes, recording them for James G. Blaine, except the moral obligation. But the history of the country does not afford a single instance where an elector failed to carry out the behests of his party, and it is not at all probable that any member of the Legislature, elected upon the distinctive issue that a certain man was the nominee of his party for United States Senator, would refuse to be governed by that choice.

So far as bringing the Senatorial campaign on prematurely, that is even more absurd. The campaign is already on. It was on a year ago, when the Legislature refused to re-apportion the State in order that the present Senate might hold over and have a vote upon the United States Senatorship. Every day candidates are setting up the pins for the winter of '93.

The advantage of the proposed action by the convention is to remove boodleism from the Legislature. The United States Senators really ought to be elected by the people, but inasmuch as they are not, the nearer it can be brought to the people the better. In Illinois last year the Democrats made a distinctive campaign for the United States Senatorship, indorsing Gen. Palmer in their convention. It is almost certain that but for that action they would not have been able to hold the Democratic vote together in the close contest which ensued, and Gen. Palmer's election is entirely due to the fact that he was named in the Democratic convention.

In fact, there is nothing that will hold the party together so much in the Legislature as a call for the members to stand by the nominee of the State convention of their party.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is ordorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pinsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line" and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

Mortgage Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred and sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Benjamin Milette and Mary Milette his wife, mortgagors, to Narcissa Milette, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of November, A. D. 1886, and with power of sale therein contained, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, A. D., 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 90, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof,

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12), Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-six (46), lying and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in forenoon of said day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred sixty-five and six one hundreths (265.06) dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 17th, A. D. 1891.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]
Last publication Oct. 29th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:40 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.37 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44)) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on

MONDAY, THE 2D DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1891,

at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 10th, A. D. 1891.

MORTGAGE SALE.

(First publication Sept. 3d, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Thomas B. Welsh and Mary Welsh, his wife, mortgagors, to Jane M. Goodnow, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of February, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of February, 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 118, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The southeast quarter of Section four (4), Township one hundred and fifty-one (151), Range forty-eight (48) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 17th day of October, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eight hundred ninety-eight and 34-100 dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Entered at the Post Office in Crookston as Second Class matter.

St. Paul Globe: "Can tobacco be raised in Minnesota? There is not the slightest doubt of it," said Maj. A. G. Postlethwaite to a group of prominent Minnesotians in the lobby of the Merchant's yesterday afternoon. "This crop is one that grows very quickly. It is not planted until late in June, and it would be out of the way by the middle or last of August in this state. For many years I have been accustomed to visit Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, the centre of tobacco growing in that state and have devoted considerable thought to the subject. I find that in that state the crop is all out and housed by the first of September. Here everything grows so much more rapidly that I think it could be cut a couple of weeks earlier. Our river bottoms and lake shores are well adapted to the cultivation of the better quality of tobacco, and it could not fail to be highly profitable and largely increase the value of land. The experiment can be made very cheaply, and if no one else will do it I may take the notion to do it myself next year up in Morrison county."

It has already been successfully raised in Polk county for a number of years, so the major is late with his tobacco raising as an experiment.

St. Paul Globe: Wednesday, Oct. 14, at Christ church, St. Paul, 11 a. m., Rev. A. C. Andrews officiating, A. E. Permain, of Crookston, Minn., was married to Lilla Back, of London, England. E. Drewery, of St. Paul, gave away the bride, and Charles O. Reckitt, of Crookston, acted as the bridegroom's best man. The wedding breakfast was served at the Ryan hotel, the bride and bridegroom leaving on the Northern Pacific for their future home in Crookston, Minn.

St. Hilaire Spectator: Andrew Soderberg fortunately escaped a very serious accident while threshing at K. O. Gigstad's last Saturday. His clothing caught on a bolt on the tumbling rod of the horse-power, and his vest and two shirts were torn from his body in an instant. Had he not been an exceptionally strong man he would have been instantly killed. As it is he is considerably bruised about the body but not seriously.

The Fergus Falls Journal is trying to make out that all the wheat in the Red River Valley is destroyed. That is the second time that Elmer has "entirely destroyed" that crop. A few weeks ago it was "entirely destroyed" by the frost and now it is "entirely destroyed" by the wet. Fortunately the Journal is as far off in this case as in the other, for we have thousands of bushels safe in stacks and yet other thousands that have been threshed and are now safe in granaries. While there can be no doubt that some damage has been done, the picture of desolation the Fergus Falls Journal draws is way off—as usual. Come again, Elmer.

Our subscription receipts for the past week have been very encouraging and we have added several names to our list also, for all of which we return our sincere thanks. We could, however, accommodate other names on our list and we extend a cordial invitation to all who have not done so to enroll their names. Let 'em come; the more the merrier.

Good for One Carrot.

Mr. S. Lipscomb brought into THE JOURNAL office last week a carrot that kicks the beam at 6¼ lbs. The carrot aforesaid is a product of a Crookston garden and is only one of a lot of fine vegetables that Uncle Lipscomb is storing in his cellar for the winter. If a feller had that carrot, Wilk's tater and Nolan's turnip he would be pretty well fixed for a winter's supply of vegetables.

Council Proceedings.

Proceedings of a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Crookston held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, October 13th, 1891.

Meeting called to order by President Cromb.

ROLL CALL.

Members present—Buhn, Childs, Jennings, Jerome, Marshall, McGlogan, Marlette, Schmidt, Steenerson, Walker Cromb.

Members absent—None.

The minutes of the adjourned meeting held the 22nd day of September read and approved.

Chairman Marshall of the railway crossings committee requested further time, which was granted.

A communication was received from E. A. Taft, of Chicago, relating to a hose hoister; on motion the same was referred to the purchasing agent.

The chief of police reported the different electric lights that were out during the past month, and the total number of hours was 100. The report was ordered filed.

The city engineer presented an estimate of the cost of building the sidewalks in front of lots one (1), two (2), three (3), four (4), five (5), and seven (7) in block seven (7) Fletcher and Houston's addition to Crookston, that the total cost per lot would be $14.25.

Engineer Wilson read a report on the sewers.

REPORT OF SEWERAGE COMMITTEE.

Your committee on sewerage of last year, to whom was referred the subject of procuring plans and specifications for a comprehensive sewerage system for the city, beg leave to make this, their final report.

Your committee accepted the proposition of A. R. Starkey to furnish the required plans, etc., dated April 30th, 1890, and pursuant thereto Mr. Starkey furnished the plans and specifications according to which the present sewers were constructed, and in addition thereto Mr. Starkey has now completed the work undertaken by him and we submit herewith the completed plans and specifications for a sewerage system for the city as a part of this report.

Your committee further beg leave to report that they have examined the said plans and specifications and find that the same, so far as they are able to judge, constitute a full performance of the work undertaken by Mr. Starkey and they recommend that the same be adopted so far as they may be needed for future work on a sewerage system.

Your committee further recommend that the bill of Mr. Starkey of $550 for said work be allowed and ordered paid, your committee not having availed itself of the appropriation already placed at their disposal.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. STEENERSON,
Chairman.

After hearing comments on the plans, specifications etc., from city engineer Ralph and civil engineer Wilson, of St. Paul, the following motion was made:

Moved by Ald. Jennings, seconded by Ald. Childs, that the report be accepted and adopted. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that a vote of thanks be tendered the sewerage committee for their efforts in behalf of the city in the matter. Carried.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson seconded by Ald. Walker, that the bill of A. R. Starkey be allowed and an order drawn for the amount. Carried.

On motion the city engineer was instructed to place the plans, specifications etc., in a vault in one of the city banks for safe keeping in case of fire.

The finance committee reported favorably upon the following bills:

D. F. McDonald, labor in fifth ward	2 00 and bills number 749 and 758 we recommend back to the council without recommendation.

Moved by Ald. Childs, seconded by Alder and Buhn, that the report be accepted and that the bills which are recommended paid, be paid through the ordinary channels. Carried.

On motion the bill of the Red River Lumber Co. (number) was referred to the purchasing agent.

Bill number 758, of D. F. McDonald, for building the watering trough; on motion the same was referred to the finance committee for proper adjustment.

One bid was received for grading Hurlbut street, which was from O. Hinds:

Crookston, Minn., Oct. 13, 1891.

To the Hon. the City Council, Crookston, Minn.

GENTLEMEN:—I will agree to grade Hurlbut street according to the plans and grades on file in the city engineers office for the price of sixteen (16) cents per cubic yard, including all clearing away of brush, grubbing and finishing. And will do the work in a good and workmanlike manner, and will agree to have the work completed in thirty days.

Respectfully submitted,
O. HINDS.

Moved by Ald. Steenerson, seconded by Ald. Marshall, that the bid be accepted, provided the bidder enters into a contract, to be provided by the city engineer and city attorney. Carried.

The Crookston fire department presented the name of their chief recently elected, for approval.

A communication was read from the fire department inviting the mayor and city council to be present at their annual parade and review.

Report of justice Spendley received. On motion the reading of the report was dispensed with and the report accepted and placed on file.

At a regular meeting of the city council of the city of Crookston held the 13th day of October 1891, Ald. Walker offered the following resolution which was seconded by Ald. Buhn:

Resolved, by the city council of the city of Crookston, that the street commissioner be and hereby is ordered to construct a sidewalk upon and along the west side of Main street where the same adjoins lots four (4) and five (5) of Fletcher & Houston's addition to the original townsite of the city of Crookston according to the recorded plan thereof now on file in the office of the register of deeds in and for Polk County, Minnesota, and also on the west side of said Main street in front of and adjoining lots three (3) and four (4) of block one (1) of the original townsite of the said city of Crookston, according to the recorded flat thereof now on file in the office of said register of deeds, said sidewalk being hereby ordered constructed along the westerly side of said street in front of adjoining those lots or pieces of land extending from the southeast corner of lot five (5) of block one (1) of said original townsite to the northeast corner of lot three (3) of said Fletcher & Houston's addition; and the said sidewalk is ordered to be constructed upon the grade and in the manner specified in that certain resolution of above named council heretofore passed on the 13th day of August, A. D. 1891.

And be it further resolved that it is the sense of this council that at this late day it is altogether impracticable to advertise for bids for the construction of said sidewalk by contract.

The acting of Miss Cozy McAvoy during the rebellion was excellent.

The Great Northern train on Monday morning was an hour and a half late.

Miss Loughridge and Miss Keenan drove down from Warren on Saturday.

Next Sabbath is "Prison Sunday." The morning sermons will be on this topic.

Monday was one of those bright, sunshiny days for which Minnesota is so famous.

Frank Arnold acted the part of the darkey exceedingly well during the rebellion.

D. T. Herriott was in the city on Monday on business before the U. S. Land Office.

Wm. Kistenmaker went below this week for medical treatment, by the gold method.

Ducks and geese are very plentiful this fall. It has been that kind of a season thus far.

There is talk of a day train on the Northern Pacific. It would be a great accommodation.

The band serenaded his honor, mayor McKinnon and Hon. H. Steenerson last Thursday evening.

Something unique will be "The Temple of Fame" soon to be put on at the Grand. Don't miss it.

Go to Thomas & Smith for a first-class hair-cut and shave. Main street opposite McKinnon Block.

Remember the missionary meeting at the Presbyterian church on Friday, in the afternoon and evening.

Eugene Stilwell and Charles McGill, son of Gov. A. R. McGill were up hunting ducks and geese this week.

John Hunter was in from Maple Bay this week. He is on his way to the soldiers' home at Minnehaha Falls.

The orchestra during "the rebellion" was a pleasing feature. We have heard more than one favorable comment.

The threshing machines have been humming merrily since last Friday and much grain has been pounded out.

Rev. J. J. Edwards arrived last week and occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church for the first time last Sabbath.

H. G. Saddler, of Waupun Wis., was in the city this week, the guest of Tom Morris. Mr. S. says we have a fine city.

Hugh Thompson received his commission as register in the land office last week and on Thursday took formal possession.

The police were busy on Sunday night picking up hoboes. That element seemed to be well represented that night.

John C. Welles was up from Edna on Tuesday morning. Reports threshing going on uninterruptedly and grain in better shape than was expected.

An old probate case, the Fallman case, about 13 years old was settled in the Probate Court last week. The heirs in the old country get some $500.

Review, Spokane Falls, Washington:—Ray L. Royce's wonderful impersonations of Sol. Smith Russell were especially happy. Will appear at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

The cow case mentioned in last issue came up before Judge Christianson on Monday, as per adjournment. The parties were bound over to the next term of court.

It is said that an extremely wet fall always insures an abundant crop for the next season. If this be true we ought to be sure of 50 or 60 bushels per acre next year.

All who are to take part in "The Temple of Fame" are requested to meet for rehearsal at the Congregational church parlors this (Thursday) evening.

Peter Misgen and Fred Durand went out on Tuesday morning and shot the life out of various and sundry geese according to the law in such case made and provided.

And don't you forget it that the new tonscrial parlors of Thomas & Smith is the dandy place for a first-class shave or hair-cut. Main street, opposite McKinnon Block.

Dr. C. E. Dampier went to St. Paul last week to meet his wife who has been away on an extended visit with her mother and sister, and returned with her on Monday morning.

Ladies, you cannot afford to miss seeing my new fall styles of millinery. The novelties of the season are rare and beautiful. Call and see them. Mrs. E. E. Bangs.

Next Sabbath at the Congregational church Rev. R. H. Battey will speak. Morning subject—"The Imprisoned Criminal." Evening—"Human Character and Divine Worship." Everybody welcome.

Daily Gazette, Fort Worth, Texas:—Mr. Royce is fully as artistic as Sol. Smith Russell, and has much better voice and is able to sing, and Russell is not. Will be at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

Services were held in the new Norwegian Synod church on Broadway for the first time on Sunday last. The building has been nicely papered and finished off. Dedication services will be held early in November.

Geo. Vine, of the Robert street meat market, informs us that his trade is excellent this summer. He purchases nothing but the choicest beeves and well understands the art of cutting up into nice choice steaks. Try Vine once.

San Francisco Chronicle:—Ray L. Royce and his excellent combination began an engagement last night to excellent business, and all are clever and entertaining as well as popular. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

L. O. Tomerdahal finds upon threshing that his wheat was severely damaged by the hail. He thought he was just outside of the storm but finds he was in it enough to practically ruin his wheat. He has a good yield of oats.

On Monday, Oct. 19th, there were received at Duluth 51 cars of No. 1 hard wheat, 291 cars of No. 1 Northern, 40 cars of No. 2 Northern, 9 of No. 3, 59 of no grade and 10 cars of rejected—460 cars in all. On the same date last year 146 cars were received.

J. L. Johnson was down from Dugdale on Tuesday. He says that while the weather this fall has been discouraging it is not a patching to what he saw out west when he was there. Says a man can make more clean money here than he can in the far west every time.

Ship your wheat to O. Tharaldson, general agent of the Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association, at Duluth, and make from 4 to 7 cents a bushel. For further particulars as to membership, &c., inquire of L. K. Hassell, Grand Forks, N. D. [25-tf]

D. Berthiaume rejoices in the arrival of a fine bouncing boy who arrived on Monday night and who kicks the beam at 12½ pounds. Mother and child doing extremely well and the father bids fair to pull through. Anyhow he was setting up some excellent cigars on Tuesday.

Even Nelson, of Woodside, was in on Monday to probate the estate of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Nelson, who died recently. Their death occurred within five hours of each other on Sept. 21st, of typhoid fever. They have nine children the oldest being 21 years of age.

Chris. Anderson informs The Journal that he stacked some wheat since the rain and that he pulled some of it out of a stack a day or so since and finds that the color is very much improved. When put in stack it was very badly discolored but it seems to be getting back all right.

Engineer Jack Bunnell and daughter, Miss Dollie together with Jack's brother-in-law, conductor Smith of the St. P. & D. road, and Dunc Morris went out to Devil's Lake last week to hunt geese. The result of the hunt was 125 geese and one jack rabbit. Miss Dollie shot three geese and the rabbit.

C. P. DeMers came in on Tuesday evening to attend the extra session of the board. Says he has his fall plowing nearly done. He thinks the average of wheat in his neighborhood will not exceed 15 to 16 bushels per acre, though one of his neighbors threshed 810 bushels of wheat from 31 acres.

A little 11 year old boy of Peter Cornelius was seriously hurt on Sunday last by being run over by a wagon load of wheat. He was riding home from the field where Tomerdahl was threshing and in some way fell off beneath the wheels. Owing to the condition of the fields they had on only 15 or 20 bushels of wheat. The wheel passed over one leg. The boy was taken to the house and a doctor summoned who found the limb so badly swelled as to render it impossible to determine whether there was a fracture or not, and at present writing we have not learned.

Gone To Rest.

Even J. Grefthen, county superintendent of public schools for Polk County, died at his residence in this city on Friday Oct. 16th at 11 o'clock a.m. He was born on June 16th, 1865, in Norway and came to America with his parents when he was 6 years of age. His first employment in the county was working upon a farm, after which he [illegible] engaged as teacher of the Neby school for several terms. Last fall he was elected to the office of superintendent of schools. He was a young man of exemplary habits, very highly respected by those most intimately acquainted and had he lived would no doubt have become a man of great influence. On Saturday at 12:30 the body was taken to the Norwegian Lutheran church on Ash street where services were conducted by Rev. O. H. Elmer, then the remains were taken to Neby for interment. On Sunday Rev. C. Suagstad conducted the funeral services at that place in presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives. His brother had been with him several days previous to his death, but his father, being prevented by sickness in the family did not arrive until Saturday morning. He leaves a father and mother, a brother and two sisters to mourn his early death and also his affianced, Miss Louisa Sprague, daughter of Geo. W. Sprague, ex-president of the Farmers' Alliance, which young lady he was soon to have led to the altar. He had a life insurance of $2,500 and some real estate in the county.

Ladies, did you attend the grand opening of fall millinery at Mrs. E. E. Bangs' on Friday? If not you should not neglect to go and see a fine lot of novelties for the season.

ANOTHER JAIL DELIVERY.

Getting Monotonous.

On Sunday afternoon the jailer entered the corridor of the jail for some purpose. As he entered he was knocked down and four of the prisoners got out and escaped. It would seem to the average mind that the experience of a week or so ago should have been sufficient warning of the need of an efficient jailor without having the need emphasized in this manner.

Chloroformed and Robbed.

About two o'clock on Saturday morning Al. Roberts was awakened at his room at the Minnesota house by a suffocating feeling and feeling sick arose and lit a lamp. He could not find his trousers so put on an old pair and went out into the fresh air where he soon recovered his usual health and returning to his room found that his pants and shoes had been stolen. The pants were found next morning near the out-house with the pockets rifled of their contents. Al. had $70 dollars about him which the thieves missed and Saturday morning he deposited it in the bank where they will not be liable to get it next time they call. The only boodle they got away with was his shoes, his keys and pocket-knife.

And They Come.

The responses to our statements continue numerous and cheering. One thing more would add greatly to our encouragement and that would be to see every voter in Polk County a subscriber to The Journal. You need the paper and we need your name on our list and your influence in our business. While our list is growing encouragingly we should like to see it grow much faster.

Had His Day.

The Rebellion.

As played by home talent drew a good house on Monday evening and was well rendered, considering. Some of the characters seemed to grasp the situation perfectly and threw life enough into their acting to make the character seem natural, while some seemed to lack only life enough to make a good character, but one thing was clearly apparent that the piece had not been practiced enough to render each one proficient. It is a very difficult piece and the great number of characters renders it more difficult to handle. The same piece was put on at the old opera house in this city on December 16th and 17th, 1884, as a benefit for Col. Cobham Post, and afterward the company went to Grand Forks to play it. The Rebellion is only "The spy of Atlanta," with a few names changed.

Hugh Thompson had 700 acres in grain this year and only got 90 acres of wheat and 60 of oats caught out in the rain. The balance was either threshed or in the stack when the rains set in. He says his oats were not materially damaged and rolled out about 75 bushels per acre. He bought wheat at Fisher las Saturday just threshed out of the shock which he graded No. 1 Northern.

Col Liggett, J. P. Williams, members of the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners, and A. K. Tiesberg, clerk, arrived in the city by freight about two o'clock on Monday and remained until Tuesday morning. They had advertised to be here in the morning and a few came in to meet them but owing to the fact that the morning train was late they changed their plans and stopped at Ada in the morning.

Dunc Morris' genial countenance was wreathed in funereal gloom for the space of 30 minutes—a long time for Dunc to be off color in his mind, and this was the cause of it. After his return from that successful hunt he distributed his share of the geese among his friends—all but one, a nice young goose, fat and tender, which he carefully concealed beneath his counter while visions of nice roast goose filled his mind's eye as he worked away at his bench. When supper time came he went for his goose and lo! Nary goose—not even a wish bone was thar left to tell the tail. Look high or low where'r he would no goose appeared, and to say that Dunc was disgruntled don't begin to size up the situation a little bit. He was just rattled. To our reporter he said: "To be Frank about it this is what Hertz: After I had given away every one but this and haven't had a taste of a goose yet this season, to think that some one would be mean enough to cook my goose in this underhanded manner is what breaks my heart, moreover this was a marble-topped goose—the only one in the business. It is true I have two in the ice box out they are promised, and I won't go back on my promise if I never eat another goose in my life!" When Dunc returned from supper and looked behind the counter lo, the marble-topped goose had returned to its normal condition and Dunc was all smiles again. The boys, seeing that it broke Dunc's heart all up had repented and returned the goose, but if Dunc had not found his goose he would have had an invitation out to dine on roast goose the next day.

Mansfield (Ohio) Herald: "The Royce and Lancing Comedy Company are meritorious. Last night at Memorial opera house they gave a fine musical entertainment. Mr. Royce and Lizzie Royce are artists. Mr. Royce's impersonation of a seedy tragedian, a nervous bachelor, an elderly poetess, a simpering school girl, etc., were excellent, as were also the violin solos, the ocarina and bell trio, and the banjo and guitar specialties. The entire troupe is first-class. The entertainment was of the highest class. The people all seem to be ladies and gentlemen." Will be at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2nd.

Clifton Holden was convicted of murder upon purely circumstancial evidence and his sentence was commuted to imprisonment. Wm. Rose was convicted upon the same kind of evidence and he was hung last Friday. He died protesting his innocence and there are those who say that there are more doubts in his case than in that of Holden. That sentence should have been commuted to life imprisonment.

A. G. Dunlop, manager of the Minneapolis Plow Works, was in the city on Saturday in the interests of his firm. In talking up the condition of the weather Mr. D. said: "I have faith to believe that we will have pleasant weather enough to do all the plowing yet this fall. I believe we will now have a long spell of pleasant weather." Mr. D. used to be one of the jolliest traveling men on the N. P. line.

Sun and Voice, Cleveland, O., May 31, 1891:—Our brainy business men and the great army of royal good fellows, bright and shrewd, known as "commercial travellers," as well as others, have learned that is better for their work to rest and refresh themselves when worn and weary, by going to some pure, sparkling entertainment, where they can have a good laugh, than to swallow nostrums; and the God of the universe intended laughter to cheer and make mankind happy as the muscles of the face contain many more for this purpose than for crying; and the choice music, refined sketches, witty sayings, talented artists, elegant costumes seen in "Tom's Vacation," in which Ray L. Royce, the favorite comedian, one of the cleverest before the public, appears, always attracts them, as Mr. Royce leads a clean life both on and off the stage, and never permits anything to be given unless refined and artistic. He is considered by Sol. Smith Russell as one of the greatest mimics out. The support furnished Mr. Royce is excellent as given by the "Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Company," a reliable organization nearly twelve years old. The well-known monagers, Mr. B. S. Driggs and S. C. Behenna, will handle this company next season, and are never found with a party unless good. They will have their summer booking office at 440 Superior street, Cleveland, Ohio. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, on Nov. 2d.

Marshall County Leader:—Next year's crop is already assured. The experience of all old settlers attests that a goodly supply of moisture during the fall and winter is always followed by a magnificent crop. This is very gratifying and farmers should be pleased with such a brilliant outlook. The problem of disposing of the present crop, which is too large to thresh, and is a very serious obstacle to the preparation of the ground for next year's crop, is capable of solution in various ways. We learned of one way while down in Missouri last week which it might stand the farmers in hand to keep in mind. A respectable uncle (whose relationship is mentioned merely as a guarantee of the veracity of the tale) has seen magnificent crops of corn standing in the shock in that state burned to clear the ground for a new crop when help could not be secured to do the husking. It would be an easy matter to burn our crop if it cannot be threshed. Seriously, however, we believe it will be a real advantage not to plow rich ground that is fairly clear of weeds for next year's crop. The stubble should be burned, even if it is necessary to first mow it, and after stirring the ground well with a spring tooth barrow, deposit the seed with a drill. The very best results have been obtained this year from such treatment. Of course good judgment would need to be exercised as not every farm is in shape to respond favorably to such farming. But little plowing, comparatively, can be done this fall except we have an unusually long season, and the above course, while saving a great deal of labor will certainly give better results in many cases than can be expected from spring plowing.

John C. Welles came up from Edna on Tuesday, and while in the city called to see the bull "Mooie Harrington," that has been advertised for sale. Said he had seen the notice in The Polk County Journal, and desired to see what like the old fellow was. Upon looking him over he was so well pleased with him that he said he would take him at our figure and he thus secures as fine an animal as was ever raised in Polk County. Mooie Harrington No. 2776 was raised by E. M. Walsh, Esq., of this city of whom we bought him as a yearling. While we regret to see him taken out of this neighborhood we are very glad that he is not to leave the county and we are glad that he is to be in such good hands. Mr. W. is a great stock fancier, knows a good animal when he sees him and knows how to take care of them.

Grand Forks Plaindealer:—Mayor Richardson: "I want to show you this sample of wheat which we have just taken from the machine which is threshing from the shock on my farm east of the city to-day. You know we hear a great deal about the immense damage to the wheat, and the wheat standing in the shock is almost completely ruined, etc. This sample would, I am sure, grade No. 1 hard, excepting that it is a trifle bleached; but I think when it is put in the granary and goes through the sweating process it will come out all right again. My wheat is well shocked and I have kept my men there looking after it carefully. When the weather has been such that we could not thresh from the shock we have threshed from the stacks, and have 17,000 bushels already threshed.

MAIL FOR FARMS.

How the Alliance Would Extend Free Delivery.

'Twould Rob Life of Isolation.

Farmers Could Keep In Better Touch With Markets.

Wanamaker Indorses the Plan.

An Article By Him in The American Agriculturist Shows How It Would Pay Financially.

New York, Oct. 19.—An organized effort is under way among farmers to secure from congress free mail delivery in country towns. The Farmer's Alliance, Patrons of Husbandry and other orders are canvassing the matter. Letters are being written to congressmen in favor of the project and petitions to congress for free delivery are being circulated in many parts of the country. Farmers assert that a daily mail delivery at their doors will add perceptibly to the money of their farms, and will be worth still more, because it will keep them in touch with markets and the outside world and rob life of its isolation and monotony. The farmers are writing to the agricultural press that this convenience would enable them quite generally to take a daily paper, as well as to subscribe for the local papers more liberally.

In the American Agriculturist for November, Postmaster General Wanamaker states definitely for the first time that the experiment made by the postoffice department for free delivery in farming districts show that the increase of revenue more than pays all the increased expense. He believes that universal free delivery would, therefore, be self sustaining. Mr. Wanamaker's article also contains this statement of the case:

"While the postal service keeps pace with the growth of the towns, the farmers, quarrymen, blacksmiths, millers and artisans, all paying the regulation rates of postage, are left to get their mail as best they can from the post office in the village or at the railway station. In a hamlet of 100 houses perhaps 60 persons from the village and the vicinity make a daily pilgrimage of a distance of from one block to two miles from the post office to find out whether there is any mail or not; and a hundred more persons within the circle of the office do not find it convenient to go to the postoffice oftener than once a week. One hundred or more persons each day, in all weathers, are making trips to the postoffice, often at great personal inconvenience and discomfort, when a single carrier could once or twice each day make the round of the village and distribute the mail, and save the hundred a daily unnecessary tramp, collecting at the same time from the letter boxes, located at the street corners, the mail to be forwarded. A newspaper brought every day to door of the farmer or workman, who has no one to go to the postoffice for it, would find a thankful subscriber and light a new lamp in the household."

BELTRAMI ITEMS.

What made Charley Ford look so lonesome on Sunday?

According to late reports one-half of the crop now in shock or already threshed in the town of Reis will about equal all they raised in Liberty. Good land as well as good blood, tells.

The prohibitionists have lost an active temperance worker (and how few they have) and the alliance a staunch supporter by the death of Supt. Grefthen. His relatives have the sympathy of all his friends in this neighborhood.

THE RED LAKE TORNADO.

A Strip Sixty Miles Long and Three to Fourteen Miles Wide Mowed Down.

Grand Forks Plaindealer.

W. M. Dreary, of the firm of Taylor & Dreary, Red Lake Falls, made a trip through the Red Lake district visited by a tornado, and reports the loss greater than has been stated. "The Cyclone," he said, "started on the Red Lake Reservation about ten miles from Rainy river and pursued a southeastern course, ending near Swan Lake. It fairly mowed down the timber on a strip from three to fourteen miles in width and sixty miles in length. Trees three feet in thickness were snapped off near the ground. The State lost considerable timber, but the government much more, on land unsurveyed. Private parties, too, lost a little. It was the worst blow down I had ever seen. There were many homesteaders squatting on this unsurveyed government land who packed up their belongings and left, considering that the timber had been as good as destroyed." In speaking of the reports that are frequently heard in regard to timber stealing in the Rainy River country, Mr. D. said, they were much exaggerated. The government may have lost a little timber in this way, but it was confined almost entirely to that standing conveniently near Rainy River.

Duluth Wheat Market.

With cool, clear and drying weather in the northwest, and 1,169 cars of wheat on track here this morning, and weak and lower opening in all other markets, caused a weak feeling here and prices started at a decline of ⅜c. from Saturday's closing prices. The market for cash wheats of the three higher grades and for No. 1 northern for October delivery ruled fairly active during the first hour, prices remained about steady for cash wheats, but yielded temporarily at ¼ to ⅜ for October. It is understood that there was a number of round lots of wheat worked here this morning for New York, and that good export orders were executed by several of our large shipping firms. The increase of 1,611.000 bushels in the visible supply was considerably less than had been anticipated, its posting had rather a hardening tendency in all the markets. The last hour here was very dull and the close was steady at ¼ below the opening.

Cash No. 1 hard sold early at 1c. below Saturday's closing price at 95½, ruled dull, without further trading. It closed easy and ¼ lower at 95¼.

Cash No. 1 northern opened 1c. lower than it closed on Saturday at 94¼, with large and active trading during the first hour for both spot and to arrive at that figure. It eased off to 94⅛ and closed dull and easy at 94.

Cash No. 2 Northern opened ⅞ lower at 89¼, with active trading in both round and car lots, all at that figure. No grade selling at 89. It closed dull and easy at 89.

No. 3 spring sold early at ⅜c. decline from Saturday at 89¼, advanced to 89¼ and closed dull and ½ lower at 89.

Rejected wheat without transactions. Closed dull at 70.

October No. 1 hard dull and neglected, without transactions. Closed at 1c. decline for the day at 95¼.

October No. 1 northern opened 1c off from Saturday's close at 94, advanced to 94¼, ruled irregular, declined to 93 7-8 and off again to 94, with large transactions at that. It closed easy at 94.

First half of November, a 35,000 bu. lot of No. 1 northern wheat to be delivered during the first half of November sold at 93⅞.

Dec. No. 1 hard, no trading, closed weak and 1½ lower for the day at 95.

Dec. No. 1 Northern, very dull, a single 1,000 bus. lot sold late at 1½ below Saturday's close at 93. It closed at 93 bid.

May wheats. Dull and neglected, no transactions. No. 1 hard closed 1½ lower for the day at $1.03 nominal. No. 1 northern at 1⅞ decline at $1.00½ best bid.

A TOURIST.

A Boy Who is Something of a Traveler Himself.

Grand Forks Herald.

A lad about 16 years of age, who gave his name as Geo. Dell, passed through the city yesterday, who is an exemplification of the American spirit of moving. He left his home at Charlotte, Michigan, some time ago and determined to see something of the world. He had about fifteen dollars in his inside pocket, and after a series of adventures and stops at all the principal places enroute he reached Seattle with one silver dollar. He stayed around the various coast towns for a time, when he concluded to start for home. He caught a boat for Vancouver, and once there he made his way along the C. P. Ry. to Winnipeg and from there he came here, arriving this morning without a cent. Doc. Griffith, who is shipping western horses from here to Iowa, gave him a lift by sending him with two cars of stock to St. Paul, and from there he will stake him with a ticket to Chicago. The boy says that once in Chicago he will have no trouble in getting home.

He is an exceedingly bright young fellow and tells an interesting story of his trip. He scorned the suggestion that he "bummed" his way; he says he never begged a cent and that he never went hungry or without a comfortable place to sleep. He worked his way along, and certainly has seen considerable country on an original capital of fifteen dollars.

The Gotzian opera block in Grand Forks was seriously injured by fire on Sunday and at one time it looked as though the entire block must go. However the fire was extinguished when it was found that the greatest damage was caused by water deluging the goods in the stores therein. The block was of of brick, built in 1880.

A Bright Young Lady

Who edits a special department in one of the best country weeklies of Minnesota, was lately a delegate to a gathering of representative ladies, held at a point on "The Burlington." In speaking of the connection, and the journey to and fro, she writes to her paper:

"A very pleasant ride to Winona was enjoyed, which was greatly due to the superior accommodations and excellent management of "The Burlington." The conductors and trainmen were very courteous. A better route could not have been chosen; the road was smooth and the chair cars gave one almost the ease of a home. The road wound in and out in gentle curves, now along the banks of the flowing river, then dashing between tall bluffs, or running along by rippling brooks, which constantly afforded the travelers varied and delightful scenery. Before leaving the cars the ladies fastened to the bell rope a neat card tied with a white ribbon and bearing the words: 'Acknowledgements of the State W. C. T. U. Convention, Winona, Sept. 1-5.' All certainly had appreciated the kindness of 'The Burlington.'"

This route is famous from Lake Michigan to the Pacific Coast for its attention to the comfort of ladies traveling without escort. For rates, maps, and any information, call on any agent of this or connecting lines, or write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent C., B. & N. R. R., St Paul, Minn.

THE STRONGEST AND PUREST.

The Official Report of the Minnesota Dairy and Food Commissioner Shows the Royal Baking Powder the Best in the State.

St. Paul Globe.

The last report of the Minnesota State Food and Dairy Commission contains the details of the State Chemists' experiments and analysis to determine the strength and keeping qualities of the various baking powders. Samples of the numerous brands on sale in this State were purchased and first analyzed to ascertain their leavening power. The Royal Baking Powder is shown by the tests of both State analysts, Prof. Eberman and Prof. Drew, to contain the greatest amount of leavening gas of the cream of tarter powders thus purchased and tested. Hence this powder is officially ranked at the head of the list.

The report attaches great importance to a series of experiments made to ascertain the character, efficiency and keeping qualities of the powders. Baking powders that vary in strength or that readily lose strength before use, are unreliable and will not give even results; besides, it is an indication of the use in their compounding of improper ingredients. These tests were applied to a large number of samples of different ages of the three cream of tarter powders best known in Minnesota. They showed the strength or leavening power of the Royal very much greater than that of the others. The uniformity of strength of all the samples of Royal tested was remarkable. Its leavening power was practically unimpaired even in the oldest specimens. The difference in the amount of leavening gas in different samples of both the other brands was so great as to seriously impair their usefulness in baking. As much as 24 per cent. loss was found in samples a few months old. All the samples of Royal examined by Dr. Drew were reported of satisfactory strength and quality.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Capt. Griggs, of Grand Forks, suffered a stroke of paralysis last week.

I. K. Messelt came down from Winger on Thursday to get a hair-cut and shave.

M. W. Waters, of Minneapolis was in the city this week on a business visit to C. M. Lowe.

On Wednesday night of last week a frost heavy enough to singe the leaves on the trees occurred.

Wm. Kistenmacher's new house is being finished off. When completed Sam Rosenthal will occupy it.

W. D. Scott arrived home on Friday morning from a three weeks' visit in Iowa. Mrs. S. remains awhile.

Tom Erwin was up from Fisher on Thursday. Says he has his threshing nearly done and has a fine yield.

Wright, Barrett & Stillwell's good looking man, Andrew, gave us a pleasant call on Thursday of last week.

S. E. Permain and bride arrived on Thursday morning of last week. In the evening the band gave them a serenade.

Remember the "Temple of Fame," the entertainment that is being gotten up by the ladies of the Congregational church. Let's all go.

Chas. Harrington and wife and Mrs. H. C. Misner, of Euclid, improved the pleasant weather on Thursday last to drive down to the city.

Surveyor Gen'l Compton, accompanied by Frank Evans, of Fergus Falls, passed through the city last week enroute for Devil's Lake to hunt geese.

The Winnipeg flyers left for home on Thursday last, their owners being under the impression that there would be no chance to show their paces on the turf.

E. M. Walsh threshed out 77 bushels per acre of good wet oats last week. Ed. thinks he would have had 80 all right enough if the bundles had been dry.

Harry Ives, the good-natured Spectator man of St. Hilaire was an interested spectator at the Noss family enthrtainment on Wednesday evening last week.

Geo. J. McManus says he threshed some barley that cost him 37 cents per bushel to thresh. He is trying to figure out the other expenses so as to decide how much he will net on that barley.

M. Lefebvre arrived from South Bend, Wash., on Thursday of last week. Says Pete Bauchemin is getting rich out there in general merchandise and John McLean is coining shekels in real estate. "The Bishop" looks young and hearty.

The weather of last week and the condition of the track was enough to give the horsemen the blues and they were a blue looking set for a fact. Horses were here from Winnipeg, Fergus Falls, Fargo and Grand Forks anxious to try their mettle upon the turf but the clerk of the weather put his veto on the business to a certain extent.

Notice the change in O. H. Saake's ad. elsewhere in this issue. This is no catchpenny fake, but a bona fide selling out, as we learn that Mr. Saake has sold the balance of his lease after January 1st and the building will be occupied by other parties on that date. Now is the time to secure good bargains in jewelry. Call early for choice.

Arthur Wales, the well known piano tuner of Fargo, who has been doing the principal tuning in North Dakota and Northern Minnesota will positively be here this month to attend to the fall tuning in Crookston, and earnestly desires that those having tuning to be done will wait for him to arrive. General price for tuning $3.00. Mr. Wales has exclusive charge of all work in the Northwest for W. J. Dyer & Bros., music dealers, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Miss Maggie Hager, of Maiden Rock, Wis., and Miss Katie Poppe, of Frontenac, Minn., left for their respective homes on Thursday after a pleasant visit with Mrs. S. L. Collins in this city.

The Noss Family gave one of their excellent entertainments at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening of last week. They have improved very much since their first appearance in this city two years since. If there is anything in the shape of a musical instrument that they can't get music out of we should like to see it, in fact the musical feature is by far their strongest point. May, as a boy, makes a decided hit. Almost every piece was encored to the letter.

Trade and Money.

Trade conditions have not materially changed during the past week. The effect of the lengthened hot spell is still shown in the slow demand for seasonable goods all over the country. The genuine fall weather of the past few days will undoubtedly tend to stimulate autumn business to its normal point again. The only reported gain in general business is at Kansas City, New Orleans and San Francisco. The moderately active movement of staples at Chicago, St. Louis, Minneapolis and St. Paul continues about as last reported. At Philadelphia trade is dull. Wholesale prices for anthracite have risen slightly. At Boston business is generally quiet, but there is a better demand for woolens. Rubber is also higher. New York wholesale dealers do not report any increase in the volume of business over the week before last. Prices are generally firm in dry goods and wool. Cotton is a little more active, and prices have risen 1-16 cent on reports of threatened injury by frosts.

The great factors which tend toward a prosperous business year are still working actively. The price of wheat is a cent higher and exports are increasing again. They were 3,958,810 bushels from the United States last week, as against 3,405,982 tor the week previous, and 1,516,759 bushels from the United States and Canada both in the first week of October, 1890. The imports of gold are steadily maintained. The amount now in transit is not far from $5,000,000. The improved prospects for trade and the enormous grain movement are reflected in the heavy percentage of gain in the September gross earnings of railways. The total earnings of 131 roads for September were $42,688,972, against $39,184,640 in September of last year. This is a gain of 8.9 per cent. and presents a highly encouraging feature of the general situation. Increased railway earnings will beneficially affect all the great industries that are intimately connected with our railway system. They will enable the railroad managers, who have been economizing closely of late, to make the extensive purchases of rolling stock and material which they need and thus stimulate the iron market and business in many other lines.

Last week was a dull one in the New York stock market. The tone of the loan market grows more confident owing to the heavy gold imports. There is every prospect that the autumn will pass without financial stringency. There is no likelihood of cessation of gold imports for a long time to come. These imports are pretty certain to keep the money market easy. The bank statement for last week was highly favorable. The lass of $4,000,000 in interior shipments was more than made up by receipts of gold from abroad and heavy disbursements from the sub-treasury. The surplus reserve increased $3,536,725. Bank clearings at New York showed an increase of $13,163,000 as compared with the same week a year ago. For fifty-eight cities the bank clearings were $1,225,837,951, an increase over 1890 of a trifle more than 1 per cent.

Norwood's Currency Plan.

New York Press.

Ex-Senator Thomas M. Norwood, of Georgia, has shown the first evidence that any prominent Southern Farmers' Alliance man has given of returning to financial common sense. Even he has returned only a part of the way; but he has grasped the important truth that the proper distribution of the volume of the currency where it is needed is as necessary to healthy business prosperity as a full supply of currency. He has propounded a financial plan, the purpose of which is to recognize this idea more completely than heretofore. He would have the national government issue legal tender notes to the government of each State in quantities based on that State's population and consequent title to a certain quantity of circulating medium per capita. Each State, under the Norwood plan, is to have in its government machinery a bureau of finance, and if it has, say 6,000,000 population, like New York, and therefore, at a rate of $50 circulation per capita, wants $300,000,000 of currency, the volume of its national banking capital is to be deducted from this $300,000,000, and the Treasury Department is to supply legal tenders to its State Bureau of Finance to the amount of the remainder. This bureau is to lend the legal tender notes on such securities as the Legislature may prescribe, at a rate of interest also limited by law.

Mr. Norwood does not condescend to explain why the government should issue mere paper money when it has an excellent law under which it can issue about $4,500,000 a month on an actual intrinsic value of silver bullion, and his suggestion that the State legislatures should order the legal tenders loaned on land as collateral would probably excite a good deal of opposition. But the significant feature of his plan is his recognition of the perfect distributing value of the national banks. Even this Farmers' Alliance statesman, starting out to evolve an ideal method of distributing the currency where it is most wanted, admits that he cannot improve on the machinery of the national banking system, so far as it goes, for he simply supplements it where it does not go. But in place of such an extension of its facilities as would provide that each town that wanted any currency could get it through the national banks created in that town by the very conditions of development that made it need currency, he centralizes the supplementary distributing agency in the State capital, in a bureau of the government.

Why this centralization and paternalism? Why not let the people do it instead of the government? Why not remove every restriction on the establishment of national banks, and let the supplementary currency outlets be as well distributed as the established outlets? Why entrust to politicians the important duty that the people can do, and ought to be free to do, for themselves? Why not make the national banking system permanent and popular, and make it so easy for the people to organize national banks whenever and wherever they want them, that the supply of currency would spontaneously distribute itself exactly as far as the demand for it?

The reason and answer is doubtless this: A national bank, even if it were organized by 10,000 workingmen instead of ten capitalists, would be very likely to employ as its officers business men of common sense who knew what good security was and who would refuse to lend on poor security. That is not what Norwood wants. On the contrary, that is why he objects to national banks. He and all the other Farmers' Alliance statesmen want currency bureaus that will lend money on poor security. The poorer the security the better they will be pleased; for, according to them, it is the government's duty to make it easy for the people to get currency without working for it and earning it, and the worse the security is the better the government will be fulfilling its duty to the poor man. This is paternalism run mad.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

We have received the last issue of the "World's Columbian Exposition Illustrated." It is only established organ of the great Fair. The object of this publication is to give complete authentic historical record of the Columbian Exposition. It contains 32 pages of official proceedings and gives photographic illustrations, of all the Exhibits, Building, and attractions of the great fair. As a work of Art, containing the most interesting information, it is invaluable to all who wish to keep up with the times and learn of the great International Enterprise. It is published in English and German. Subscriptions taken at this office, where a sample copy may be seen or address, J. B Campbell, Editor and Pub., 218 La Salle Street, Chicago, Ills.

The Pintsch System of Lighting Passenger Trains with Gas.

The Pintsch system of lighting by means of compressed gas is pronounced by competent judges to be the best known means of car illumination.

It is safe under any and all circumstances. It is not affected by atmospheric changes. Burns more steadily than any other light in use. Although very brilliant it is soft and agreeable. It emits no smoke, is ordorless and perfectly clean.

It is so effective and evenly distributed that travelers in any part of the car can read easily and comfortably.

It is simple in operation, absolutely reliable and of constant quality.

Although this system has been in use on some of the leading lines in the East and in Europe for some time, the credit of first introducing it in the North-West belongs to "The North-Western line"—C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

The vestibuled trains on this line leaving Minneapolis at 6:50 P. M., St. Paul 7:30 P. M., daily, for Chicago and Milwaukee, are lighted throughout with this gas.

In addition to the superior arrangement and comfort of the sleeping cars on the vestibuled limited, this brilliant light adds to the appearance of the car, and passengers have expressed themselves as delighted with this method of lighting.

The Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway Company is now constructing a plant in Minneapolis for the manufacture of Pinsch Gas in order to supply the entire passenger equipment.

No line keeps its equipment more completely up to the standard than does "The North-Western Line" and it has never failed to provide any improvement likely to add to the comfort, safety or pleasure of through travel.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

(First publication October 1st, 1891.)

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss.
District Court.

Steenerson Bros., plaintiffs, vs. Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, defendants.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, 14th Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the County of Polk, upon a judgment rendered in a justice's court in the said county, a transcript of which judgment has been duly filed in the District Court aforesaid, said judgment being rendered in favor of Steenerson Bros and against Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, I have levied upon the following described real estate of said defendants, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½nw¼) of Section thirty-three (33); also southeast quarter (se¼) of the southwest quarter (sw¼) and lot six (6) of Section twenty-eight, all in Township one hundred and fifty (150) north of Range forty-seven (47) west. And that I shall, on Friday, the 13th day of November, A. D. 1891, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson in and to the above described property to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to fifty-seven dollars and 29 cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 3d day of March, 1890, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

Dated Crookston, Minn., Sept. 29th, 1891.

Plaintiff's Attorney. [24-30]

MORTGAGE SALE.

[First publication Oct. 15th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, ANDREAS HAGBERG, an unmarried man, of Polk County, and State of Minnesota, as mortgagor, did, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1888, duly execute and deliver to Eleanor E. Wilmerding of the County of Suffolk, State of New York, his mortgage bearing date of December 15th, A. D. 1888, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 148, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1888, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 37 of mortgages, on page 186; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of fifty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of forty-eight dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party; and

Whereas, the said mortgagee, Eleanor E. Wilmerding, has exercised her option to consider and declare and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable and;

Whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred thirty-four and 82-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash; to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty Dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, Oct. 12th, A. D. 1891.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

[First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.]
Last publication Oct. 29th, 1891.]

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:40 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.87 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44)) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

MONDAY, THE 2D DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1891,

LEADER OFFICE,
Stephen, Marshall Co., Minn.,
October 22, 1891.

Bro. H. E. Cooke, Crookston:

DEAR SIR:—Let me congratulate you upon the felicitous streak of humor that inspired either yourself or typo in reproducing a Leader article in your last issue. You made me refer to "a respected uncle" as a "respectable uncle." Very good, indeed. If you don't mind I shall hunt you up the next time I am in Crookston and see whether you look as funny as you act. No harm done; I like such breaks. Fraternally,

H. SMITH.

Don't come down, we'll shoot—the intelligent typo who credited you with a "respectable uncle," Bro. Smith. After all his experience in the business he ought to have known better than to expect such a thing of the craft, but he died repentant. This sad business but proves the truth of the old addage that "there's many a slip twixt the cup and the lip," for while you no doubt fully intended to have a "respected uncle," and probably thought you had a "respected uncle," you see that when it gets abroad what you considered a "respected uncle" was really, a "respectable uncle." The real object we was after, however, was not the kind of an uncle, but the kind of a way of treating our lands which the article recommends which would, if practical, solve what has become quite a problem, "how to best prepare our lands for the next crop." We will forgive you, though, if you will reciprocate, and furthermore we will solemnly promise never again to intimate such a thing of you, for we realize how extremely difficult it is for the craft to have and maintain such relations.

East Grand Forks Courier: Wednesday evening Deputy Sheriff Dwyer received a dispatch from Postmaster Osmund Osmundson, of Mallory, telling him to come post haste and take a man. Mr. Dwyer boarded the 6:30 train, reaching Mallory after a run of eleven minutes, and found the entire population of Mallory watching a box car. The man had been caught in the act of burglarizing the postmaster's house, and as Mallory has no jail the fellow was lodged in a box car for safe keeping The conductor generously offered to hold the train until Mr. Dwyer secured his man, when he was taken to Crookston. His chances of escape from the Crookston jail are much better than from a box car. The fellow gave his name as Chas. Halford.

Holding Their Wheat.

FARMERS STORING THEIR WHEAT FOR A RAISE IN PRICE.

Grand Forks Herald.

Traveling freight agent Dawes of the Great Northern was in the city yesterday. In conversation with a Herald reporter Mr. Dawes stated that the movement of wheat is not nearly so great as might be expected when the amount of threshing done the past week is taken into consideration. It is evident that the farmers are storing their wheat in their own granaries largely, as the scarcity of teams prevents it being taken directly to the elevators. Another reason advanced for the comparatively light movement is that the farmers who had bills falling due during the rainy season just passed, arranged for an extension until such time as was convenient for them to market their grain, and they prefer to put in all their time plowing for next year's crop, as they are in no pressing need of the money.

Our Washington Letter.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 27th, 1891.

ED. JOURNAL.—

It is said that the Department of Justice has concluded to bring suit against the managers of the Cotton Centennial which was held in New Orleans in the winter of 1884-5, to recover the $1,350,000 which was borrowed from the United States treasury to help the "World's Fair" through. The decision in the suit against the Philadelphia Centennial justifies the belief that the money will be recovered and the beginning of the suit at this time would rather indicate that the World's Fair managers will not receive much support in securing the $5,000,000 they are going to ask for as soon as Congress meets.

There seems to be considerable misapprehension as to how and with what nations reciprocity treaties can be negotiable. Under section three of the tariff act, which is the reciprocity clause, the President would be confined to making all reciprocity arrangements only with those nations which produce and export sugar, coffee, tea and hides. So far, all the treaties have been made with nations which produce one or more of these articles.

There is a strong feeling both in this country and Great Britain that that clause of the treaty of 1817, which prohibits either nation from putting fleets on the great lakes dividing the United States from Canada, ought to be abrogated. It requires six month's notice upon the part of either one of the nations to do this. If the United States waits for England to give the notice, within three weeks after the six months expires there will be on the great lakes a splendid English fleet because so soon as the notice is made, or before, England will commence the building of its vessels. If such notice is received by the United States from England it ought to commence its building at once.

Politics in New York are at boiling point. Fassett and Flower are both in New York city to enlighten the voters as to their duty in the premises. The same condition exists in Ohio where on the same night Campbell held a meeting on the one side and Sherman and Foraker on the other. Both of the parties in both of the states are claiming that they have a majority of the votes now, so that work that is being done is either superfluous or simply for holding the majorities they claim. One party or the other will find itself mistaken on the morning of the fourth of November.

The Independents of New York have divided, George William Curtis and some others announcing themselves for Fassett while the New York Times and the New York Evening Post are for Flower. This has placed the independent voters in the position of being entirely free to follow their own inclinations without any bias taken from the actions of the leaders, as Harper's Weekly, the Post and the Times were recognized as the leading organs of the Independents.

The Reverend Heber Newton has branched off into politics a little. He took occasion on last Sunday in a political sermon to denounce the government of New York city and Tammany Hall as a corrupt organization which ought to be broken down.

Mr. Blaine's letter on the reciprocity of the McKinley Tariff Bill, which he wrote in response to an inquiry of an Ohio editor, is thought to be not so much an endorsement of the McKinley Tariff Bill as it is of the reciprocity clause in that bill which was drawn and pressed by Blaine, refused by McKinley, and put into the bill after it reached the Senate. There are some people who think that Mr. Blaine was looking more to the interest of James G. Blaine in 1892 than to that of Major William McKinley in 1891.

There is rather a curious condition existing in Cincinnati. The Enquirer, which is the leading Democratic paper of the state, is cool in its support of Campbell, while the Commercial Gazette, which is the leading Republican paper of the state, is now very enthusiastic in its support of McKinley. John R. McLean owns the Enquirer entirely and it is said now that he owns a majority of the stock in the Commercial Gazette. This may account for the situation. McLean is running both sides of the question and has to do it cautiously.

Mansfield (Ohio) Herald: "The Royce and Lancing Comedy Company are meritorious. Last night at Memorial opera house they gave a fine musical entertainment. Mr. Royce and Lizzie Royce are artists. Mr. Royce's impersonation of a seedy tragedian, a nervous bachelor, an elderly poetess, a simpering school girl, etc., were excellent, as were also, the violin solos, the ocarina and bell trio, and the banjo and guitar specialties. The entire troupe is first-class. The entertainment was of the highest class. The people all seem to be ladies and gentlemen." Will be at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2nd.

Pulpit And Press.

New York Press

It is safe to say that no session of the great ecumenical Methodist conference in Washington will be longer remembered by the delegates and the Methodistic world at large than that of last Monday, when the Rev. H. Price Hughes, D. D., of London delivered an address on that never failing theme, "The Press." The treatment accorded the subject by the distinguished preacher was vigorous and vivacious, while the rattling debate in five minute speeches that followed showed how closely the theme touched everybody in the audience.

If the profession of journalism needed any testimony to its foremost rank among professions—which it does not need—the testimony would be more than abundantly supplied in the constant discussion of "The Press" wherever any conference, congress or council of people is assembled to consider how the world is to be set right. Some of those who take part in these discussions can see little that is not evil in the "secular" press; others, an increasing number, are full of hearty appreciation; but one and all agree that the newspaper are the most potential factor in making the modern world go round.

In urging his ministerial brethren to be diligent readers of newspapers Dr. Hughes speaks with good sense, and when he sends his shaft home by applying to those who neglect this duty Christ's condemnation of those who could not discern the signs of the times, he illustrates the skill of a brilliant preacher in fitting old texts to new truths. Not the least notable feature of the address was that in which he treated of the function of the press as a guide to thought. It was the more noticeable because it is rather common in our time for some pretentious talker to claim that people are no longer influenced by newspaper editorial writing. Intelligent men know better; they know that, as Dr. Hughes remarks, a chief part of a modern newspaper's power consists, as he expresses it, "in impressing upon the public the views of the editor." Certainly members of "the fourth estate" could not ask for a more emphatic tribute to their efficiency than is contained in the declaration that "for the creation of public opinion in these swift days the press is supreme."

The picture drawn before the conference of what the pulpit and the press could do for Christianity by working together is extremely interesting. It is to be presumed that the eloquent Wesleyan intended to have his hearers understand that in his mind's eye there was an ideal press co-operating with an ideal pulpit. He would doubtless be as quick to admit faults in the one as to point them out in the other were he asked to specify in detail the things that hinder perfect unity in diversity. His acknowledgment of services rendered in recent times and striking ways by the press to causes that the pulpit has at heart was all that could be desired. The newspaper wields a tremendous energy very often on the side of philanthropy, moral reform, education, justice, benevolence and the general diffusion of useful knowledge; while its achievements in discovering, exposing and denouncing all manner of iniquity are invaluable and inestimable. All this Dr. Hughes and his brethren proclaimed with many expressions of gratitude.

There is one kind of aid which journalism renders to religion that does not appear to have received full recognition at the conference, perhaps because time was too short. Many of the most influential clergymen in all denominations feel, with reason, that this sort of service is of the very highest class. It consists of editorial discussion of current religious or theological topics in a progressive, non-sectarian and broadly intelligent spirit. This is something that greatly needs to be done, and that neither the pulpit nor the average denominational newspaper is in a position to do with requisite thoroughness. The pulpit must of necessity be more or less under bondage to the pews. Religious journalism is not only sectarian in the nature of the case as a rule, but is apt to be the organ of a party within a sect. The "secular" editor, if he has, as very many such men have, the taste and training that fit him for the task, looks the field over from all sides, goes straight to the sources of exact knowledge, and being under obligations to no sect or set, utters calmly truths that are for the profit of all who read.

For instances of what daily newspapers have done to aid the cause of genuine religion in this way we need not go far back. It is sufficient to cite the Andover controversy, whose "inwardness" the public would not have understood but for the "secular press;" the Briggs case, regarding which daily newspapers supply almost the sole impartial discussions; the election of Phillips Brooks to the bishopric of Massachusetts, culminating yesterday in his consecration at Boston, a case wherein the press bore a conspicuous if not a decisive part, and the American Board whose annual meeting that closes to morrow at Pittsfield, Mass., is comparatively harmonious for the first time in many years, largely because the white light thrown by newspaper editorials on the policy of intolerance rendered that policy no longer feasible.

Shall Parnell's Work Be Undone?

New York Press.

Just 100 years ago was founded the Society of United Irishmen, whose object was to deliver Ireland by force from the yoke of Great Britain and establish a republic. The results of that patriotic effort are matters of history. Seven years later secret agitation culminated in open rebellion and Ireland became a scene of ferocious strife, all the more terrible on account of the religious element that was deeply mingled in with it. The unsuccessful insurgents, instead of gaining liberty for their country, only enabled England to wield the chain more closely. Robert Emmet left to his country something more than a heroic memory. He bequeathed an additional pretext for making Ireland's servitude hopeless. From the execution of Emmett until the rise of Daniel O'Connell, Ireland remained powerless under a parliament in which she had but a nominal voice, and from which the great majority of her people were excluded on the ground of religious faith. Her sons were not excluded from fighting for England and they had no small share in the victories that marked the era of Napoleon and built the British empire of today, but they had no part in the government which they were permitted to serve.

With Roman Catholic emancipation—a concession rather to the enlightened conscience of England than to any cry for justice from Ireland—constitutional agitation became possible. The bulk of the people were still debarred in both countries by the restriction of suffrage from the choice of members of parliament, but popular feeling made itself apparent in public meetings and in the press, and did not go unheeded in the legislative halls. O'Connell's movement died before he gave up his broken heart to the church of his devotion, but that movement was not without a great and favorable influence on Ireland's subsequent history. The idea of liberating Ireland by physical force again after O'Connell's death, obtained ascendency, but while the light of home flickered and waned it never entirely went out.

The thirty years from O'Connell to Parnell witnessed repeated attempts at rebellion, seldom rising above the absurd, and sometimes put down by a squad of constables. Ireland's real battles were being fought at this time on the other side of the Irish Sea. Every victory of the English democracy was a step ahead for the Irish cause. This fact, however, the majority of Irishmen were slow to recognize. They dreamed of Emmet and Tone and the days of '98 and the thought of the time when an appeal to arms might again be made with a prospect of success. The more ambitious among them sought homes across the Atlantic in America, and beyond the Pacific in Australia, and, while the old Ireland lay prostrate, with an occasional throe new Irelands grew up amid the more fortunate surroundings of newly discovered worlds.

"To show that still she lived."

It was to an Ireland into whose hands England had but recently given the weapon of liberal suffrage that Charles Stewart Parnell came. The disestablishment of the Irish Church had shown that there was a growing sense in Great Britain of justice toward the sister island, a desire to recall and undo some of the oppression of ages. But the English democracy did not dream then of ever granting to Ireland a separate national government. With the advance of years the Union had come to be looked upon in England as irrevocable, as too sacred to be tampered with, and the suggestion to repeal it seemed either treason or a political eccentricity not worthy of deliberate consideration. Irish representation in parliament was frittered and scattered along the lines of British partisan politics. There was a Home Rule contingent, but it was hardly conscious of its own existence, and certainly discerned no practical way of accomplishing its objects.

Parnell wielded into a compact phalanx all the Irish representatives in parliament who did not belong to what might be called Philo-British constituencies. The scattered sticks were bound together like the fasces of the Roman consul, and it became apparent that united they could paralyze the legislative energies of the empire. Ireland not only demanded but commanded attention. The Parnellite party, which then meant Ireland, gradually won from the British Liberals recognition for Ireland's claims and the promise of Irish home rule. Enough Liberals deserted their party on this issue to give a majority to the Conservatives, but from 1886 until today nearly every by election has emphasized the fact that the people of Great Britain are not with the deserters and that they are prepared at the next general election, which cannot long be deferred, to give back to Ireland the native parliament taken from her ninety years ago. Never, in one sense, has the Irish cause been more hopeful.

It is under these circumstances and with these prospects that, owing to the unhappy personal antagonisms which undoubtedly hastened the death of Mr. Parnell, the united Irish parliamentary representation which has effected so much has been divided into two hostile sections. It matters little which side hurts the other most; Ireland is the sufferer, and the Irish ship of state is imperiled. The dictates of reason demand that personal bitterness and animosity be laid aside and Parnell's life work be carried to completion. The occasion is a momentous one for Ireland. Before her at last is the prospect, it may be said the certainty of freedom, provided she is willing to grasp it and to put behind her the feuds that give her enemies hope and tempt her friends to despair.

The Review of Reviews has well been called the busy man's magazine. It contains short articles upon every topic upon which you can want information and is an invaluable aid to all who wish to keep well posted upon the living issues of the day. All JOURNAL readers who are paid up one year in advance can secure the Review of Reviews one year for $1.50.

SHIP YOUR WHEAT

While I am using present warehouse and there is room, my contractors can have wheat of their own raising, shipped for one cent a bushel including use of sacks to haul the grain there. Others can have same for two cents a bushel. I have a large supply of sacks and will rent them on reasonable terms. Two or more persons can join and fill a car. Four days at least allowed to fill a car at above prices and as much more time as desired, if room is not needed for others.

Dept. Sheriff Losey went to Euclid on Monday.

Oats are selling in the market at 35 cents per bushel.

R. Smith is up from West Superior visiting old-time friends.

See the Temple of Fame probably two weeks from last Tuesday night.

Sylvester & Finseth are talking of renting a store in the opera house block.

We can give you Demorest's Magazine and THE JOURNAL one year for $3.

Such fine summer weather as we have had the past week is highly appreciated.

Joseph Hoch went to St. Paul on Friday. Intends to bring in a carload of hogs.

The attendance at the Congregational church on Sabbath, both day and evening was good.

Mr. M. Hart returned from a visit to the south part of the State on Sunday morning.

We have a few choice young cows for sale at reasonable figures. Call early for choice.

Remember Royce & Lansing on the evening of November 2d. They are deserving of a full house.

If you want good cows call and see what we can do for you. We can sell you one if you want it.

Many transfers of real estate at the Register's office show a healthy demand for Polk County soil.

We could use 35 or 40 bushels of potatoes in our business. Will pay the highest market price on subscription.

Tom Harris has been employed about a week elevating Cowing's hardware store up to grade—a raise of several feet.

Peter Cornelius' boy remains in about the same condition as when first hurt. His improvement will necessarily be slow.

We are reminded by these cold mornings that winter is near. There are hundreds of acres of potatoes yet to dig, we are told.

The pleasant weather is being improved to the utmost by the busy threshers. Lots of wheat rolling out these days.

Farmers are as busy as bees threshing and plowing. The soil, as a rule, is getting in good condition again for plowing.

The jury in the case of Ignatius Donnelly vs. the Pioneer-Press Co. awards the sage damages to the extent of $1 and costs.

Pete Misgen, Ald. A. C. Schmidt and T. G. Thompson went went out to Goose Lake for a hunt this week—and that is all they got.

A. Anderson arrived from Devils Lake last Saturday with two car-loads of broncho's which he was taking to his home in Iowa.

Don't fail to secure the Review of Reviews, one of the best magazines out. Taken with THE JOURNAL it costs you only $1.50 a year.

Ladies, you cannot afford to miss seeing my new fall styles of millinery. The novelties of the season are rare and beautiful. Call and see them. MRS. E. E. BANGS.

Martin Finseth has purchased L. I. Benoit's interest in the hardware firm of Benoit & Sylvester and the firm name will be Sylvester & Finseth.

O. Stuhr, living near Euclid, has threshed 21,000 bushels of wheat this fall and has 700 acres plowed back. He must have kept pretty busy.

You cannot find more reading matter than we can supply you for $3.00. Take your choice between Demorest and the Review of Reviews at $1.50.

If you want a good cow come and see what we can do for you. We have a few more left that we will sell you right. Call early for choice.

A. D. Stephens bought a moose calf at Kennedy last week and shipped it to Austen Corbin, the head of the great Corbin Banking Co., of New York.

H. H. Dickmann and wife left for their home in Wabasha Co. on Thursday evening of last week accompanied by the best wishes of hosts of friends.

Call and see a copy of the Review of Reviews, which magazine you can secure with THE JOURNAL for $1.50. This is one of the best magazines published.

FONTAINE & ANGLIM.

Mayor McKinnon has sold his bicycle and bought a broncho since he bought his farm. He concluded the bike was too dudish for a farmer and besides it would eat no oats.

Several of the prisoners who escaped from our county jail a few weeks ago have been found in the county jail at Moorhead where they will probably stay until wanted here.

500 lbs of nice cheese just received by A. Sture, Esq. Call and sample.

John Hoch arrived last week from Tulare, Cal., on a visit to his brothers in this city. He may conclude to remain and become a citizen of Crookston.

Rev. C. F. Whitney tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church on Sabbath last. Mr. W. has been out of health for some time and thinks a change of climate desirable.

A. Holmboe and John Locken have formed a partnership and rented the room in the opera block recently occupied by Krogh's restaurant. They went below last night for their stock of goods.

A slight breakdown at the big lumber mill delayed work there a few hours on Monday. It is said that the logs are nearly all sawed and that the mill will close for the season some day this week.

Every subscriber to THE JOURNAL is entitled to the Review of Reviews for $1.50. All you have to do to secure this valuable magazine at this figure is to pay up one year in advance on THE JOURNAL.

Pastoral anniversary sermon at the Congregational church next Sabbath morning and Communion of the Lord's Supper; in the evening the 5th lecture on "Character." Rev. R. H. Battey will speak.

E. H. Pierce, formerly publisher of the Walsh County Record, of Grafton, N.D., spent Tuesday in the city. This is his first visit to the city and he expressed himself well pleased with what he saw of it.

Maurice Hostetler, who went to Lakota a short time since to buy out a shop there, returned on Friday last but continued his journey south. He did not stop long enough to call on his friends here.

On Monday, Oct. 26th, 535 cars of wheat were received at Duluth as against 126 on same date last year. In that lot only 28 cars were graded No. 1 hard and 348 1 Northern. 122 cars were no grade.

Theo. Greenhalgh, who spent a few days last week hunting geese near Devils Lake says that wheat is turning out there wonderfully. Says there are plenty of 35 bushel crops and some that pan out more.

Tom Harris having set Cowing up in business tackled the old Anderson drug store on Robert street and will move it to Fred Anderson's lot on Broadway, just south of the opera house, where it will be fitted up to rent.

All who are to take part in the "Temple of Fame" are requested to meet at the Congregational church, for rehearsal, on Friday evening of this week. All be sure and come, for there is to be a special meeting.

Mr. Seg. Mannheimer, a member of the best manufacturing and importing cloak house in America will be here today with eight trunks of the choicest novelties and latest productions of home and foreign make. Orders to measure will be taken and goods made promptly.

C. W. Palmer went up to his farm near Warren on Monday to see what had been going on there this year. He had 213 acres in wheat and threshed 7,039½ bushels—an average of 33 bushels and 47 pounds per acre.

It is expected that next week an entertainment for the benefit of the poor will be given. It will be under the auspices of the Relief Society and well worth attending for its own sake. It will probably be given Nov. 4th.

D. Jacobus and family left for Vancouver on Wednesday night. "Jake" and his estimable wife leave many warm friends in this neck of the woods who will unite with THE JOURNAL in wishing them abundant success in the future.

City Attorney, Martin O'Brien, Atty A. C. Wilkinson and Theodore Greenhalgh went out to Devils Lake last week on a wild goose chase. They brought back 53 beautiful specimens besides what they shipped during the week. Report having had a good time.

Mr. John C. Wells was so well pleased with his purchase last week that he came up on Tuesday and added a pair of fine Holstein-Friesian heifers which he will ship this week to his farm at Beltrami. Mr. W. now has the nucleus of a fine dairy herd.

We have heard of several sales of lands recently that surprised us. Sales, wherein the purchaser has paid for unimproved land remote from market as much per acre, within a dollar or so, as he could have bought an improved farm near a good market for.

At the M. E. parsonage on Tuesday the Rev. J. J. Edwards united for life Miss Cora Hutchinson and conductor Grant Mason. Both parties have grown up from children in our midst and their union is the subject of hearty congratulations from hosts of friends.

Last Sunday was "Prison Sabbath," a day devoted to the interests of our jails and prisons. At the Congregational church Rev. R. H. Battey preached a powerful sermon that should have been heard by every taxpayer in the county, it was so full of good suggestions.

Our mayor knows a good bargain when he sees it. The purchase of Section 5, with 570 acres ready for seed in the spring at only $15 per acre shows this. The boys will put up a good farm house and a comfortable barn in the spring and open up a bonanza farm.

Elsewhere we publish a brief synopsis of Rev. R. H. Battey's morning sermon on Prison Sunday. It furnishes so much food for thought that we obtained permission to give it to our readers. THE JOURNAL always delights in giving the best of everything to its readers.

Mrs. John Mellot died suddenly at her residence in Euclid on Saturday morning. Cause said to be heart disease. She leaves a husband, three girls and one boy to mourn her loss. The funeral was held on Sunday, the Rev. O. H. Elmer officiating. Mr. Mellot used to be a resident of this city.

And G. W, which the same is the short for George Washington, will be there too at the Grand Opera House on the evening wherein the great temple of fame will be built and he will not tell a lie, he cannot tell a lie for in this case he is a lawyer and has nothing at all to say. Be sure to go and see if he can.

Roy Nichols, son of J. S. Nichols of Fertile was in the city on Monday. Says his father's wheat yielded 22 bushels per acre; has over 3000 bushels of No. 1 hard that he will keep for one dollar per bushel. Mr. Nichols is one of the most thorough farmers in the county and seldom fails to make some money on his farm.

John Gilbert informs THE JOURNAL of a highway robbery at Halstad (where Mr. Gilbert's son has a drug store). The burglars got away with some $300. Later they called upon comrade Dunlaya, at Fisher and "borrowed" a few revolvers and pocket-knives. There seems to be an unusual amount of this kind of funny work this fall.

Caleb B. Palmer returned from Tonica Ills., this morning as frisky as a flea and twice as welcome back again. Caleb B. is under the impression that he will remain during the winter if the oat crop pans out sufficient to keep him in oatmeal. We are glad to see him back again as he reminds us of a good story every time we see him.

The marriage of Miss Minnie McKinnon to Conductor Henry Murray was whispered about early in the week to occur on Wednesday evening. As THE JOURNAL goes to press before the happy event we are unable to present full particulars this week. However, we can cast the slipper for luck and wish the young couple a long and happy wedded life.

E. P. Ulland was up from Rindal on Tuesday and dropped in to set that subscription ahead a peg. He says that about one-half the threshing is done in his neighborhood; the yield was good and there is much of it 1 Hard; in fact he thinks the most of it would grade that if justice was done in the grading. Plowing is well along and a few more days favorable weather will finish it.

Lief Erickson and Christopher Columbus will be at the Grand Opera House probably on Tuesday evening November 10th in their grand effort to discover America, i.e. they will be there at that time if they get practice enough to discover anything in particular. Chris will bring his eyesight with him and Lief—well, he will be as big as Life and twice as natural. Don't fail to secure reserved seats in time.

Mayor McKinnon went to St. Paul last week and before his return bought of the Grant brothers the whole of Section 5 together with 19 horses with harness, plows, wagons and all the machinery upon the farm. Upon his return the Mayor took his brothers John R., Archie and Allen into the agricultural company and next spring you will see his honor busily engaged in sowing and dragging and "sawing wood." Thus the Farmer's Alliance gains a notable accession to its ranks.

Chris. Sigfried was down from Black River on Wednesday to see about that little subscription. He says that wheat between the two Blacks, especially, was magnificent, yielding from 20 to 27 bushels per acre. This wheat is graded at Wylie station No. 1 Northern, but if taken to the mill at Red Lake Falls it is there graded No. 1 Hard. He thinks there is a less percentage of damage to wheat in shock than to wheat in stack owing to poor stacking. About one-fourth of the threshing is done and very little plowing.

Jailor Sannes was interviewed by JOURNAL reporter last week in relation to the recent jail delivery, and he said that he had often asked the Sheriff to relieve him and appoint some competent, experienced jailor since the first escapade, as he felt that the requirements of the position demanded an old experienced jailor to deal with the class of men confined in the jail. He says the Sheriff's reply was that it was impossible to find a man at this season of the year when everybody was busy and that he had stayed along and did the best he could. While he is a good, honest, well-meaning young man, his statements showed his incompetency for the position, a position that requires the most experienced man, the more especially when we consider the condition of the building that is called a jail.

Fisher Bulletin:—Sheriff Grundyson should explain to the public why frequent escapes of prisoners from the jail at Crookston is permitted. One affair of this kind is sufficient to put the sheriff on his metal and see that a repetion does not occur, but when three jail deliveries occur within as many weeks it strikes the average mind that the sheriff regards the custody of prisoner as a trivial affair. The Bulletin does not mean to accuse the sheriff with conniving at the escape of prisoners placed in his charge, but the Bulletin does say that he should employ a reliable man to guard the jail and not to keep under pay a man who repeats an offense two or more times. The grand jury should investigate the methods of Sheriff Grundysen.

On Thursday morning of last week when deputy postmaster, Geo. McLean, went down to the office, as usual, a scene of confusion met his eye rarely witnessed. Lying half way across the room lay the safe door, while scattered about in dire confusion lay evidences that a robbery had been committed. The robbery is supposed to have been perpetrated about 2 o'clock in the morning. The stamp box containing $3,500 worth of stamps and a number of registered letters containing no one knows how much money were taken. About 9 o'clock Mr. Roberts, clerk for O. R. Williams, was looking about among some dry goods boxes in rear of Mr. Williams' store where he discovered the stamp box hidden away in the rubbish. Informing postmaster Dawley of his find the box was soon got out and upon opening it the stamps were found to be undisturbed. Inspector Child happened to be in the city at the time of the robbery and took a hand in looking for the robbers, and he also ordered that a vault be constructed to guard against such accidents in the future. The registered letters were found rifled of their contents except one $10 bill and one $1 bill that had been overlooked in the hurry. Patrolman Ellingbo got after several suspicious characters early in the morning and followed them out to the river near Kistenmacher's residence where he fired a shot at them in order to round them up. They did not round up worth a cent, but returned his fire with such vigor that he concluded to go call out the militia. At this time he was unaware of the post office robbery and no doubt these were the parties interested in that job. Diligent search so far has failed to discover the guilty parties.

It Pays to Advertise.

Last Wednesday Mr. D. N. Taylor brought in a small local advertisement of a farm for sale at a bargain and this week he tells us to take it out as he has sold the farm to Robert Stanton and G. W. Peake. The farm was in Fairfax and was sold for $14 per acre cash. This not only shows the advantage of advertising but shows a healthy demand for farm lands.

WE MIGHT state that the advertising corner of our brain is still an aching void, but that's evident to all.

WE MIGHT spring a bargain list, viz:

Best Prints..........5c a yd
Ice Wool..........20c a box
Ladies all-wool Underwear...75c each.
Eider Down..........45c a yd
Plush Cloaks..........$12.50 each and all that sort of thing, but we won't do it this time.

WE MIGHT tell you all our competitors are frauds, and that we are the only people on earth, but we wont do that either, because it ain't so.

WE MIGHT warn you against paying more money for inferior goods than you can buy the best for at our store, but we won't do that either, as we have done it over and over again at an expense of from $10 to $15 per "warn."

WE MIGHT say, as a significant fact, that only the establishments which sell large quantities of goods, and which turn their stock quite often, are the people who can show you all the NEW GOODS, but you all know that.

WE MIGHT reiterate the fact that "volume" of business to a store means precisely the same as circulation to a newspaper. The advantages offered by a large stock are as obviously greater than those of smaller stocks as the advantages of a big newspaper are greater than those a little one can offer; but you all know that, too.

The Ladies' Favorites.

By perusing the pages of the French fashion journals republished in English by A. McDowell & Co., 4 West 14th street, New York, it can readily be understood how they have become "the favorites" with ladies. Issued in Paris by different publishers, they are the leading fashion journals of the Old World. It is not, therefore, a matter of surprise that unbiassed critics should have pronounced them the best fashion journals ever offered to the American public. It would be strange indeed if ladies did not give up the inferior fashion magazines which they have hitherto patronized for these handsome journals which are known to be a month ahead of all others in giving the styles and contain such valuable practical lessons in the art of cutting and making dresses. "La Mode de Paris" and "Album des Modes" are rivals for the first place, single copies being 35 cents each, or $3.50 per annum. "La Mode," the family magazine, is only 15 cents a copy, or $1.50 a year. Do not allow news agents to substitute inferior publications for these, which can be mailed to you from New York at the prices here given.

Ship your wheat to O. Tharaldson, general agent of the Northwestern Farmers' Protective Association, at Duluth, and make from 4 to 7 cents a bushel. For further particulars as to membership, &c., inquire of L. K. Hassell, Grand Forks, N. D. [25-tf]

THE IMPRISONED CRIMINAL.

"To bring out the prisoners from the prison and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house."—Isa. 42: 7.

It is with gladsome interest that we respond to the invitation of the board of correction and charities of Minnesota and devote this morning hour to the subject of "Prison Reform."

The immediate theme which is chosen is "The Imprisoned Criminal" and the verse selected from Isaiah's prophecy of Christ. It is a text that is properly interpreted in two ways—may suggest two lines of thought. First is the ordinary thought that Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of men, brings human souls out of their prison houses of sin, of discouragement and despondency, breaking their fetters of habit and inherited imbecile minds and impotent faculties and leading them forth into the glad freedom of spiritual manhood and womanhood.

Delightful and profitable indeed is such an interpretation of the text. This is the spiritual meaning. But why not consider this verse as having a literal interpretation and from this high peak of prophetic vision look out upon the broad theme of how to treat imprisoned criminals according to the best light of the present-day civilization?

Throughout civilized countries prison reform has come to be among the great stars in the bright galaxy of modern reforms. Prison reform means just two things—reform of the prisoner and reform of the prison. That is all. If you reform the present inhabitants of our prisons still there are to come after them their successors and the prison must also conform to the ideas of this age of breadth, of principle, and the supremacy of justice.

Much already has been done. Let us give credit to whom credit is due. In England and in America there are model prisons doing grand work in reforming criminals. But let us not for one moment suppose that the prisons in the thousands of cities, counties and states of our great republic are what they should be and might be. We must push forward this reform.

In the name of the coming generation which is to receive the inheritance that we shall bequeath to it, an heritage of criminality as well as an inheritance of missions and money; in the name of that God from whose thought our suggestive text is taken, let us all put shoulder to shoulder in bearing forward the reforms of our day and generation.

Prison reform, I may remind us, is a terribly serious subject. The 75,000 inhabitants of our prisons in the United States are about all to return to be members of society when their terms have been served. They will be either worse criminals or better citizens, these ex-convicts will.

1. Who is the imprisoned criminal that we are to "bring out from his prison house?"

He is human and has nature like the rest of us. But is he doubly a lawbreaker? Not always. In breaking some human law it is possible he has not violated the higher law of God. Generally he has. We all have. He is not surely a sinner above all others because he is in prison. He has rights. Suppose a member of my church is convicted of crime and he is put in prison; still he has rights. Crime does not annihilate all a person's rights, remember that. He is often a victim of circumstances over which in his weakness he has never had control. Think of the inherited natures and social positions of the vast majority of the inhabitants of our prisons. He is by his imprisonment degraded and disgraced in his own eyes. You have broken his spirit. His chain is heavy and he himself is become in some sense irresolute and supine. He is in a school of crime. The lock-up is his primary class, the county jail is his grammar school and the penitentiary is his university. Having passed his graduation in this course then turn him out into the world a graduate criminal will you?

But he is at our mercy. Can he get reading matter, helpful associates, exercise of body and brain, pure air, opportunity to reform while he is a prisoner, unless we let him?

2. What is and what should be his prison?

It is unhealthful. Your county jail which I visited yesterday is a disgrace to civilization. Most of our jails and prisons of America are barbarous. Barbarism means indecent and unrestrained evil. You have one cell and put from two to six prisoners of as many grades of crime into that cell. You do worse; you put criminal men and criminal women into the same prison together. Will they reform?

Prisons are not secure. Your own county jail is an example. Ten criminals or inmates have broken jail from it in three separate companies within the last sixty days! How will you impress the criminal classes with such jail deliveries? You tempt people to crime! A few novels and a deck of cards are the reading which you let prisoners have in jails. These prisons are non-reformatory; they are anti-reformatory.

A prison of any kind should be a reformatory. It should be healthful. Its warmth, its ventilation, its light by day, its freedom from vermin by night you have no right to remove in the treatment of any but hardened and unreformable prisoners. In every lock-up, jail, penitentiary, as much as anywhere else there should be provided by law and cared for by the keeper of the prison, wholesome and interesting reading matter for prisoners.

It should be a secure place, no matter what the cost of the secure prison. It must be secure and kept by a sure keeper. You increase crime by insecure prisons. But the cost is less in the end. Ten escaped prisoners! It means you will need a larger jail. That is the verdict of experience. It should give give employment to prisoners. Idleness is an impressive lesson in the prison's school of crime. In every lock-up, county jail, state prison in all the land prisoners should do manual labor if you expect them to reform. It would make prison life more severe and have better effect in sustaining the dignity of the law. And that is a necessary element. The poor man or poor woman who becomes a prisoner is to be treated with at least equal advantages with the rich prisoner. You scan the history of the county jail prisoners and find the majority of all their crimes to be larceny. Remember that a rich prisoner is to be reformed, but he is not to be treated with respect because of his wealth.

3. What reasons rise up in our minds for the wisest treatment of imprisoned criminals?

These persons are object lessons. Their immediate friends and the whole criminal class are looking on. Soon your chance to reform the prisoner is gone. Soon he will be out in society again. Is he a husband, father, brother, son, soon he will shed his influence among relatives and others. Reform him, or at least begin his reform by his prison life. The man or woman in prison will come out of the prison house and prepare and bequeath an inheritance to others. What shall that patrimony be? Whether we will or no the ex-convict is going to take part in business life, in political matters and in agriculture. He will run newspapers, write books, personify in the drama, compose music, and in untold ways will be a popular factor in many circles of society. His education in his prison life will find expression on the printed page of degrading novels when he has been brought out of prison. What weighty reasons enforce the necessity of real and radical reformation of prisoners. In behalf of these reasons we demand such a reformation of criminal law and such a reformation of prisons as shall result in a radical reformation of criminals. Prisoners are not always criminals. Not all criminals are imprisoned. Our treatment of imprisoned criminals should be such as to annihilate the romance of crime. It should be such as to act powerfully upon the criminal classes both in and out of prison.

The security of property and the safety of human life demand that crime shall not keep on increasing in this land of freedom.

In Great Britain crime is actually dying out. In America it is increasing. England does two things for her criminals. In prison their reform is securely and systematically provided for. Out of prison their reform is continued. Ex-convicts are aided to become true citizens of the commonwealth or to cross the seas to our shores. We have no spot upon this earth whereupon to colonize our ex-convicts. Ours is a greater problem. We must let them be citizens.

We are now called upon to match this over-crowding of our prisons and jails with different and wiser treatment than the world has ever known. The treatment of the imprisoned criminal must comport with the enlightened conservatism, the legal sagacity, Christian philanthropy, and regal common sense which distinguish our country in other matters among the civilized nations. Other reasons and other considerations press upon us. The very security of the State depends largely upon how well we shall succeed in the reduction of crime.

God, also, is watching at the door of every prison cell. He pardons human folly and sin. The wrong doer who is within prison walls has God's help to reform as truly as evil-doers who are at large. Our business in reforming criminals is to learn how God himself has marked out the pathway for the reformation of sinners, and then to set ourselves about it to lead the criminal along the way of the sinner's reform. You cannot pay the price of crime with torture. You cannot get a criminal reformed unless God takes a hand in the process. But our part is equally essential. A city parson was also a prison chaplain. Under his ministry in his church a vigorous Christian Young Men's Society grew up. Under his ministry in the prison some prisoners were reformed. One of these had at last served out his sentence. The chaplain-pastor under whose good influence this young criminal had been led to reform, met him as the cell door was thrown open to usher him out of prison into the world again. The minister advised the ex-convict to seek good society and invited him to his city church and promised to introduce him to the young men of his church. The reformed ex-convict followed his benefactor's advice, and the following Sunday, at the close of the morning service, the poor fellow waited in the isle of the church until the pastor-chaplain came and took his hand with kindly greeting. True to his promise the minister began to introduce him to the young men of his powerful church. One and another of those Christian young men scowled and manifested indifference and the sensitive ex-convict never entered that church again. Not two years passed until this discouraged, unbelieving, frozen-hearted young ex-convict's picture appeared again in the rogues' gallery, and he himself occupied a harder prison cell, and was treated as unreformable.

O. fellow citizens, what is it to "bring the prisoner out of the prison?" Christian men and women, what is to lead "them that sit in darkness out of the prison house?" We must mend our criminal laws so that we shall be able to reform criminals. We must seriously and on all occasions uphold the courts of justice. Keepers of all prisons, from the lock-up to the penitentiary, should always be appointed upon non-partisan basis, and upon the principle of highest fitness. Jailors should never be elected by party vote. The tenure of office should be terminable by manifest unfitness, by resignation or by death of the prison keeper. All good citizens should value their citizenship and the common welfare enough to unite in the establishment of model prisons and in the rigid adherence to principle and the enforcement of law. If we believe in God's fatherhood let us speed that reform. If we know the generous impulses of human brotherhood, let us set ourselves to the task of reforming the imprisoned criminal.

If there is virtue in our manhood and womanhood, let us never open the door of the criminal's prison cell until he gives hope of reform. If a lunatic shall remain in the insane asylum until he shall reform or die, why should not the criminal also? The theme of our address to imprisoned criminals should be the worth of the prisoner's manhood, or womanhood, the value of their citizenship, the priceless worth of a good character. Such was the truth I expressed while addressing the inmates of one of your prisons in this city yesterday.

And I dared to tell those imprisoned men who will soon have served out their sentences and will return to our streets again, that when they come forth determined to mend their lives we will help them to become true men and good citizens.

Will you disappoint them when they come? Did I promise these men, these imprisoned men, too much? Ah, prison reform has services for us all. It touches every one of us. The Lord omnipotent speed its progress. Lawyers, you can do much. All can help. Every citizen is interested. The work waits. There are the men and women in 300 jails and lock-ups and prisons of Minnesota at this hour. How shall we prepare "to bring out the prisoners from the prison and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house?"

The police were kept busy last week in the effort to preserve order. An unusual number of hoboes were about.

Lesley Maley came over from the coast last week for a visit with old friends. He is in the cigar business out there and doing well we learn.

Hundreds of acres of wheat went into stack last week and hundreds of acres were threshed. The wheat does not seem to be damaged as much as was first supposed.

Uncle James Noyotny came down from Angus on Friday to chat with friends having got his fine crop of wheat all safely in stack. He expects to be able to get his plowing all done in good time this fall.

Charlie Rapp came down from St. Hilaire by train on Friday evening, returning by stage on Saturday. Charlie talks of making a trip to Norway and Sweden, with his wife, some time during the coming winter.

O. H. Berghdal was in from Fosston last Friday shaking hands with old friends. Says he had his grain all stacked before the rain and it is all in nice condition. Most of the grain out that way in the same shape.

San Francisco Chronicle:—Ray L. Royce and his excellent combination began an engagement last night to excellent business, and all are clever and entertaining as well as popular. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

Chris Kern was up from his farm on Thursday with a load of hay for sale. He has his fall plowing nearly done and will now haul hay for awhile. Elsewhere in this issue he offers a farm for sale at a great bargain; a snap for somebody.

The county board met last Wednesday to elect a successor to county superintendent E. J. Grefthen. Failing to agree upon a choice, V. D. Carruth will be superintendent until the December meeting of the board.

Albert Simpson informs THE JOURNAL that Peter Noesen threshed 9367 bushels of wheat on the same number of acres that heretofore yielded from 6000 to 7000 bushels and that Tom Wallace got 3250 bushels of wheat on land that heretofore produced from 2000 to 2500 bushels. These are Fairfax farms.

Last week a man calling himself Schultz was arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the Woods murder. At his boarding place in East Grand Forks he claimed to be a chair repairer but never seemed to by doing anything in that line. He was supposed to have been at Lobsinger's saloon during the evening preceding the murder. This on his trial, he emphatically denied, but later Chief Gonyea received a letter from Jacob Lobsinger saying that the man was at the saloon on that evening all right enough. The police of East Grand Forks and Crookston have not been idle in this Woods matter and something definite will yet transpire.

The police force has been increased since the post-office robbery and they have been as busy as bees.

On Tuesday evening, while going to his home in the country, Jacob Knudson was held up and relieved of what money he had on his person.

Col. W. H. Topping was over from Grand Forks on Thursday revisiting his old friends in this city. He is pleased to note the many improvements in our city.

Daily Gazette, Fort Worth, Texas:—Mr. Royce is fully as artistic as Sol. Smith Russell, and has much better voice and is able to sing, and Russell is not. Will be at the Grand Opera House, Crookston, Nov. 2d.

The police picked up two men who were boarding at the Minnesota House on suspicion of being connected with the post-office robbery. Sufficient evidence upon which to base a complaint was not forthcoming so they were released.

Peter Cornelius tells of a lively experience he had on Tuesday night of last week while en-route for home. He had reached the top of the hill on Jerome's Addition, and as he was passing that little unoccupied house alongside the deep cut two men sprang out one seizing the bridle of his horse and the other attacking him demanded his money. Upon refusing he was seized, dragged out of the buggy and relieved of his pocket-book containing between $26 and $30. A team coming up the hill at this time caused the robbers to hurry up and just as soon as they had secured the pocket-book they ran away without taking a fine silver watch that Pete had in his vest pocket. Pete said if he had had a revolver he could have easily done the fellows up as, in their haste they gave him plenty opportunity and he says that he now goes prepared for foot-pads.

Sun and Voice, Cleveland, O., May 31, 1891:—Our brainy business men and the great army of royal good fellows, bright and shrewd, known as "commercial travellers," as well as others, have learned that is better for their work to rest and refresh themselves when worn and weary, by going to some pure, sparkling entertainment, where they can have a good laugh, than to swallow nostrums; and the God of the universe intended laughter to cheer and make mankind happy as the muscles of the face contain many more for this purpose than for crying; and the choice music, refined sketches, witty sayings, talented artists, elegant costumes seen in "Tom's Vacation," in which Ray L. Royce, the favorite comedian, one of the cleverest before the public, appears, always attracts them, as Mr. Royce leads a clean life both on and off the stage, and never permits anything to be given unless refined and artistic. He is considered by Sol. Smith Russell as one of the greatest mimics out. The support furnished Mr. Royce is excellent as given by the "Royce & Lansing Musical Comedy Company," a reliable organization nearly twelve years old. The well-known monagers, Mr. B. S. Driggs and S. C. Behenns, will handle this company next season, and are never found with a party unless good. They will have their summer booking office at 440 Superior street, Cleveland, Ohio. At the Grand Opera House, Crookston, on Nov. 2d.

He Knew a Good Thing.

In some of the mountain districts of the South anything in the way of amusements, outside of campmeeting, a political debate, and neighborhood gatherings, is extremely rare. Once in a few years a circus wanders that way, and the people come miles and miles to see it, bringing the whole family. These people are not blase with entertainment—their appreciation of what pleases and interests them is keen. It is told of an East Tennessee mountaineer that on coming out of the afternoon performance of a good circus, he remarked: "That was a crackin' good show. I brung Sal and all the young uns, nine of 'em. Sold my cook stove to raise money, and by gosh, if this show comes hyar next year, if I have 'nuther cookstove then, I'll sell that, and go ag'in." The Tennesseean was not the only man who knows a good thing when he sees it. Thousands of people in the Northwest—all over the country, in fact—know "The Burlington" for a good road, and the proof is that it is the popular line to Chicago and St. Louis from all points in the Mississippi Valley. SHERIFF'S SALE.

(First publication October 1st, 1891.)

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Polk—ss District Court.

Steenerson Bros., plaintiffs, vs. Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, defendants.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an execution to me directed and delivered, and now in my hands, issued out of the District Court, 14th Judicial District, State of Minnesota, in and for the County of Polk, upon a judgment rendered in a justice's court in the said county, a transcript of which judgment has been duly filed in the District Court aforesaid, said judgment being rendered in favor of Steenerson Bros and against Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson, I have levied upon the following described real estate of said defendants, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of the northeast quarter (ne¼) and the east half of the northwest quarter (e½nw¼) of Section thirty-three (33); also southeast quarter (se¼) of the southwest quarter (sw¼) and lot six (6) of Section twenty-eight, all in Township one hundred and fifty (150) north, of Range forty-seven (47) west. And that I shall, on Friday, the 13th day of November, A. D. 1891, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, proceed to sell all the right, title and interest of the above named Rachel Johnson and Nils P. Johnson in and to the above described property to satisfy said judgment and costs, amounting to fifty-seven dollars and 29 cents, together with all accruing costs of sale, and interest on the same from the 3d day of March, 1890, at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash.

Dated Crookston, Minn., Sept. 29th, 1891.

ARNY GRUNDYSEN,
Sheriff of Polk County, Minn.

P. J. RUSSELL,
Plaintiff's Attorney. [24-30]

MORTGAGE SALE.

(First publication Oct. 15th, 1891.)

WHEREAS, ANDREAS HAGBERG, an unmarried man, of Polk County, and State of Minnesota, as mortgagor, did, on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1883, duly execute and deliver to Eleanor E. Wilmerding of the County of Suffolk, State of New York, his mortgage bearing date of December 15th, A. D. 1883, whereby he mortgaged to said mortgagee the following described lands situated in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, to-wit: The northeast quarter of Section 26, Township 148, Range 45 west, containing 160 acres, to secure the payment of the sum of six hundred dollars, with interest thereon, according to the conditions of one certain promissory note, with interest coupons attached, bearing even date with said mortgage, and made by said mortgagor to said mortgagee, or order, which said mortgage was on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1883, at 9:30 o'clock a. m., duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Polk, in book 37 of mortgages, on page 186; and

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the sum of fifty dollars, due as interest upon said mortgage on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1890, and on the further sum of forty-eight dollars due as interest thereon on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1891, and the said interest is still unpaid and due; and

Whereas it was stipulated by and between the parties to said mortgage, that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of the mortgagor, to be kept and performed, that then and from thenceforth it shall be lawful for the said mortgagee, her heirs, administrators, executors or assigns to consider and declare the whole sum secured thereby as immediately due and payable without notice to said mortgagor or any other party; and

Whereas, the said mortgagee, Eleanor E. Wilmerding, has exercised her option to consider and declare and does hereby consider and declare the whole sum of money secured by said mortgage to be due and payable and;

Whereas there is now due, and claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of seven hundred thirty-four and 82-100 dollars, and no proceedings have been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the same or any part thereof.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained, and therewith recorded, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the land therein described, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Polk County, at the front door of the Court-house in the City of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash: to pay the sum due on said mortgage, together with taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty Dollars attorney's fees therein stipulated to be paid in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Dated, Oct. 12th, A. D. 1891.

ELEANOR E. WILMERDING,
Mortgagee.

JOHN CROMB, Attorney for Mortgagee,
[26-32] Crookston, Minn.

MORTGAGE SALE.

(First publication Oct 8th, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of eight hundred forty-three and 66-100 ($843.66) dollars, which is claimed to be due at the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Warren D. Palmetier and Ettie Palmetier his wife, mortgagors, to The New England Mortgage Security Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 6th day of July, 1886, and, with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 20th day of July, 1886, at 9 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages, on page 205, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz: The northwest quarter of Section twenty, (20) Township one hundred and fifty-three, (153) Range No. forty-seven (47) west, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, in Polk County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the city of Crookston, in said County and State, on the 28th day of November, 1891, at ten o'clock a. m. of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of eight hundred forty-three and 66-100 dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Mortgage Sale.

(First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.)

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE payment of the sum of two hundred and sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, claimed to be due at the date of this notice, upon a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Benjamin Milette and Mary Milette his wife, mortgagors, to Narcissa Milette, mortgagee, bearing date the 16th day of November, A. D. 1886, and with power of sale therein contained, and which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 18th day of November, A. D., 1886, at 10 o'clock a. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 90, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale, contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, to-wit: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12), Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-six (46), lying and being in the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Polk, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Crookston, in said County and State on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1891, at 10 o'clock in forenoon of said day, at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of two hundred sixty-five and six one hundreths ($265.06) dollars, and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale as provided by law.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

(First publication Sept. 17th, 1891.)
Last publication Oct. 29th, 1891.)

WHEREAS, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Joseph Noiseux and Rose Anna Noiseux, his wife, mortgagors, to Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, mortgagee, bearing date the 19th day of June, A. D. 1889, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Polk and State of Minnesota, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:10 o'clock p. m., in book 47 of mortgages, on page 4; and

Whereas, such default consists of the failure to pay the following installments of interest, to-wit: $16.87 that became due November 1st, 1889, $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1890, $22.50 that became due November 1st, 1890, and $22.50 that became due May 1st, 1891. And whereas the said Northwestern Guaranty Loan Company, the holder of said mortgage, has elected to declare, and hereby does declare, the whole principal sums in said mortgage set forth due and payable at the date of this notice under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas there is actually due and payable at the date hereof upon the premises in said mortgage described the following sum, to-wit: eight hundred sixty-nine and 48-100 dollars, ($869.48-100), and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: The southwest quarter (sw¼) of Section twelve (12) Township one hundred and forty-nine (149), Range forty-four (44) containing 160 acres, more or less, according to the government survey thereof. Said premises situate and being in the county of Polk and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and fifty (50) dollars attorney's fee, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Polk County, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Crookston, in said County, and State, on

MONDAY, THE 2D DAY OF NOVEMBER, A. D. 1891,

at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Dated September 10th, A. D. 1891.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.
2. If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and then collect the whole amount, whether the paper is taken from the office or not.
3. In suits for subscriptions, the suit may be instituted where the paper is published.
4. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, while unpaid for, is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

Princeton Union :—"Knute Nelson is the Blaine of Minnesota. Democrats and mugwumps fear him, hence their efforts to belittle him and read him out of the race."

Knute Nelson is all right, a very manly man, but he is not "in the race" in the general acceptance of that term which is that a man must be an office seeker to be in it. Knute Nelson is not an office-seeker, in fact had rather not have that or any other office at present. But, while Knute Nelson is a man every way worthy to be governor he is not the only man in the state who is just as worthy and just as capable and just as popular. What's the matter with Moses E. Clapp? There is another manly man who is not seeking an office but who would fit into the gubernatorial chair like an old shoe, if the people should call him to fill it and it is about time that the people had something to say about who shall be governor and who shall not.

The Warren Register :—The railroad and warehouse commissioners arrived here yesterday forenoon, pursuant to to their notice published in last week's Register. They were met at the depot by a number of our citizens and escorted to Edwardh's hall. The meeting was called to order by Gen. Becker, chairman of the commission. The complaints which had been put into writing by the committee appointed for that purpose were read and turned over to the commissioners for their consideration at their leisure. A number of our business men and others made short talks showing the justness of our demands and the injustice to which we have been subjected by the Great Northern Ry. Co. The case was presented to the commission on the part of the citizens of Warren in a clear and forcible manner, numerous instances of dereliction of duty by the railroad company being cited by the speakers in support of their demands. All the speakers agreed that what we most need and ought to have are better railway mail service, a daily passenger train and better depot facilities. A. L. Mohler, manager of the Great Northern, who attended the hearing, was then called upon to state the railroad's side of the case. Mr. Mohler is a very smooth speaker and his talk was very entertaining. He insisted that the passenger traffic on this branch is not sufficient to justify the putting on of an exclusively passenger train. He reiterated the company's oft-repeated promise to improve the depot and platform; but, as everyone knows, these promises have long since become chestnutty. Judging from the position taken by Manager Mohler, we may little expect to receive any relief from the railroad company, unless the commissioners take hold of the matter with a will and force the company to accede to our demands. At the conclusion of the hearing the commissioners took the case under advisement and departed for Hallock.

VERY LATEST.

We interviewed Gen. Becker, the chairman of the railroad and warehouse commission, while on the train here on his way to St. Paul. He gave us positive assurance that there would be better train service in future on this division and that adequate depot facilities would be provided at this place. He said that general manager Mohler has pledged himself that the trains shall make schedule time, viz: fourteen miles an hour; and further says that he expects to run passenger trains soon on this division—which latter statement Gen. Becker has strong hopes of seeing confirmed, as he stated to us. He says our complaints are just and that gen. manager Mohler agrees with him. Now let us keep the ball rolling till we have a regular passenger train. Nothing less will be just and nothing less will satisfy the people.

Our Washington Letter.

Washington, D.C., Nov. 3rd, 1891.

ED. JOURNAL.—

Mr. Blaine has returned to Washington in seeming good health. He walks vigorously, has more color than usual, talks in his usual cheerful cheery manner and when anyone broaches the presidential possibilities to him he can keep absolute silence in seven different languages.

That keg of whiskey which Mr. Carnegie sent to President Harrison will be some of an issue in the politics of this year. Of course the prohibition cranks will take it up and it will probably be not more than ten days before President Harrison is flooded with the long haired men and the short haired women asking him to knock the bung out of that keg and let the whiskey flow. That would be a very foolish thing to do for it is undoubtedly a very fine article of whiskey and a "Hot Scotch" on a cold evening where there are not too many taken does not harm any one in the world.

It was erroneously reported that Chili had consented to give safe conduct to the persons who had taken refuge in the American legation. That proved, however to be a mistake; Chili refused safe conduct, though it has withdrawn its guard and spies from around the residence of Minister Eagan. The victorious party in Chili seems to think that what they have done entitles them to give the United States a little "sass." Some of the Chilians in Valparaiso have have been indulging in the murderous and cowardly instincts of their race and two or three hundred of them attacked a few defenseless American sailors belonging to the U. S. S. Baltimore, murdered some and seriously wounded others. If there is a quarter in Valparaiso, as it is probably the case, where the men who do those things consult together a good party of marines from the Baltimore ought to make a raid on that quarter, bayonet a few of them without damaging other people. At any rate the government of the United States must not and will not submit to such outrages as this without ample reparation.

The visitor to Washington city now will find it in its holiday attire. Washington is not a place which thrives by business of any character or manufacture. It is true there are many large business houses in the city who carry an elegant line of goods, but there are no manufacturies and Washington lives almost entirely upon the fact that it is the seat of government with thousands of persons employed all the time in government service and more thousands added when Congress is in session.

This makes Washington a city of hotels and boarding houses, flats and apartments. This is the opening of the session which precedes the Presidential election and attracts larger crowds than usual and the people of Washington are preparing to be crowded this winter. Many improvements have been made; the streets are in good condition and the street railways are changing from horse power heretofore employed to cable and electric. The hotels have had their annual refreshing and one, the Riggs House, which has been vacant for some time and which is a splendid edifice put up by banker Riggs just before his death as a memorial of himself, has been leased by Col. Staples, the proprietor of Willard's Hotel, newly painted, papered and refurnished and is now open adding largely to the guest capacity of the first class hotels of which there are none too many in Washington.

This week will find the politicians at their busiest because on Saturday night the canvass in the different states practically closes, though the voting does not commence until Tuesday morning. The work that is done on Sunday and Monday preceeding the election is the quiet work which approaches the voter individually, and endeavors to seduce him to the polls in one way or the other.

Mr. Blaine's Physical Condition.

New York Press.

Whoever saw Secretary Blaine during his brief stay in New York had conclusive evidence that the stories about his incurable maladies, his loss of physical vigor and his decay of mental power have been sheer fabrications. They have for the most part appeared in Democratic journals, in which the wish was manifestly father to the thought. The Democracy regards Mr. Blaine with intense hatred. Mr. Blaine's step is as springy, his eye as clear and his mind as vigorous as that of any man of his years in the United States or the world. His physical condition is no longer a matter of public concern or private anxiety. If he is not a well man there are no well men in the United States.

President Harrison is to be commended for the decided action he has taken in demanding prompt reparation from the Chilian government for the murderous assault made upon unarmed American seamen in the streets of Valparaiso.

What is the Matter With France?

The French Senate appears to be in no hurry to remove the prohibition of American pork, although there is now no disguise of the fact that sanitary reasons have nothing to do with the question. A strong petition has also been presented asking the French government to place a heavy duty on foreign cereals, which of course means American wheat, as France would no doubt contrive in some way to make an easy arrangement for Russia. For the present, indeed, Russia is out of consideration on account of the famine, and America is the only country to be unfavorably affected in an appreciable degree by a high French tariff on corn.

The French republic does not seem to be making a fair deal with the United States, and diplomacy regarding the matter has apparently been a failure so far. France sends us millions of gallons of real and alleged wines and a large quantity of other products.

If she means to bar out the products of America, either by direct embargo or a prohibitory tariff, it may be getting near the time to give her the emphatic warning which the McKinley bill permits.

FOR U. S. SENATOR.

At the coming session of the Legislature, which commences in January, 1893, one important question before that body will be the selection of a United States Senator to succeed Sen. Cushman K. Davis. As it is impossible at that time to answer the almost universal demand of the people for election of U. S. Senator by a ballot of the people we believe that the next best thing to be done would be for the selection of a candidate among the people at the party convention. This convention, in order to meet the popular demand should be as near a mass convention as it is possible to make it. We are well aware of the fact that this policy is not in accordance with the wishes or plans of the old-line politicians—the wire-pullers, whose selfish motives and plans outweigh every consideration for the public good—but the great masses of the people demand it and that reason is good enough for THE JOURNAL. We believe that the interests of the people should be subserved regardless of the interests of machine politics and woe unto that party that does not regard the wishes of the people for verily their name shall be Dennis. The Republican party was formed upon that issue and as long as it sticks to its text will be all right but should the day ever come when its policy should be controled and dictated by scheniers and machine politicians then, and not till then will its glory become a thing of the past and its name be buried in oblivion.

Sunday Opening of the Exposition.

New York Press.

In many of the large cities of the West the exposition fever which broke out so generally soon after the close of the Centennial celebration at Philadelphia in 1876 has never been entirely cured. It has became a sort of settled habbit among the people of these communities to hold some such fair every year, generally in permanent buildings, and the kind of exhibits being varied from time to time as local industries change or develoy.

Among these communities must be reckoned the city of Milwaukee, the city which probably contains a larger percentage of Germans, both of foreign and American birth, than any other in the land. During the present year the experiment of keeping the exhibition open on Sunday was tried for the first time and the Sentinel, the leading newspaper of Wisconsin, recently reviewed the result of the initial opening on that day. The number of people in attendance on that day was more than 20,000—the largest of any single day during the present year. "This was made up," so the report runs, "of well behaved persons who did not look on this as an occasion for hilarity or drinking, but for plain common sense sight seeing." It is further recorded that it was largely a family party. Hardly any of those who could be distinguished as manual laborers came without their families."

The great crowd was quiet, orderly and greatly interested in the sights, and busy with entertaining itself. It is also asserted as true that the great majority of all these visitors had attended church in the morning. Business firms and large employers of labor took advantage of this Sunday opening to buy tickets for their workmen and their families, thus giving philanthropic men a new opportunity to do good by being liberal. The advantage of such expositions were thus appreciated at their full value, and that, too, in an orderly way by thousands of persons who otherwise might never have entered the doors of the building.
